Tourney Spurt of Golfers Gives Carolina 5th Crown

SINCE SEPTEMBER when the 1946-47 collegiate sports season officially opened, the 16-school Southern conference has awarded eight championships, and the smooth-swinging Tar Heel linksmen's sensational performances Saturday over the Old Town Country club course in Winston-Salem presented Carolina with its fifth such award.

Being the fifth SC crown that Tar Heel teams have won this season takes a little away from the sensationalism of the achievement of the golf lovers of Coach Chuck Erickson, but the fact remains that this victory was probably the most dazzling of the quintet annexed thus far.

Carolina had gone undefeated up to the Duke dual match last week, and after the Blue Devils, long the dominant golf school in the conference, had decisively trounced the Tar Heels, the Methodists appeared a cinch to walk away with team as well as individual honors in the tournament.

The defeat at the hands of the neighborhood Dukes apparently had a telling difference on the game of the Tar Heel club, though, and the results showed the Carolina golfers proudly displaying the title they had won by

It was a big shock to Carolina students and football fans as a whole to hear of the death of Cotton Sutherland in an automobile accident Sunday night, and we speak for the students as a whole in expressing sympathy to his family and close friends. Many of the football squad members and Monogram club members as possible will attend the funeral in Laurinburg today en masse, and Monogram club president Jim Camp has asked that all students wishing to go, meet in front of Woollen gym at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Anyone who can take a car and some riders is urged to be present then.

a margin of six strokes. The aggregate of 585, which was a total of the 36-hole scores of the top four Carolina contestants, was 26 strokes under the previous record.

For the Tar Heels, it was an amazing 67 on the afternoon 18 holes turned in by dependable Dick Doeschler and a similarly outstanding pair of 69's recorded by Ed Ashby and Junie Bailey on the morning 18 holes that netted the triumph and the first SC golf crown for Carolina in history.

It was the first time since 1935 that Duke had not emerged victorious in the links tournament, and the defeat would have been even more decisive had the Tar Heels not lost five strokes to the Blue Devils on the last 18 holes. That means that the Carolina crew was leading by an impressive 11 strokes at the halfway mark, and as a matter of fact, they led by that same margin at the three-quarter mark in the tourney.

The tournament was termed a great success, and 12 of the 16 Southern conference schools were entered. Next for the Heels is a possible trip to the Nationals at Ann Arbor, Mich., starting June 22. Michigan, whose Wolverines lost by a good-sized margin to the Tar Heels earlier in the season, is the defending titleholder. This victory for the linksmen may also be another kind of a triumph. From the looks of plans which are still in the embryo stage, Carolina may have its own golf course by next year. It's something Carolina needs, and continued interest in the links sport may prove the telling influence in the drive for the Tar Heel fairways.

NOTING TRACK: A final count shows 14 SC teams entered in the annual conference meet to be run here Saturday. This is a record field and undoubtedly means the best meet in history. . . The Tar Heels, incidentally, who are currently rated as favorites, will likely be hampered by the leg injuries suffered by Chuck Simmons, Ted Shultz and Laddie Terrell. . . Two former Carolina swimming coaches, Willis and Ralph Casey, will accompany track teams here Saturday. Ralph is head mentor at VMI and Willis is an assistant at State.

Runners Seek SC Track Title

Fast Field Entered In Middle Distances

Fourteen Southern conference track teams totaling 286 competitors spell only one thing, and that a big track carnival to be held on Fetzer Field on Friday and Saturday. The annual conference outdoor track meet will provide all the thrills of a three ring circus.

One of the outstanding events should be the 440-yard run, and it will feature such outstanding runners as Roger Neighbourgall of Duke, last year's champion, Norm Rucks of South Carolina, Chuck Chambers of State, Don Nelson of Carolina, and the three standouts for the University of Maryland, Tom Devlin, Ed Mathews, winner of the indoor crown, and Jim Wilson. With these who have all run under 50 seconds for the quarter will be added a host of other top men to make quite an event.

Eye-Opener

The 880-yard run should be another eye-opener, with such stars as Neighbourgall, Frank Magill of VPI, who took a second in the indoor games, Mark Burnham of Carolina, Egelund of State, Stirling Kehoe of Maryland, and Bill Orr of South Carolina.

Running is scheduled to get underway with the field events starting at 3:30, and the preliminaries in the other events starting a half hour later.

The team title will probably be a dual between Carolina, Maryland, Duke and State College. Entries have been received from, Carolina, Duke, State College, Davidson, Wake Forest, VPI, VMI, South Carolina, Furman, Maryland, Clemson, Washington and Lee and William and Mary.

Grand-Slam Homer Provides Big Four Win for Visitors

Loss Drops Locals to Third Place in Loop; Teams Battle Again Today at Wake Forest

By Bob Goldwater

After going 22 innings in two games without reaching a verdict, Carolina and Wake Forest finally played to a decision in the regulation nine stanzas yesterday in Emerson stadium, and the result was anything but gratifying to the Tar Heels. For the Deacons shook off their Big Four cellar role in the final fatal frame to register four tallies on a grand-slam home run and thus defeated Carolina by 8-6.

The setback dropped the locals from their second-place perch in the loop standing, and also evened the score between the two teams for the season. The Tar Heels will get a chance for quick revenge today when they travel to Wake Forest for a clash slated to start at 3:30. Vinnie DiLorenzo and Elmer Sexauer are the probable mound opponents.

Monk Whiteheart was the victim of the Deacon uprising and the high-kicking righthander suffered his second loss against five wins. In trouble

In yesterday's other Big Four contest, Duke took over third place in the standings by virtue of a 8-5 victory over the league-leading State nine.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
State	5	3	.625
Duke	5	4	.556
Carolina	2	2	.500
Wake Forest	3	6	.333

most of the way, Whiteheart came within two outs of escaping the last-ditch drive that netted the Deacons their win.

After Charlie Teague walked and Clyde Whitener singled to center, Red Cochran sacrificed both along the base-paths. George Edwards was purposefully passed to set up a possible play at the plate.

But the strategy failed. Shortstop Art Hoch, lashed Whiteheart's first offering down the left-field line and sped around the bases for a grand-slammer.

Carolina staged a little rally of its own in the last half of the ninth, but it wasn't enough. Jim Hamilton, who led the team at the plate with three for four, did manage to score but Rip Ryan was called out on strikes after the bases were loaded with two outs. Afield, Ryan turned in an outstanding game for the locals, coming up with several fielding gems.
