Joyce Peterson Chosen UNC Beauty Contestant

Carolina Beauty Vies for National Honors In Affair Sponsored by Advertising Agency

Queen of queens for Carolina this year is a 19-year-old junior, Joyce Peterson, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Twice honored—once when she was culled from 40 campus beauties at the Yack Beauty ball and once again this week-end when heads of various campus publications picked her from the group of already titled best-lookers—Miss Peterson is now tangled in the web of another beauty contest.

This time it's a national affair with quite a set of rewards. Sponsored by the Kaufman Company, New York advertising agency, the current competition would pick a beauty as a focal point for a national advertising campaign for a yet unnamed product.

The winner in the national competition will receive a week of model-work with what the agency calls "handsome remuneration," a screen test for Eagle-Lion pictures, and national recognition.

Miss Peterson's picture and background information got underway to the Kaufman agency on Sunday.

Rapid choice of the top campus beauty was necessary since information regarding the competition was received too late to provide a queen through vote before the June 15 deadline set by the agency.

Dormitory Council To Discuss Plans

There will be a meeting of the men's interdormitory council at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Roland Parker Lounge Nos. 2 and 3 of Graham Memorial, announced President Frank Hassell.

The primary purpose of this meeting is to discuss the erection of a building especially designed for weiner and marshmallow roasts and informal dances, so that dormitory men as individuals and dormitory groups may make arrangements for such get-togethers with the least amount of trouble and with the least dependency upon the weather.

Members of the council who find it impossible to attend this meeting are requested to send their vice-president or someone else with a proxy on the above proposal, details of which were outlined in a bulletin distributed to all members earlier this week.

There will also be an election of a vice-president for the summer sessions at this meeting.

Lawmakers Start Summer Meetings Tomorrow Night

Organization for the summer will be the principal business on the docket for the Student Legislature as it begins hot weather sessions tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall. In addition to summer plans, the legislature will handle any remaining items of business left over from the spring agenda.

Jack Folger, chosen in spring elections, will head his first meeting as speaker tomorrow night.

Vacancies for summer legislative positions will be filled at tomorrow night's opening session.

Legislative leaders have urged that all regular members of the body, as well as proxies, be present to get the new season underway.

PINE ROOM HOURS

The Pine Room in the basement of Lenoir hall will continue its service throughout the summer, offering a la carte orders, sandwiches, and salads.

Specializing in individual service in a quiet atmosphere, the Pine Room will serve breakfast from 7 until 9 o'clock, lunch from 11:45 to 2, and dinner from 5:30 till 8.

Rene Hardre Speaks Today In French House Program

Highlighting the local celebration today of the Fête de la Resistance, French national holiday, will be a talk at 7 p. m. by Professor Rene Hardre of the French Department at the Woman's college. Professor Hardre, father of Jacques Hardre of the Carolina French Department, will speak at the French House, located in the ADPi house on Rosemary street. The public is invited.

Professor Hardre's talk on various aspects of the French resistance movement during World War II on the anniversary of its formation, will be the feature of the first week's program at the French House which opened its annual six-week session under the direction of Dr. Hugo Giduz here last week.

Students from eight states are enrolled in this year's French House. In addition to a large delegation from North Carolina, students from South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut have registered.

Other events on this week's program include a talk tomorrow night by Professor Urban T. Holmes on Old

Paris, a short play Friday night entitled La Paim Est Un Grand Inventeur, and a picnic Saturday night. All French-speaking students and townspeople are invited to attend any of the programs which are held at the ADPi house from 7 until 8 p. m. each evening.

The French House, which was instituted as a regular part of the summer curriculum here in 1945, has as its purpose the development of the oral use of the French language. Enrollment which included 10 students the first year was doubled last year and has shown another increase this year.

The French government has shown a great interest in the program and has donated one scholarship which this year was awarded to Miss Imogene Riddick of Campbell college. Students eat all their meals at the French House, join in the presentation of French plays, songs, movies, games, and discussions in addition to hearing a number of speakers, including a representative of the French embassy, during the six-week session.

Union to Give Convocations Dance Tonight Will Be Held This Summer

Hop Starts at 8 P.M. In Candlelight Room

By Nora Anderson

Graham Memorial will again be the center of student social activity this evening when dancing gets under way in the Candlelight room at 8 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Candlelight Combo, recently reorganized for the summer under the direction of Ned Reap.

Miss Gene Fornoff, entertainment director of the Candlelight room, promises the usual treat by presenting Moffatt Sherard and Madeline Jennings, vocalists, with Buddy Robinson, tap dancer. On Friday night Bill Townsend and Gene Fornoff will do a tango routine.

The Candlelight room is open each afternoon from 1:30 until 5:30. The evening hours are from 8 until 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 8 until midnight on weekends. The Combo will play for dancing each Wednesday and Friday evening.

Snack bar service is available in the Candlelight room during the afternoon but guests must be served at tables during the evening hours.

All summer session students are cordially invited to enjoy the activities of the Candlelight room.

Veterans to Fete McIver Dorm Girls

The University Veterans association will honor coeds from McIver dormitory tonight with open house this evening. Highlight of the affair will be dancing, refreshments and entertainment.

Joe O'Ryan, who is in charge of the entertainment, will do imitations and dance. There also will be other entertainers, including several coed performers.

The escort committee is requested to meet at the club house at 8:15 p. m. in order to arrive at the dormitory by 8:30.

Membership cards will be sold at the door to veterans who wish to join the UVA.

Di Senate to Elect Officers for Summer

The Dialectic Senate will meet tonight at 9 o'clock on the third floor of New West. Maurice Braswell, acting president, announced that the agenda this evening will include the election of officers for the summer and discussion of the plan for joint DiPhi meetings for the next two years.

Braswell pointed out that this is to be a compulsory executive meeting for all members of the Senate now on enrollment.

War Bride Gives Concert Tonight As Series Begins

The first of summer music recitals will be presented this evening at 8:30 in Hill hall by Mrs. Nancie Field, pianist.

Mrs. Field, who was one of the first Australian brides to come to Chapel Hill after the war, obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Western Australia. She also holds the Licentiate of the Royal Schools of Music, in London, and studied at the Sydney Conservatory, New South Wales, under the pianist-composer, Lawrence Godfrey-Smith.

In musical and other scholastic fields, Mrs. Field has won several prizes, including two piano awards, a Government scholarship to the University of Western Australia, a prize for the highest aggregate of points in licentiate examinations conducted throughout Australia, and a Distinction Arts degree, the equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa membership.

Her husband, Thomas P. Field, is a graduate student in the University Geography department.

University to Receive Grant From Carnegie Foundation

Carnegie Corporation of New York has granted $250,000 for an experimental five-year program to develop four permanent university study centers in Latin America, it has been announced by Dr. O. C. Carmichael, special adviser to the corporation and president of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching.

The project will be carried out jointly by the University of North Carolina, the University of Texas, the Tulane university of Louisiana, and Vanderbilt university, with each institution concentrating on a definite geographical area. North Carolina will focus on area studies of Spanish South America.

Designed to make available comprehensive knowledge of Latin America to students, teachers, businessmen and government officials, the program will provide in each center a strengthened undergraduate curriculum, broader facilities for graduate work and an expansion of library resources. For businessmen, missionaries and other non-student groups, the University of North Carolina, as a part of its expansion plan, will experiment with intensive language courses to be given by instructors from Latin America.

Under the program, each center will coordinate its work with the others through an inter-university committee, annual conferences, cooperative summer schools and exchange of

P. Graham, president of the Greater University of North Carolina, the House committee last Saturday declared the SCHW "perhaps the most deviously camouflaged Communist front organization."

The committee finger-pointing brought immediate denials from Dr. Clark Foreman, president of the conference, and protest from Perrell (Perry) Payne, former chairman of the campus chapter of the organization.

Said Payne: "Reform, not revolution, is the basis for the conference." Payne denied any knowledge of "revolutionary elements" in the conference. "If there are any," he said, "I do not believe they represent the views of the majority of members." He added they didn't represent his own views.

The committee's charges will be discussed thoroughly at the campus chapter's executive meeting tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in its YMCA office. There is a possibility that the group will have a copy of the complete Congressional committee report, for which Payne has written.

However, a similar attempt to get further information by Rev. Leo Sheppard, Baptist minister of Raleigh, who is chairman of the SCHW in North Carolina, has netted no results. Rev. Sheppard has addressed the FBI for evidence against the conference.

Highlights of Report

Highlights of the committee report:

Linked with the conference were Henry A. Wallace, Melvyn Douglas, Mrs. Marshall Field, Harold L. Ickes, Joseph E. Davies, Dorothy Parker, Paul Robeson, and Dr. Graham. (Dr. Graham was described as first chairman and now honorary president of the conference, and "not a communist.")

Committee "evidence" linked the central committee of the Communist party with "the affairs of the conference from its very inception."

"Conclusive proof" that the organization is a communist front, according to the report: its "strict and unvarying conformance to the line of the Communist party in the field of foreign policy."

State Bankers to Meet Here For Conference Next Month
