

Student President Tom Eller to Talk At Meeting of Phi

An address by President of the Student Body Tom Eller will highlight the opening of the 153rd session of the Philanthropic assembly tonight at 7:30 in the Phi hall, fourth floor New East. In a 15-minute speech, Eller will deliver his first "State of the Campus" message to the student body.

Eller's address will be followed by a talk on the Phi portraits by Mrs. Albert Coates, wife of Professor Albert Coates, head of the Institute of Government. Well-known for her knowledge of interesting facts about the 39 portraits which the Phi possesses, Mrs. Coates will tell the members and visitors about the artists who painted the portraits, and gave interesting sidelights about the distinguished men whom they portrayed.

Twelve Portraits
Twelve portraits now adorn the walls of the Phi Hall. They included ones of Commodore Johnston Blakeley, the "John Paul Jones" of the South; Rev. Joseph Caldwell, first President of the University; Hon. T. C. Manning, Chief Justice of Louisiana in the 1860's; Brigadier General James Johnson Pettigrew, leader of Pickett's Charge at Gettysburg; William Gaston, Supreme Court Judge, 1934-44; Major General Bryan Grimes, leader of the Confederate Forces in Eastern North Carolina, John Jerritge Bryan, Representative in Congress, 1847-49; John Y. Mason; Joseph John Daniel; William Miller; and James C. Dobbin.

Student Party To Meet Today

A meeting of the Student party will be held this afternoon at three o'clock in Roland Parker lounges one and two.

The meeting follows a preliminary steering committee meeting held last night for the consideration of party organization and policy. Open consideration for December legislature candidates, plus a discussion of several nonpolitical matters will take place.

Chairman Charlie Long urges all members of the party to be present and extends an invitation to all persons without political affiliations to attend and observe the party in action.

"The Student party's policy," said Long, "has been, and will continue to be open meetings, with the entire campus at liberty to attend. I urge every student, no matter what his interest may be, to take an active part in campus politics in order that we may continue to insure representative student government."

GLEE CLUB WILL REHEARSE AT 7

The Women's Glee club will rehearse at 5:00 this afternoon.

Tryouts will be held in Hill hall all this week from 2:30 until 4:30. All old members and new women who are interested and have not tried out are urged to do so as soon as possible. No special training is required to sing in the Glee club, and tryouts are short and simple.

Plans for this year include broadcasts, a combined Christmas concert with the Men's Glee Club and a spring tour.

Housing Racket, Victory Village Rent Abuse Inquiry on AVC Agenda Tonight

Better Housing One Chief Aim States Rouzie

Investigation of housing rackets in Chapel Hill and alleged abuses in Victory Village rental practices will be the primary item of new business on the agenda tonight at the first meeting of the American Veterans committee.

The meeting of the Chapel Hill chapter of the national organization of World War II veterans will be held in the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 and will include an introduction to the work and aims of AVC.

Primary Aim
"Better housing has been one of our chief aims all over the nation," Chairman Ben Rouzie said in commenting on local AVC projects, "and in Chapel Hill we feel the housing situation is worse than is necessary even considering the problems involved. We intend to see what can be done about it."

Declining to place the blame for unfair practices until a thorough investigation is conducted, Rouzie said that "a lot of honest veterans with families have sweated out the waiting list for Victory Village only to see their places go to couples who weren't even on the list at all."

Sub-Renting Racket
"Some of these cases were made possible," he said, "by lax rules on subletting. In some instances students have transferred to other schools and still kept their apartments in the Village. They then subletted directly at rents much higher than the standard sums—and if this isn't checked, it could turn into a bigger racket than it is now."

Rouzie emphasized that "AVC is not charging the Administration with laxness or political finagling" in renting units to veterans, but that "if the rules are inadequate, AVC intends to see HOUSING, Page 4

Symphony Orchestra Begins Rehearsals

The University Symphony orchestra began rehearsals last night in Hill hall under the direction of Earl Slocum of the music faculty. Players are still needed, particularly for the string section, and students interested are asked to see Mr. Slocum in 105 Hill hall or to attend future rehearsals.

The group will meet twice weekly, on Monday evening at 7 o'clock and on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 in preparation for the three formal concerts which it will present throughout the year, as well as appearances with other groups. It will accompany the Chapel Hill Choral society in their concerts at Christmas and at commencement, and will join with the music department and the Playmakers in the production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado."

The orchestra was composed of about 60 players last year, and, according to Mr. Slocum, should be even larger this year, since there are many new players available.

COL. W. A. RABORG (above) and Col. Carlyle Shepard will address a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at 101 Dayle hall of the reserve officers 320th Composite group.

Boxing Return On First Agenda Of Legislature

The Student Legislature, in its first meeting of the year Thursday night, will consider a resolution which will give its backing to the reinstatement of boxing at the University. A number of students have petitioned for the return of the ring to the field of sports here and the Student Legislature will be asked to give its endorsement when it convenes Thursday. The decision itself, however, on the future of boxing on this campus will rest with the Athletic council.

It is expected that other legislation will be introduced concerning the constitutionality of the Student Record book, a publication established (never released) to inform the student body of the proceedings and action taken in the legislative, judiciary, and executive branches of the government.

The meeting Thursday night at Gerrard Hall will necessarily use much of its time in reorganizing its committees. During the summer, many were members by proxy, while still others have not returned for the fall term.

Series of Recitals Will Begin Tonight

First of a weekly series of classical recorded concerts of sonatas, complete operas, and chamber music, will be presented from 8 until 9:30 tonight in the Horace Williams lounge of the Graham Memorial. These Tuesday evening programs will be in addition to the two-hour Sunday evening concerts in the main lounge. Tonight's program will include the following works: Boccherini, Quartet in G Minor; Mozart, Quintet in A Major for Clarinet and Strings; Beethoven, Trio No. 7 in B Flat Major ("Archduke").

Rhodes Scholarship Awards To Be Made in 1947, Spruill

Rhodes Scholarships will again be awarded to American college students during the year 1947, Dean Spruill announced today. Applicants who desire this scholarship should apply immediately to Dean Spruill who will forward their applications to the Secretary of the Committee of Selection for the state of North Carolina, Dr. William Blackburn of Duke university.

Temporarily abandoned during the war years, Rhodes scholarships to Oxford university will be offered to 48 applicants throughout the United States instead of the usual 32. An important innovation is a special provision for men who served during the war years in any type of duty. This includes scientific research, education, and positions in industry or agriculture which contributed to the war effort. To be eligible for a "War Service Scholarship," the following requirements are necessary:

1. Be a male citizen of the United States (marriage is no bar)
2. Be between the ages of 19 and 33 on October 1, 1948.
3. Have completed at least one year of war service.
4. Have completed at least one year of college work.

Picture-a-Minute Is Yackety-Yack's New Schedule as Photographers Work Rapidly

A picture a minute is the schedule for Yackety-Yack photographs these days, with two photographers working full time on Graham Memorial's second floor putting out 120 pictures per hour and 850 pictures per day.

The most surprising feature of the Yack photographic policy, however, is the fact that no one has to pay a cent for their photographs. Unlike last year, when fees ran from one to five dollars depending on the student's class, a readjustment of the student fee structure and new legislative appropriations have made possible this service, without charge.

Urge Students
All students who have not already made appointments for their photographs are urged to do so immediately by editorial board members Ruth Evans, Gene Johnstone, and Harold Bursley. No individual pictures will be taken at any fraternity houses this year.

For the photographers men are asked to wear light-colored shirts, preferably white, dark coats and ties. Coeds are requested to wear V-necked dresses.

Issued Call
The board of editors has issued a call for all persons interested in working on the Yack staff to attend a staff meeting this evening at 7:30 in the Yack office in Graham Memorial. Staff positions will be filled by those attending the meeting or those who have been previously interviewed.

There are openings on the staff for photographers, artists, writers, and typists in particular, and for anyone else who is interested and willing to work, say the Editors.

Elections Group To Meet Today

An urgent meeting of the elections committee of the student legislature has been called for three o'clock this afternoon in the Grail room of Graham Memorial.

In calling the meeting Committee Chairman Miles Smith said it is imperative that the following members of the committee be present: Tag Montague, Walt Talley, Benson McCutcheon, Ken Lineback, Cam West, Ben Wood.

SAVA N. KASONOVIC (above) ambassador from Yugoslavia to the United States and Mexico will appear here Friday night, October 3 on the program of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations. Nephew of the famous Nikola Tesla who pioneered in the field of alternating current, Kasonovic has represented his country at United Nations conferences in London, Paris, and New York.

Lincoln Kan Cites Functions Of Foreign Students' Group

In an interview yesterday afternoon, Lincoln Kan, director of CCUN gave out some informal talk on the Foreign Students' Committee, to be organized under the auspices of the CCUN.

Pointing out that not all foreign students at the University have the advantage of learning American moves, Kan cited the committee as a channel, through which these students may become familiar with customs and language, while contributing what they have to offer from their own countries. Mr. Kan was emphatic in stating that this was not merely a social group. The members will be given the opportunity of writing for various magazines and publications.

The CCUN feels that they should initiate this movement, being within their scope, but will welcome the assistance of any group on campus, since the CCUN belongs to all organizations.

The director of the group is Benedicta Santos, who formerly worked for the Inter-American office in San Paulo, Brazil. Her address is Smith Dormitory. Working with Miss Santos as co-chairman, is Martha Manning, a transfer from G. C. in Greensboro, and an active member of the Wesleyan Foundation.

All foreign students are requested to contact the CCUN office today, or after the conference.

Giduz, the Perpetual Optimist, Gets Negative Reply to His Request for Ducats to Sugar Bowl

By Jane Mears
The perpetual optimist, Foo Giduz, just received some very sad news from the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association. It seems that the hopeful lad has already written for tickets to the 1948 Sugar Bowl game, and finds that all tickets have been allocated and that no tickets will be available for general sale.

To obtain any of these allotted tickets you have to be practically a stockholder in the Sugar Bowl. At least you should have known about the recent bond issue when you could have bought yourself a permanent priority on the 50-yard line. At any rate, there are so many stockholders in the Association that very few will be left for supporters of the competing teams.

The Roosevelt hotel in New Orleans threw further cold water on Foo's hopes. All reservations have already been taken. The Roosevelt is holding space for press representatives, however, so Daily Tar Heel scribes are in hopes that by flashing their press cards, . . . Anyway, the Roosevelt expressed the hope that they might have the pleasure of having us stop there on some other occasion.

Party Names Board To Be Candidates For Vacant Position

By Chuck Hauser
Ruth Evans, Gene Johnstone, and Harold Bursley have been nominated by the University party to run as a Board of Editors for the Yackety-Yack, University yearbook. The three have been serving temporarily in that capacity since the resignation of Bill Moffitt, editor-in-chief elected last May, left the position open.

Moffitt Married
Moffitt, who was triply endorsed by the University, Student, and Campus parties in last spring's election, was married this summer, and has not returned to the University this fall. His resignation was officially accepted in August.

Evans, Johnstone, and Bursley joined forces as a Board of Editors to begin work on the yearbook on schedule. They were officially approved as temporary editors by the Publications Board last Thursday. The editorial election will probably be called within two or three weeks, according to Miles Smith, chairman of the Student Legislature Elections committee.

Fit for Job
The three members of the Board offer a combination of qualifications that seem to fit them well for the job.

Ruth Evans, aside from being Managing Editor for last year's Yack, is Editor of this year's Woman's Handbook, put out by the Coed Senate, and president of the YWCA. Ruth's home is in Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Gene Johnstone has been Editor of the Yack for two years in the past, 1947 and 1945. A senior from Haleyville, Alabama, he is the present president of the Publications Board.

Fratt Editor
Harold Bursley, a native of Charlotte, was Fraternity Editor for the 1947 Yackety-Yack, and edited the Central High yearbook in Charlotte in 1944.

The Board has already put in a great deal of work on this year's annual, the dummy having been completed, an extensive advertising campaign already underway, and a $45,000 budget having been drawn up. According to Gene Johnstone, "We're further along after one week of classes than we were last year after two months work."

YACK STAFF MEETING
The Yackety-Yack staff will hold a meeting for all applicants for staff positions this evening at 7:30 in the Yack office in Graham Memorial. All interested persons are urged to attend, photographers, artists, writers, and typists being particularly needed.

Nation-Wide Aptitude Tests for Approved NROTC Candidates Booked to Be Given on December 13

By Paul Rothman
Nation-wide aptitude tests will be given to all approved candidates for the Navy college training program on December 13, 1947.

Those persons entering the training program will receive 4 years college education with all books and fees paid and a $600 yearly subsistence allowance. Upon receiving degrees, the trainees will obtain a commission in the Navy or Marine Corps and will have the opportunity to apply for Naval flight training.

All those interested in flight training will be interested to know that the aviation college program has been suspended for the fiscal year of 1949. Graduates from the Naval academy and reserve officers' training program will be eligible for flight training if they physically qualify.
