Dr. Graham To Be Sworn In As Delegate On UN Group Today

Student Legislature Sets Yack Editorship Election For October 14

Resolution Backing Return of Boxing Passed Unanimously

By Jim Spence

In an unusually quiet session last night, the Student Legislature passed a bill creating a special election for editor of the Yackety-Yack to be held Tuesday, October 14.

The second important accomplishment of the meeting was the unanimous passing of a resolution to the Athletic Council for the reinstatement of boxing at the University. The resolution was introduced by Tag Montague, dubbed by colleagues "the Happy Legislator."

The bill asking for the October 14 special election was introduced by Charlie Long, speaker pro tempore of the Legislature. By means of suspension of the rules, a vote was immediately taken. The measure was passed by a vote of twenty to one.

The boxing issue was opened as Montague read a petition from boxers and students of the University asking for the reinstatement of the ring to intercollegiate sports here. It was pointed out by the petition that boxing has become more safe with new developments of protective equipment and that University teams have had a very fine standing in the South for well over twenty years. The resolution was passed unanimously and signed by Jack Folger, speaker of the legislature. It will now be forwarded to the Athletic Council for consideration.

Devore Gets Office

The first business brought before the meeting last night was the election of a Sergeant-at-Arms, an office set up by a bill passed during the summer. After the duties of the office were explained during discussion by Ernest House, a vote was taken and Jack DeVore was elected to the new position.

Expected to be a hot issue, the vote on Tom Eller's list of student government appointments was referred to the Rules committee for presentation to the Legislature at next week's session.

Med Applicants May Take Test

The first 100 applicants for the professional aptitude test will be registered by the medical school in room 103 Peabody.

The registration period has officially closed; but because the information concerning the examination was not generally known, the testing service has ordered 100 extra tests.

Registration will take place from 8:30 to 4:30 Monday through Friday of each week.

Those persons interested in entering the 1948 freshman class in any medical school must present results of the aptitude test upon application for admission.

The aptitude tests will be given October 25, 1947 and February 2, 1948. It is possible, all eligible students should plan to take the examinations on October 25 and should, therefore, register immediately.

LEGION PLANS LADIES NIGHT

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet on Friday next at 8 o'clock with the Legionnaires at the Hut on Rosemary Street. Wives, sisters, and any other women eligible for membership are especially invited to attend for a social gathering and to join if they wish.

Board of Trustees Meeting Names New Department Heads

Three new department heads for the University were named by the Board of Trustees this week, following the recommendation of President Frank P. Graham and Chancellor Robert B. House.

They are Dr. Arnold S. Nash, who heads a new Department of Religion; Dr. Harry Davis Bruner, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania, now head of the Department of Pharmacology in the School of Medicine, and Dr. Donald P. Costello, who succeeds as head of the Department of Zoology. Dr. Robert E. Coker, who at the time of his retirement from this post this year was made Director of the University's new Institute for Fisheries Research and Development. Dr. Coker will continue to teach.

Dr. Nash, who comes from Chicago where he has been associate professor in church history in McCormick Theological Seminary, is a native of England. He received his B. S. and several graduate degrees from the University of Liverpool and the University of London and was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by Coe college last year.

Came To U. S.

He came to the United States in 1939 to teach at the Berkeley Divinity school, New Haven, Conn., and subsequently lectured at Yale Divinity school, the Pacific School of Religion, the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, California, Union Theological Seminary, New York, and the University of Toronto.

Dr. Nash is author of the widely discussed book, "The University and the Modern World," published in 1943.

Dr. Bruner, in addition to his duties as head of the Department of Pharmacology, will also

Council for Religion in Life Announces Tentative Plans for Forthcoming Year

Plans which include a campus-wide European relief drive, a Sunday evening hour of religious talks, and a proposed address by Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy are now in tentative stages, Russell G. Baldwin, chairman of the Council for Religion in Life, announced today.

Although the Council, composed of representatives from all student organizations on campus—has not officially met, Chairman Baldwin said that the program for CRIL's coming year has been unofficially discussed.

At a meeting to be called early next week Baldwin will present to the group a proposal for a campus European relief drive. "Claude C. Shotts, new director of the YMCA who has recently returned from Germany," said Baldwin, "will be present to give a first-hand report on conditions in Europe."

Evening Hour

As soon as arrangements can be completed, CRIL will present a Sunday evening hour each week in Graham Memorial which will consist of singing by choirs, quartets and soloists. Informal talks on religion will be conducted at each meeting.

Outstanding speakers will be invited to the campus again this year, but no complete list of speakers can be announced at this time. "Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy has expressed a desire to come here," said Baldwin, "if his court schedule will permit."

To facilitate a more widespread campus response to the activities of the Council, Chairman Baldwin requests any organization which does not have a CRIL representative to appoint one, or to cause one to be elected, as soon as possible.

serve as professor of pharmacology. An assistant professor of pharmacology at the University of Pennsylvania since 1946, he served as assistant professor at the University of North Carolina here on a temporary assignment from 1939 to 1942. He received his S.B., M.D., and S.M. degrees from the University of Louisville School of Medicine in 1932, 1934, and 1936, respectively.

Taught in S. C.

From 1936 to 1938 he was an instructor in the Department of Physiology, Medical college of South Carolina, and the following year was a Fellow in the Department of Physiology at Chicago.

Dr. Costello, who came to the University as assistant professor of zoology in 1935, is a native of Detroit, Mich. He received his A. B. degree from the College of the City of Detroit (now Wayne university) in 1930 and his Ph.D. in 1934 at Pennsylvania. In 1941-42 he was a Rockefeller Fellow at Stanford university and in various summer terms he has instructed at the Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Mass., of which he is now a trustee. In 1943 he was elevated to a full professorship at the University. He is a member of the Society of Sigma Xi, being president of the North Carolina chapter in 1943-44, the American Society of Zoologists, the American Society of Naturalists, the Western Society of Naturalists, and a member of the editorial board of The Biological Bulletin.

VA Investigates Site For Hospital

Four representatives of the Veterans' administration met Wednesday with University and local officials to consider potential sites for the 1,000-bed neuropsychiatric hospital authorized by the government for location in North Carolina.

The VA representatives were James E. McMurrer of the real estate service, James P. Haynes, engineering service, Temple Thomason of the department of medicine and surgery, all from Washington, and John C. Donahue, attorney from the Richmond office.

They met at a luncheon to discuss plans with Mayor R. W. Madry of Chapel Hill, Clyde Hornaday, Dr. James C. Andrews, of the medical school, J. S. Bennett, supervisor of operation, and J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary, Howard Bennett, president of the Merchants' association, and Clyde Hornaday.

After lunch they joined president F. P. Graham, Chancellor Robert B. House, and other University officials before continuing the inspection.

Today the VA party will continue westward to Burlington in their coverage of the state. The number of sites is limited since the project will require approximately 250 acres.

Yugoslavian, British Ministers To Talk Syrian Diplomat Voices Arabian Plea

Voicing a strong plea for the Arab states against the Zionist movement, George Tomeh, Syrian Charge d'Affaires in Washington, declared here tonight that "we (Syria, Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Transjordan and Yemen) have one binding, lawful and sacred duty: to defend ourselves against all aggression. We ask for no favors and we desire nothing that is not ours by birthright."

"The Zionists are conducting an aggressive campaign, in fact, an invasion. For no matter with what apparel it is clothed, religious, humanitarian, or political, the Zionist movement for the possession of Palestine is nothing but an invasion that aims by force at securing and dominating a country that is not theirs by birthright."

Main Speaker

Mr. Tomeh was the principal speaker tonight at the first International Collegiate Conference being sponsored this week at the University by the Collegiate Council for United Nations. Student delegates from Duke University, Davidson, Lenoir-Rhyne college, Flora McDonald, Montreat college and the Woman's college of the University are in attendance.

Presiding over the sessions is Lincoln Kan, University senior, Army veteran and State director of CCUN.

In an afternoon dress-rehearsal for the evening speech, Tomeh cross-fired ideas with U.S. State Department planner Harding Bancroft and New Zealand Councillor John Reid at an open forum. The informal US-UK block sharply backed the right of the United Nations to formulate any final settlement of the Palestine problem, although Reid admitted that he was not yet certain that the proposed partition was the workable answer.

Answers Query

Rising to answer a question from one of the many UNC students who attended the session, Bancroft insisted "too little attention has been paid to the humanitarian aspects of the controversy. Certainly we must think of the plight of the 150,000 displaced Jews now in Germany seeking settlement in Palestine."

Forum Speaker Goro Deebe of the Carolina faculty repeatedly returned to the factor of "simple majority" to support his demands that the numerically greater Arabs be fully consulted in the solution of the trouble in the Holy Land.

Mr. Tomeh asserted in the evening address that the "raison d'etre" of the United Nations is to assist self-defense against aggression.

Two Men Students Call Protest Meet Over Long Skirts

Two men students have called a meeting for this afternoon of students interested in staging a protest against the current invasion by long skirts.

Emile Saleeby and Bill Stubbs, announcing organization of a "Knickerbocker club," request that interested students join them in Gerrard hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

SIR JOHN MAGOWAN

John Reid Assails Veto Power in UN As Undemocratic

"The Security Council veto is vicious, undemocratic, and impractical," pointed out the Honorable John F. Reid, Councillor of the New Zealand legislation in Washington, at the Palestine forum in Gerrard Hall, yesterday from 2 to 4 o'clock.

However, he warned that removing the veto power did not mean that conflicts would disappear, and that an improvement must be made and made soon. This was confirmed by Harding F. Bancroft, associate chief, division of International Security Affairs, of the State Department. Mr. Bancroft also pointed out that the UN machinery was not being used to its fullest advantage; that if it were, the veto power might not have to be changed.

Food Needed

Dr. Sidney B. Smith, visiting professor from Cambridge university in England, mentioned that food is needed in Europe to insure democracy, and that hungry people cannot concern themselves with international politics.

A possible substitute for the veto was suggested by Mr. Reid—that a regional veto, based on wealth, population and other such factors be worked out.

The Palestine question was brought into the limelight, as Goro Deeb, professor here, asked that the Arabs be considered as a nation, and as natives of Palestine, who lived there before the Jews and who with the Jews are no longer a nation. The Arabs were willing to share in a solution of the Palestine problem, but not at the expense of the existence of their land.

George Tomeh, Syrian Charge d'Affaires, mentioned that the humanitarian problem had to be taken into consideration, and that the solution must be just to both the Arabs and the Jews.

Lincoln Kan, who opened the forum brought it to a close, after the last questions had been asked from the floor, and presented to the speakers by the moderator, Randy MacLeod, who also introduced the speakers.

HOUSING READY

All men students who were enrolled in the University during either six weeks of the past summer term may now be housed in the quonset huts. Interested persons should contact the housing office, 207 South building, this Saturday.

Eastern Europe's communism is expected to clash with western democracy tonight when Yugoslavian Ambassador Sava N. Kasanovic speaks from the Hill hall platform at 8 o'clock along with Sir John Magowan, British minister to the U.S.

Climaxing the three-day United Nations salute, this evening's session will feature the top representative in this country from Marshall Tito's regime. Moscow radio recently lambasted the University's Press for publishing R. H. Markham's new book, "Tito's Imperial Communism."

"One can only express sympathy to the students of the University of North Carolina," the Russian radio commentator said, "that such slanders are being forced into their heads."

Lincoln Kan, chairman of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations, stated yesterday that he will try to arrange a meeting between Kasanovic and Miss Porter Cowles, director of the University Press.

Schedule of today's events is as follows:

9-12 a.m.—The foreign diplomats will visit political science classes.

2-3 p.m.—Plenary session in Gerrard hall open to everyone.

6-8 p.m.—Banquet in honor of Yugoslav ambassador and British minister at Carolina Inn. Dress will be semi-formal and all students are welcome.

8 p.m.—Conference in Hill hall addressed by Kasanovic and Magowan. Audience questions. All students and faculty are cordially invited to attend this last CCUN session.

8:30 p.m.—UN dance in Women's gym attended by the diploformal or informal. Johnny Satterfield's band will play and the dance will be free to everyone. Dress will be semi-formal.

"The CCUN hopes that this United Nations salute has made students more conscious of world affairs in these critical months when peace hangs in the balance," stated Lincoln Kan.

VA Changes Rule On Wage Reports

Veterans studying full time in colleges and universities under the GI Bill will no longer have to make periodic reports of earnings, the VA announced. Instead, an estimate will be made at the time of registration, for the veteran's earnings for the full period of time he plans to be in school.

The amount of subsistence allowances will be based on these estimates.

Square Dance to Feature Mountain Music In Preparation for Sadie Hawkins Day

In preparation for Sadie Hawkins day, now scarcely a month away, mountain music will be the keynote in the Y court tomorrow evening as the first square dance of the season gets under way, sponsored by Graham Memorial. Recorded music will be furnished for the affair, announced Nancy Tucker, student union recreation director, and round dance numbers will be interspersed with the square dance records.

Leading off and calling the dances will be P. A. Lee, Betty Dossan, and Taylor Dodson, all

Will Seek Solution To Indonesian Crisis

By Bill Sexton

Dr. Frank Graham is scheduled to be sworn in as United States delegate on the U. N. Indonesian Commission here this morning.

Appointed Wednesday by President Truman to be one of three statesmen designated to investigate and if possible resolve the Netherlands-Indonesian Republic crisis in the Pacific, Dr. Graham will receive his oath of office from J. A. Warren, University treasurer and notary public.

President Truman's commission to Dr. Graham, forwarded from the White House Wednesday evening, was due to arrive in Chapel Hill late last night.

Tentative plans call for Dr. Graham's departure from Chapel Hill Sunday. He will confer with State Department officials in Washington, then proceed to United Nations headquarters at Lake Success, N. Y.

His first duties with the U. N. will be meetings with representatives of Belgium and Australia, other members of the Indonesian commission, on arranging assembly of the commission members. Paul van Zeeland, former Belgian foreign minister, is now in Brussels, and Richard Clar-

Fraternity, Sorority Photograph Dates Announced Yesterday by Yackety-Yack

The dates for this year's fraternity and sorority photographs were announced yesterday in a letter sent to each of the local chapters by Yackety-Yack Board of editors, Gene Johnstone, Harold Bursley, and Rush Evans. Because of the poor results obtained through last year's practice of taking these pictures in the various houses, they are to be taken in Graham Memorial this year.

Although individual photographs are to be used again this year, each fraternity has been asked to come down in a body on the assigned day. No man or woman whose class picture has already been taken need come, however, as these will also be used in the fraternity section.

As an additional reminder, posters advising the date of that fraternity's appointment will appear on each house's main bulletin board. The first day, October 6, has been set aside for the five sororities, A. D. Pi, Alpha Gamma, Chi O., Tri Delta, and Pi Phi.

The balance of the schedule is as follows: Tuesday, October 7, Phi Delta, Phi Gamma, Phi Kappa, and Pi Kappa; Wednesday, October 8, Pi Lambda, SAE, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Nu; Thursday, October 9, Pi Epsilon Phi, ZBT, Zeta, SPE, Chi Phi, and Chi Psi; Friday, October 10, DKE, Delta Psi, Delta Sig, Kappa Sig, and KA.

SP Special Session Held Tonight

The Student Party will meet in a special session today at 3 o'clock in Roland Parker Lounge No. 1 of Graham Memorial, Charlie Long, SP chairman, announced yesterday.

Long stated that the changing political picture necessitated the special meeting and that several important matters must be considered immediately.

All persons not associated with other parties are invited to attend this session of the party and participate actively in the work of the Student Party on the campus.

Phi Assembly Elects John Giles President

The Philanthropic assembly, modeled after the North Carolina General Assembly and one of the oldest debating societies in the nation, opened its 152nd session this week with the election of John Giles of Glen Alpine as its new presiding officer. Speaker-elect Giles is an accounting major in the School of Commerce.

Chester Zum Brunnen of Salisbury was chosen speaker pro tem. New officers-elect are Charles Cowell, Washington, treasurer; Peter Gerns, Canton, O., parliamentarian; Page Harris, Durham, sergeant-at-arms; James McNider, Hertford, critic; Margaret Goodman, Concord, clerk, and James Hill, Germantown, chaplain.

Inaugural ceremonies will be held in the historic Phi Hall on October 7 at 8:30 p.m. when State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson is scheduled to make the principal address.
