State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson To Speak At Phi Officer Inauguration

By Charlie Gibson

Climaxing eight days of rushing, 117 coeds accepted bids to the five University sororities at 8 p. m. yesterday. After final parties Saturday, each of these women students signed a card yesterday morning to signify her first preference, picked up her bid if passed upon, and spent a memorable evening in the sorority house of her choice—"memorable," considering noisy backgrounds to a reporter's phone calls as evidence.

Margaret Jean Taylor, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, expressed satisfaction with the entire week's procedure, adding, though, that any coeds who have not yet done so should pay a dollar rushing fee to their housemother as soon as possible.

Although no definite date for distribution is known, the identification plates, which were to have been here by October 1, will be distributed as soon as possible after their arrival.

Hack the Sound of Tar Heel Voices Implies DTH Reporter As Cold Students Give Campus Prevailing Note of Sniffles

By Bill Sexton

The prevailing note on campus today may be the sniffle, but it will be next month—thanks to another shortage—before influenza vaccine can be administered by the University Health service.

Dr. Ed Hedgpeth, Infirmary head, said yesterday that vaccine for approximately 6,000 students was on order and expected sometime in November. As fast as it can be obtained, he added, more will be secured to inoculate the balance of the University community.

"It's just another shortage," said Hedgpeth, "or we'd have had the inoculations in process now."

As for the current epidemic of coughs and sniffles, said Hedgpeth, "that's to be expected this time of the year. Speak-

Back From Heat of Texas Real Carolina Spirit Shown As Students Greet Tar Heels

By Chuck Hauser

Real Carolina spirit was displayed Sunday night when almost 2,000 students turned out to greet the down-hearted Tar Heels as they returned from their Texas defeat.

Not only were 2,000 students waiting to cheer their return at Woollen gymnasium, but a sizable crowd was even at the Raleigh-Durham airport when the big Capital airlines DC-6 taxied in at 6:35.

As the team, many wearing ten-gallon hats brought back from Austin, stepped out of the plane, someone called out, "C'mon you Tar Heels!" over the hub-bub of the group.

Mad Scene

Meanwhile, a mad scene was being enacted in front of Woollen gym. Traffic was almost at a standstill, slowly threading its way through the packed through that swallowed up the automobiles.

As the band played "There'll be a Carolina Victory," and the crowd breathlessly awaited the first glimpse of the bus roaring up the hill from Raleigh, compliments were heard everywhere for Head Cheerleader Myrt Sherard who had worked since the night before to stage the rally the way it should be done.

Campus Party Plans Meet in GM Today

The Campus party will meet at 4 o'clock today in the Roland Parker lounge of Graham Memorial to discuss plans for the forthcoming election of Yack editor and organizational plans for the coming year.

There are two party vacancies to be filled at this meeting also. The vacancies created by the resignation of Charlie Britt and the party publicity director are to be filled.

All party members and any students interested in student government activities are invited to attend.

G.M. CONCERT PROGRAM

Students and faculty are welcome to attend the recorded concerts of dinner music held from 6:30-7:30 each weekday evening in the main lounge of Graham Memorial. Tonight's program will include the following works: Gershwin, The Man I Love; Grieg, Peer Gynt Suite; Bach, Fugue in G Minor; Kern, Showboat (scenario for orchestra); Selections from Gilbert and Sullivan; Rodgers, Carousel Waltz, You'll Never Walk Alone; Gershwin, Oh Lady Be Good.

Missing only five games were F. K. Manning, Merwin Van Hecke, and Sam Ray. Last week's winner, Al Barth slumped to a .600 average, though he came comparatively close on the Tar Heel's score prediction, with a guess of 32-28, in favor of Texas. No contestant guessed the score correctly.

Heating in dormitories and classrooms is, with two exceptions, in normal winter operating condition, Supervisor of Operations J. S. Bennett reported yesterday. We're at work now adjusting the steam system in Everett and should have it working very soon. And there's good news for students with classes in the temporary buildings now unheated.

Bennett said some of the frame structures would have heating by the first of next week, with installation of facilities due to be completed in the rest by the end of next week. If radiators in individual rooms need adjustment or repair, the job will receive top priority from the building department. "If you have trouble," Bennett advised, "call 5151 and we'll be on the job."

The former Prime Minister of Belgium, Paul van Zeeland, will be present for the official opening of the three-man committee's operations. The third member, Justice Richard C. Kirby of Australia, has not left Canberra yet and will be represented by Dr. Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister.

The Security council is scheduled to act today on a demand by Russia that the council order troops of both the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic to withdraw to positions held October 20, the date Indonesian hostilities began.

Tickets will be put on sale Thursday and may be bought from any Monogram club member in the "Y" court, at Lenoir hall, or at the door Saturday night.

This is only one of the many functions the lettermen are scheduling this year for student benefit. The monogrammen were active earlier in freshmen orientation and play a sizable part in seating as well as entertaining the crowds at Kenan stadium this season. Under Monogram auspices during the next few weeks movies of the Tar Heel games will also be presented with commentary by some member of the coaching staff here.

Lyn Szafaryn is president of the monogram clan while "Mike" is acting as dance chairman Saturday night.

Stray Greeks Meet Tonight To Form Club

To meet what he termed "the need for an organization on the Carolina campus for fraternity men from other colleges whose fraternities are not represented here," Robert K. Bain, a graduate student here, announced today a meeting of all such students to be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Roland Parker Lounge No. 2 of Graham Memorial.

The movement has the backing of Leon Todd, president of the Interfraternity Council, who declared that the established fraternities on campus would welcome such an organization and would cooperate with it in any way possible.

Bain said that such an organization could provide for the social activities of its members and give its support to other campus activities, both fraternal and nonfraternal.

The initial meeting will be devoted to a thorough discussion of the feasibility and prospects of such a plan, and to the selection of at least temporary officers or committees to continue the project. Bain mentioned that he had initiated the plan solely because "nobody else has seemed to have started anything like it" and that he hoped to see its leadership fall into the hands of someone who has "both more time and ability than I."

Group Schedules Meet GM Tonight

The local chapter of Students for Democratic Action will hold its first meeting of the quarter at 7:30 tonight in the Grail room of Graham Memorial.

Prospective members and all interested persons are invited to attend the session.

McPhail To Retire From All Baseball

New York, Oct. 6—(UP)—Larry McPhail, the pepper pot president of the new World Champions, the New York Yankees, quit his post here today a few seconds following the dramatic finish of the 1947 World Series.

McPhail made the announcement during the ninth inning when he told reporters, "Boys, if we win this one I'm quitting."

Whatever the reason, Larry says he's out of baseball. The Yankee players, jubilant over their 11th World Championship, were stunned when the news got out. Even the wild excitement of the Yankee dressing room was tame after that announcement for a man who had made many valuable contributions to the game was calling it quits.

McPhail says his fracas with Commissioner Chandler had nothing to do with his decision but that he was just getting out.

CARTERET COUNTY CLUB
All students from Carteret county are urged to attend a meeting of the Carteret County club on Wednesday, October 8 at 7 o'clock in the Grail room of Graham Memorial. Election of officers will be held and plans discussed for sponsoring Carteret county space in the Yackety Yack.

Candidate in 1948 Gubernatorial Race Also Will Deliver Address at Banquet

Charles M. Johnson, State treasurer and prominent candidate in the 1948 gubernatorial race, will be the principal speaker at the inauguration of the new Philanthropic assembly officers tonight at 8:30 in the historic Phi hall, fourth floor New East.

The inaugural ceremonies will follow the traditional Di-Phi banquet to be held in the Carolina Inn at 6:30 p. m. The banquet will be attended by members of the two societies and their guests. Johnson will also be the featured speaker at the banquet.

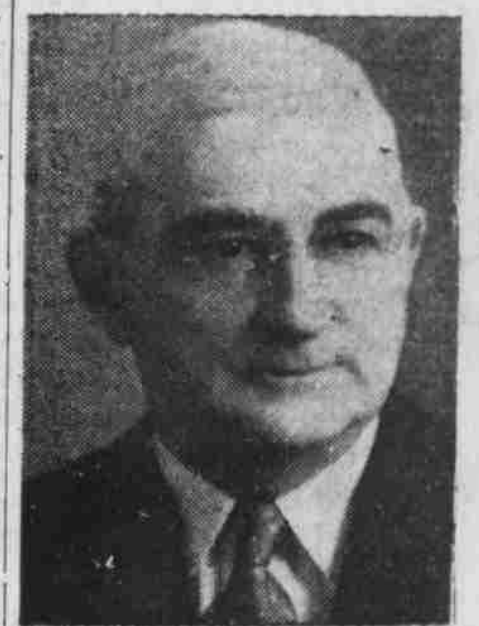

With his appointment as director of local government on March 4, 1931, Johnson began his long career in State government.

On November 17, 1932, he was appointed treasurer by Governor Gardner, a post he has continued to occupy during the past 15 years. Shortly after Johnson became treasurer, the General Assembly met and passed an act providing that the State treasurer should be the director of local government. Since that time he has held both positions.

One Duty

One of his principal duties as co-holder of both offices was to refine many of the counties, cities, and towns that were in default on their obligations. Evidence of the fine record made by Johnson while holding these positions is shown by the fact that none of these local governments is now in default.

The inaugural ceremonies which were a major part of the Phi's activities before the war will be reinstated tonight. In addition to the swearing in of the new officers, four new members will be initiated into the Assembly. They are William Robert

CHARLES M. JOHNSON

Coulter, Winfred R. Erwin, Morgan Philip Morris, and James G. Stallings. Following the initiation, Johnson will make his address. The public is invited to attend these ceremonies.

FRESHMAN FRAT

Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity, will hold its initial meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Grail room of Graham Memorial. All members are urged to attend since there is important business to be handled at this time.

Dr. Frank Graham, H. W. Odum Invited To Help in Inauguration of Fisk Head

Dr. Frank Graham has been requested to be one of fifteen principal speakers during the inauguration services to be held at Fisk university, Nashville, Tenn., November 6, 7, and 8 at which time Dr. C. S. Johnson will be installed as the sixth president of that institution.

Among the speakers will be such prominent people as Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt and J. M. Broughton, former governor of North Carolina.

Mr. Broughton will lead a discussion on "The Recent Economic Changes in the South" and will be assisted by H. W. Odum, Professor of Sociology here.

Dr. Johnson was director of the Social Science Institute and the program of social research at Fisk from 1928 until his recent appointment as president. He is to succeed Dr. Thomas E. Jones, who is now president of Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana.

South Building officials have stated that Dr. Graham will be unable to attend the inauguration because of his recent appointment to a Security Council investigating committee. At this date no one has been selected to replace him.

Historical Society To Meet at Davidson

The fall meeting of the Historical Society of North Carolina will be held at Davidson college Saturday, October 25, it was announced by Dr. Cecil Johnson of the University History department, secretary-treasurer, following a decision by the Council of the Society.

The committee in charge of local arrangements is composed of Dean C. K. Brown and Profs. Frontis Johnston and W. P. Cumming, all of Davidson college.

Features of the program will be the election of officers, committee reports, and an address by Dr. Archibald Henderson of the University, retiring president.

Wife of Veteran Victim of Attack In Victory Village

Chapel Hill police reported at 11 o'clock last night bloodhounds had lost the trail of an unidentified assailant who attempted to rape a student's wife near Victory Village early yesterday evening.

The pretty young mother of two children, whose name was withheld, told officers she fought off an unidentified assailant with a pair of scissors last night at 7:45 in the back yard of her Victory Village home.

At the time of the attack, the woman was behind her house in the village cutting leaves for a floral decoration for her home, when her attacker, whom she could not identify in the darkness, grabbed her and allegedly dragged her a few yards off into the woods.

The young wife said she thought she had succeeded in stabbing the man with her scissors after he had torn her dress, causing the several scratches which Dr. Ed Hedgpeth, University health service head said were not serious.

Chapel Hill officers, sheriff's deputies, and armed students pursued the assailant's trail nearly a mile, but the dogs lost the scent in the basement of a home 500 yards down Pittsboro road after a circular chase through woods and country lanes.
