

WEATHER
Cloudy and warmer with occasional light rain.

The Daily Tar Heel

EDITORIAL
Christian Task
Food from the People
Outmoded War Machine

VOLUME LVI United Press CHAPEL HILL, N. C. SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1947 Phone F-3371-F3361 NUMBER 16

National Limelight Fades For Tar Heels As Deacons Win, 19-7

Week Old Corpse Found Near Pines By Football Fan

By Bill Sexton

Discovery yesterday of a partially decomposed body near the Pines, restaurant two miles east of Chapel Hill, was believed by police to have solved the case of an attempt to enter the home of B. F. Davenport, Pines owner, on October 3.

A spectator enroute to the Carolina-Wake Forest game reported to Chapel Hill police finding a body tentatively identified as Walter Edwards, Chatham country Negro, shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The body was located in a wooded area approximately 150 feet from a trailer camp occupied by the families of 16 Carolina students.

A funeral home attendant said last night he believed two gunshot wounds were cause of death, and estimated that a week had elapsed since the victim died. Edwards, reported missing October 4, had last been seen at a tavern near the Pines. Earlier Davenport, proprietor of the Pines, had reported an attempt to break into the house occupied by him and his wife, his five-year-old child, and a brother at about 1 a.m. October 3. He said the noise of breaking a screen and forcing a window awakened his brother, J. C. Davenport. The two men pursued the attempted burglar, firing nine shots into the darkness.

An immediate search by Chapel Hill police, Orange county sheriff's officers, and bloodhounds had failed to reveal any trace of the intruder, and officers a week later reported no headway on the case until the body was found yesterday afternoon.

Coroner H. J. Walker had not determined yesterday evening whether an inquest would be held, but police officers indicated they believed finding of the body cleared up the attempted break-in.

Fraternity Men Organize Group Of Stray Greeks

An addition to campus fraternity life was created last Thursday night when a group of fraternity men transferring here from other colleges and whose fraternities are not represented here met in Graham Memorial to organize a "Stray Greek" organization.

Ten men, representing ten different fraternities from Chicago to Georgia, formed the nucleus of the yet nameless organization. Two temporary officers were chosen, Bob Bain as president and Larry Widman as secretary-treasurer.

Plans for further organization and social activities will be discussed when the group meets Wednesday evening at 7:30 in Graham Memorial.

Charter members of the organization are: Bob Bain, Delta Upsilon; Larry Widman, Theta Delta Chi; Hal Elkin, Sigma Alpha Lambda; Jack English, Delta Tau Delta; Whit Henderson, Theta Chi; Marshall Purkin, Delta Sigma Phi; Kurt Weill, Pi Kappa Phi; Bill Brown, Alpha Lambda Tau; Woodrow Matheny, Alpha Gamma Rho; Tom Dailey, Phi Tau.

CABINET MEETING

There will be a meeting of Y cabinet members tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Y building. Charles Foley, president of the organization, said that members will discuss means of implementing the program action taken by the cabinet at its last meeting.

New Communist International Indicates Accuracy of Book

Formation of a new Communist International with headquarters in the Yugoslav capital is "another indication of the accuracy" of controversial "Tito's Imperial Communism," C. B. Robson, chairman of the University Press's manuscript committee, asserted yesterday.

Answering the charges of "inaccuracy and prejudice" voiced last week by Yugoslav Ambassador Sava Kasanovic, Robson defended R. H. Markham's book as a "well-considered work by an absolute authority on the Balkans."

During an informal visit to the office of the University press one week ago, Kasanovic described Markham as "a man recognized as an authority who is definitely not an authority," and charged that the Christian Science Monitor correspondent had not been on Yugoslav territory since 1936.

An Answer

In answer Robson, who is chairman of the UNC political science department as well as a member of the press board of governors, declared that Markham was one few Balkan newsmen who actually spoke the slavic languages and had lived in the region many years.

"During the war," said Robson, "Markham served the U. S. as an intelligence agent in the Balkans. After the war he returned as a correspondent, omitting Yugoslavia on his travels only because he was refused admission by the Tito regime."

He told how Markham had submitted the manuscript in the middle of 1945, but that publication was delayed at the author's request until he could make a return visit to the Balkan region for further study.

Careful Study

"We published this work because after careful study and some revision which we suggested we found it not only an accurate analysis of the Tito government but also a book filling a conspicuous gap in information available in the U. S.," Robson said.

Earlier yesterday Miss Porter Cole, acting director of the Uni-

Arabs Move Troops To Palestine Line

Lake Success, Oct. 11—(UP)—Reported Arab troop movements on Palestine borders and a message of agreement from the Jewish Agency are the contrasting reactions to the American announcement today that the U. S. would support the United Nations plan for partition of the Holy Land.

A dispatch from Beirut tonight indicated that Syrian army units estimated to total 6,000 soldiers are maneuvering on the Syrian-Transjordan border some 50 miles from the Palestine frontier. Other reports predicted that Iraq will send at least 10,000 troops through Syria to Palestine during the coming week.

The Syrian delegate to the United Nations, one of the founders of the powerful Arab league, warned at Lake Success that the U. S. announcement is "a challenge to the Arabs."

Twenty British constables were assigned this morning to guard the American consulate in Jerusalem, and diplomatic personnel there have been issued guns as a precautionary measure. But there has been no report of violence within the borders of little Palestine.

College Dean, English Instructor Turned Mystery Writer, Hugh Holman, To Be Bull's Head Guest Speaker on Wednesday

By Donald MacDonald

A college dean who has turned mystery writer is the record of Hugh Holman, local author and instructor in English, who will be guest speaker at a Bull's Head tea on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Subject of the informal talk will be "Myths About the Detective Story," Mrs. N. B. Adams, hostess at the teas, announced today. The speaker will be introduced by Mrs. Charles Valentine, Jr., manager of the bookshop.

Before his writing career began Holman served as instructor in radio at Presbyterian college, Clinton, S. C. He is the author of over 200 historical plays for radio and has done graduate work at New York University. Some of his adaptations have been aired by the Columbia Broadcasting system in its "Columbia Workshop" series. During the war he became a physics instructor with the Army Air forces, remaining afterwards at his Alma Mater

University to Go On Air on Sunday With Radio Show

The University takes to the airwaves next Sunday when the first radio program from the newly-constructed Swain hall studios is broadcast to people all over North Carolina.

Featuring campus music and comedy, "The University Hour," Sunday's premier production, will beam thirty minutes of variety entertainment at 1:30 to 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Station WPTF in Raleigh and a hook-up of other key stations with blanket state coverage will carry the program.

Set Debut

"Next week will also see the debut of four other separate series of weekly shows," stated Earl Wynn, Director of the University's Communication Center. The staff of the Center will write, produce and broadcast all programs with the assistance of talented students and faculty.

Leaping into the radio spotlight on "The University Hour" will be the 300-voice combined men's and women's glee clubs, a popular collegiate orchestra, campus news tid-bits, the State College band and a comedy playlet.

The program will originate from all three campuses of the Consolidated University at State college in Raleigh, Women's college in Greensboro and the University in Chapel Hill.

Variety Show

Miss Jane Grills, radio program director of the Communication Center, will produce the variety show with the aid of Associate Producers Mr. Milton R. Gibson and Mrs. Bess N. Rosa at the other two colleges.

The radio shows will emanate from three modern studios in Swain Hall.

The main studio, constructed with polycylindrical wall surfaces, is large enough for audience participation shows, concert orchestras and other complex productions.

"Educational institutions should keep up with the times," explained Earl Wynn. "Radio belongs to the twentieth century. We at Carolina intend to use it, and use it effectively, to extend the University to all the people in the state."

In conjunction with the Center's broadcasting work, staff members teach courses in the Department of Radio. At the present time, courses include an introductory survey, beginning and advanced radio writing, program planning, microphone technique and others.

University to Go On Air on Sunday With Radio Show

The University takes to the airwaves next Sunday when the first radio program from the newly-constructed Swain hall studios is broadcast to people all over North Carolina.

Featuring campus music and comedy, "The University Hour," Sunday's premier production, will beam thirty minutes of variety entertainment at 1:30 to 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Station WPTF in Raleigh and a hook-up of other key stations with blanket state coverage will carry the program.

Set Debut

"Next week will also see the debut of four other separate series of weekly shows," stated Earl Wynn, Director of the University's Communication Center. The staff of the Center will write, produce and broadcast all programs with the assistance of talented students and faculty.

Leaping into the radio spotlight on "The University Hour" will be the 300-voice combined men's and women's glee clubs, a popular collegiate orchestra, campus news tid-bits, the State College band and a comedy playlet.

The program will originate from all three campuses of the Consolidated University at State college in Raleigh, Women's college in Greensboro and the University in Chapel Hill.

Variety Show

Miss Jane Grills, radio program director of the Communication Center, will produce the variety show with the aid of Associate Producers Mr. Milton R. Gibson and Mrs. Bess N. Rosa at the other two colleges.

The radio shows will emanate from three modern studios in Swain Hall.

The main studio, constructed with polycylindrical wall surfaces, is large enough for audience participation shows, concert orchestras and other complex productions.

"Educational institutions should keep up with the times," explained Earl Wynn. "Radio belongs to the twentieth century. We at Carolina intend to use it, and use it effectively, to extend the University to all the people in the state."

In conjunction with the Center's broadcasting work, staff members teach courses in the Department of Radio. At the present time, courses include an introductory survey, beginning and advanced radio writing, program planning, microphone technique and others.

College Dean, English Instructor Turned Mystery Writer, Hugh Holman, To Be Bull's Head Guest Speaker on Wednesday

By Donald MacDonald

A college dean who has turned mystery writer is the record of Hugh Holman, local author and instructor in English, who will be guest speaker at a Bull's Head tea on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Subject of the informal talk will be "Myths About the Detective Story," Mrs. N. B. Adams, hostess at the teas, announced today. The speaker will be introduced by Mrs. Charles Valentine, Jr., manager of the bookshop.

Before his writing career began Holman served as instructor in radio at Presbyterian college, Clinton, S. C. He is the author of over 200 historical plays for radio and has done graduate work at New York University. Some of his adaptations have been aired by the Columbia Broadcasting system in its "Columbia Workshop" series. During the war he became a physics instructor with the Army Air forces, remaining afterwards at his Alma Mater

DEAN HUGH HOLMAN

ONE OF THE chief reasons that the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest came away with a victory yesterday was because they were able to stop the deceptive reverses of shifty Jim Camp, above. The Tar Heel wingback is in his fourth year with the Tar Heels.

Laboratory Theater Announces Decision To Stage Four Full-Length Productions

By Mark Sumner

The Laboratory theater of the Carolina Playmakers will stage four full-length productions during the coming season, it was announced last night by A. E. "Buddy" Westover, III, of Merchantsville, N. J., chairman of the steering committee. The performances, as last year, will be staged in Graham Memorial's main lounge.

The first play of the new season will be "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde directed by Mr. Westover. It will be staged on November 23 and 24. The second production will be Anna Cora Mowatt's "Fashion," directed by W. P. Covington, III, of Winston-Salem, and slated for February 7 and 8. James Byrd of Charlotte, will direct "Squaring the Circle," a modern Russian comedy by Valentine Kaytaye, to be presented on April 10 and 11, and the final play will be an original full length by a student author. It will be directed by Eleanor Ringer of Asheville, and presented on May 15 and 16.

Tryouts for the first play will be held in the Playmaker theater on October 22, at 4:00 P. M., and an open meeting of the organization will be held in the Playmaker theater for all who are interested in working with the laboratory group in any field of interest on October 19, at 8:00 p.m.

The Laboratory theater is a student managed organization sponsored jointly by the Carolina Playmakers on the technical side and Graham Memorial on the business side. Due to the sponsorship by Graham Memorial, no charges are made for admissions.

Last year the group presented a highly successful program including: "Pierre Pathelin," "Aria de Cappo," "The Imaginary Invalid," and "The Rivals."

The steering committee for the 1947-48 season includes Mr. Westover, Mrs. Susanne M. Davis of Chapel Hill, Eleanor Ringer, James Byrd, and James Riley of West Palm Beach, Fla. The faculty adviser for the Laboratory theater is Foster Fitz-Simons of the Playmaker staff, and Graham Memorial's William Shuford is business adviser.

Director of New Department of Religion To Open Series of Talks Tomorrow Night

Dr. Arnold Nash, who has just come to the University from the McCormick Theological seminary in Chicago to head the new Department of Religion, will begin a series of seven weekly informal lectures in Gerard Hall here tomorrow night at 7 o'clock, it was announced by Chancellor R. B. House.

Dr. Nash, who will in addition to heading the department serve as professor of religious history, will speak on "The Christian Task in the University." His lecture will be followed by a discussion period, and all students, faculty members and townspeople are invited to attend.

Last spring Prof. Frank Hanft of the University Law School inaugurated the weekly talks on religious subjects, and it was partly because of the interest shown in the series that the University trustees founded the new Department of Religion.

Dr. Nash, whose field is the history and philosophy of religion, is a native of England. He received his B.S. and several graduate degrees from the University of Liverpool and the University of London and was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by Coe College last year.

He came to the United States in 1939 to teach at the Berkeley

Fetzer's Aerials Spark Wake Forest In Triumph

By Bob Goldwater

All ideas that North Carolina would rebound from last week's crushing setback to bowl over its remaining opponents and regain its place in the national grid spotlight were sadly shattered in Kenan stadium yesterday before 35,000 witnesses when a keyed-up Wake Forest eleven completely outclassed the Tar Heels to register a 19-7 triumph.

Although the Deacons had much the better of the argument in all statistics departments, it was the sensational passing of tailback Tom Fetzer that provided the main difference between the two teams. The 20-year-old successor to Nick Sacrinty dominated the show by completing 12 passes in 16 attempts for a yardage total of 198.

Nevertheless, he wasn't the only Deacon star. His understudy, Jim Lail, only completed one aerial but it went for a touchdown, Wake Forest's first. Fullback George Pryor led the attack along the ground with powerful line smashes. And the entire Deacon forward wall—from end to end—came in for its share of glory by checking the Carolina ground offensive for the third successive week—this time to a net of 31 yards.

Actually, the Deacons never gave Carolina a chance to get into the ball game. They maintained control of the pigskin throughout most of the 60 minutes of action and that's usually a good indication of which team emerges the victor. It was this time, anyway.

Booming Punts

Lone bright spot for Carolina in an otherwise drab afternoon was the booming punting of Charlie Justice, who averaged 51.5 yards on nine kicks. The Tar Heel offensive, both through the air and on the ground, was stifled by the hard-charging Deacons, and Carolina had possession of the ball in enemy territory only twice during the contest.

It took Wake Forest exactly seven and one-half minutes after Walt Pupa's kickoff to cross the goal line for the first of its three touchdowns. And the Tar Heels had the ball for only two downs during the interval, one of these being a quick-kick by Justice that travelled 58 yards. The Deacons wasted no time

Figures Don't Lie!

	W.F.	UNC
First downs	15	4
Yds gained rushing	128	84
Yds lost rushing	27	33
Net yd rushing	101	31
Passes attempted	32	17
Passes completed	14	4
Passes had int.	0	1
Yds gained passing	230	63
Laterals attempted	2	0
Laterals completed	2	0
No. of punts	8	9
Av. distance punts	46.1	51.5
Punts blocked by	0	0
No. of punt returns	6	4
Yds punts returned	51	42
No. of kickoffs	3	3
Av. distance kickoffs	49	55
Yds kickoffs returned	6	31
Ball lost on fumbles	1	0
Own fumbles recovered	3	0
No. of penalties	6	4
Yds penalized	70	35

in getting back those 58 yards and more in addition. Fetzer picked up 21 around left end and Pryor bucked for two, then took a Fetzer pass for four more. The Wake tailback advanced another four yards on a fake punt for a first down on the Carolina 48, then retired for a spell in favor of Lail.

Dowda Scores

Pryor took up where Fetzer left off and pitched a long aerial to end John O'Quinn, who was downed on the Tar Heel 24. After a four-yard buck by the big fullback, Lail faded back and uncorked a long pass into the end zone that Harry Dowda gathered in with a beautiful catch. Nich Ognovich's conversion attempt was wide but the Deacons had taken a 6-0 lead from which the locals never recovered.

Sixteen minutes later, a Deacon was again crossing the goal line and the Tar Heels were still attempting to take the ball across the midfield stripe. Wake Forest threatened shortly after the second quarter got under way but Carolina secondary stopped the Deacon aerial show.

See LOGUE, page 3.

Director of New Department of Religion To Open Series of Talks Tomorrow Night

Dr. Arnold Nash, who has just come to the University from the McCormick Theological seminary in Chicago to head the new Department of Religion, will begin a series of seven weekly informal lectures in Gerard Hall here tomorrow night at 7 o'clock, it was announced by Chancellor R. B. House.

Dr. Nash, who will in addition to heading the department serve as professor of religious history, will speak on "The Christian Task in the University." His lecture will be followed by a discussion period, and all students, faculty members and townspeople are invited to attend.

Last spring Prof. Frank Hanft of the University Law School inaugurated the weekly talks on religious subjects, and it was partly because of the interest shown in the series that the University trustees founded the new Department of Religion.

Dr. Nash, whose field is the history and philosophy of religion, is a native of England. He received his B.S. and several graduate degrees from the University of Liverpool and the University of London and was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by Coe College last year.

He came to the United States in 1939 to teach at the Berkeley

DR. ARNOLD NASH