Coed Association Hears Cook Speak

The Carolina Independent Coed Association heard Miss Katherine Cook, Associate Director of the Bureau of Vocational Guidance, speak on vocational trends and opportunities for women graduates of the University at the regular meeting Wednesday evening. The talk was informal with group participation and questions asked from the floor.

Following the regular meeting Jane Mears was elected publicity chairman and plans were outlined for a semi-formal dance to be held December 6 at Carolina Inn. Final arrangements were made for Sadie Hawkins day which the club is sponsoring together with the Town Girls' Association.

ART TALENT NEEDED
All students who can handle commercial art work are requested to be in the Tarnation office, Graham Memorial, this afternoon at 3 p.m.

last period and the play was fairly even until Allen reinserted the first team. A few seconds before the half's end Dave Boak headed in a corner kick from the toe of Jesse Greenbaum. Johnson tallied his final goal from in front of the net early in the third quarter after taking a pass from Dave Boak. Boak's sensational ball handling sparked the Tar Heels throughout the contest. Boak and Johnson teamed to notch the next Carolina tally late in the final period when Boak took Johnson's pass on the run and booted the ball home. Dave Ferebee scored the final Blue and White goal just before the game's end on an assist from Bill Moore.

Students Should See Wadsworth

J. E. Wadsworth, University housing director, has released a list of 15 men for whom he may have dormitory space available at present. These students should immediately contact Wadsworth's office in room 22 of the barracks annex to New West, his new location.

The following names now head the waiting lists for dormitory rooms and should see Wadsworth: Holcombe C. Adams; Bynum R. Brown; Earl E. Crumpler; Robert G. Evans; Edward E. Grace; Alice F. Hall, Jr.; William G. Hooks; Rufus A. Hunter, Jr.; Andrew F. McCall; James D. Mills; Allen D. Morgan, Jr.; Robert P. O'Connell; John H. Oliver; Harry C. Snow; and Marion H. Ward.

The earliest marine insurance contracts were recorded in England in 1583.

Chapel Hill Bird Club Shows Wildlife Movies Here Tonight

A full-length color movie of American wildlife will be given at 8 o'clock this evening at the Pick theatre by Bert Harwell of Berkeley, California, prominent wildlife photographer. It will be the first in a series of five "nature screen tours" to be given here this season by the Chapel Hill Bird Club and the National Audubon Society.

The charge for admission is 50 cents; or by season ticket, which can be obtained at Ledbetter - Pickard's at $2 each.

A bulletin from the Audubon Society says, "Bert Harwell can translate for his audience a dry and sweltering desert into an area of beauty and drama. The remote and lofty Sierras become as familiar as one's own garden. He not only speaks with authority and charm, but skillfully illustrates his talks, vocally by bird-song imitations and visually by magnificent all-color motion pictures."

An alumnus of Columbia Leland Stanford, and California, with an M.A. degree from the latter, Harwell was park naturalist at Yosemite from 1929 to 1940. In 1940 he joined the staff of the Audubon Society.

shown on WSSF posters. Dick Fullen's display in Ab's bookstore shows photographs of students in Poland, emphasizing the necessity of aiding young people so that they may study.

Bob Ensslin and "Squire" Sherill have used old French newspapers in a display on France in Berman's department store window.

Each student or group of students worked out and executed its own idea. Liaison with the YWCA, co-sponsor of the WSSF drive, was handled by Margaret Gaston.

Humphries, Sound and Fury will award a prize during the afternoon to the group entering the best float, in the judges opinion.

It's Phogbound versus Fortescue on Fetzer field at 3 o'clock, when the Monogram club divides up in a civil war, jokingly tagged a football game. Evil-Eye Fleagle, Big Stanislaus, and the curvaceous Stupid will make their local premiere appearance during the football battle. Captaining the Fortescue charges will be wrestling star T. A. Hearn, while basketball's Bob Paxton will lead the Phogbound (P.U.) team. Climax of the afternoon comes with the Human (some call it inhuman) Race at 3:30. Several hundred couples have already signed up for the wide-open husband-catching handicap which will be run off on the field above the Fetzer stadium stands. Ken Willis, overseer of the race announced that anyone, attached or otherwise, may enter the race this afternoon, whether previously signed up or not. Dogpatch costume is the only prerequisite.

Vets Minus Checks Should Notify VA

Any veteran who registered during the regular registration period and has not yet received his subsistence check is requested to report to 111 Peabody Building or 316 South Building with his letter of award. The letter of award is Form 7-506 which authorized payment of subsistence from the date of entrance to June 22, 1948.

Names of all veterans who report they have not received their checks will be telephoned to the Winston-Salem office daily up to November 14 and an investigation will be made of each case immediately as to the cause of delay.

KLENZ RECITAL
Three suites by Bach will be presented by Mr. William Klentz, violoncellist, tonight, at 8:30 in Hill hall, in the last of a series of recitals of violoncello music.

distribution is by
CONSUMER PREFERENCE

Through the thousands of store buyers who are the patrons of the apparel production centers of the nation comes the voice of the clothes-consuming public. The choices of the retailers, transmitted to the manufacturing markets through millions of miles of their own and of salesmen's journeys, are originally the tastes of the wearers.

Designing room and production plan are ever sensitive to the requirements of the public.
