

WEATHER

Cloudy and cool; occasional light rain.

The Daily Tar Heel

EDITORIAL

Petition
Goldfish
Truman's Cabinet

VOLUME LVI

United Press

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1947

Phone F-3371-F-3361

NUMBER 65

Pre-Registered Students Get Class Cards Monday Oxford Trio Scheduled To Debate Tar Heels

AVC Hears Talk by Ross

The need for a stronger organized labor movement in North Carolina and the South was the principal theme of an informal talk made by Michael Ross, organizer for the United Furniture Workers, CIO, at the Tuesday night meeting of the local chapter of the American Veterans committee.

Ross pointed out that North Carolina was now the most important industrial state in the South, but living standards for its working people had not risen proportionately. The concentration of great wealth and power in the hands of a few, "plantation wages" and excessive profits were responsible.

Ross cited current profits in the state's textile industry which average 67 cents for each hour worked by each employee. Labor organizations in North Carolina have lagged behind those in other Southern states, he said, and the inequalities in living standards between employers and employees remained to be corrected.

When asked to tell some of his own experiences as an organizer, Ross mentioned an encounter with the Ku Klux Klan. "They threatened to kill me," he said, "but they never got around to it."

The local AVC chapter voted to change its name to the Chapel Hill and University of North Carolina Chapter. A resolution was passed to send a letter of support to R. L. Fritz, president of the NCEA, and now under indictment for misappropriation of state funds. Plans were made for the local chapter to be host to an informal meeting of North Carolina AVC chapter officers in January.

Date of Evacuation Of Holy Land Aired

London, — (UP) — Well-informed sources said today that British troops probably will start to leave Palestine some time in the month of April, a month or so before the British formally give up their old League of Nations mandate over the Holy Land.

Even before the troops' withdrawal begins, Whitehall sources said, British troops may pull out of Predominately Jewish and Arab districts and sparsely-populated sections to begin concentrating around Haifa to await evacuation ships.

Not long before this announcement, Palestine officials announced that Arab tribesmen had ambushed and killed six Jews, including one woman, in a raid last night on a settlement in the south.

Seven Women Pledged To Sigma Alpha Iota

Seven women were pledged to Sigma Alpha Iota, professional honorary sorority for musicians last Friday evening. They entered Iota Tau chapter which had its inception on the Carolina campus in April of 1945.

The chapter has, since its founding, attempted to further the cause of music and musicians on the campus. Its officers are Mary Elizabeth Burrus, Doris Newburn, Anne Brown, Lillian Messicks, and Nina Thomas.

Those selected for membership include two voice instructors, Virginia Johnson of Hamlet and Mary Helen Zum Brunnen of Salisbury; four juniors, Martha Adeir of Washington, Ferne Hughes of Rainelle, W. Va., Gwen Howard of Sanford, and Sybil Drake of Mendes, La.; and one freshman, Betsy Green of Chapel Hill.

Debate Is Set For January 6 On UNC Campus

By Don MacDonald

Twenty-two years old and a member of Parliament is the record of the Honorable Anthony Neil Wedgwood Benn who, with Sir Edward Charles Gurney Boyle, Baronet, and Mr. David Kenneth Harris, will come to Carolina from Oxford university on January 6. The trio will participate in a debating tournament as guests of the University debating team.

Benn, who was educated at Westminster school and New College, Oxford, was selected as Parliamentary candidate of the British Labour party this year and won the election. He has a bachelor of arts degree in politics, philosophy and economics and will be awarded an additional degree in June of next year.

With Boyle and Harris, Benn will oppose a University debating team selected by Earl Fitzgerald, president of the Debate council.

Sir Edward Boyle, Bt., is 25 years old, was educated at Eton college where he was captain of Oppidans and editor of the Eton Chronicle. He served in the British Foreign office during the war. At Oxford he is secretary of the Union society, is treasurer of the University Conservative association.

Educated at Tunbridge high school, Mr. Harris is 29 years of age. He was a history scholar at Wadham college, Oxford, in 1938. While there he acted and wrote in the University theater. Harris was an RAF liaison and staff officer, was attached to a medical corps on psychiatric research and social therapy in 1945.

Randall McLeod, member of the Debate council, has urged all interested persons who care to try-out for positions on the debating team to contact him or any member of the team or the council.

Philadelphia Outfit Has Early Christmas

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—(UP) — Christmas came early today for 19 employees of the Haas Miller company, a chemical firm.

The boss, Harry L. Miller, celebrated his 49th birthday by handing out $14,000 in Christmas bonuses to his workers. The plant supervisor got the largest gift—more than $2,000. The smallest, $400, went to an employee with less than a year's service.

To top it off, Miller added another $10,000 to the workers' pension fund.

Everything from Dy-Dee Dolls to Tuxedos Are Among 16,000 Wishes in Varsity Well

By Bob Rolnik

Sixteen thousand wishes, everything from tuxedos to Dy Dee dolls, have gone into the Varsity shop's Wishing Well in its one month of operation—and you can still make a wish every day till Christmas.

Wilbur Kutz, Varsity shop proprietor, smiled as he lifted an armful of entry blanks from the hundreds piled in the Wishing Well barrel in front of his store.

"The idea just popped into my head," Mr. Kutz explained. "It might be classed as just a merchandising plan but there's nothing tangible about good-will that we can credit in any ledger. We want the people in Chapel Hill to get acquainted with us. We've made more friends in these few weeks than we do ordinarily in months."

He pored over the wishing blanks as if they were his personal friends, reading them aloud, commenting on them—"Here's a lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

Chester Zum Brunnen Will Serve As Phi Speaker for Winter Term

Meeting in closed session for the purpose of electing winter term officers, the Phi Tuesday night chose Chester D. Zum Brunnen to fill the post of speaker Retiring speaker John Giles was selected as speaker pro-tem.

Retaining most of the incumbent officers, the assembly re-elected James McNider critic; Pete Gerns, parliamentarian; Page Harris, sergeant-at-arms; and Charles Cowell, treasurer. Dave Sharp was selected as clerk of the assembly.

Zum Brunnen, former speaker pro-tem, and his staff are said to have been elected on the basis of their accomplishments during the fall term. These include securing Charles Johnson and Melville Broughton as speakers and steps toward the redecoration of Phi hall and the installation of additional office equipment.

In filling other vacancies for the next term, the speaker-elect appointed Bob Coulter to serve as chaplain and the following to constitute the ways and means committee: John Giles (chairman), Bill Duncan, Frank Teague, Jack Lashly, George Rodman, Lester Sneed and James McNider.

Town Girls, GM Plan Yule Dance As Feature of 'Christmas Week'

Plans for "Christmas week," sponsored by the Town Girls association and Graham Memorial, rapidly near completion as the Christmas dance, to be featured December 22 in the Rendezvous room.

The series of entertainments during the week are for students, their wives, and townspeople, and everyone here during the holidays is invited to attend all the functions with or without escorts.

The activities include a Christmas sing, December 21; dance, December 22; game night, December 23; caroling, December 24; open house, Christmas day; Bingo night, December 27.

Plans for the activities are being directed by Chuck Hilty, assistant director of Graham Memorial, and Betsy Ann Barbee, president of the Town Girls association. Chairmen of the committees are Caroline Warren, sing; Jeanne Basnight, dance; Esther Cheek, game night; Mary MacKeer, open house; Betty Vashaw, bingo; Patsy Winslow, refreshments; Mary Elizabeth Pell and Jeanne Whitfield, publicity.

TARNATION

The Tarnation business staff will meet this afternoon at 3:30 in the Tarnation office, Tookie Hodgson announced today. All staff members are urged to be present.

Manhattan Project Still Well Guarded

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UP) — Wartime hush-hush is relaxed somewhat here, but the United States' atomic bomb secrets still are guarded cautiously.

If somebody got you a pass through one of the heavily guarded gates, the first thing you'd want to see is the celebrated nuclear energy pile where the atom was split.

Nothing doing. You might be taken within 200 yards of it outside a rugged steel fence. But all to be seen there, even with binoculars, which are now permitted, is a smallish metal building. Inside that is the pile.

Try again. Maybe a look-see will be permitted inside the big plant where an electromagnet 238 feet long extracts the element U-235 from uranium ore. The magnet is so powerful that nails in workers' shoes make walking difficult near it. It can snatch a heavy wrench from a worker's through winding mountain roads for a new try. This time the gaseous diffusion plant, nestling near the Clinch River. That is where U-235 is concentrated. It's 13 miles from the Oak Ridge townsite.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

Venable Annex Open Three Days From 9 Until 5

By Charlie Gibson

While students who lack foresight face all the headaches of registration only as far off as next year, those who responded to pleas from South building for preregistration back in November can get their class tickets next week, reaping their rewards of more carefree Christmas holidays.

On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, class tickets for the winter quarter will be ready for all preregistered students who report between 9 and 5 o'clock to Registration hall, the barracks annex to Venable building.

According to an announcement from the special University registration committee, students who did not preregister at the designated time must endure the seemingly unavoidable long lines with all new students on Saturday, January 3, between 8:30 and 12:30 o'clock. That morning the usual class selection and scheduling procedure will be held in Registration hall and not, as was the case this past September, in Woollen gymnasium.

Those among the preregistered who do not pick up their class tickets before the Yuletide recess may get these cards on January 3, also at Registration hall, between the hours of 8:30 and 12:30.

Fine for Late Registration
Classes for the next term will start on Monday, January 5. There will be a $5 late registration fee charged to (1) students who register on or after January 5 and (2) students who have preregistered but fail to call for their class tickets before that date.

Although the November preregistration covered both the winter and the spring quarters, class tickets will be given out at this time for only the forthcoming term. Cards for the next session will not be issued until March.

No alterations in schedules for the January quarter should be made haphazardly during the examination period. A definite time will be allowed at the opening of the next term for all students with reasonable excuses to consult their advisors about making any changes.

Grade reports for the present quarter will be distributed, too, from Registration hall on January 5, if at all possible.

Automobile Stickers Must Be Picked Up

A number of students who registered automobiles with the University have not picked up the stickers required to be displayed on their cars, Dean Fred Weaver said yesterday.

A penalty in excess of the $1 fine for parking violations will be imposed upon owners of all cars not displaying these stickers by next Monday.

Enough stickers are now available for all registered cars and may be picked up in Dean Weaver's office, 207 South building.

Over-Ambitious Thief Fails to Steal Bus

Raleigh, Dec. 9 — (UP) — Police officials at the state capitol today are trying to locate an over-ambitious thief who tried to steal a bus.

Officers say that someone tried to make off with a Greyhound bus last night. But after ramming into a corner and breaking five windows in the bus, the thief gave up. Police say the thief left the bus with its motor running everal blocks from the Raleigh bus station.

Manhattan Project Still Well Guarded

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UP) — Wartime hush-hush is relaxed somewhat here, but the United States' atomic bomb secrets still are guarded cautiously.

If somebody got you a pass through one of the heavily guarded gates, the first thing you'd want to see is the celebrated nuclear energy pile where the atom was split.

Nothing doing. You might be taken within 200 yards of it outside a rugged steel fence. But all to be seen there, even with binoculars, which are now permitted, is a smallish metal building. Inside that is the pile.

Try again. Maybe a look-see will be permitted inside the big plant where an electromagnet 238 feet long extracts the element U-235 from uranium ore. The magnet is so powerful that nails in workers' shoes make walking difficult near it. It can snatch a heavy wrench from a worker's through winding mountain roads for a new try. This time the gaseous diffusion plant, nestling near the Clinch River. That is where U-235 is concentrated. It's 13 miles from the Oak Ridge townsite.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.

Some of the entry blanks are folded into tight, secretive squares, some in childish scrawls,

commenting on them—"Here's a

lady that likes that printed blouse we have in the window," or "Look at this fellow who only wants a 39 cent pasteboard overseas mailing box."

New Wish Daily
According to the rules, each person may write out a new wish every day.

"Every Wednesday morning I go out on the street and choose three passers-by at random," Mr. Kutz explained. "One week we had a little girl and a little boy. They went head first into the Wishing Well and stirred up all the entry blanks. Then the little girl made the drawings."

So far there have been four drawings with three or four winners each time. If the item wished for is $10 or less the winner receives it free. If the price is over $10 this amount is deducted from the item wished for.