Williams Re-Elected To UP Chairmanship

By Herb Nachman

Thurman Williams, rising senior from Fayetteville, was re-elected chairman of the University party by acclamation at a meeting of the party yesterday.

Williams is a member of the Student Legislature where he is chairman of the Rules committee. He served on the non-partisan selection board and is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He was pinned Monday night to Weddy Thorp, junior from Rocky Mount and DTH society editor.

Len Butt Elected

Other officers of the party which were elected yesterday include Len Butt as vice-chairman. Butt is a junior from Washington and is a member of Sigma Chi. He succeeds Charlie Loudermilk to the UP vice-chairmanship.

At present he is a member of the Student Legislature and heads the Ways and Means committee. He is president of the House Managers association and is a member of the Grail.

Marietta Duke, junior from Greensboro and a member of Chi Omega sorority, was elected secretary of the party. She is a member of the Student Legislature and is a transfer from Randolph-Macon college in Lynchburg, Va. She succeeds Annie Ben Beale.

Breese Heads Publicity

The party chose Bob Breese, rising senior from Waynesville, as treasurer for the coming year. Breese is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. He succeeds Norman Ripps.

Rounding out the slate of UP officers for the coming year are Marshall Roberts, junior from Louisville, Ky., publicity chairman and Jim Gwynn, freshman from Mexico, chairman of the Qualifications committee. Roberts is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity and Gwynn is a Sigma Nu.

Assembly Banquet Honors Alumni; House Gives History of Organization

The Phi Assembly honored several alumni at a banquet Monday night in the dining hall of the Baptist church.

The honored guests included Chancellor and Mrs. House, Dean Fred Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Teague, and Mrs. Albert Coates.

Speaker Ernie House introduced the guests, several of whom spoke during the evening. Chancellor House related some of the prominent phases in the history of the Phi assembly and compared it to the patterning of Phi Beta Kappa. He stated that work on a debate, when he was in school, was equivalent to work on a Master thesis. He said that the assembly had taught much parliamentary procedure and although there was a time in the University when varsity speaking was not prevalent, he believed it was coming back.

He stated the real way to handle difficulties is to meet them with something better and he urged the Phi members to bring back the "tug of war" between the intellectuals.

Mrs. Coates said, "One of the most remarkable possessions of the University is the student records of the Phi and Di assemblies. The minutes of some of the meetings show hours of work. These records are some of the best student records in the United States today."

Mr. Teague said, "I learned a lot from the Phi. When you look back over something you often wonder what was the most important thing you got out of it. When I remember my college days, I believe the friendships made in the Phi have meant more to me and have been longer lasting than any other activity." He reviewed the rules of fines, time

Morrison Awarded Radio Internship To Work at WPTF

Joseph L. Morrison, assistant professor of journalism, has been awarded a radio internship by the Council on Radio Journalism. This internship will consist of a ten-week period this summer, during which Mr. Morrison will work with radio station WPTF in Raleigh.

The purpose of these internships is to enable teachers of journalism throughout the nation to secure practical work at radio stations in order to do a more effective classroom job of teaching. The Council on Radio Journalism was created by the National Association of Broadcasters and the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism.

Mr. Morrison is a graduate of the University in the class of 1940. His newspaper and radio experience includes a period of reporting for the Norfolk-Virginian Pilot and a period with radio station WRAL handling continuity and news. As a student in the University he was studio in Phillips Hall. At present he is a member of the faculty radio committee and supervises the writing of scripts of "Editorially Speaking," a weekly program featuring North Carolina editorial opinion.

During the war, Mr. Morrison was a first lieutenant in the army and did considerable work in radio and camp newspapers at Fort Knox, Laredo Army Air Field in Texas and at Moody Field, Georgia. Since returning to the University he has taught courses in newswriting for radio and continuity writing for radio.

PiKPi, Tri-Delt Lead Scholastic Averages For Winter Quarter

The Pi Kappa Phi fraternity and the Delta Delta Delta sorority led in the scholastic averages and relative rank of men's and women's social fraternities for the winter quarter of this year. The average for the 28 fraternities is 3.016.

The averages were computed on the basis of rosters of memberships as submitted by the fraternities. Active members and pledges were included.

During last fall's quarter the Delta Delta Delta sorority and the Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity led the other social fraternities. This calculation did not include pledges' grades.

Values for the letter grades were assigned as follows: A-1.00; B-2.00; C-3.00; D-4.00; E-5.00; F-6.00; absences-6.00; excused absences not computed; and incompletes, not computed.

The relative rank, fraternity, and average are as follows:

1. Pi Kappa Phi, 2.290. 2. Delta Delta Delta, 2.498. 3. Pi Lambda Phi, 2.604. 4. Phi Gamma Delta, 2.609. 5. Alpha Gamma Delta, 2.620. 6. Tau Epsilon Phi, 2.673. 7. Alpha Epsilon Phi, 2.770. 8. Delta Psi, 2.805. 10. Chi Omega, 2.8215. 11. Delta Kappa Epsilon, 2.880. 12. Chi Phi, 2.893. 13. Phi Delta Theta, 2.980. 14. Pi Beta Phi, 3.032. 15. Sigma Chi, 3.077. 16. Pi Kappa Alpha, 3.078. 17. Sigma Nu, 3.110. 18. Pi Kappa Sigma, 3.119. 19. Zeta Psi, 3.137. 20. Sigma Phi Epsilon, 3.149. 21. Lambda Chi Alpha, 3.156. 22. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 3.166. 23. Kappa Sigma, 3.185. 24. Chi Psi, 3.234. 25. Zeta Beta Tau, 3.302. 26. Alpha Tau Omega, 3.303. 27. Beta Theta Pi, 3.365. 28. Kappa Alpha, 3.383.

Scott Sees Increase In Tobacco Prices

Raleigh, April 27 — (UP) — Gubernatorial candidate W. Kerr Scott said that tobacco shipments to Europe under the Marshall plan should cause an increase in tobacco prices this year. Kerr added that the shipments should help open up more foreign markets.

The former Agriculture commissioner also charged that the recent acreage cut of some 28 per cent was too drastic. He stated that he urged last year that the cut be no more than 20 per cent.

Scott also called for better representation of the rural population in the State government.

Sellers Is Elected To National Board

Charles G. Sellers, Jr., graduate student in history, has been elected to the national board of Students for Democratic Action. Sellers, a native of Charlotte, served as executive secretary for SDA for several months before entering the University last fall. Before that, he was an undergraduate at Harvard university.

The student political action group elected Sellers at its national convention in Chicago last week. Wilmer Dutton, Jr., and Dewey Hinkle represented the local chapter at the convention.

SDA is the student division of Americans for Democratic Action, a national group of liberals headed now by Leon Henderson. The organization excludes Communists from its membership.

The UNC chapter of SDA is one of 105 in the nation. It was chartered last spring.

Yackety Yack Revives Class Poet Contest; Duncan Announces Prize Offered Is $25

A class poet contest for the Yackety Yack has been announced by Bill Duncan, editor of next year's annual.

The prize will be $25 for the person who writes the best poem that will allow each stanza to be written on separate pages of the 1949 Yack, according to Duncan.

The poems must be turned in by 5 o'clock on Friday, May 21. Judges in the contest will be announced later. Contestants for the title "Class Poet" are requested not to submit a name with their entry.

Duncan said each poem will be given a number and a file will be kept in the Yack office of the names of persons submitting manuscripts and the corresponding number. The poem must be typewritten and the judges will know each poem by number only.

It was brought out that the poems may follow any style with no limit on length. However, it is compulsory that the poems include the following subjects:

The school, meaning the buildings and beauty of the campus; administration and faculty; the classes, senior, junior, sophomore, freshman; the professional schools, pharmacy, law, medical; student government, Student Legislature, Coed Senate; activities, YMCA, Di, publications, DTH, Tarnation, Yack, Mag; sororities, Fraternities, honoraries, Phi Beta Kappas, Shieks, Fleece; dances, Germans, Grail, May Frolics; beauties, May Queen, Yack queen; sports, football, tennis, swimming.

CAMPUS PARTY

The Campus Party organization meeting will be held tomorrow at 5 o'clock in Graham Memorial, Roland Parker lounge 2. All persons interested in the party are invited to attend.

Bill Miller Selected To Head Orientation

Bill Miller, rising senior from Greenville, South Carolina, was appointed chairman of the Orientation committee yesterday by President Jess Dedmond.

CRIL Committee Starting Plans For Winter Work

The Committee on Religion in Life Week met Monday night to start plans for next winter's Religious Emphasis week. This committee is one of three formed by The Council for Religion in Life, and two representatives from each religious group on campus make up its membership.

CRIL acts as a reviewing council, but oversees the religious problems and needs of the University, but does not make the decisions. The three standing committees act in this capacity; these committees are: Religion in Life Week, Spring Clothing Drive, and the World Student Service Fund.

Jim McAllister was elected temporary chairman of the Religion in Life Week Committee, and opened the meeting with a discussion of this year's religious week and probable improvements for next year's.

Various suggestions for the theme of next year's project were presented by the committee members. Among them were: Current problems in race, labor, and capital; religion and marriage, defining ethics and the basic truths; also comparative religions, an individual's obligations upon accepting religion, and man and his world.

Members of this committee are: Betsy Huggins, Frances Green, who was elected temporary secretary, Stark Dillard, Wally Vreeland, Bert Kaplan, Mel Steinberg, Bob Payne, Raymond Mills, Jim McAllister, Charlie Britt, Pat McNutt, Gray Sanders, Mary Beale, and Bob Eagle. Mrs. S. A. Rosenberg, Mrs. Betty Rose Dowden, and Claude Shotts are the directors.

The student body president also appointed 14 members of the new coalition cabinet, the presidential advisory council on campus problems.

Miller, whose name will be submitted at the next meeting of the Legislature for approval, is a member of SAE fraternity, the Grail, Order of the Golden Fleece, and a former member of the Student Legislature. He was also a candidate for president of the student body in the 1947 elections.

Commenting on Miller's appointment, Dedmond said, "I have looked for a man whose willingness to serve and to work has been demonstrated. I also looked for one with the experience and interest which this important work requires. I am happy to state my belief that Mr. Miller possesses these qualities."

On announcing the formation of his coalition cabinet, Dedmond stated that he has not completed the list of appointments and that the chairman of the cabinet would be appointed at a later date. Members appointed yesterday are: Ed Tenny, Thurman Williams, Dick Gordon, Bill Miller, Miles Smith, Edith Knight, Ed Davenport, Walter Arnold, Dorch Warren, Basil Sherril, Ernest House, and Jack Worsham.

"In selecting the members of this group," Dedmond said, "I am choosing the people who, through their interest and activity in student affairs, have demonstrated their consciousness of campus needs." "Functions of this group," he added, "will be to advise me in matters concerning executive policy and to bring before the executive department the needs of the campus."

Geology Fraternity Elects New Officers

In a business meeting Monday the Alpha Alpha chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national honorary geologic fraternity, elected new officers to serve for the school year of 1948-49.

Those men chosen to guide the fraternity next year are: President, K. William Brett of Chapel Hill; vice-president, Edward Berry of Chapel Hill; secretary-treasurer, William Markgram of Carrboro; corresponding secretary-editor, William D. Johnson of Greensboro.

CCUN MEETING

The regularly scheduled meeting of the CCUN state executive staff and the executive staff of the Carolina chapter will be held at 4:30 today. Members of the entire staff are requested to attend this important meeting as the faculty and student advisory boards have also been called to meet at the same time.

THE WEIGHT of the "world" is on a moving man's shoulder as he carries a large globe belonging to General Dwight D. Eisenhower into Columbia University's president's house in New York City. General Eisenhower and his wife will occupy the Morning-side Drive residence when the retired Army Chief-of-Staff assumes office as president of the university on June 7. (International)

Pharmacy Group Will Hear Waller

Dr. Coy W. Waller, research pharmaceutical chemist at the Lederle laboratories, will speak on "The Folic Acids and Their Antagonists" in Howell hall at 7:30 tomorrow night.

The announcement of the structure and the synthesis of folic acid in 1945 marked the beginning of a new field of research for chemists and biologists. Dr. Waller's speech will be based on his first-hand experience in both the original project and its later developments.

One folic acid-like compound, teropterin, sodium pteroyl triglutamate, has been found useful in cancer treatment. Aminopterin, folic acid antagonist, has been found to be effective in the treatment of human leukemia. The use of folic acid in anemia has been well established.

Dr. Waller, a native of Mount Oliver, graduated from the School of Pharmacy in 1937.

U.S. Budget Director Will Lecture Tonight On Federal Finances

James E. Webb, native of Oxford and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University in the class of 1928, who at the age of 42 holds one of the most important positions in the United States government as director of the budget, will give a public lecture on federal finances in Hill hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

Title of the address will be "The Federal Budget Process in the American Democracy." He will speak under the auspices of the Economic department of the School of Commerce, of which he is a graduate and will be introduced by President Frank P. Graham.

For a number of years he was with the Sperry corporation as personnel director and assistant to the president, secretary and treasurer and vice-president. He was also a member of a prominent law firm in Washington.

He was a major in the Marine corps during the war. After the war, he served as executive assistant to the undersecretary of the treasury, prior to his appointment as director of the budget. He has had a distinguished career in law, business and the military and government service.

Applications Are Due For Y Publications

The YMCA has set 4 o'clock this afternoon as the deadline for submitting written applications for the position of business manager on either the '49 freshman handbook or the next student directory.

Those who have already applied for one spot or for both jointly as well as those who now wish to be considered are asked to be present for interviews in the Y tomorrow between 2 and 4 o'clock. The board which will select the business managers is composed of the following YMCA officers and publicity cabinet members: Pete Burks, Sam Magill, Ed Strain, Bill Powell, Bill Sessions, and Charlie Gibson.

CICA MEETING

The Carolina Independent Coed association will meet this evening at 7 o'clock.

Di Senate Invites Political Groups To Present Panel on Foreign Policy

In view of the present widespread controversy over the foreign policy of the United States and its possible repercussions throughout the world, the Dialectic Senate has invited panels from the Young Republicans club, the Young Democrats club, and the Wallace-for-President club to participate in a panel discussion to be held at 9 o'clock tonight in Di hall.

Subjects to be discussed in the panel are the Marshall plan, military preparedness, federation of Europe, Central Europe (including the Balkans and Germany), the Far East, the Middle East, Trieste, and Palestine.

Following the panel discussion, the floor will be opened for debate. Members are advised that space will be limited, and that provision for bringing guests should be made before the meeting through the sergeant-at-arms.

Preceding the regular meeting, an executive session will be held at 8 o'clock.

Special Session . . .

Truman Spoils Taylor's Trip

By Jim Dickinson
"Truman spoiled my ride," complained Senator Glen Taylor while munching his blackberry pie a-la-mode.

"I had planned a coast-to-coast trip by horseback," the senator went on, "so that I could stop along the way and make speeches warning the people of our dangerous foreign policy. I figured that anywhere I wasn't newsworthy, the horse would be."

The scene was the Carolina Inn dining room where Senator and Mrs. Taylor were having dinner with their receptionist friends. Speech-time for the senator in Hill hall was drawing near and the news reporter had been invited in from the hotel lobby for coffee and an interview.

"And just how did Mr. Truman put a kink in things?" the reporter wanted to know.

"I had only ridden 275 miles and then it happened. Mr. Truman called a special session of Congress," smiled the senator.

When asked on what premonition he had changed his political standing since his appearance here a year ago, the third party vice-presidential candidate replied, "I saw the two old parties as one party, and that one party as headed for war. I realized that a new party was needed."

GLEN TAYLOR

"To what do you attribute the fact that the third party movement is gaining day by day in momentum?"

"We are getting both positive and negative help," explained the Senator. "To begin with, people in general are opposed to war and they are gradually becoming familiar with our program and are recognizing it as a plan for permanent peace. We are getting negative help from the two old parties—now the one party—which is resorting to barefaced Fascist policies. An excellent example of this is the betrayal of Palestine," he uttered defiantly.

Hotfooting it back to more personal talk, the newsman asked the whereabouts of young son Arod, who is appropriately named for Mrs. Taylor—backwards. Her name is Dora.

"I'm sorry, but we could not bring him along this year," said Taylor. "He's attending school." Asked when he had experienced his greatest thrill as a servant of his people, the senator replied, "That's easy. It was the first day I walked out on the Senate floor. If I'd had any pins I would have stuck myself."

The discussion ended abruptly when one of the table's occupants warned Senator Taylor that his speech was scheduled to start in seven minutes.

"I suppose we'd better change talking places," he rejoined.
