

Hardin Craig Delivers Talk To Y Cabinet

Noted Speaker Says Studious Students Overtake Ability

By Virginia Forward
"The studious student overtakes the student with ability," said Dr. Hardin Craig Monday night, speaking to the YWCA cabinet on the subject "A Good Life in College."

Dr. Craig pointed out that studiousness is the academic purpose of a university student, adding that studiousness did not involve working all the time, but working wisely.

"Brain skill is the master skill to be acquired while in college," Dr. Craig said, "and the student who fails to cultivate this skill because of self conceit will not likely reform into a more useful citizen later."

Dr. Craig continued with a theory of conduct which he asked the members of the cabinet to "think about."

"I used to wonder why religious students were often despised as prigs," he said. Dr. Craig explained that he first thought it was because other students were jealous, but later he decided that religious students had themselves to blame for their unpopularity because they used the wrong tactics.

Faculty Members Will Go to Pensacola For Regional Familiarization Program

Four representatives from the University will attend the "regional program of Familiarization" in Pensacola, Fla., today through Friday. Those representing the University are Dr. Oliver K. Cromwell; Dr. A. W. Hobbs, chairman pro tem of the faculty; M. A. Hill, associate dean of General College; and C. P. Spruill, dean of General College.

To introduce college personnel to the Naval Aviation College Program so as to make them better qualified to talk with prospective NACP students is the purpose of this regional program. These men will learn what the actual training program is.

Those attending the Pensacola meeting will visit classes, and get the inside dope on practice work, including the operation of a new carrier.

There is a slight change in the example you present. It is in possessing the qualities which enable you to fulfill your duties to your neighbors—meekness, placability, and honor—that you become a leader. If you are genuine in the practice of these things, then popularity comes automatically. You can proclaim your virtues to the world if you are sincere," he concluded.

Business taken up at the second meeting of the new YWCA cabinet included the planning of the "Y" orientation booklet and discussion of the fall retreat and pre-school conference. The next regular cabinet meeting is scheduled for Monday at 4 o'clock.

NACP this year, in that all flight training will be centralized in Pensacola, and not in various stations throughout the country. NACP students finish their sophomore year, and then proceed to Pensacola to take their flight training. After pre-aviation and final-aviation training these students go on duty with the fleet. Those wishing to return to school for graduation after serving duty with the fleet are eligible for two more years in school. The Naval Aviation College Program was set up at the University last year.

The group from here will attend the regional program with the New England representatives. The four representatives from the University were to attend the program last February, but their plane was grounded. A Navy plane will pick up the University group in Durham today.

The first performance will be varied, consisting of the Beethoven Piano Quartet, the Brahms Trio Opus 8, and the Schubert Quintet in C major. Those taking part will be Emily Porter, Edgar Alden, Dorothy Alden, Willis Gates, Herbert Livingston, Mary Louise Emery, and Dr. Ernest Peschel of Duke University.

The public is cordially invited.

Chamber Music Show Scheduled Saturday In Hill Music Hall

The first of a series of two informal chamber music programs will be given Saturday at 7:30 in Hill Music Hall, by members of the Music department staff. The purpose of these programs is to bring before interested listeners a number of the great chamber music masterpieces which are seldom heard here. It is emphasized that the programs are to be regarded as informal readings of the compositions.

The first performance will be varied, consisting of the Beethoven Piano Quartet, the Brahms Trio Opus 8, and the Schubert Quintet in C major. Those taking part will be Emily Porter, Edgar Alden, Dorothy Alden, Willis Gates, Herbert Livingston, Mary Louise Emery, and Dr. Ernest Peschel of Duke University.

The public is cordially invited.

On the error. Two more Tar Heel tallies in the fifth gave Pitcher Blair a comfortable working margin. Once again it was Ryan that led the assault. Jim Kelly singled to center and Hobbs reached first on error to place runners on first and second. And Ryan promptly unloaded a tremendous triple over the leftfielder's head to score Kelly and Hobbs.

Both teams matched single runs in the seventh. Mapes' one-baser, his third of the day; Pitcher Torrence's single, an error, and Pearson's long fly to center produced the Davidson marker. The Tar Heels picked up their final run on Ryan's second double and Varney's hard single to right.

winning value. Bob Cox had a 76 which will usually score rather well, but his opponent for the day, Weston Dixon of the Wolfpack, had a 74 which proved to be better. Roy McKenzie had a 78 for the locals, while Harvey Oliver had one of those days to soar to an 80.

The summary: Ward (C) defeated Gibson, 3-0. Bracket (S) defeated Oliver, 2-1. Best ball to Carolina, 2-1. Dixon (S) defeated Cox, 2-1-2. Saenz (S) defeated Brantley, 2-1. Best ball to Carolina, 2-1-2-1-2. Turnbull (S) defeated McKenzie, 2-1. Brooks (C) defeated Dearstyne, 2-1-2-1-2. Best ball to Carolina, 2-1.

In the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, the Arabs went down to a stinging defeat. They raided a Jewish settlement and set fire to the trees in an effort to force the residents to flee. The trees, however, were filled with bees, and the angry bees were empowered, forcing the Arabs to flee in disorder.
