All Local Voters Register Tomorrow In N.C. Primary

All students and townspeople who are eligible to vote in the North Carolina primary election to be held May 29 may register tomorrow and next Saturday at the town hall.

In this election nominees will be chosen for the offices of United States Senator, Congressman, Governor, other state offices, member of the General Assembly and other county offices.

Register in Person

Those who have not previously registered and voted in a state-wide election must register in person on one of the aforementioned dates. Registration books will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning until sunset.

Most students will not be able to qualify as voters in Chapel Hill since their permanent residences are elsewhere. However, many students — particularly married veterans — are eligible to register and vote here.

Any person is eligible to register and vote if: (1) He shall have reached the age of 21 by the time of the general election on November 2, 1948. (2) He shall have resided in the state one year and in his precinct four months by the time of the general election. (3) He can read and write and has not been convicted of a felony in the state courts.

Voting Places Listed

The Chapel Hill voting places are: (1) Elementary school—for those who live east of Carboro and south of Franklin Street, north of the Chatham county line and west of Raleigh Street. (2) City hall—for those who live east of Carboro and north of Franklin Street, plus a strip including dormitories east of Raleigh Street. (3) Lloyd Ray hardware—for those living in Carboro.

Students Forming Douglas Groups

The drive to secure the Democratic presidential nomination for Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas received added impetus this week with the formation of "Students for Douglas," a college organization.

More than 35 chapters have been formed in two weeks of operation. Membership is estimated at 3,000 with a 700-member chapter at Harvard the largest to date.

The Douglas movement started at Chicago, where a student chapter was formed early in April. A second group at Harvard and a third in New York then joined forces and formed the college organization.

The new organization received strong support from Students for Democratic Action, the largest student political group in the country which endorsed Douglas at its national convention April 18. The majority of its members on 2200 campuses will work for Douglas' nomination.

MISS MODERN VENUS, Sarah Jane Farlow of Augusta, Georgia, was the winner of the recent Sigma Chi Derby beauty contest. A board of judges composed of Dean of Men Fred Weaver and football players Len Szafaryn and Walt Pupa picked the pretty junior, sponsored by Alpha Delta Phi sorority, after lengthy deliberations and views from all angles and curves of the entrants in the annual beauty classic. Runners-up were Claudia Lee, Marshallville, Georgia, also sponsored by ADPhi, and Hilda Sharkey, Chapel Hill, a Tri-Delt.

Veterans Warned To Report Desire For Leave Cancel

Veterans who do not desire the 15 days leave from June 7 to June 22 are requested to notify the Veterans Administration in Peabody hall immediately. This information must be sent to Veterans administration in Winston-Salem today.

This leave of absence is in the form of a 15 days extension of subsistence payments for that period and has already been granted to all veterans. Unless the above office is notified the leave will be granted, which will result in reducing the total period of eligibility by 15 days.

In this connection it is pointed out that when the veteran's period of eligibility expires before the middle of a quarter his tuition and subsistence cease as of the date of expiration.

However, should his period of eligibility expire after the middle of a quarter both tuition and subsistence are paid to the end of that quarter. The veteran should keep this in mind in deciding whether to accept or reject the proffered 15 days leave.

In cases where the veteran is entering Summer school and there is not sufficient time between the spring quarter and the summer session the 15 days leave, less the number of days between the sessions, will be added to his subsistence at the end of the summer session.

Veterans under both PL 346 and PL 16 need not report to the Veterans Adviser at the end of the Spring quarter. All veterans have been authorized subsistence payments through June 22, 1948, at which time all payments cease pending the veteran's request they be resumed.

Poetry Contest Rules Get Slight Revision; Judges Are Selected

Dr. Mary C. Engstrom and Dr. Lyman Cotten, professors of English here, and R. W. Madry, director of the University News bureau, have been selected to judge the 1949 Yackety Yack poetry contest, according to Yack Editor Bill Duncan.

A slight change in the contest rules has also been announced by Duncan. The poem must now include five phases of student life, the University, extra-curricular, classes, athletics and social.

According to Duncan, "Anyone wishing a fuller explanation of the idea for the poem may see me in the Yack office in Graham Memorial anytime from 3 to 5 o'clock Mondays and Thursdays."

Dialectic Senate Defeats Measure To Stop Lobbying

A bill to abolish lobbying in the national capitol was defeated by the Dialectic Senate Wednesday night. The bill defined lobbying as "the act of proposing and pushing, through any means, legislation designed to benefit a certain group or interest."

The bill was presented by Sen. Charles O. Long. Very strong opposition called such a bill "unconstitutional" and said that it "takes away freedom of speech."

Richard Bowen offered an amendment which added that lobbying should be prohibited in the state capitols. The amendment failed.

Gran Childress called the proposed bill "a hindrance to an important function in state legislation." A substitute was proposed whereby lobbying would be permitted with certain conditions, such as in newspapers, special pamphlets, on the radio. This bill was also defeated.

Robert Nelson then proposed a substitute which would outlaw anyone trying to stop lobbying. This bill was also defeated.

Childress arose again and spoke for the original bill. He blamed his change of mind on a "change of heart." This change climaxed the evening.

The original bill was finally defeated by a large majority and the Senate adjourned.

KAPPA EPSILON

New officers for Kappa Epsilon, honorary pharmaceutical sorority were elected at a meeting Wednesday. Heading the organization will be Jean Snyder, who replaces Lynn Blanchard, as president. Virginia Callahan is vice president; Jane Bradford, secretary; and Peggy Simmons, pledge mistress.

Drummer Spends More . . .

Krupa Says Loud Swing Era Has Subsided

Gene Krupa, that ace drummer man, learned to manipulate a pair of drumsticks almost as early as he mastered the use of a knife and fork, and worried his parents because he preferred the former.

Krupa will appear here for a concert and the Senior Prom on May 15. Accompanying the drummer will be a cast of performers including singers Buddy Hughes and Dolores Hawkins, ably supported by the Jazz Trio with Charlie Kennedy on the alto sax and Teddy Napoleon on the piano.

When it comes to beating the tom-toms, Krupa is generally conceded to be the fastest man in the business, and according to health authorities, he expends as much energy in working as do athletes in pursuing strenuous sports.

Tests show that when Krupa beats out a hot swing chorus he exerts more energy than a mile runner, a fleet halfback or the thym, but should play it melodiously.

Born in Chicago in 1909, Krupa attended Bowen high school and then enrolled at St. Joseph's college in Rensselaer, Indiana, to study for the priesthood. Though he tried hard, Gene could never lose the drumming itch. He finally dropped the course and signed up with Joe Kayser's band in Chicago, then toured the circuit as free lance drummer with vagabond mid-western outfits.

His big break came in 1929 when Krupa hit New York to cymbal for Red Nichols. After three years with Red, the hide-beater worked a few thousand choruses with Mal Hallett and finally

Dance Bids to Be Given Free For Buying Two Concert Seats

By Sally Woodhull

Free bids to the Gene Krupa dance Saturday night, May 15, will be given to every student who purchases two tickets to Saturday afternoon's concert, according to Benson McCutcheon, senior class president.

Distribution of the free bids will start on Monday in the Y lobby. Students who have already purchased two concert tickets may receive their free bids by presenting the tickets at the desk in the Y lobby. Those who buy their concert tickets this week will receive dance bids at time of purchase.

Seniors Go Free

As originally planned, seniors will receive dance bids free regardless of whether or not they buy concert tickets. Any student who will have 160 hours or more by the end of spring quarter will qualify as a senior for this purpose.

Since the free dance will be paid for by the proceeds from the concert, it is necessary that all concert tickets be sold. McCutcheon has urged that seniors, in particular, support their class and make the Senior weekend a success by buying tickets to the concert.

Grand Finale

Concert and dance come as a grand finale to a series of activities included in this year's concentrated Senior week. The Krupa concert will be held in Memorial hall at 4 o'clock Saturday, and the dance which is to be semi-formal, in Woolen gym from 8 until midnight.

Other activities in Senior week include a senior-faculty softball game on Thursday, and the traditional barefoot day Friday. Cattie Holt and Meigs Golden, co-chairmen of the class social committee, have been in charge of arrangements for the activities.

Manuscripts Must Be Submitted Now For CDP Contest

Today is the final day in the spring membership contest of Chi Delta Phi, national honorary literary sorority. Manuscripts should be submitted to Sally Woodhull, 202 Alderman.

Any original work which is long enough to be indicative of the style of its author is suitable for submission. Short stories, poetry, book reviews, research papers, radio scripts, and other work will be read by the committee.

Present members of the sorority will meet Monday night at 7 o'clock in Graham Memorial to begin reading manuscripts and to complete plans for the initiation banquet. According to tentative plans, the banquet will be held on Tuesday, May 18, at the Carolina Inn, with members of the Duke chapter of Chi Delta Phi as guests.

Student Legislature Postpones Action On Block Fee Bill

By Gordon Huffines

The Student Legislature postponed action last night on a resolution introduced by Jack Girard, chairman of the joint investigating Finance committee, to raise student fees 75 cents a quarter.

The resolution, which was sent into committee, would also give the President of the Student Body authority to consult with the University administration and Board of Trustees on the proposed increase.

The action was recommended by the Finance committee to provide for a $5,426 deficit which will result in the operation of the 1948-49 campus budget as it stands now. By raising graduate student fees from $3.85 to $4.60 a quarter and undergraduate fees to $5.75, the committee estimates that student government income for the forthcoming fiscal year will provide for errors made in drawing up the budget.

Dedmond's Statement

Appearing before the legislature, President Jess Dedmond told student representatives that, in view of constitutional limitations on raising student fees, it would be advisable to postpone any conclusive action on the postponed increase until after July 1 at which time the Audit board would have investigated general student funds.

Dedmond asserted, however, that he didn't consider the door closed on immediate action on the situation this quarter. "I am considering the advisability of an immediate increase," he stated, "but I hope that the situation will be such that a student referendum will not be necessary before next December."

Constitutional Reference

According to Article 1—Section 5 of the student constitution, "The Student Legislature shall not alter the fee structure for a given school year later than April 1 of the school year immediately preceding." The Constitution also states that total student fees for a calendar year shall not exceed $20 unless changed by a student referendum. Dedmond stated last night that he was waiting for a decision of the Student council on the $20 limit.

Girard Warns

Reporting on the budget for the forthcoming year, Girard warned legislators that the unappropriated balance of $1,420 would not permit generous contributions to campus organizations.

In a resolution read to the legislature, he urged the assembly to require financial reports from organizations expending student funds and to insist that all groups operate within their budget.

Warren Ashby Named YM Board Chairman

Warren Ashby, associate professor of philosophy, is the new chairman of the board of directors of the YMCA. Ashby graduated from Maryville college, Tennessee, and Yale Divinity school. At the present time he is writing a thesis for his Ph. D. from Yale. Downfall by hitting Joe Rowell 'N. J. Demerath, associate professor of sociology, has recently been appointed a member of the Board. Other members include Charles Jones, J. C. Herrin, Rev. Charles E. Jones, Mrs. Nick Adams, Miss Nelle Morton, Fred Weaver, Pete Burks, Sam Magill, and Ed Strain.

Seminar Applicants

Applicants to attend the religious seminar in New York from June 13 to 18 should submit written statements of their qualifications to Mrs. Betsy Rose Dowden at the Y as soon as possible, according to an announcement from the Council for Religion in Life.

Music, Art, Speech, Acting Classes Will Be Offered This Summer by Roanoke Island Group

By Mark Sumner

The University Extension division, under Russell Grumman, is going all out to make summer study as easy to take as a real vacation. The extension unit has recently organized the Roanoke Island Fine Arts center which will open July 12, at Manteo, near the site of the famous "Lost Colony."

The new summer school, which will continue through August 21, will be headed by Louisa Mustin, former head of the art department of the University of Alabama and now a graduate student in the dramatic art department here.

Music courses are to be offered by Paul Young, one of the most popular members of the music department of the University, and William Meade Prince of the art department, whose illustrations have long been a familiar feature to readers of "Collier's" and "The Saturday Evening Post," will offer courses in beginning painting and design. Miss Mustin will handle the courses in appreciation of painting.

Classes in speech and acting will be taught by Elizabeth Welch of the faculty of Salem college, and Harry Coble of the dance department of the Boston conservatory will instruct classes in body training. Coble has been a member of the Ted Shawn and Charles Weidmann professional dance companies. The secretary of the new school will be Mrs. Darice Parker.

The people of Manteo have hoped to have such a center in their town for a long time, and they are opening their homes to quarter students at reasonable rates. Meals will be served in a restaurant for the students and members of the cast of "The Lost Colony" company. Further information can be obtained from the extension division.
