S&F Tickets On Sale At "Y" For Comedy Show Next Weekend

Tickets for Sound and Fury's summer production, "Mardi Gras," are on sale in the "Y" now, at 55 cents each. Jerry Weiss, Sound and Fury president announced yesterday. The show will be presented in Memorial Hall on Friday and Saturday nights, July 16 and 17, at eight o'clock.

"Mardi Gras," another Pete Strader book, is a comedy concerning a pleasant journey to Hell during the time of the religious movement of Mardi Gras in New Orleans. The script is punctuated with song and dance routines, designed by Mrs. Wherry, Sound and Fury's associate advisor, and her assistant Betsy Kennedy.

"Mardi Gras" is characterized by the over-popular theme of wine, women, and some of the gin left over from last fall's production of "Gin Lane."

The cast is headed by Pat Ellis, Colbert Leonard, Jane Hunter, and Tommy Thomas, all survivors of the final shooting scene in "Gin Lane." Pete Strader is directing; Tread Covington is composing; and Jim Hall is arranging the music.

US Cancer Institute Gives Medical School Large Research Fund

A donation of $5,000 to the University Medical School by the National Cancer Institute was confirmed this week by Dr. Kenneth M. Brinkhous, head of the Medical School Department of Pathology.

The money will be used to continue a program of instruction for resident medical students in cancer detection and treatment. Instruction will also be available to practicing physicians who wish to acquaint themselves with the latest methods of fighting the nation's number one killer, according to Dr. Brinkhous.

Work on the program was begun last October with an initial grant of $3,500 from the Cancer Institute. This money was used primarily for the purchase of equipment and preparation for the course to be offered, Dr. Brinkhous said.

He added that the new grant will be put in use next October 1, and it is hoped the work will proceed on a much broader scale than has been the case this year.

FIRING AWAY WITH TWO toy guns, David Rosen, Chapel Hill student, appears in a playful mood as he trots through his role in "All My Sons" on the back of Nat White, Birmingham, Alabama senior in the Dramatic Art Department. The prize winning play will be presented by the Playmakers in their theater here July 14, 15 and 16.

Deadline Named For Reinstatement Of NSLI Policies

World War II veterans who have lapsed their National Service Life Insurance have only until July 31 to reinstate under the present easy plan, the Veterans Administration pointed out today.

In most cases, a veteran now may reinstate a lapsed policy without a physical examination by paying two monthly premiums and signing a statement that his health is as good as when he dropped his insurance. On and after August 1, a physical examination will be required where a policy has been lapsed more than 90 days.

Veterans wishing help in reinstating should visit the VA office, 302 Morris St., Durham, or should write to the Insurance Director, Veterans Administration, 900 N. Lombardy St., Richmond 20, Virginia.

Preregistration For Fall Term Begins Here July 15

Preregistration dates for Fall quarter have been set for July 15 and 16 for those students now in school who will not attend the second summer school session, according to an announcement yesterday by Edwin S. Lanier, Central Records director.

Talk Tonight Is Discussion Of Communism

Professor A. N. J. Den Hollander, professor of sociology and head of that department at the University of Amsterdam, will give a public lecture tonight in Hill hall at 8.

The lecture, "Behind the Iron Curtain," will mark the first public appearance of the noted Dutch educator and wartime underground leader.

Dr. Den Hollander, who has been in Chapel Hill for the past week lecturing in various classes, will deliver another lecture next Thursday night in Hill hall. This lecture, dealing with postwar Dutch education problems, is entitled, "Holland, Its Country, Its Schools, and Its People."

Tonight, Dr. Den Hollander will speak of his experiences and observations in Hungary and other Soviet-dominated European countries since the end of the war. He will be introduced by Chnacellor House.

Much of the material for tonight's lecture will be drawn from his stay during 1946-47 in Hungary and eastern Europe. During this period, he was in Hungary making a study of the rural conditions in that country.

Students already registered and also those who intend to register for the second session will not be permitted to preregister on the above dates but should wait until August 9 and 10, it was announced.

Final examinations for the first summer term will be held on July 19 and 20. The exam schedule will be posted tomorrow or Monday on bulletin boards and at South building information desk.

Regular registration for second term summer school will be held on July 21, the day preceding the second session's beginning.

University Band To Give Concert

The University Summer School Band will present a lawn concert this Sunday afternoon, July 11, at 4:30 o'clock near the Davie Poplar.

Earl Slocum will direct the band in a program of varied compositions including marches, light concert, and novelty numbers. The public is invited.

The program will include: The Buccaneers March, Skarnicka; Triumph of Ishtar Overture, Olivadoti; Holst's Second Suite in F; March, the Major's Battalion, Cook; and Naughty Marietta Selection, Herbert.

Tausman's Carnival Suite; Gay Nineties Overture, Lang; Thou Swell from "Connecticut Yankee"; Rodgers; American Patrol, Meacham; and the Depasz March by Lincoln.

Weber to Address Wallace Club Here

Dr. R. Palmer Weber, Southern director of the National Wallace for President Committee will discuss the Wallace movement in the Southern states at a meeting of the Carolina Wallace Club Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in Roland Parker lounge No. 3.

Dr. Weber was research director for the CIO-PAC before resigning to work for the Wallace Committee. He was formerly chief economist for the Kilgore Committee. He received his Ph. D. in philosophy from the University of Virginia.

The meeting is open to the public and there will be a question and answer period after Dr. Weber's address.

Village Council Keeps Open Ears

The Victory Village Council requests that all persons who object to the recent plan of one-way traffic on Daniels Road come to the council meeting Monday night to voice their disapproval. Mayor Bill Goulding stated that the recent traffic regulation, already approved by the villagers, had been brought up for discussion again because of the loud objections made to the persons putting up one-way signs on the street.

These objectors, Goulding said, were asked to appear at the council meeting last Monday night, but the only dissenting voice was that of one of the councilmen.

If none of the Daniels Street residents appear next Monday night, the Village Council will assume that the present set-up meets with the approval of a majority of the persons using that street, and no action will be taken to repeal the regulation.

Graduate Exam

The National Graduate Record examination will be given August 2nd and 3rd. Deadline for registration for the examination is noon, July 15.

Top Rutgers Lecturers Here For Bankers Meet

Plans have been completed for the 12th Annual Bankers Conference which opens here Sunday, July 11, and continues through Friday, July 16.

Class room sessions will begin early Monday morning and will continue through Friday noon. Sessions are being held under the sponsorship of the North and South Carolina Bankers' Associations, the North and South Carolina Banking departments, and the University.

New School Planned

For the first time since the conference was inaugurated, a full five-day study of trust operations, entitled the Technical Trust school, will also be held to run concurrently with the regular sessions.

Strictly an educational program, the conference will have this year a faculty of nine lecturers and instructors who are members of the faculty of the Graduate School of Banking of Rutgers University.

Rutgers Lecturers

These Rutgers faculty lecturers are M. J. Brines, special lecturer, Fordham University School of Business; Carlisle R. Davis, American Institute of Banking; T. Allen Glenn, Jr., former member of Reconstruction Finance Corporation. (See RUTGERS, page 4)

Rendezvous Features Sturgell Trio Tonight

The Jack Sturgell Trio will be featured tonight and every Friday night from 9 to 1 o'clock in the Rendezvous room, Manager Arnold Wilson announced yesterday. Manager Wilson also said that plans are being made for floor shows for Friday nights to the accompaniment of the Sturgell Trio.

In the afternoons if you are bothered with the heat, the cool depths of Graham Memorial, i.e., the Rendezvous, provide an ideal place to spend your time. There are comfortable couches and soft music. Cards and other games are available for the more energetic patrons. But the Rendezvous is especially noted for its atmosphere of restful relaxation.

The ping pong tournaments in the room behind the Rendezvous will be held on Thursday nights.

Elizabeth Lovell To Speak at Forum

Miss Elizabeth Lovell will be the leader for the Supper Forum of the Westminster Fellowship at the Presbyterian church this Sunday evening. Miss Lovell formerly taught physical education in Nebraska, and was public health educator with the Orange-Person-Chatham District Health Department until 1946 when she became health education supervisor with the State Board of Health. This program will be the second in a series of studies on the "Christian Concern in Public Health."

All students, married or single, are invited to attend the Supper Forum. Supper is served at 6:15; the study and discussion begins at 7:15.

Wesleyans' Dance Slated for Tonight

Wesley foundation will hold its first summer square dance tonight in the Recreation center beside the Methodist church, Ed Penland, summer Recreation committee chairman announced yesterday. The party-dance is a special occasion for the purpose of introducing Brooks Patton, the new W. F. Director, to old and new members and all other students to Wesley. Reverend Patton began his work with the Foundation last week. All students are invited to come and meet the new Director.

'All My Sons' Plans For Presentation Near Completion

"All My Sons," the 1947 New York critics prize winning play, will open the 30th summer season for the Carolina Playmakers on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, July 14, 15, 16, in the Carolina Playmakers Theater at 8:30 p. m.

Better Than Movie

Director Sam Hirsch believes this rich emotional play will bring much more enjoyment to the audience than the movie version just released in this area. "Too little of the rich humor and too much overemphasis on the melodramatic phase of the story are the faults of the movie version," Hirsch said. "The movie emphasized the three leading characters only and also left out much of the playwright's own comment on conditions after the war. We've placed our emphasis on characterization and believe that is the angle which will appeal most to the audience."

Hirsch said he was greatly pleased with the casting, which welcomes many newcomers to the Playmaker stage. The cast includes Nat White, Birmingham, Ala., a senior; Marion Miller, Aberdeen, Md., a graduate student; Edsel Hughes, East Orange, N. J., senior; Martha Grattan, Durham, graduate student; Fred Young, Monroe, La., junior; Bill Hardy, Durham, special student; Rue Guthrie, Charlotte, graduate student; Paul Keziah, Mineral Springs, senior; Lucia Collart, New York, senior; and David Rosen, Chapel Hill, a student in the elementary school.

Technical Staff

Serving on the technical staff are Murray McCain, assistant to the director; Walter J. Meserve, Jr., stage manager; Bob Eberle, scenery and lighting designer; Bob Barr, master electrician; Helen Brown, costume supervisor; Edna Dooley, mistress of props; Fred Johnson, house manager; Violet LaRue and Jerry Weiss, publicity.

Reserve seat tickets are now on sale at the Carolina Playmaker's Business Office in Swain Hall and at Ledbetter-Pickard's. Plans are being completed for the presentation of "As You Like It" in the Forest Theater, August 19 and 20. Sam Hirsch will direct.

Invitation Extended

Any members of the Order of the Eastern Star who are in Chapel Hill for the summer are invited to attend the meetings of the Chapel Hill group, according to an announcement this week by Mrs. Elizabeth D. Montgomery. Members of the Brazen Pillars who are here are also invited to the Eastern Star meetings.

Course in Books Set for Late July

The University Extension Division, in cooperation with the Great Books Foundation of the University of Chicago, will offer a training course for prospective leaders of Great Book Seminars at Chapel Hill from July 26 until August 7.

The group will meet for two hours daily, except Sunday, under the leadership of an experienced leader of Great Book Seminars, Dr. Martin Shockey, professor of English at Evansville College, Evansville, Ind.

No tuition will be charged for the course but it will be necessary for each member of the course to own or have access to the set of 16 first-year books which may be secured from the Great Books Foundation, Box NN, Chicago 90, Ill., at a cost of $7.50.

Members of the course will be accommodated in either Whitehead or Stacy dormitory at the rate of about $8 per week for one person.

The Extension Division will charge a registration fee of $5 which will include the use of the library, infirmary service and the privilege of using the outdoor swimming pool.

The reading list for the course will be based on classics of western civilization and will range from Plato and Aristotle, through Aquinas and Rousseau, to Adam Smith and Karl Marx.

Training classes will meet daily from 4 o'clock until 7 in the afternoons in the U. S. Navy (R. O. T. C.) Army.

Workshop to Give Exhibit, Reception

The Workshop on Human Resources and Intercultural Education will sponsor an art exhibit and reception on Saturday, July 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the Alumni Building, Room 407.

This exhibit will include paintings and figures made from various materials such as tempera paint, finger paints, paper mache, and clay. These projects were undertaken and completed under the guidance of Miss Marion Quinn, Art Supervisor in Elizabeth, New Jersey.

The public is invited to view the exhibit and meet the members of the workshop.

Ten Minute Senator

A. W. Sapp, summer school student from Greensboro, was inducted as a member of the Dialectic Senate last night. Later, at the call for new business, a motion was made and passed to adjourn for the summer. Senator Sapp was officially a member for ten minutes.

Coeds Dare Designers To Junk New Skirts

By Jim Dickinson

Campus maidens are all smiles these days despite a gathering rumor that Paris and New York designers are preparing to junk the New Look and branch off at a new tangent in skirt attire.

"What else can they do that hasn't been done?" said one coed, taking a downward glance at several yards of cloth plastered with more trimmings than a Christmas tree.

"Auto designers can change their products' lines each year," she went on, "and the same used to be true of women's skirts. But now the lines are gone. The only lines represented here are those which can't be seen."

"It's interesting to hear that another change is in the offing," said another young lady. "I've hardly become accustomed to this one yet—perhaps the next design will be a little easier to take. But I would like to take a peek at what's coming before they push something else off on me."

Some talk has gone around that hobble skirts will be the coming fad on the clothing agenda. These are the ones which start at hip-size and are exactly bod-size from there to a point about eight inches from the side-walk.

The girl wearing this fashion walks along in ripples and is afraid to attempt a step which exceeds 16 inches. Her only excuse for walking at all lies in the fact that the hem is split in a place or two for more room. If an occasion arises which calls for running, she just forgets it and takes the consequences.

A majority of the girls are little perturbed about the threatened change because they realize the skirts couldn't possibly get any longer without dragging Mama earth. A sharp pair of scissors and a needle can cure any change in the upward or roundward directions, they say.

. . . for Papa-who-pays

No report has been received from Papa-who-pays back home but it's a safe bet he's doing more sweating over the whole affair than anybody else.

It would be more than gratifying to him to be able to sleep at night with assurance that the wardrobe he's stored up during the last year is safe for at least another year—with only an addition or two here and there.

To sum it up, the pin-ups feel sure they have the designer in the palms of their hands—just where he has them since the days of the New Look bobbed up. They can sit back and defy him to give them something they can't match in one way or another.

Whatever comes forth the coeds and 40 million other women will no doubt be waiting—and hopefully—that something new will come out to displace the fashions of already a year's standing. They always have.
