Fall Quarter Registration Hits Record High Of 7,603

By Margaret Gaston
University enrollment for fall quarter this year reached the highest number in the history of the school, with a total of 7603 students enrolled. This figure includes 6,719 male students and 884 coeds. Chancellor R. B. House announced the enrollment at yesterday's University day exercises. September enrollment for last year was 7,428, which is 75 students less than enrolled this year.

Ten years ago this quarter, only 3,509 students were registered here.

According to a report from Central Records office, 1,360 freshman students are enrolled, including 34 coeds. There is a total of 982 graduate students in Arts and Sciences, Public Health, and Social work.

The number of veterans this year is 4,331, which includes 76 women veterans. There are 2,464 non-veteran men and 808 women.

The residence status of North Carolina reached 5,915, and from the other 43 states represented there are 1,631 students. There are 57 foreign students on campus this year, representing 30 countries.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 12.—(UP)—State officials today bowed to a federal court order and announced that Prof. G. W. McLaurin, a Negro, will be admitted to the University of Oklahoma Wednesday "on a segregated basis."

Weaver, Cordon Speak to Alumni At Durham Meet

Dean of Students Fred Weaver and Norman Cordon, head of the University Music foundation, were guest speakers at a dinner meeting of the Durham county alumni association of the University at the Washington-Duke hotel in Durham Monday night.

Egbert Haywood, Durham attorney, was elected president of the association at the meeting which was attended by approximately 125 alumni in observance of the 155th anniversary of the University.

As a special feature, Clyde "Pete" Mullis of the University athletic staff gave a talk on the handling of crowds at Carolina football games, and showed movies of the Carolina-Georgia game.

Ralph Strayhorn, University law student, also spoke at the meeting.

Elected to serve with Haywood for the forthcoming year were Allston Stubbs, vice president, and B. W. Harris, secretary-treasurer.

Tickets on Sale For Weed Dance In Wilson Oct. 20

University students may secure tickets in the Y on Monday to the annual Tobacco Tamasha to be held at Wilson Oct. 20.

The Chapel Hill agent has been limited to 200 tickets, which will be on sale at the Y during the hours from 10 to 4 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained before Monday by contacting Jack Edwards at 318 McCauley street.

"Miss North Carolina of 1948," Patty Osborne of Shelby, will be Queen of the Tamasha. She will wear a dress of tobacco with a crown of cigarettes during the ceremony.

Highlighting the pageant will be an informal dance from 9 o'clock until 1:30 featuring Perry Ceno, Mitchell Ayres and the Chesterfield orchestra, and Larry Clinton and his orchestra. The NBC Chesterfield Supper club at 7 o'clock, a repeat broadcast at 11 o'clock, and two Arthur Godfrey CBS morning shows will originate from Wilson Friday.

Life and Parade magazines will cover the event, and other events besides the dance will include an auctioneering contest, hog-calling contest, and a window-decorating contest. Proceeds from the affair will go to the North Carolina Polio fund.

Official Rings May Be Ordered

Delta Sigma Phi Hears Colclough Tomorrow Night

George D. Colclough, secretary of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker at the first meeting of the Delta Sigma Phi professional commerce fraternity in the banquet room of the Carolina Inn tomorrow evening at 7:30.

The meeting will be open to all commerce students. An informal smoker will be held immediately after the meeting at the Delta Sigma Phi house, 211 Pittsboro street, to which commerce students are also invited.

Colclough, a native of Durham county, received his A.B. degree from Elon college and did special work at the University of North Carolina and at Duke university. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Chamber of Commerce Executives, and is state editor of "Southern Executives."

Freshmen Should Get Pictures Made

All freshmen who have not yet had their Yack pictures taken are requested to come in today by Fred Blair, freshman class editor of the Yack.

"I want this to be the best freshman class section we have ever had, and the only way we can do it is with the cooperation of the whole class. I would like to stress again, fellows should wear white shirts, ties and coats, while the girls should wear white blouses," Fred said.

He reminded all freshmen that there are no lines, the hours are 9-12 o'clock in the morning, and 1:15-5 o'clock in the afternoon, and also that "freshmen will be allowed to have their pictures taken after this Friday."

Playmaker Show Tickets Available Beginning Today

The sale of reserved seat tickets for the Carolina Playmaker production of "I Remember Mama," a gentle comedy of American family life, is the first major production of the Playmaker's 31st season. It was written by John Van Druten, who adapted the story from the novel, "Mama's Bank Account," by Kathryn Forbes. Lynn Gault is directing the production.

The play was a decided hit when played at the Music Box theater in New York during 1944, and it was later made into a movie.

Gault, who is designing the settings as well as directing the presentation, is using a large revolving stage to help eliminate some of the biggest problems in scene changing.

Dramatist Van Druten summed up the major problems himself when he said, "It's physical production... demands facilities in direct proportion to the amateur theaters. Revolving stages, platforms, backdrops, traveller curtains and the like are things to discourage even the hardest group."

Costumes for "I Remember Mama" are being designed and made under the direction of staff costumer Irene Smart, lighting will be handled by graduate student James Byrd, and Marty Jacobs is serving as stage manager.

SP Legislators Will Meet Today

All Student party legislators will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Roland Parker lounge 3 of Graham Memorial. All SP legislators, whether sworn in or not, are requested to attend.

Charles Eaton Delivers Talk To Coed Group

"The glorious thing about the United States is that we can combine the ideal and the practical," said Charles Eaton, writer and English department faculty member, speaking Monday night at an open meeting of Chi Delta Phi, coed literary group.

Stating that for the writer the ideal is perfection of skill—"the mythical, perfect story that he never writes"—Eaton urged the young writers to concentrate on their work, approaching it in a "spirit of love, persistence and patience."

First open meeting of the year, it was planned especially for girls interested in joining the local chapter of the sorority. Manuscripts submitted in the membership contest must be turned in to the information office in Graham Memorial before Wednesday, Oct. 20, it was announced.

University Day Program Has Simplicity As Theme

Simplicity was the keynote for ceremonies which yesterday marked the 155th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of Old East building Oct. 12, 1793.

Students, faculty members and townspeople gathered in front of South building at 11 o'clock to participate in the brief exercises. After the University band opened the program with the national anthem, and the singing of the University hymn, Chancellor R. B. House led the large assemblage in a responsive reading from the Apocrypha. The Men's Glee club sang Integer Vitae, following a minute of silence in memory of students, faculty, trustees and alumni who had died since the last University day.

The University Glee club, under the direction of Paul Young, made a very favorable impression on the audience in their first appearance of the year. They sang the Credo from Palestrina's Missa Papae Marcellus.

Stray Greeks Set Meeting Tonight

A meeting of the Stray Greeks, an organization composed of sorority women whose chapters are not represented on this campus, will be held tonight in Alderman hall at 7 o'clock.

The primary purpose of the meeting is to discuss financial matters and to select a sponsor for this year's Yack.

Officers of the Stray Greeks for this year are: Molly Craig, president; Beth Deaton, vice-president; Alice Sharp, secretary; Lindsay Tate, treasurer; and Molly Craig and Kay Holding, Panhellenic representatives. Mrs. Cobb, housemother of Alderman hall, is their sponsor.

The Stray Greeks were organized in 1945, under the leadership of Twig Branch, the first president. The group now has 25 members, representing 9 sororities.

ended with a re-enactment of the laying of the cornerstone by John Hinson, A. C. Gaskill, and L. B. Collins, representatives of the local Masonic lodge. The original cornerstone laying was conducted by Masonic Grandmaster William R. Davie and a group of Masons in 1793.

After the pantomime, Cheerleader Norman Sper and the University band led the way to Davie Poplar where the final tribute to the University's founding was made. The crowd sang "Hark the Sound."

With Chancellor House on the platform was the Rev. J. C. Herin, who gave the invocation; Jess Dedmond, student body president, and Earl Wynn, director of the Communications center. Classes were suspended from 10:50 until 1:50.

Rally, Street Dance To Spark Homecoming

A pep rally, street dance and elaborate displays by all fraternities, dormitories and sororities will highlight homecoming weekend in Chapel Hill, according to an announcement by Joe Ward, acting chairman of the University club.

The pep rally for the Carolina-State game will begin at 7:30, followed by a street dance, co-sponsored by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants association. "The street dance is something new," Ward stated. "We are expecting a large crowd down on Pittsboro street, which will be roped off down as far as the police station."

One of the highlights of the dance will be the presentation of the Homecoming Queen during intermission. She will present a cup to the winning organization for the best house decorations during half-time of the Saturday classic. The displays will be judged by a special committee appointed by the University club.

The club has had two successful planning meetings for the important weekend events, according to Ward.

Shmoos Take Off On Food Mission Into Frankfurt

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(UP)—One hundred shmoos took off for Berlin from LaGuardia field today on "Operation Do Good."

They were "parashmoopers" ready to float down over the city and turn into food packages for hungry Germans.

Their creator, Al Capp, author of the comic strip "Li'l Abner," handed a carton of 12-inch plastic shmoos to the crew of an American overseas airlines flagship for delivery to the 17th Military Air Transport squadron in Frankfurt.

It was Lt. Col. James Haun of the airlift outfit who cabled recently, "Will you ship by air immediately one dozen shmoos to the 17th Military Air Transport squadron rein main. We will fly subject shmoos to Berlin at once and assure world crisis will be ended immediately."

The parashmoopers will be dropped by the 17th over Berlin. Each German who picks one up can trade it for a package of food at the CARE office in Berlin. Other shmoos, filled with candy, will find their way to hospitals and orphanages.

Newman Renders Musical Preview Tuesday Oct. 26

Students, faculty, and townspeople who attend the lecture-recital of Dr. William S. Newman in Hill hall, Tuesday, Oct. 26, at 8:30 will get a prehearing of some of the music he is going to play on tour in early November.

Well-known member of the music faculty, Dr. Newman has been scheduled to give 10 concerts in six Midwestern universities, over a period of 12 days. He goes as a "visitor" for the arts program of the American Association of Colleges.

He will also present a lecture recital on "The Sons of Bach" at the annual meetings of the Music Teachers National association during the Christmas holidays. During the summer he gave a series of six lecture-recitals at Juilliard School of Music in New York while teaching graduate music courses at Columbia Teachers college.

From the music played at Juilliard, Dr. Newman has chosen three sonatas for the Tuesday night recital, all of them to be heard here for the first time. Included are a sensitive work by the Italian, Giovanni Platti; a work by W. Rust, a German who figured in one of the most intriguing hoaxes of music history; and an extended expressive, sonata by the Frenchman, Vincent d'Indy.

Harland Addresses Whitehead Meeting

Dr. J. P. Harland, head of the Archaeology department, addressed the first meeting this year of the Whitehead Medical society in the Rendezvous room of Graham Memorial Sunday afternoon.

The new officers announced for this year are John Kirkland, president; Spinx Marsh, vice-president; Charles Melchior, secretary; and Maxine Dark, treasurer.

Chest, Council Goals At $20,000

With their combined goals set at $20,000, workers for the Chapel Hill Community Chest and the Chapel Hill Council of Churches are making final plans for this year's drive which will get underway Sunday afternoon and continue for one week.

For the Community Chest a goal of $12,000 has been set by the evaluation committee, headed by Paul W. Wager. For the campaign for overseas relief funds, sponsored by the Chapel Hill Council of Churches, the goal is

Mr. A. C. McAllister is acting as permanent treasurer; Collier Cobb has charge of the special gifts section, Mrs. W. W. Pierson is the representative from the executive board of the community council, and Kenneth Jones heads the drive among the colored people of the community.

Will Discuss Cause, Effect Possible Cure

By Sam McKeel
Marriner S. Eccles, vice-chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve system, will speak on inflation, its causes, effects and cures tonight at 8 o'clock in Hill hall.

Former chairman of the board, Eccles failed reappointment in February of this year, and was made vice-chairman. Thomas Bayard McCabe, Philadelphia Republican banker, and head of the Scot paper company, was his successor as chairman. Eccles was first appointed chairman of the board in February of 1936.

Eccles will be co-sponsored by the Carolina Forum and the Carolina Political union, non-partisan campus political organization. He will appear at a banquet given by the CPU at 6 o'clock in the Carolina Inn.

Born in Logan, Utah, on September 9, 1890, Eccles attended district schools and Brigham Young college. In 1943 he received an honorary LL.D. from the University of Utah.

Long a figure in national politics Eccles has been a member of the National Advisory council on International Monetary and Financial Problems since June, 1945. He was a member of the Board of Economic Stabilization from 1942 until 1946.

Eccles will arrive via Eastern Airlines at the Raleigh-Durham airport at 4:47. He will be met by Herb Alexander, president of the CPU.

Hubbard Picks Sixteen Right In Grid Contest

Hampton Hubbard, Box 348, was the winner in the first 1948 Graham Memorial football contest last Saturday. Hubbard distinguished himself by picking 16 out of 20 winners and predicting the score to be 28-7 in the Carolina-Wake Forest game, only one point off.

Four others tied Hubbard in the number of winners, but were further off in their prediction of the score. Leslie Yelverton, T. S. Adams, J. F. Colvard and Charlie Kauffman were the other experts last week.

For his winning efforts, Hubbard will receive a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes through the courtesy of the campus Chesterfield representative and a pass to the local theatre.

Other standouts in last week's contest were O. H. Allen, who picked 15 winners and got the exact score; Kenneth Moore, Harold Rollins, S. W. Miller and Richard Sutton, all of whom picked the exact score in the Wake Forest game. Seven others picked the Missouri-SMU upset and one person correctly picked the Oklahoma-Texas reversal.

Harris Exhibiting Painting Collection

Kenneth Harris, professional artist of Chapel Hill, is currently exhibiting his collection of paintings in the Meredith art gallery. The collection includes water colors and sketches by Mrs. Wallace, associate professor of history at Meredith college.

Mrs. Wallace's paintings have been completed since her last showing in September, 1947, and includes a series of lake scenes and sketch books done around Lake Chautauque.

The gallery is open to the public, including Sunday, during daylight hours, according to Douglas Reynolds, head of the department of art at the college.
