

Constructive Ideas

Loudermilk Is Well Known In Campus Political Scene

By Bill Buchan
Charlie Loudermilk, a leader in campus fraternity life, is a young man with constructive ideas, ideas that more often than not lead to improvement in student affairs, student government and any other organizations of which he is a member.

ing fall elections. "I see no reason," he said, "why the University party will go out in power in the elections. The present legislature is doing a very good job, disregarding the needless controversy over the budget bill last spring."
At the present time, Loudermilk is making plans for the improvement of two issues on campus. Both of them, one concerning better telephone service and the other a unique and much needed method for the scheduling of quizzes in General College will be well received by the student body.

am concerned, a man named Winston, the party's organizational secretary, has been in a perpetual conference for the past three days. North said he couldn't show me around.
Back today for a final trial, I never got beyond the hall with the three locked doors. I called through the peephole to the middle-looking man to let me in. He just looked at me. Then he came over to the peephole and said North wasn't in and he didn't know when he would be in.

Phi Gams Reach Goal in Drive

The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity has reached 100 per cent membership participation in the North Carolina symphony society drive, the management of the society announced yesterday.

Much of the credit for this support is given to the cooperation of the Interfraternity council and the local chairman, Norman Corbin.

The Phi Gams raised $96 for the local symphony society by each active member purchasing a minimum of one membership.

B. F. Swalin, director of the symphony, has inferred that if sufficient interest has been shown on the part of students in contributions made and memberships secured, a special concert might be possible for the students.

He pointed out that this would be a contribution to the entertainment series on the campus.

Bob Barrus, assistant YMCA director, announced that anyone who did not obtain a YMCA blotter at registration, may pick one up in the lobby of the Y building.

Judge Rules

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 22—(UP)—U. S. District Judge J. Watlies Waring today ruled out an affidavit charging that he was biased in favor of Negroes who seek equal rights in the South Carolina Democratic party.

Ivanissevich Will Speak Tuesday

Dr. Antonio Ivanissevich, formerly a professor of constitutional law at the University of Buenos Aires, will speak Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in 111 Murphy hall, sponsored by the Institute of Latin-American Studies and the Spanish club. The subject of his talk will be "Relaciones Inter-Americanas."

Dr. Ivanissevich visited Chapel Hill once before in 1944 when he lectured at the Law school. He is now in this country under the auspices of the United States State department to improve relations between Argentina and the United States. He has given lectures at Princeton and Columbia university.

Self-Defense

DURHAM, Oct. 22—(UP)—The Duke university athletic office in self defense today announced that nearly 10,000 tickets still are available for the Duke-Georgia Tech clash here Oct. 30.

H. M. Lewis, business manager of athletics, explained that his office was being bombarded with urgent telegrams and phone calls asking if there was a possibility of getting tickets to the game.

He suggested leisurely letters, bearing checks, would arrive in time to purchase tickets.

Lange to Speak On Latin Music

Francisco Curt Lange, foremost Latin-American musicologist will speak about the music of Latin America in Hill hall auditorium the evening of Oct. 29 at 8:30.

Dr. Lange, an architect and writer in the fields of sociology and philosophy, will illustrate his speech, entitled "Latin American Music," with recordings and slides.

The German-born musicologist is the founder and editor of the Latin American Bulletin of Music and is the founder and director of the Inter-American Institute of Musicology.
