

Moment of Silence
Hold Tuition Down
No Laughing Matter

The Daily Tar Heel

Fair and colder.

Nanking Goes Under Curfew; Food Scarce

Americans Leave Threatened Areas

SHANGHAI China, Nov. 10.—(UP)—A strict nightly curfew was imposed on Nanking, the Chinese capital, tonight and troops in both Nanking and Shanghai were alerted after day-long rioting by hungry, looting mobs.

The United States army began evacuating Americans by air and sea as food became scarcer in major cities of north and south China and President Chiang Kai-Shek's troops suffered new reverses on the central front within 200 miles of Nanking.

Violence broke out in the capital, where thousands of Chinese ransacked more than 30 rice shops whose owners demanded exorbitant prices. At least three policemen and scores of civilians were injured. Thirty persons were arrested in one clash alone.

Tension eased somewhat in Shanghai, where Mayor K. C. Wu ordered troops to "requisition" supplies in the Wushih rice producing district and announced rations for workers.

Thousands of Chinese queued in front of ferry offices before dawn in Shanghai to get tickets for Yangtze river boats heading for Hankow. Wu said that boats would stop along the way, enabling them to scout the countryside for rice, meat and vegetables. But unconfirmed reports said that food riots also were centered of the rice belt.

As far as the military situation is concerned, Wu said, "any possibility that Shanghai is in danger from the rebels should not even be considered at this time. There is no immediate danger."

U. S. army dependents and other American civilians began leaving China in planes and ships. Dependents in Nanking were ordered flown to Shanghai and Tsingtao, where ships are awaiting to return them to the United States, the joint U. S. military advisory group announced.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo ordered three army transports to by-pass Japan and go directly to Shanghai.

Wilmoth Names Dance Committee

Phyllis Wilmoth, president of the Winston-Salem Carolina club, has announced a dance committee for the campus Twin Cities informal Thanksgiving dance to be held Nov. 26 in the Blue Room of the Robert E. Lee hotel. Tickets are now on sale in the "Y" lobby.

Members of the dance committee appointed by Wilmoth are Durwood Jones, Tom Wharton, Robert Smitherman, Bill Ayers, Wade Surratt, Barbara Thomas, Frances Swain, Ellis Hall, Anies Day, Jack McGee, and John Stanfield.

Xrptlyghbsxuntrl!

Avery Boddie and Dare Brothers Haff Darr Naiman address in the new 1948-49 student directory, now on sell in the Weiss Court for Onley ten Penny (s). Tagget from us, at that Price it's Weil Worth the Money.

From Argo and Bangdiwala to Zotos and Zum Brunnen (the Enman) it is Fuller Cude Boise Engel (s) Yoos Noe. All good Peebles and Eure Neighbors from High to Lowe. Short to Long, Black to White, Heavners to Hellers, Tapp to Bottoms, Guy (s) from Helten Highwater Newman Gratlan Small are all included—even Suberman!

In Des Bocks Yoos May Reid where Tobey Urquhart Orr Yoos Kann Turner Page and learn where to Buyat Cuba Coffee Nix Day.

Noe Kidd and we Arnott, the new directory is Reilly Onkey!

ELEVEN AIR FORCE MEN were killed when a twin-engine C-47 transport plane broke apart in the air and crashed on the edge of the town of Muldrow, Okla., during a rain storm. The arrow in the upper photograph points to a spot a mile and a half away where the wreckage seen in the bottom picture fell after the plane blew apart.

Alpha Kappa Psi Has Initiation At Sunday Meet

At a formal initiation ceremony Sunday evening, 38 men were initiated into the Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional commerce fraternity recently reactivated on the campus.

Richard A. Hills, grand president, and Julius M. Lennard, counselor of the southeastern district, both of Atlanta, directed the initiation proceedings, aided by several alumni of the fraternity and four brothers from Beta Eta chapter of Duke university.

The national fraternity has an approximate membership of 22,000, and the following were made charter members of the local reactivated chapter: Troy D. Mathis, president; James M. Waugh, vice-president; William F. Brown, Jr., secretary; Morris D. Moser, treasurer; Lindsay N. Cashion, chaplain; Kemper L. Kiger, warden; Victor P. Bowles, master of rituals; and Dr. McGill, Julian Price, associate professor of insurance, faculty adviser.

Charles G. Allen, Jr., Clinton K. Atkinson, Wilbur Y. Bridges, Dwight E. Bunn, Broadie N. Copland, Jr., George W. Fulk, Paul M. Gaskill, William L. Hester, Edgar C. Hicks, James C. Holt, Roland E. Horne, Garland F. Huffman, Orman D. Hutcherson, John E. Kapp, William A. Lambert, and George W. Michael.

Nichols M. Perry, Charles E. Pullen, Robert T. Ross, Jr., Troy W. Rouse, Jr., W. Allen Spivey, Richard K. Stewart, Bobby S. Stutts, Lester D. Styron, Edward R. Testerman, James L. Thompson, Jr., Horace G. Warner, Benny H. Warren, John B. Watson, and Robert G. Williams.

Folsom Wants To Talk With Stalin

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama today suggested "cracker barrel" diplomacy for settling the east-west cold war, with Joseph Stalin on one end of the barrel and himself on the other.

Folsom said in an interview that helping President Truman "get the world on a peaceful basis" is his only ambition on a national scale. No Washington jobs for him, said the towering governor who stuck by Mr. Truman to the point of going to court in an effort to get his name

Williams' Drama To Be Presented Tonight At 8:30

Tennessee Williams' famous drama, "The Glass Menagerie," will be presented tonight at 8:30 in the Playmaker theater by the Southern states tour company. The appearance is being sponsored by the Carolina Playmakers.

The cast, all Southerners, includes: Gilbert Leigh as the gentleman caller, Mary Perry as the mother, Lew Sisk as the brother, and Peggy Love as the daughter, Laura.

"The Glass Menagerie" unfolds the story of the hopes, fears, and dreams of a mother, son, and daughter, and in a quiet way speaks some truths. The simple and heartwarming story is set against a Southern background.

Mrs. Ling Makes Informal Speech

"My mother and father had never seen each other before the day of their wedding," said Mrs. Ruth Ling, Chinese graduate student from Shanghai in an informal talk at the weekly YWCA Coffee Klatsch Tuesday night.

In explaining some of the Chinese social customs, Mrs. Ling said that although methods of selecting a bride had changed somewhat in the larger cities of today, the country districts still have semi-professional matchmakers who pair off girls and boys of approximately the same age and background for marriage.

"Many times the go-between will cheat a little on the ages, so it's not unusual to find the boys a lot younger and the girls a lot older in arranged marriages," she said.

Chinese education, religion, and music were other topics of discussion in Mrs. Ling's speech.

'Cracker Barrel' Diplomacy Needed

On the Alabama general election ballot.

The six-foot, seven-inch governor insisted again that he is through seeking public office after his term expires in 1951 but he admitted he will be talking politics "on my death bed."

After his term of office expires, he said, he wants to buy 40 acres and a house near his home town of Cullman. His bride of 21,

Armstrong Is Elected Head Of Registrars

Takes Over Post By Acclamation

Roy Armstrong, director of Admissions, was elected president of the North Carolina Association of Collegiate Registrars at the 25th annual meeting of the group held in Greensboro Tuesday.

Armstrong succeeded Mrs. Vera Tart Marsh of Meredith college, Raleigh. The organization unanimously adopted the report of the nominating committee.

The registrar's meeting preceded the 28th annual meeting of the North Carolina College Conference held the same day. Principal speaker at the registrar's session was Chancellor R. B. House.

Following a memorial reading by Armstrong, the association paid tribute to the late Mary Taylor Moore, who died Oct. 8. She college in Greensboro for 39 headed registration at Women's years.

Charles Bernard, member of Armstrong's staff, discussed a study of the general education development test given to veterans at the University.

Before entering service, Armstrong was director of pre-college guidance. He was a lieutenant in the Navy for three years, serving in the Pacific area. Armstrong returned to the University in March, 1946, and assumed his duties as director of admissions.

Wilson Captures Football Contest

Jim Wilson, 309 Aycock dorm, is the winner in last week's Graham Memorial football contest. Wilson picked 19 winners in the weekly poll amid a host of upsets. The only game he missed was the N.C. State-Virginia upset.

Like all other entrants, Wilson failed to pick the Carolina-William and Mary score correctly, but his was the only entry with only one game incorrect.

Thomas Northington, 312 A dorm, James L. Tapley, 207 Grimes, and Don Maynard, 106 Everett, missed only two games. Tapley and Northington missed the State-Virginia and Georgia Tech-Tennessee games, and Maynard slipped up on the Missouri-Oklahoma and Davidson-Richmond battles.

Aquinas Students Schedule Dance

Plans for a joint dance and social gathering of Catholic students at the University and at Duke university were made at Tuesday night's meeting of the Aquinas club. The dance is scheduled to be held at Duke next week.

A motion to sponsor the showing of religious motion pictures was also passed by the club, and current religious problems of Catholic students were discussed.

Education Students Pre-Register Nov. 15

Students in the school of education will pre-register Nov. 15 through Nov. 30. Assignments to advisers will be given in Peabody 127.

Ballot Stuffing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—The FBI has begun a preliminary investigation into charges of ballot box stuffings in Bourbon county Ky., during the Nov. 2 general election. Justice department officials revealed today.

Hurricane Gone

CAPE HATTERAS, Nov. 10.—(UP)—A small hurricane lost its zip about 75 miles east of here tonight, subsiding to an area of heavy squalls as this bleak island felt few of its effects.

FELLED BY THE COMBINATION of smoke, fog and industrial fumes which enshrouded Donora, Pa., for four days, Mrs. Van Kirk is wheeled into a hospital. Twenty persons died and more than 200 were given medical attention before the suffocating blanket of smog lifted.

Washington Put Up For Junior Presidency

Nominees Are Chosen by Student Party For Four Student Legislature Seats

Ed Washington, rising junior from Kannapolis, has been nominated by the Student party as a candidate for the presidency of the junior class in the fall elections, Chuck Lineberry, party campaign manager, announced yesterday. Washington is a varsity football player and has been an active participant in student government. At the present time, he is a member of the student legislature.

Other nominations released by Lineberry include candidates for the legislature from various dorm districts. Dortch Warriner, junior from Lawrenceville, Va., was nominated with Toby Selby to represent students from dormitory district 1. Warriner is a member of the legislature and is on the Coalition cabinet of the student body president. Selby, a freshman from Rocky Mount, was president of his high school and has taken an active part in the freshman election campaign here this year.

Lineberry, sophomore from Charlotte was nominated by the SP as a legislator from dorm district 4. He was appointed campaign manager of one party earlier this year and served in the legislature during the summer.

Emily Sewell, junior from Norfolk, was nominated for a year's term from women's dorm district 2. At the present time, she is business manager of the Carolina Quarterly and has taken an active part in student government. Emily, who served in the Marines during the war, lives in Spencer dormitory.

Other nominations for the remaining legislature seats will be made at the regular party meeting Monday night. The party will meet in Roland Parker 3, at 8 o'clock.

House Attending Recreation Meet In Greensboro

Chancellor R. B. House is attending the three-day conference of the North Carolina Recreation commission which started yesterday in Greensboro.

He heard Director Harold D. Meyer issue a call for higher municipal and county taxes to support adequate recreation programs in the state's cities and towns. About 300 state recreation leaders were expected before the three day session came to a close.

Phi Upholds God At Tuesday Meet

God got eight out of 13 votes in the Phi Assembly Tuesday night, but He was voted out of existence by 13 to 11 when guests were polled. The Senators were debating the question of organized religion versus free thought.

Organized religions received a 15 to nine vote of confidence from the entire audience. Winifred Ervin, using St. Thomas Aquinas' definition of God—Omniscient, Omnipotent, Omnipresent, all just, all benevolent, all loving, and personified—declared that Greek mythology plus Judaism plus a couple spoonfuls of fear equals Christianity.

"Such a religion takes pennies from wash women, degrades the dignity of man, and impedes reason. Adam's apple was only another version of Pandora's box," Ervin contended.

Bill Duncan thought Henry Wallace might be the second Christ. He admitted that the only happy preacher he ever knew became involved with a chorine. Page Dees said the churches are their own worst enemies and that an attacker of modern theologies is not necessarily atheistic.

Campus Demolays To Form Chapter

All former De Molays interested in forming a De Molay club should drop a card to Jim Stallings, 221 C dorm., giving name and address.

Washington Rally, Parade Scheduled For UNC Visitors

Shoreham Hotel Dance Is Planned For Students by Capital Alumni

North Carolinians and University students in particular will march on Washington this weekend, climaxing their activities with a gigantic parade through four major Washington streets. The parade will begin at 11 o'clock at 14th and K streets, proceed along K, 10th, F and 14th streets, ending at Thomas Circle where a mass pep rally will be staged.

Alumni Chapter Slates Meeting Friday Evening

A record crowd of university alumni is expected at the Willard hotel Friday night when the Washington D. C. chapter of the University Alumni association gathers for the first event of a crowded week end.

J. Maryon Saunders, University alumni secretary, and Bill Shuford, assistant secretary, left early this morning for the nation's capital to complete plans for the event. Chancellor R. B. House, who will speak at the meeting, plans to leave later.

Saunders said that the Washington chapter has put forth every effort to assure students an enjoyable time during their stay for the Maryland game.

"A dance Saturday night has been arranged at the Shoreham hotel for Tar Heel supporters," Saunders commented, "and Washington alumni have located rooms and accommodations for over 300 students," he revealed.

Maryland Coach Jim Tatum, and his assistant, George Barkley, will be present at the Willard tomorrow night. Both Carolinians, Barkley is remembered as the University's first All-American, in 1934. Movies of recent Carolina games will be shown.

Officers of the Washington chapter are: President James E. Webb, '28, who is U. S. director of the budget; Vice-President William B. Snow '31, who is with the Federal Trade commission; and Secretary-Treasurer Robert R. Reynolds, Jr., '34, who is with the Department of Justice.

Phi Upholds God At Tuesday Meet

God got eight out of 13 votes in the Phi Assembly Tuesday night, but He was voted out of existence by 13 to 11 when guests were polled. The Senators were debating the question of organized religion versus free thought.

Organized religions received a 15 to nine vote of confidence from the entire audience. Winifred Ervin, using St. Thomas Aquinas' definition of God—Omniscient, Omnipotent, Omnipresent, all just, all benevolent, all loving, and personified—declared that Greek mythology plus Judaism plus a couple spoonfuls of fear equals Christianity.

"Such a religion takes pennies from wash women, degrades the dignity of man, and impedes reason. Adam's apple was only another version of Pandora's box," Ervin contended.

Bill Duncan thought Henry Wallace might be the second Christ. He admitted that the only happy preacher he ever knew became involved with a chorine. Page Dees said the churches are their own worst enemies and that an attacker of modern theologies is not necessarily atheistic.

Campus Demolays To Form Chapter

All former De Molays interested in forming a De Molay club should drop a card to Jim Stallings, 221 C dorm., giving name and address.

Tar Heels will leave from Thomas circle at 1 o'clock in a motorcade which will proceed by way of Logan circle to Rhode Island avenue, then to 7th street and on to Griffith stadium.

Tookie Hodgson, vice-president of the University club which is sponsoring the activities, stated that the paraders will carry banners with Carolina slogans which are being donated by various campus organizations. Confederate flags will also play a prominent part in the pre-game festivities, as well as the University band which will be present to lend a musical note to the parade.

Norm Sper, head cheerleader, will be in charge of the entire proceedings, and has announced that a special University dance will be held at 9:30 in the Shoreham Hotel.

There will be no charge for Chapel Hill students who will be admitted with their dates on their student's registration card. Admission of University alumni will be by this season's membership card. Tar Heels belonging to the North Carolina society will be admitted on their season's membership card. A small number of tickets will be available at the door for North Carolinians who do not come within the above groups. All Tar Heels who come up for the game are invited to the dance and should contact James E. Webb, director of the budget, and chairman of the society's dance committee or John K. Slear, president of the society, room 410, House office building.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Grady Pritchard or the following Washington students in Chapel Hill who have been invited to assist the dance committee: Mary Murphy, Cynthia Johnson, Fred Gilliam, Lindsay Warren, Jr., Robin Kirby, Jr., Sam Blythe, Johnny H. Council, Charles Warren and Ben Townsend.

Frank Hanft, professor in the University Law school will speak in Freshman chapel today at 11 o'clock. In this Armistice day address he will discuss "Americanism's Answer to Communism."

Freshman Assembly Will Hear Hanft

Frank Hanft, professor in the University Law school will speak in Freshman chapel today at 11 o'clock. In this Armistice day address he will discuss "Americanism's Answer to Communism."

"Ah just wants to remind you all that this year Sadie Hawkins day will be aroллин' around bout tomorrow afternoon. L'il Abner's moughly worried bout the whole durned bizness, cuz Daisy Mae's bin practicing up her runnin' fer nigh on three weeks now. And them shmooes jest can't wait. But then who could?"