JOHN GATES, EDITOR OF THE DAILY WORKER, Communist newspaper is shown at the exfreme left as he addressed a crowd of approximately 1,000 students and townspeople on the Texaco service station corner of Franklin and Columbia streets Wednesday evening. Gates was forced to move his speaking rostrum to West Franklin street in front of the high school a few minutes after this picture was made by Staff Photographer Jim Mills. Gates was prohibited from speaking in Memorial hall, where his address had been scheduled, by Chancellor Robert B. House, acting on an interpretation of a state statute.
