Blue, That Is

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 29—(UP)—It took almost 84 years for something like this to happen.

The Richmond Light Infantry Blues got hollerin' mad today when they found out they were being mislabeled "The Richmond Grays" by Yankees since their appearance in President Truman's inaugural parade three weeks ago.

Newsreels showing the crack infantry outfit turned out in their immaculate blue uniforms on Pennsylvania avenue were referring to them as the Grays, Lt. Col. W. G. Wharton, commanding officer, grieved.

Wharton wants it understood. Those uniforms are blue. Fort Sumter notwithstanding.

Lab Group Plans Tryouts Tuesday

Tryouts for "Apple Tree Farm," the new musical comedy-fantasy to be staged by the Laboratory theatre April 4, 5, and 6, will be held Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 6 in the Rendezvous room.

Any singer, actor, dancer, or technician who would like to be in the production but who cannot be present Tuesday afternoon is asked to get in touch with Marty Jacobs, the director, as soon as possible, to make other arrangements.

Back to Normal

Sun-and-Golf Clan Bemoans Winter's Return to Dixieland

ATLANTA, Jan. 29—(UP)—Farmers welcomed the seasonal return of wintry weather South-wide today but it didn't make the sun-and-golf clan any happier.

Agriculturists through Dixie begged for real winter weather all through the recent June-in-January climatic spree. Many crops require a good period of frost before they can bloom properly and farmers feared that the heat would cause early, premature blooming and growth of crops.

Some $1,000,000 worth of Louisiana strawberries faced ruin because of the sudden change.

The Southern states have been experiencing almost as peculiar weather as southern California, which has suffered several expensive freezes and unusual snowstorms. But the South, even that part of it which usually has short, but cold, winters, has been basking in summer-like temperatures for some time.

The weather bureau predicted a low of 10 degrees in Memphis, Tenn., tonight and a 12-degree reading at Richmond, Va., and Knoxville and Nashville, Tenn. Other nearer-to-normal temperatures were predicted as 18 for Charlotte; 20 for Greensboro; 24 for Atlanta, Birmingham, Montgomery and Jackson, Miss.

Charleston, S. C., will shiver, but not so much, at 30 degrees, along with New Orleans.

Jacksonville, Fla., and Miami, Fla., expect only slight drops to 39 and 70, respectively.

Dr. Richardson Attends Session

Dr. William P. Richardson, of the field training department of the School of Public Health, attended a meeting recently held in Raleigh of the survey Committee on nursing and nursing education in North Carolina.

Cosmopolitans Plan to Attend N. C. Legislature

Members of the Cosmopolitan club will journey to Raleigh to see the General Assembly tomorrow night at 6:30. Students wishing to join the group are invited to attend the meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Horace Williams lounge of Graham Memorial.

The club, an organization of foreign students on campus, will attend the House and Senate sessions. President Hannes Jonsson of Iceland pointed out that it was an excellent opportunity for those who have not had a chance previously to view the legislature in action.

Letters have been received from Kerr Craige Ramsey, speaker of the House, and Lt. Governor Taylor inviting the club to attend the sessions. A special section has been reserved for them.

Benito Bernardo, resident of the Philippine Islands, and Luis Orihuela, from Peru, were recently elected to the executive committee to replace two retiring members.

Bill Friday, president of the University chapter of the American Red Cross, was instrumental in planning the trip.

Ann Carlton and Bill Brown are delegates from the Y who are assisting the club in their plans.

Coeds May Hear Talk on Careers

Career-minded coeds will get a chance to hear something about jobs open to women tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

The program is being sponsored by the Careers committee of the YWCA with Faith Adams as chairman. It will consist of talks by a board of four faculty members who will each speak five minutes on jobs open to women in his field.

The speakers will be Dr. W. D. Perry of the education department, Miss Ruth Gilpin of the sociology department; S. W. Sechrist of the journalism department, who will speak on careers in both newspaper and magazine work, and Miss Betsy Parker of the Placement service, who will speak about jobs not directly connected with majors.

The board will also discuss what experience is necessary for the various jobs mentioned, what pay can be expected, the chances for advancement, and the type of associates.

Following the brief talks there will be a question and answer period.

McCurdy Working... Gets Inside Dope On Literary Giants

By Gordon Huffines

Dr. Harold McCurdy, professor of psychology who is making a study of the personality of Shakespeare and other literary giants by computing the amount of space each author gives to his main characters, thinks he may be able to derive facts about human personality in general from his work.

Assuming that fictional literature is a projection of the author's personality, Dr. McCurdy has made a detailed study of 36 of Shakespeare's plays and the novels of Emily and Charlotte Bronte.

By counting the lines spoken by Shakespeare's characters and the amount of page space the Bronte sisters gave their characters, Dr. McCurdy has been able

Kenyon Says Entire Group Halted Dance

Cancellation Voted By Dance Group

Coach Marvin Allen did not stop the University Veterans association from using an orchestra at the March of Dimes dance last night, George Kenyon, chairman of the Dance committee, said yesterday.

"The dance committee decided as a unit about the UVA dance," he said. "Allen was not the only man who made the decision."

Kenyon said copies of campus dance procedure had been sent to all campus organizations, including the UVA. The present rules have governed University dances for the past two years, he declared.

However, no Dance committee officials commented on the fact that Graham Memorial has been using a small band for Friday night dances in the Rendezvous room for some time, without ever having to obtain permission from any officials or sanction of the Dance committee.

Kenyon said members of the Dance committee would be the first people to recognize the worthiness of the March of Dimes campaign, but once the rules had gone in effect for campus organizations they could not be broken for one group without other organizations wanting similar consideration at some future time.

Kenyon declared the purpose of the Dance committee is not to act as a police organization for campus dances, but rather to protect the students and make sure the dances are conducted in the traditional University spirit.

ANDY GRIFFITH, senior from Mount Airy, has the lead role of Sir Joseph Porter in Gilbert and Sullivan's rollicking opera, "H.M.S. Pinafore," to be presented for the last time by the Playmakers and the music department in Memorial hall at 8:30.

March of Dimes Campus Drive Ends Tomorrow

The Daily Tar Heel-sponsored campus March of Dimes campaign will close tomorrow, in order not to conflict with other drives planned for the week, co-chairman Ed Joyner, Jr., announced yesterday.

"However," Joyner pointed out, "contributions will continue to be accepted at any time."

Dormitory solicitors are requested to bring in their student donated funds tomorrow, Joyner said.

"Most organizations have cooperated, but the amounts contributed are considerably below those anticipated," he went on. "For this reason, we are asking all solicitors to make a final effort to see that all members of their organizations have taken part."

Several organizations that have not had a chance to contribute are holding events after the closing date of the drive.

Proceeds from the Clowns vs. Clodhoppers basketball game will go to the polio benefit fund.

Of the organizations who have turned in funds, Kappa Alpha fraternity is out in front with a nearly 100 per cent contribution of $65.

E. Carrington Smith, March of Dimes chairman for Orange county, announced that final reports are expected in by Tuesday. To date only preliminary returns are in. The total for the drive to Saturday was $3,000 from the entire county. The county drive will end Monday, although donations will be accepted for an indefinite time after then.

YM to Begin Member Drive This Tuesday

The University YMCA will launch its $5,000 membership drive Tuesday, Charlie Fox, Y Finance committee chairman said yesterday "to enable us to continue to promote Christian ideals and fellowship throughout the student body and in the community."

In a final briefing session before the opening of the drive, a supper will be held for all solicitors in the Baptist church tomorrow beginning at 5:45.

Guest speakers at the supper will include Chancellor R. B. House, Jess Dedmond, student body president and Warren Ashby, chairman of the YM advisory board.

"It is hoped," Fox said, "that all students will get behind this membership drive, and contribute to the budget of an organization, whose activities are planned by students and are the expression of student interests and needs."

Funds derived from this drive will be split three ways; $1,500 going to fraternities, $1,500 to town men and $2,000 to dormitories.

With these funds bolstering the 1949 budget, the Y will be enabled to carry on its program of assistance to the students, Fox explained.

'Beggars' Opera' Opening Tryouts Are Scheduled

Open tryouts will be held Monday and Tuesday from 7 to 9 o'clock in Memorial hall for the forthcoming production of John Gay's "The Beggar's Opera." The musical calls for 13 men and 13 women in a wide variety of characterizations from the kindly jailer to highwaymen, cut-throats, street-walkers, jades and gamblers.

Dr. J. P. Schinhan and M. David Samples, co-directors of the show, emphasized the fact that "The Beggar's Opera" is not an opera as the name might imply, but a musical comedy. First produced during 1728 at Lincoln's Inn fields under the management of John Rich, Gay's musical greatly inspired Irving Berlin to write in a like manner.

The production is being sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Sigma Alpha Iota, the music department, Sound and Fury, and the Playmakers. Librettos are on reserve in the library for those who wish to read the script before tryouts.

Four Persons Die In Plane Crash

HENDERSONVILLE, Jan. 29—(UP)—A private plane crashed and burst into flames near here today, burning all four of the occupants beyond recognition.

The plane, a four-place Beechcraft Bonanza, slammed to earth in heavily wooded mountains just short of Hendersonville on a flight from Charlotte.

The plane leaped into flames the moment it struck the ground. The occupants had no chance to escape.

The Trailmobile Co. at Charlotte identified the pilot as K. J. Kirkpatrick, its Charlotte branch manager. Officials said Kirkpatrick's 17-year-old son, Jack, and a salesman, A. R. Courtwright, 32, were aboard the plane.

The fourth body in the mangled craft was identified tentatively as Phil Campbell, 17, of Charlotte.

Witnesses said the plane circled several times about 11 miles northeast of Hendersonville about 9 o'clock this morning, apparently with engine trouble. However, officers said the engine was running when the plane slammed to earth near a small stream.

Robert Wallenborn, well-known American pianist and lecturer on music, will give a piano recital in Hill hall on Tuesday, at 8:30 in the evening.

A graduate of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago and the University of Chicago, Wallenborn studied in Leipzig under Max Pauer and in Berlin with George Bertram.

Since the war Wallenborn has been with the American army of occupation in Vienna where he has found time to concertize extensively. Among other accomplishments he has recently won acclaim for the remarkable feat of performing three concertos on the same program with the Vienna Symphony orchestra.

Wallenborn has become well-known as assisting artist and accompanist to many of the world's leading musicians, including Mary Garden, Rihard Bonelli, and Helen Jepson in her concert here some years ago and has appeared in concert at various points throughout the state including High Point, Charlotte, and Asheville.

Having recently returned to this country for a visit with his family and a short concert tour in the Middle West, Wallenborn plans to return in the spring for a series of concert recitals in several European cities.

Here to receive the first $1,000 Sidney Hillman award for meritorious public service, Dr. Graham said, "the struggle of industrial workers to organize and win the reluctant recognition of legislative bodies, the courts and the corporations," is another step in the "democratic struggle of human beings for autonomous organization around a great human need."

"The movement of working people against heavy odds to win a simple share in the control of their own lives is one of the great human movements of the last 100 years and is at the center of the struggle for freedom and democracy in our time."

Dr. Graham said the United Nations should "follow through in support of its stand for the immediate liberation of the imprisoned Indonesian leaders and the restoration of the Republic of Indonesia."
