Two Quonsets Are Secured For Storage

S&F, IFC to Use Huts for Property

Two student organizations, Sound and Fury and the Interfraternity council, have secured the temporary use of two quonset huts for storage space, J. S. Bennett, director of operations, said yesterday.

Jerry Weiss, president of Sound and Fury, said the organization was using hut 35 to store S and F stage scenery. He added that it had taken him approximately six months to find suitable storage space for the equipment. IFC President Charlie Loudermilk said the interfraternity organization intends to use hut 20 as a place to store records and also as a meeting place.

Bennett explained that the arrangement with the two organizations was only temporary. "The huts are primarily housing units," he said, "and will probably be needed to house new students next fall." He explained that the University was releasing the huts only because the organizations had no other storage space. He added that if the huts were not needed for the expected increased enrollment next fall the student organizations could continue to use them.

Asked about the possibility of other campus groups securing the use of huts, Bennett said, "We are not going to keep the organizations out if they need the huts."

According to University housing director James Wadsworth, only eight of the 36 huts are now being used for living quarters, housing approximately 82 students. A few others are being used for storage space by the University.

MAROONED BY THE HEAVY SNOW which covered northern Arizona, a group of Navajo Indians near Winslow wave to a low-flying airplane which spotted them. Later, the State Department of Highways turned out snow-fighting equipment to open a road and rescue them. Live-stock owned by the Indians on their reservation were saved from starvation by U. S. Air Force planes which dropped hay to them.

Recital Tonight Will Precede 'Gorboduc' Play

A recital by the Alden string quartet this evening at 7:30 will precede the Laboratory theater's presentation of "Gorboduc, the Tragedy of Terrex and Porrex," in the main lounge of Graham Memorial at 8:30.

The quartet is composed of Edgar Alden, Dorothy Alden, Frances Simmons and Ernest Peschel. Their recital is the first in a series of musical programs to be presented by Graham Memorial.

Written by Thomas Norton and Thomas Sockville, "Gorboduc" was the first English tragedy written in blank verse. It was revived by the Laboratory theater group for the first time in 187 years.

Veterans Advised To Check on Jobs

All public law 16 veterans who will finish school during this quarter or the spring quarter were requested yesterday by Wilson Honeycutt, P. L. 16 veterans adviser, to check with him in his office in Peabody hall on possible employment.

Also, Honeycutt asks all public law 16 veterans who are in Law school to give copies of their spring semester schedules to him if they have not done so.

The veterans training office in Peabody hall is open on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays only.

Eaton Lectures On Theater-Going

Walter P. Eaton, lecturer on playwriting in the department of dramatic art, spoke Friday night in the Meredith college auditorium on "Fifty Years of Theater-Going." His appearance was sponsored by the Meredith Little theater and the campus English club.

Former professor of playwriting at Yale university and drama critic for the New York Sun and American Magazine, Eaton presented a nostalgic review of events and associations with America's theaters.

Uninterrupted Days

Dedmond Hails Advantages Of YMCA Retreat Discussions

By Virginia Forward
"Perhaps the best reason for the annual Y retreat is that it gives students an uninterrupted two days in which they have a chance to discuss thoroughly campus, political, and religious questions," Jess Dedmond, president of the student body, said yesterday in a discussion of the coming YW-YMCA retreat at Montreat.

"At the 1943 retreat at Natural Bridge, Va., I was on the student government panel," he said. "During those two days we laid the groundwork for the fall orientation program. As a result of the retreat and the great amount of energy put out by Bill Miller, the University had one of the best orientation programs ever." Dedmond said he had very

'Country Boy'

RALEIGH, Feb. 5—(UP)—The House of Representatives today fixed Rep. William T. Hatch, Wake county's self-styled "country boy."

It passed a bill looping the town around him.

Hatch has frequently emphasized in speeches to the house that he lives outside the city limits of Raleigh and is just a "country boy."

The House today received, passed and sent to the Senate a bill to extend the city limits of Raleigh. The new city boundary, as outlined in the House's practical joke, would follow the west side of U. S. highway 1 to Hatch's home, loop around it, and come back down the east side of the highway.

The Senate dutifully received the bill, suspended the rules and passed it.

That, said House members, should be enough to make Hatch a city slicker. The catch in the Hatch hoax was that the bill had no official number and therefore was not effective.

Sheps to Address YWCA Committee

Dr. Cecil C. Sheps of the School of Public Health, will speak to the YWCA Public Affairs committee tomorrow at 5 o'clock in the Y cabinet room.

Dr. Sheps' subject will be America's health insurance problems. The talk will be followed by a discussion period.

Dr. Sheps, a native of Winnipeg, Canada, and a public health worker of wide experience, came here in June, 1947. An associate professor of public health administration, Dr. Sheps teaches "Health and Sickness in Modern Society" and "Medical Care." In addition he is assistant director of the Field Epidemiological Syphilis study for the Rockefeller foundation and the North Carolina State Board of Health.

After receiving his M. D. from the University of Manitoba in 1936, Dr. Sheps had hospital experience and postgraduate training in Winnipeg and at two hospitals in England.

CPU to Discuss Fair Employment Practice Bills

National fair employment practices legislation will be discussed by the Carolina Political Union at 8 o'clock tonight in the Grail room of Graham Memorial. Edlyn Freerks, sophomore member of the CPU, will introduce the topic with an appraisal of previous attempts to combat job discrimination by state and municipal laws. The introduction will include, in addition, a report on the actions of the temporary FEPC established during World War II.

Several members of the faculty have been invited to participate in the roundtable discussion. All interested students are also invited to participate.

Air Reservists Plan Discussion

Topics for discussion at tomorrow evening's meeting of the Naval Reserve Air unit at 7:30 in Bingham hall will be naval retirement, home study courses, and aviation prospects. Lt. R. E. Simpson, commanding officer, announced yesterday.

The Naval reserve unit will also undertake a membership campaign which will include residents of Durham, Chapel Hill, and surrounding areas. All naval reservists who have served a period of active duty are urged to join the unit.

Student Snatches Purse in Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 5—(UP)—Bobby Wayne Doss, 21 year old Memphis State college student who "couldn't make ends meet" with his $105 monthly GI income, said today that he snatched a woman's purse because his co-ed wife was hungry. "I didn't have any money," Doss said. "I knew I was violating a law."

Doss, a native of Stephens, Ark., was held on a larceny charge. His 18 year old wife Joanne, a native of Newark, Ohio, was released when Doss insisted that she was not an accomplice, although a passenger when Doss tried to escape in his automobile.

"My wife and I came to town Thursday night and wanted to get something to eat, but didn't have any money," Doss said.

Doss receives a government allowance under the GI Bill. But he said that he pays $30 monthly rent, and $42.50 automobile note monthly.

"My wife and I are just unable to make ends meet," he told police. "I mentioned we were going to have to do something to get money, but I don't believe I said anything to Joanne about snatching a purse."

Mrs. Doss said that she didn't know where her husband got the purse when he raced toward the automobile.

Mrs. Edna Scott was the victim. Her description of the automobile enabled police to apprehend the couple within 30 minutes after the snatch.

Mrs. Scott pursued Doss, but fell down as she grabbed for the automobile.

Niebuhr Talk Is Scheduled Next Tuesday

Top Theologist To Speak in Hill

Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, professor at Union Theological seminary in New York city and a leading theologian of the country will address students and townspeople in Hill hall next Sunday at 7:30. Dr. Arnold Nash, head of the department of religion announced yesterday.

In preparation for Dr. Niebuhr's address, the Baptist Student supper forum program will hold a discussion tonight in the Baptist church about the career and thought of the theologian.

Dr. Niebuhr, who is a contributing editor of "The Nation," will preach in Duke university's chapel next Sunday morning and will lecture in Durham and Raleigh the following day.

The theologian, who is also editor of "Christianity and Crisis," has received honorary doctor's degrees from Harvard, Yale, Oxford, and Edinburgh university in Scotland. He has lectured at the major universities in North America, Sweden, Norway, France, Switzerland, and Germany.

White's Statement Branded As 'Lie' By Dr. Holley

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 5—(UP)—Dr. J. W. Holley, former Albany State college president, today branded as a "lie" a statement by NAACP secretary Walter White that Holley is "completely without standing among Negroes and intelligent whites."

From nearby Poulton, Ga., former Michigan Governor Chase Osborn termed White's statements "slandorous."

"It (White's statement) comes with ill grace," said the aging Negro doctor today in a speech before the White Kiwanis club. Dr. Holley blasted the NAACP, the FEPC, CIO and Rosenwald foundation for their "deliberate teachings of hate."

He deplored the fact "that Walter White, who has made a fortune exploiting the miseries of his people, would smite a man who has given his life unselfishly and without complaint for their uplift and betterment."

Then Holley attacked the Rosenwald foundation and Georgia's university system for "tearing down" Negro education by not advocating teachings which Negroes could use in making livings. He protested "the rape of his race by the northern press and other organizations."

Foreign Films Planned in GM

Three films on foreign countries will be shown at this afternoon's meeting of the Cosmopolitan club at 4 o'clock in the main lounge of Graham Memorial, President Hannes Johnson of Iceland announced yesterday.

Bomb With a Brain

Chapel Hill Boasts Own Prophet

By Don Maynard

The sage Nostradamus was on the ball when he predicted the world wars, Hitler's coming into power and the jet airplane, considering he lived somewhere in the middle ages.

But historians didn't reckon on a modern Nostradamus of Chapel Hill when they wrote their books; evidently they closed the records thinking modern man could never equal old Nosty.

That is where they made a mistake. Chapel Hill can boast of 20th century prophet from Trenton, N. J., Sam Hirsch who predicted the flying atom bomb with a brain! What's more, he added a conscience.

It was last year when the Carolina Playmakers produced "The Atom Cantata," one of three experimental plays given in the

South Officials Remain Silent On Board Meet

House Refuses Any Comments

Silence continued to reign in South building yesterday concerning last week's meeting of the visiting committee of the Board of Trustees.

"All dealings with the visiting committee are confidential, and I do not discuss them with anyone," Chancellor R. B. House said.

House refused to comment on the report in Friday's Chapel Hill Weekly concerning a suggested solution by the visiting committee to the automobile parking problem.

The committee reportedly suggested to House that freshmen and sophomore students be prohibited from keeping cars in Chapel Hill. House accepted the suggestion for consideration, the article stated.

The Weekly's report said, in effect, that the trustees suggested the freshman-and-sophomore restriction be inaugurated as an experiment. Trustees reportedly said that if this solution were not satisfactory to University authorities, further measures might be taken, or else authorities might find a better approach to control of student cars.

Louis Graves, editor of the Chapel Hill Weekly, reported in the article that an official of the University told him he was convinced the parking situation would not be improved except by a decrease in the number of cars.

The report also said that consideration would be given to physically-handicapped students and those who needed cars for practical purposes.

A member of the Safety council said the suggested solution had not been brought before the committee. Steve Millikin, chairman of the council, could not be contacted. The committee, which has been studying the parking problem on campus, has not met in over two weeks.

University officials agreed that the board of trustees had the final word in solving the parking problem.

Pasquier Trio Tickets on Sale

Tickets are on sale in Hill hall for a concert by the internationally famous Pasquier Trio composed of three brothers, Jean, violin; Pierre, viola; and Etienne, violoncello, to be presented Tuesday evening at 8:30.

Admission to the concert is $1 and tickets are on sale in room 103, from 9 to 1 o'clock and from 2 o'clock to 4:30.

Several tours have enabled this trio to make successful appearances in Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Italy, Spain, the Orient, and America. Large French towns have also demonstrated enthusiasm, and the international press has praised these artists.

Rebuilding Plans For Service Plant Will Be Submitted

Plans for reconstruction of the University service plant building destroyed by fire in December, 1947, will be submitted to the University Building committee within 10 days, John S. Bennett, operations officer, said yesterday.

Bennett added that the plans for the work are ready and will soon be turned over to the committee for consideration.

Workmen have been busily clearing debris left by the $60,000 Franklin street fire which destroyed the building a year ago last Dec. 11. Reconstruction is scheduled to begin sometime next month.

Bids on the re-building of the plant are expected to be in by the early part of March.

Plans call for the front of the building to follow the Williamsburg design in keeping with the architectural policy of Chapel Hill.

The Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company will be in its same location next to the alley on the east side of the building. The University laundry will occupy the middle section of the building with the water and utilities office on the west side.

Second floor of the building will be devoted to supply rooms and workshops, Bennett indicated.

Western Union is the only previous occupant of the plant whose offices will take up a new location. The telegraph offices are presently located at No. 7 Old Fraternity row behind the Port Hole restaurant. No word of permanent location for Western Union has been mentioned recently.

If the present plans go according to schedule the new plant will be ready for occupancy sometime in late summer.

WALTER SPEARMAN

Walter Spearman To Be Installed As Faculty Head

Walter Spearman, associate professor in the journalism department, will be installed as president of the Faculty club at a meeting Tuesday at 1 o'clock in the Carolina inn.

Charles F. Milner of the University extension division will be the speaker at the luncheon meeting, describing his recent trip to Japan.

Other newly elected officers to be installed include Dr. W. P. Richardson of the School of Public Health, vice president; and Dr. Clifford P. Lyons of the English department, secretary.

New members of the board of directors are John N. Couch, J. W. Fesler, Rex Winslow and R. H. Wettach.

Carroll Addresses Lambda Chi Alpha

Dean Dudley Carroll of the Commerce school in a talk to the members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity last Wednesday night said that an important part of an education, in addition to developing a good body and mind, is to learn how to mingle with people and make friends.

Speaking informally on "Doing A Good Job," Dean Carroll advised, "Master what you find in your books now and you will master your future problems."

Choral Rehearsal Will Be Tomorrow

First rehearsal for the Bach Mass in B Minor, to be presented during commencement week by the Chapel Hill choral club, will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in Hill hall auditorium.

Kappa Psi Honors 15 New Members
