

Defense Proposals Pushed For Action

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(UP)—The House Rules committee today cleared four key defense bills for speedy House action, including a super-secret measure legalizing the Central Intelligence agency, the nation's top espionage organization.

Gillin To Speak To Hillel Group In Student Union

The culture of our average man in comparison with the average man in Guatemala will be the point of Dr. John Gillin, principle speaker at the monthly supper forum of the Hillel foundation, tomorrow afternoon at 5:30, in Roland Parker lounges 1, 2 and 3, Graham Memorial. His talk is entitled, "You and Your Insecurity."

Dr. Gillin, professor of anthropology, who worked in Guatemala several years, claims that in some respects their culture resembles ours.

One unique trait the natives have, Dr. Gillin said, is that of making a person feel at ease. His discussion Monday will deal with how people are able to feel secure with their culture, and will answer the question, "Is our culture the type in which one gets the expected rewards?"

Here in the United States, people seem to lose their personality, Dr. Gillin said. They seem to think that it is gone and they can't "click" in society as they once did. But, he goes on, in Guatemala they call it "soul-loss."

This term comes from the superstition the natives have that at times they feel as though their soul is literally lost. To cure this ill, they have a medicine doctor who performs rituals in an attempt to regain the "lost soul."

The medicine man seems to make the natives think the spirits are on their side, Dr. Gillin stated.

Labor Group O.K.'s Repeal Of Labor Bill

GOP Protests Are Overruled

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(UP)—The Senate Labor committee overrode angry Republican protests today and approved President Truman's single-package Taft-Hartley repeal bill without even changing a comma.

The strictly party line vote was 8 to 5. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, denounced the decision as "a most high-handed procedure."

The measure would repeal the GOP-sponsored labor-management law and revive the old Wagner act with these "improvements":

1. Curbs on jurisdictional strikes and "unjustifiable" secondary boycotts.
2. A 30-day "cooling-off" period in national emergency strikes.
3. Return the independent conciliation service to the Labor department.

All of the Taft-Hartley act would be discarded, including provisions for 80-day court injunctions to block emergency strikes, closed shop ban, and a requirement that union leaders must sign non-Communist affidavits to be eligible for services of the National Labor Relations board.

Members of the armed services committee have stated that the spy bill is so vital and so confidential that almost nothing can be told of its aims.

The CIA is the clearing house for all espionage by other government agencies. Its duty is to evaluate intelligence information and give its conclusions to top policy-makers, including President Truman and Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson.

Sponsors of the measure used that argument today when Rep. Francis E. Walter, D. Pa., asked that the bill be left open to amendment. He wanted a chance to remove a clause permitting up to 100 "informers" from behind the iron curtain to be admitted to this country each year.

Walter explained that a judiciary subcommittee, which he heads, is drafting an immigration measure that will cover such informers, but Rep. Dewey Short, R. Mo., ranking Republican on the Armed Services committee, protested.

"I might say this is more or less dirty business we are dealing with," he said. "It is highly secret." Then he added to the mystery surrounding the provision by asserting:

"These 100 men are wanted for a very special purpose that is very necessary." The proposed radar "screen" would warn of the approach of "enemy" planes. It would be built by the United States and Canada jointly. This country's share of the cost would be $161,000,000.

Communist Jury System Challenge Brings Lengthy Rejection by Judge

NEW YORK, March 4.—(UP)—The Communist challenge to the federal jury system here was rejected in all respects today by Judge Harold R. Medina who ordered the trial of the party's top 11 U. S. leaders to begin in earnest on Monday.

After seven weeks of legal skirmishing, Medina upheld the validity both of the grand jury which indicted the Communist "National board" and the petit jury panels from which the men and women who judge the guilt or innocence of the defendants will be picked.

In his 25-page decision, Medina found there was no "deliberate, willful and planned discrimination" as charged against Negroes, Jews, women, the poor and minority groups.

"Had any such iniquitous system as that alleged by the defendants," he wrote, "been in force for such a long period as that from 1940 to 1949, or indeed for any substantial period, its existence would necessarily have been widely known and it is hard to believe that a storm of protest would not have arisen and immediate steps then taken to uproot such intolerance and discrimination."

DOUBLE BAD LUCK SAVANNAH, Ga. (UP)—C. M. Briggs, captain of the fishing boat Stardust, came in off a trawling expedition grumbling about the poor pickings. He didn't know how bad it was. A day later he was in court on charges of illegal trawling.

Committee Backs Control of Rent Overwhelmingly

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(UP)—The House Banking committee today overwhelmingly approved a bill to continue rent controls for 15 months and end the "voluntary" 15 per cent rent hikes allowed under present law.

The measure, endorsed by a 20 to 4 majority, is stronger than the existing rent law but not as strong as the administration wanted.

Chairman Brent Spence, D. Ky., said it will reach the House floor next week. The Senate Banking committee is considering similar legislation.

Existing rent controls are due to expire March 31.

Soldiers, Firemen Rush to Aid Town

By William Sexton PEACHLAND, March 4.—(UP)—A task force of soldiers and firemen from surrounding cities raced to this town of 500 today to put out the volcano-like fire that threatens to destroy it.

A huge mound of sawdust covering three acres burns out of control, tossing flames and smoke over the village.

National guardsmen and firemen, using equipment borrowed around central North Carolina, joined to battle the blaze. They estimate the task may take a week.

The sawdust has been collecting for 20 years at the Peachland Lumber Co., one of two mills here. Smoke started pouring from it six weeks ago, and flames burst forth a week ago. The fire spread rapidly over the 100-foot tall mound and was out of control by Monday.

Flying sparks already have ignited a feed mill and cotton gin. They burned to the ground Monday because the town has no fire equipment. The nearest supply of water is a creek nearly a mile distant.

Flying sparks are a constant threat. Men idled by the fire take turns patrolling the streets and yards to put out sparks that land there.

The blazing mound stands near the center of town. By night its flames light up the streets and attract the curious from miles around. At day it pours smoke into homes and stores.
