A MOST FRIENDLY WELCOME is given two youngsters as they call on Vice-President Alben Barkley in Washington to present him with the first Easter Seals of the annual drive. ### Freshman Y Meet Set At Camp Near Winston

The Greater University Freshmen Y conference, for freshmen from Carolina, Woman's college, and N. C. State will be held at Camp Haynes, near Winston-Salem, May 6, 7, and 8.

The main phase of the conference will be the discussion of some of the problems that college students meet now and will meet in the future. Three things up for discussion, said Barrus, are the relationship of Christian faith to students' lives; the understanding of the relationship between men and women, not only in preparation to marriage but also how college men and women can understand each other better; and how college experience can be best related to life after college.

Most of the plans for the conference were drawn up by a committee of 20 freshmen from the schools of the University.

The conference, beginning with Friday supper and ending with Sunday lunch, will cost between $8 and $9 for the whole weekend.

Leaders will include the Rev. Charles Jones of the Presbyterian church here, and Charles McCoy

Two Coeds Attend Virginia Meeting

Delegates from colleges all over the South are attending. Nancy Hanks of Duke university, president of the association, said yesterday. Group meetings and panel discussions will highlight the agenda along with the election of officers. The meet will close with a formal banquet after the last group session.

Miss de Grange is speaker pro tem of the Coed senate and Miss Taylor is chairman of the point system committee of the senate.

The University of North Carolina chapter of Students for Democratic Action will be host here on April 23 and 24 at a conference on civil rights, Bob Lindsay, spokesman for the local group, announced yesterday.

Lindsay said that invitations have been sent to students in all North Carolina universities and colleges, and added that the tentative program will include discussions on educational and economic opportunities, security of personal rights, and rights of citizens.

ARC Drive Nets $965 On Campus

Cornelia S. Love, chairman of public information for the local chapter of the American Red Cross, yesterday announced that students at the University contributed $965.14 to the ARC during the annual fund campaign held in March.

Miss Love reported that the Chapel Hill quota for the drive had been $5,642.00 and that the total amount raised was $7,079.36. In addition to the amount raised by the students, campus offices contributed $1,376.64 and Victory Village, $210.75.

In a letter to the DTH, Miss Love expressed the appreciation of the local chapter for the fine contributions of the students and for the splendid work done by the collectors.

Mrs. Mabel R. Brittain, field secretary of the ARC at Chapel Hill, pointed out that 78 per cent of the total collected would remain in the county and be used for the benefit of residents and students alike. Mrs. Brittain said that the services of her office in 106 Alumni Hall were always available to students.

The Andrew Bershak Interfraternity scholarship is awarded to an entering freshman boy from North Carolina on the bases of ability, character, and financial need. Applications for this scholarship will be accepted until June 15, Lanier said. The winner of the award will be announced about a month later.

Di Members Defeat Tax In Decision

Poll-Tax Debate Ends in 20-4 Vote

A decisive condemnation of the poll-tax was the first measure debated and passed by the Dialectic senate this quarter.

In a meeting Wednesday night presided over by Don Shropshire, its recently elected speaker, the Di, campus forensics club, voted 20 to 4 in favor of the North Carolina congressional delegation's introducing an amendment to the U. S. Constitution making the payment of the poll tax as a pre-requisite for voting illegal.

There was lengthy discussion on the Senate floor about the bill, both pro and con. Among the Senators endorsing the proposal was Dickson McLean, who said that a poll tax discriminates against poor whites as well as Negroes and that such voting pre-requisites were responsible for the fact that the turn-out at Southern polls was always even more disgracefully light than in Northern elections.

Other Di members speaking for the bill included Sam Manning, Horton, and Gus Graham. Manning, author of the bill, recalled the Civil Rights promises of both the Democratic and the Republican platforms in the recent national election. Horton considered the right to vote as "the fundamental law of democracy."

Opposition to the bill was led by Harold Darden, who insisted that it was wise to disqualify anyone who was too ignorant to vote intelligently from coming to the polls in the first place. Darden referred to the Crump administration in Tennessee as an example of an inefficient machine's staying in office by regimenting the unlearned block voters of poll taxes.

The Di also met Wednesday earlier in a brief executive session at 8:15 prior to the open meeting at 9 o'clock. In executive status, the Di membership conducted, according to President Shropshire, important business for an active forthcoming quarter of more constructive forensics debate.

Grad Record Exam Slated Next Week

All students interested in taking the next scheduled Graduate Record Examination must register with W. D. Perry in 102 Peabody hall by next Wednesday.

RUNOFF OPPONENTS for at-large seats on the Student council are Roy Holston, left, and Dick Ailsbrook. Holston, a UP candidate ran second in the court race; Ailsbrook, running on the SP ticket, was fourth. Other candidates in Tuesday's runoff are Ted Young (UP) and Peggy Martin (UP).

Investigation Report Heard By Legislature

Edie Knight, chairman of the special Investigating Committee on Coed Affairs, gave her first official report to a lameduck Student legislature last night and made certain recommendations intended to clear up the coed governmental troubles.

Miss Knight told the assembly that each member of the committee has "shown real concern for the problems involved and has worked with the same goal before him, or her, that of putting the women's branch of the government on an even keel and correlating their activities with those of the rest of the campus."

The six-page speech gave a break-down as to the method used by the committee in approaching the problem of coed government. The report indicated that the committee had checked into every intricate detail of the present coed set-up and then drew conclusions as to how they could be bettered.

Major recommendations, as given in Miss Knight's report, are:

1. That a format and orientation pamphlet be drawn up for treasurers, explaining in detail the function of a budget, what an organization can spend money for, depending on its source of income.
2. That the importance of the job of treasurer be stressed.
3. That added care be taken in selecting a treasurer.
4. That the budget of the Coed senate be divided into two sections, one involving money received from the Student legislature and the other with non-governmental activities of the Senate.

Library Announces Saturday Schedule

Hot Meeting Ends With 15 To 9 Vote

Movies Made Of Politics Here at UNC

'Voice of America' Will Print Films

Sometime next fall Carolina students will see themselves and their student government projected on movie screens all over the country as one of the "Voice of America" series.

After careful study, the United States State department picked this campus as an outstanding example of the way that American students practice democracy in their schools. The film is to be shipped to foreign countries as part of the program to acquaint other countries with democracy.

Although no definite information has been received from Swain hall officials, it is understood that the picture will be made by students who have taken the motion picture course offered by the University Extension Division. The film will be printed in black and white and will run about 1000 feet.

Work was begun this week when pictures were made of elections, political rallies, and vote counting. Other phases of student government will also be included, in addition to pictures showing various sections of the state from which students come.

TO YOUR LEFT, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, you have the Daily Tar Heel box score on the spring general election—the final, complete, official figures released through the courtesy of your Board of Elections and Chairman Al Winn.

And below, you will find some more facts and figures released by the Elections board correcting the complete, unofficial results which the Daily Tar Heel printed yesterday. We will try to state them as completely and clearly as possible, so as to reassure some people we may have thrown a scare into yesterday with wrong figures. If the new results printed here in any way change the complexion of the run-off or Winners, etc. we will point that out. Here we go:

IN THE FIRST PLACE, THE THIRD AMENDMENT to the constitution on the ballot did not pass. The vote (1,763 yes and 909 no) as printed yesterday was correct, but it was not the required two-thirds for ratification. That was the amendment concerning dropping the law and med school representatives from the Men's Honor council, since those schools now have courts of their own.

In Publications board races, Tom hWarton picked up 30 votes to come in with 2,133—he still wins. Larry Fox lost three to drop to 590—he still loses. Billy Carmichael gained 20 more for 1,251—another winner still in there.

In the council races, Marvin Nathan, running for Men's council as an independent, picked up a few more votes to go from 718 to 728 and stay in the run-off. Harry Sherrill jumped from 516 to 542 in his Student council race, but still couldn't squeeze into the run-off.

Here are a new set of figures for speaker of the Coed senate. The ones with the asterisk are in the run-off: June Crockett 67, Eleanor de Grange 69, Patricia Denning* 114, Mina Lamar 12, Marie Nussbaum* 77. Gloria Jackson got 39 instead of 38 for Coed senate representative from Alderman—still elected. Bobby Stockton, unopposed for senate from Carr, was disqualified.

Here's another set of new figures for Student council (asterisks mean run-off): Kitty Altizer* 150, Gene Frances Caraher 103, Ann Faulconer 114, Charleen Greer* 152, Louise Horner 97, Peggy Law 39, Barbara Lowe* 159, Sally Osborne* 127, Ann Sawyer 63. For WAA president, Ruth Baine got 169 and Jane Gower won with 171. For WAA vice-president, Louise Horner won with 151 since Barbara Bess was disqualified.

For WAA secretary, there will be two people on the ballot next (See FRONT, page 2)

Leonard Asserts Party Will Back Some CP Members

By Bill Buchan
Dick Gordon and Ted Leonard, University party candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency of the student body in the Tuesday run-off, were endorsed by the Campus party in a fiery session in Graham Memorial yesterday afternoon.

The motion to endorse the candidates, introduced by Charlie Long, unsuccessful CP presidential candidate, was passed by a 15 to 9 vote.

The endorsement met opposition from several sides, however, before it was passed. Dortch Warriner attempted to introduce a substitute motion to allow each party member to support and vote for his individual choice.

A ruling from parliamentarian Jim Southerland called the motion out of order.

Southerland later reported that he had attended an SP meeting previous to the CP, and that the SP had indicated that they would not endorse any candidates in the run-off. "They said," he continued, "that the differences between the Campus and Student parties make it impossible for them to endorse any CP candidates."

Leonard, who attended the meeting along with Al Lowenstein, SP vice-presidential candidate and Gordon, stated that "the UP will probably endorse any CP candidates who are not running against UP in the run-off."

"I personally feel," he said, "that besides the UP candidates, the CP men are the most qualified."

A call for the question on the issue of endorsing Gordon and Leonard was defeated the first time. When the discussion went back to the floor, party members again took up Warriner's fight to allow each member to support his own choice.

Long urged the members to make their own decisions, but expressed a belief that any candidates the CP endorsed should be supported by all members. Ellis Hall stated that party members were bound by the party-by-laws to support any candidates the party nominated or endorsed.

Bob Smith introduced a substitute motion, replacing Gordon and Leonard's names with Bill Mackie, SP presidential candidate, and Lowenstein. However, when Smith took the floor to discuss his motion, he urged the party members to support no candidates. The party then voted unanimously against endorsing the SP men.

Long stressed in his talk to the members that he was supporting the UP candidates for "the good of student government and the welfare of the Campus party."

A motion stating that the CP would not endorse any other candidates in the runoff, also introduced by Long, was passed by unanimous consent of the group. After the meeting, Charlie Gibson stated that he would leave the party because of the action. He said, however, that he would not join any other party. Gibson and Page Dees were two of the supporters of Warriner's action to avoid endorsing any candidates.
