Phi to Discuss Mercy Killings At Meet Tonight

Euthanasia, commonly known as "mercy killings," will be the topic for debate by the Philanthropic assembly and its guests meeting in Phi Hall, New East at 7:30 tonight.

A resolution reported out by Ways and Means Committee chairman, Emily Baker, would favor enactment of legislation permitting courts to issue mercy killing orders for those suffering from incurable diseases.

The courts that determine the sanity of citizens would be empowered to hand down these orders.

Assembly members who have agreed to speak for the bill include Bill Dawkins, Ed Wharton, Hugh Griffin, and Graham Jones. Among those opposing the resolution will be Ben K. Erdman, Charlie Britt, and Herman Sieber.

Speaker Pro-Tempore Baker has extended a special invitation to professors in the medical school and med students to attend tonight's meeting.

Miss Baker has also called a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee for 5:00 this afternoon.

The Publicity Committee has promised telephonic reports on the results of today's elections if any tabulations are made before the meeting adjourns.

Parliamentary procedure tests have been issued to members of the assembly by Peter Gerns, par-

Jules Art Exhibit Is Person Feature

An art exhibit by Mervin Jules, valued at $4200, is currently being exhibited at Person Hall art gallery.

Mr. Jules, Associate Professor of Art at Smith College, is one of America's outstanding painters and art educators, and his 12-painting exhibit is one of the best to reach this campus, the art department here reports.

Mr. Jules will visit the campus on April 24 to close the exhibit with a lecture on "Problems in Art Education."

The artist's works have been shown in many art centers of the world including Carnegie International, the Chicago and New York World Fairs, in England, and the International Exposition of Modern Art in Paris.

Mr. Jules' paintings are represented in 19 of the country's outstanding galleries including: The Metropolitan Museum of Art, State Department Collection, and the Encyclopedia Britannica Collection.

The 27 year-old painter is a graduate of Baltimore City College and Maryland Institute and studied at Art Student League in New York.

CH Negro Nominated For Aldermen Board

Rev. J. H. Jones, Negro pastor of the Mt. Zion and New Hope Baptist churches in Chapel Hill was nominated at a mass meeting last night to run for the Board of Aldermen in the Chapel Hill city elections next month.

Jones was nominated on the first ballot at a meeting attended by some 300 persons, Dick Koral, publicity chairman of Jones' campaign said. Koral added that the candidate will go to the City Hall today to formally file for the race. His $65 filing fee was raised on the floor of the meeting, which was held in the Community Center.

Program Is Free For All Students

By Charlie Gibson
Joseph Fuchs, widely-known violinist, will be presented by the Student Entertainment Committee tonight in an 8 o'clock Memorial Hall concert that will be admission-free to all University students.

Although students' admission is taken care of in block fees paid during registration, student wives, faculty members, and townspeople will also be allowed to purchase admission tickets at 75 cents each, according to Scotty Venable, SEC chairman. These tickets will go on sale when the Memorial Hall doors open at 7 o'clock this evening.

Joseph Fuchs has been touring for several years in the United States and Canada until many critics have come to consider him one of the best among exclusively American-trained concert violinists.

Born in New York City, Fuchs is the oldest of five children of whom two others besides himself have distinguished themselves in the music world—his violinist sister, Lillian, and his brother, Harry, solo cellist of the Cleveland orchestra.

Joseph himself was a real child prodigy, singing any tune he heard in perfect pitch at the age of two. At four he fell and hurt his left arm, resulting in a nerve injury. When the doctors suggested daily exercises to strengthen the muscles in the child's fingers, father Fuchs hit on an inspired solution and brought home an eighth-size fiddle.

At five and a half Joseph made his first public appearance as a concert violinist and was a brilliant neighborhood success. At 17 he was graduated from the Institute of Musical Art and set out for a concert tour of Europe.

Since then Fuchs has been in demand for such appearances as soloist with the New York Philharmonic symphony, a series of New York recitals, and summer festival engagements at the New York stadium, Philadelphia's Robin Hood Dell, Washington's Watergate, and Chicago's Grand Park.

On tour Fuchs plays a famous Stradivarius, dated 1722. This example of the Cremona master's art is known as the "Cadiz" from the city in Spain where its one-time owner lived. It is also called the "Cannon" because of its powerful tone.

Fuchs' program here tonight will include such selections as, Debussy's "Sonata"; Beethoven's "Romance in F"; Mozart's "Concerto in D Major, K.218"; and a special arrangement by his sister, Lillian, entitled "Jota."

Fuchs' accompanist will be Harry Kondaks.

Entry Deadline For Song Fest Set for Friday

Deadline for submitting entries for the Valkyrie Sing has been extended until Friday, Co-chairman Teeny Royall and Sue Stokes announced yesterday.

The annual competitive song fest will be held April 25 in Memorial Hall, and all campus organizations are invited to enter a group of not less than eight persons to vie for two loving cups, one to be presented to a men's group and one to a women's. Last year's winners were Sigma Chi fraternity and Chi Omega sorority.

Each entering group must submit its theme and the songs to be used to either of the co-chairmen, who can be reached on third floor McIver, and must pay an entrance fee of $2 before the Friday deadline. Miss Royall said yesterday that several groups which have already submitted their themes have failed to make their $2 payment and should do so immediately.

Rehearsal time for each participating group will be arranged during the week preceding the Sing, and a lighting technician will be available. Performances are limited to nine minutes, and a maximum of $5 may be spent on costumes and props. Only hand props will be allowed.

Room Registration Deadline For Summer, Fall Is Friday

April 15 is the deadline for room reservation deposits for the men for summer and fall sessions James E. Wadsworth, director of the Housing Office, said yesterday. Students now assigned to dormitory rooms have the privilege of reserving space for the summer and fall terms. The summer school deposit is $12, and the fall quarter deposit is $6, Wadsworth said.

Room reservation deposits must be made with the University Cashier in the basement of South Building. If a deposit is not made, the present dormitory occupant reverts to his proper place on the priority schedule, Wadsworth added.

Students in the Quonset Huts, Miller Hall, and those who live in town may apply for dormitory space by paying deposits.

A room reserved for the summer only does not entitle the occupant to that space in the fall, Wadsworth said.

Six dormitories will not be available this summer. They are Whitehead, Everett, Alexander, "C", Aycock, and Lewis. Occupants of these buildings who plan to attend summer school will be assigned to other rooms. All non-graduate students living in "B" will be given other rooms for the summer, as this dormitory will be used for graduate students. Alexander and Stacy Dormitories will be used to house new freshmen in September; therefore, students in these buildings who will return in September will be assigned to other rooms.

Students in the Quonset Huts, Miller Hall, and those who live in town may apply for dormitory space by paying deposits.

Dames Will Hear Talk by Wettach

"Ashby's", a Charlotte store, will display latest styles in children's and maternity clothes.

Members of the Dames Club at Duke will be special guests at this meeting.

Dr. Marshall Will Describe Linnar Eclipse Swain Hall Talk To Be Broadcast

Dr. Roy K. Marshall, director of the Morehead Planetarium, will describe the total lunar eclipse, which is scheduled to appear tonight, at 11:30 o'clock, in a 15-minute broadcast over Radio Station WPTF in Raleigh. The description will originate in front of Swain Hall, and is being arranged by the Communication Center.

Said to be the first time such a broadcast has originated in the South, the program will begin during the total eclipse, which is scheduled to begin around 9:28 when the moon will begin to pass into the shadow of the earth. By 10:28 the last remaining bright portion of the moon will vanish.

"An eclipse of the moon occurs," Dr. Marshall explains, "because the moon, in its monthly trip around the earth, passes into the earth's shadow. At the time of a full moon, the sun and the moon stand on opposite sides of the earth, and the moon rises at sunset.

"It is only occasionally that the moon passes through the shadow, however, because the moon's path around the earth is tilted a bit, and the moon usually passes above or below the earth's shadow. When the geometrical situation is just right, though, the moon does pass through the shadow and an eclipse occurs."

Fire Guts Home Monday Morning

A Negro residence located at the corner of Church and Caldwell streets was completely gutted by fire around 11:30 yesterday morning. The house was occupied by the family of Napoleon Jones, a janitor with the University.

Firemen arrived on the scene of the fire within a few minutes of the alarm, but were unable to do more than save the walls and prevent the fire from spreading to neighboring houses. They arrived too late to save any of the household furnishings.

The six-room dwelling, owned by Winslow Williams of Carrboro, is located outside Chapel Hill limits and firemen had some difficulty getting a sufficient water supply to control the fire.

No estimates of the damage was available several hours after the mishap.

Last Coed Senate Meeting Tonight

GUSC Wants Life Seat On Board For Graham

The Greater University Student Council, meeting here Sunday afternoon, adopted a list of qualifications that it decided the new president of the University should have, and passed on a motion that a request be sent, as a resolution, that the Council favors Dr. Frank Graham be given a life-long seat on the Board of Trustees.

The resolution favoring Dr. Graham will be sent to Rep. John B. Umstead, for further reference.

As stated by the Council, the list of qualifications is to stimulate discussion and thought by the students of the three branches of the Greater University, in hope that the students would be assured of consideration when the time comes to select the new president.

The list of qualifications, drawn up as a statement to the students was as follows:

- 1. We, the Student Council of the Greater University, meeting Sunday, April 10, do submit the following qualifications to our respective student bodies, which we deem desirable in the selection of a president of the Greater University. We do this in hope that it will stimulate discussion by our student bodies and assure us consideration by the Governor and the Board of Trustees in the selection of the new president of the Greater University.
- 2. That he be an educator, a man who understands, respects, and encourages free student thought.
- 3. A man of character and great courage of conviction who stands on intellectual integrity.
- 4. An administrator aware of the problems peculiar to education who will look with equal interest upon the welfare and needs of the three schools.
- 5. A man whose knowledge and understanding will influence the affairs of our time.
- 6. A man who appreciates the problems and traditions peculiar to this region of the country.
- 7. A man whose life reflects religious zeal.

We hope that no means will be spared in searching the entire nation to secure the most outstanding man. There is no person more important to the welfare of our state than the man whose duty it is to educate the youth of this state in higher education."

Taking up old business, the Council ran quickly over the proposals for the key, to be presented to members after a years service (See GUSC page 4)

At the End of the Rope
AFTER MONTHS OF CAMPAIGNING AND POLITICKING here we are at the end of our rope—and for some of us, that goes literally. For today is run-off day, climaxing 1949 spring general elections. After today's voting (between 9 and 6 o'clock at your favorite polling place), after tonight's counting, and after tomorrow's post-mortems it will all be over until next December and some more elections.

And the End of the Race
HERE ARE YOUR CANDIDATES. For president of the student body, we have two distinguished gentlemen in the run-off. Dick Gordon, running on the University Party ticket has served a year as chairman of the Student Audit Board and also spent a year as business manager of the Yackety Yack. Bill Mackie, his Student Party opponent, has been chairman of the Student Council for the past year, has served in the Legislature and was one of the writers of the first student budget under the present constitution.

We're Boycotting the Weatherman
WE'RE NOT GOING TO MENTION THE WEATHER in today's column. The last time we reported that the weatherman said fair and mild, and election day turned out cold and rainy. So we don't even intend to repeat the weather bureau's prophecy for tomorrow. If you're interested, take a look at the upper right hand corner of the page. If you really want to know, don't believe what it says there.
