Clinic To Hear Dean Weaver At Final Meet

Business Session To Precede Talk

Dean Fred Weaver will address the final session of this week-end's NSA Publications clinic at a dinner set for 12:45 today at the Presbyterian church.

Although no subject has been announced for his speech, the dean is expected to devote most of his talk to a discussion of the advantages of close interschool relations in the publications field and elsewhere.

Previous to the dinner, a last business session will be held this morning at 9:30 in Graham Memorial. At this meeting, the delegates will review the three panels, one each on yearbook, the editorial side of newspapers, and publications business offices, which the clinic has held.

Ten schools from the states of West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina have participated in the clinic. However, report of its work including a summary of the panels held, will be sent to all schools in the tri-state area.

Gerns said last night that he would like to thank Bill Mackie, Dick Jenrette, Ed Joyner, Bill Claybrook, Bill Buchan, Tom Holden, and C. B. Mendenhall for what he termed "their splendid co-operation in planning and conducting the clinic." Gerns also commented that most of the delegates feel the meetings have been highly successful and that they learned much which they will take back to their own schools.

Just an Oversight; Everyone's Happy

HUNTERSVILLE, April 30—(UP)—This is a friendly community where even the politicians get along happily.

Jack Ranson, a candidate for mayor, forgot to file officially to get on the ballot.

Mayor Lee Mullen and another mayoral candidate, Gene Hager, agreed it would be all right to let him in the race anyway if he will pay for printing a new set of ballots.

Scene of Carnival Must be Policed

Navy field, the scene of the Friday night Blue-White Carnival, must be cleaned of the litter caused by the participating organizations by Monday, University Club President Ik Rolader announced yesterday.

Annual Derby Dance Slated By Sigma Chi

Fraternity Selects Court Participants

The Sigma Chi Fraternity chose eleven girls in their chapter meeting Wednesday night who will constitute the court for their annual Sweetheart Ball to be held May 7th in the Pine Room of Lenoir Hall. Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra will play for the affair. The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi will be chosen from these eleven girls but her name will not be disclosed until intermission at the dance.

The girls selected to be in the court are: Estelle Suddrath, Gene Francis Caraher, Pattie Ann Frizzell, Peggy Martin, Norma Jean Dew, Jane Gower, Ann Royster, Charleen Greer, Betty Smith, Mike Merker, and Patricia Denning.

In addition to the ball the fifth annual Sigma Chi Derby will be held in Kenan Stadium that Saturday afternoon. The five sororities and the C. I. C. A. will participate in various events as well as a skit and a "Miss Modern Venus" Contest. The events will include the co-ed's Decathlon, Egg and I, Adams Apple—Coed's Orange, Cheek to Cheek, and April Showers. The exact nature of these events will not be disclosed until the afternoon of the Derby.

Community Sing Is Called Off

The University Club sponsored Community Sing, scheduled for tonight, will not be held. President Ike Rolader announced yesterday. Difficulty was encountered when the Club attempted to obtain the use of the Forest Theater and Memorial Hall. Both are in use tonight, Rolader said.

Well-Dressed Ladies

Latest Fashions Modeled By Coeds At Show; Beachwear, School, Bridal Clothes Featured

By Betty Peirson

Beachwear, school clothes, "stepping-out" clothes, and even bridal finery were featured at the CICA fashion show held here Tuesday evening at the Carolina Theatre. What the well dressed college student will be wearing this spring was modeled by representatives from the five sororities, the Town Girls' Association, and CICA, while members of the Monogram Club served as escorts.

With graduation not far away, the program appropriately opened with a selection of clothes for that big event. Marty Hinkle modeled a white waffle pique, two-piece dress, which featured a batteau neckline. The simple lines of the dress were repeated in a matching hat topped with pique flowers.

Band directors for this afternoon's concert are as follows: Harry Hall, Edwin Litaker, Dwight Price, James Rodgers, Kenneth Stroup, and Gene Stryker.

The program is dedicated to the observance of Music Week. This week, May 1 through May 8, has been proclaimed as National Music Week for the purpose of broadening the contribution of music to the public welfare.

Among the compositions to be featured on this afternoon's program are, "Orlando Palandrino," by Haydn; "Fable," Gillette; Offenbach's "The Lantern Marriage"; Yoder's "Mountain Majesty"; and several other numbers including marches.

"Orlando Palandrino" is the overture to one of Haydn's many operatic works which were commissioned by the Austrian court for private and informal presentation. The work was written in 1789, and has been transcribed for the modern symphonic band just last year.

Also to be featured is "Fable," by James R. Gillette, eminent American composer. This work with its gay, dance-like beginning, lyrical main theme, and somber march for brass choir, suggests the portrayal of some mythical story.

Jacques Offenbach's "The Lantern Marriage" was the overture to his favorite opera, written in 1857. Offenbach's scores are known for a delicacy, grace, and poetic feeling perfectly adapted to the fanciful imagination, without being too pretentious as music.

The musical content of "Mountain Majesty" is intended to portray the majesty and grandeur of mountain scenery. The opening tympani roll and succeeding chords suggest the clouds rolling away to reveal the rugged outlines of a mountain range against the sky. The chorale reflects man's reverence in the face of nature's mighty works.

The public is cordially invited, and in the event of rain, the concert will be held in Hill Hall auditorium.

Campus Party Plans Meeting Tomorrow

The Campus party will meet tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in Roland Parker Lounge 2. Vestal Taylor, chairman, said yesterday. All party members are urged to be present, Taylor said.

Orange County Cancer Drive Over the Top

Is First In State To Exceed Quota

Colonel G. B. Cline, chairman of the Cancer Fund campaign in Orange county, yesterday announced that this county was the first in the state to exceed its assigned fund quota.

Workers went over the top by $150, accumulating a total of $1,860. The Orange County goal was $1,710 for this year. Returns are still incomplete, Col. Cline said, there are still some workers to report in, and it is expected that the total will go even higher.

The Colonel explained that "there was probably less contributed per person this year, but there has been better coverage of the community. More people have been contacted by our workers, and probably more people contributed this year."

Several of the Campus organizations represented at the Blue-White Carnival Friday night donated the proceeds from their concessions of the Cancer Fund, Ike Rolader, University Club president said yesterday. Exact figures were not available at that time.

Member Drive To End Monday

Monday will mark the final day of the Chi Delta Phi literary sorority membership drive, president Phyllis Ann Gentry announced yesterday.

All coeds who plan to attend the University next year are eligible for entry into the sorority, she said. Manuscripts for judging by Chi Phi members are to be submitted to the information desk of Graham Memorial. The manuscripts will be at a closed meeting Monday night.

DeMerath to Speak To Marxian Group

Prof. N. J. DeMerath of the Sociology Department will speak tomorrow night on "Karl Marx and Scientific Sociology" at a meeting of the Karl Marx Study Society. The meeting will be at 7:30 in Roland Parker Lounge 2 of Graham Memorial. The public is invited to attend.

Senior Invitations Available Tuesday

Senior graduation invitations will be distributed in the Y lobby Tuesday from 9 to 4 o'clock. Ray Jeffries, spokesman from the Grail, said yesterday. Jeffries urged all students who ordered invitations to pick them up Tuesday.

Chi Phi's, Tri-Delts Join; Take Carnival Honors

Barker's Blood and Customer Curiosity Overcome Weather, Produce Big Crowd

The University Club-sponsored Blue and White Carnival Friday night got under way on schedule despite threatening skies and frantic efforts by clubbers to find the Cat Girl and a canvas large enough to suspend over damp Navy field.

'Merrily We Love' Tickets on Sale

Advance ticket sales for Sound and Fury's "Merrily We Love" will open in the lobby of the "Y" tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock according to an announcement made yesterday by LeRoy Milks, chairman of the ticket sales committee.

All tickets will be general admission for both nights. However any fraternities, sororities or other organizations or groups who wish to purchase blocks of tickets for ten or more may have a reserved section set aside for the mby contacting Milks early this week. Sale price on the tickets is $7.75 per person.

"Merrily We Love" was written by Forrest Covington with music by Frank Matthews. The show will run for two nights beginning next Thursday evening. Curtain time has been set at 8:15.

The joint concession of Chi Phi and Tri-Delt took first honors for the most original booth, one called "Hit the Squirrel." June Crockett, Mary Ainsley McNease and Caroline Harrill alternated lying in a bed rigged to a squirrel target-trigger which dumped the coeds each time it was hit by a pitched baseball.

Place and show were won by the PiKAs and Betas respectively with their side show and "Slam Sam" booths.

Announcement of the award to the joint concession, a loving cup, was made before the crowds present at the inter-squad football game yesterday at Kenan Stadium.

Outstanding among the groups were the Chi Omega coeds who collected $51.15 from a bingo concession. Except for the entry fee, the Chi O booth cost the sorority not a penny, said Chi O Ids Constable. Prizes for the bingo players were donated by the Merchants' Association of Chapel Hill.

Among other organizations represented were KA's with a traditionally Southern open air patio and Dixieland jazz band, and ADPi had a shooting gallery at which funsters attempted to shoot out candles with water-guns.

Phi Delt's contribution was a penny-pitching display, Sigma Nu had a baseball throwing booth, Alderman dormitory a slingshot shooting concession and Pi Lambda Chi another penny-pitching attraction.

Blues Win, 21-6 Over Frosh Team In Annual Contest

First in Series Of Job Forums Is Tomorrow

Problems concerned with the first interview will be presented and discussed by Miss Twig Branch, personnel director in the Dean's office of Women's office and Richard Calhoun of the Commerce School in Roland Parker Lounge No. 3 Graham Memorial tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

This is the first in a series of Job Forums presented by the Careers Committee of the YWCA to orient girls, who will be working after graduation or during the summer months, into some of the problems and situations they will encounter. Each forum will feature a brief talk by outstanding people in the fields presented, followed by a question period.

Miss Branch, who worked in B. Altman's Store in New York before coming to the University, will speak on personal experience concerned with the interview for a job. She will present the applicants point of view, and Calhoun, former manager of the Kendall Mills, will present the employer's point of view.

Job Forums to follow, presented each Monday night during May, will feature discussions on "Dressing on a Salary" by Mrs. Randolph of the Little Shoppe here, "The Use of Make-Up" by Mrs. Sutton of Sutton's Drug Store, and "The Inner Personality" by Dr. Arnold Nash, head of the University's department of religion.

Critic to Speak Tonight in Hill

In two lectures to be given this evening at 8 o'clock and Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Choral room, Hill Hall, Gilbert Chase, critic and musicologist, will speak on "Latin-American Music" and "Latest Trends in Recording and Television" respectively.

Mr. Chase was born in Havana, Cuba, and has studied extensively in Europe, and in this country. For six years Chase was music critic for the London "Daily Mail," Continental Edition, in Paris. He was also the Paris correspondent for Musical American and Musical Times.

For two years he was associate editor of the International Encyclopedia of Music and Musicians in New York. He has been a contributor to Musical Quarterly, Music and Letters and the author of "The Music of Spain," published in 1940. Chase is now Educational Director of the RCA Victor Company.

The public is cordially invited to both lectures.

Naval Air Unit Sets Open House

An open house for the general public will be held by the University Naval Reserve Air Unit at their regular meeting Monday night at 7:30 in the main auditorium of the Zoology Building. Lt. (jg) E. C. Jones will preside at the meeting. A discussion of the purpose and benefits of the Reserve organization will be briefly presented for the benefit of the visitors and prospective recruits. Following will be a movie entitled "The Fighting Lady."

Lt. Simpson requested all members to report to the meeting in uniform.

Justice Standout As Veterans Romp

By Buddy Vaden
It was Blue-White day yesterday according to the Monogram Club, sponsors of the annual intrasquad football game, but it was the same old Charlie Justice Saturday according to the estimated 12,000 fans on hand for the fourth annual running of the colorful event.

Just for the records, the Justice-fied Blues won the ball game almost as scheduled, 21-6. The pregame dopesters had them set as three touchdown favorites, but the best they could do under soggy operating conditions was two touchdowns, an extra point, and a safety.

It looked like a tight ball game going into the second quarter. During the first period monsoon neither team threatened seriously to score.

The freshman White squad started things off by kicking off to Charlie Choo Choo—a fatal way to start any ball game. Justice and Fullback Billy Hayes (Of Washington and Lee fame) alternated at carrying the ball up the field until Justice fumbled on the White 22. The elusive ball turned up in the hands of a White team member and they carried on from there.

Then the rains came, the Whites kicked out to the Blues and the Blues, without any originality at all, turned right around and kicked right back to the Whites, who took over on the Blue 40. Bob Gantt carried for 10 and Skeet Hesmer plunged for 11. Fullback Dick Wiess toted for nine, making it White's ball, first and 10 on the Blue 12.

Then, amidst rain that utterly stymied the Geography department, a White back dropped the ball. A White man pounced on it. It slipped out from under him. A Blue jumped on it. It slipped again. Finally Wingback Johnny Clements got his mitts on it for good. It was Blue's ball first and ten on their own 30.

The Blues worked it back to the White 25 where another fumble caused the ball to change hands as the quarter ended.

Justice set to work in the opening minutes of the second period and after an exchange of punts that put the Blues in possession on the White two as a result of a blocked kick, Justice trotted over the right side of the line for the first tally.

But the Whites weren't to be denied. They came right back with an attack of their own that culminated in a one-yard plunge by George Verchiek that ended in the Blue end zone. During the course of the attack, Skeet Hesmer got off on a 60-yard jaunt through right tackle that placed the ball on the Blue 5.

The half ended with an even ball game, six-all.
