

Clothes Drive
Is Scheduled
Here SundayBSA to Collect
Relief Bundles

"A bundle on every doorstep" might be the slogan of the Used Clothing Campaign this year. Chapel Hill townspeople will have an opportunity to contribute bundles of old clothing to World Relief Sunday afternoon, May 15.

The Boy Scouts, under the leadership of S. Y. Tyree and William Hammett, will collect the clothing in trucks donated by some of the local merchants.

A. C. Howell, chairman of the drive this year, says, "Hundreds of thousands of displaced persons in Europe, victims of war and floods in the Far East and in the islands of the Pacific still need the used clothing of prosperous America. You, through your church, are asked to give what you can in the annual Used Clothing Campaign of the Chapel Hill churches."

"Sunday afternoon, May 15, the Boy Scouts will call at your home to collect any articles of clothing you can give in this worthy cause. Baby's clothing, men's work clothes, suits, overcoats and shoes are most needed. Any articles will be accepted."

Material collected here will be sent to the Warehouse of the Church World Service in New Windsor, Maryland, for shipment abroad.

Bill Freeman has rounded up trucks from the Electric Construction Company, Bennett and Blockside, Farmer's Dairy, and Ogburn Furniture which will begin the rounds of the town at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

The students' drive will begin May 15 and last a week.

School Officials
Get Federal Fine
In Racial Dispute

RICHMOND, Va., May 5—(UP)—Four Gloucester county school officials were fined $250 each yesterday afternoon for contempt of a federal court order to end racial discrimination in the county school system.

The fines were the result of a suit against the officials sponsored by the national association for the advancement of colored people.

"This case," said Martin A. Martin, local attorney and spokesman for the NAACP, "may help avoid the necessity of our having to file similar suits against other counties."

Martin expressed satisfaction with the fines imposed by Judge Sterling Hutcheson. Martin has asked that a "substantial" fine be levied against the school board.

Judge Hutcheson said his court order against discrimination would continue in effect. He issued the injunction in April 1948.

The suit brought by the NAACP charged that Negro pupils in Gloucester county were not given educational opportunities equal to those given white children. Hutcheson ordered the county to equalize education and the school officials were cited for contempt in January.

Fines were levied yesterday against Stanley T. Gray, school board chairman; J. Walter Kenney, division school superintendent; and board members Wallace Fletcher and Otis Hogge.

Defense attorneys said the school officials were doing everything in their power to equalize education but were hampered by lack of funds.

DURING a recess of her spy trial in Washington, Judith Coplon, former Justice Department employee, sits outside the District court and studies a law book. The 27-year old New York woman is accused of stealing national security secrets from the Department of Justice.

Bishop to Speak
Here on Sunday
For Centennial

The Rt. Rev. Edwin A. Penick, D. D., Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, will deliver the principal address at the Chapel of the Cross here Sunday morning at 11 o'clock when the church celebrates the centennial of its consecration.

Rev. David Yates, rector of the parish, will assist Bishop Penick in the service and will read one lesson. Dr. Archibald Henderson, who serves as church historian, plans to give a brief account of its early years and Dean William Wells, senior warden, will report on present conditions and plans for the future of the parish. A special offering to be taken at the service will be used to repair and improve parts of the old church building.

In honor of the centennial, Mrs. William F. Chester of New York City recently gave the church two silver pitchers in memory of her father Rev. John Joseph Roberts (1819-1908), first supply rector of the Church of the Atonement.

Tom Wolfe Group
To Solicit Funds

ASHEVILLE, May 5—(UP)—The State gave the green light today to a fund-raising drive by the Thomas Wolfe Memorial Association in its campaign to commemorate North Carolina's most famous novelist.

The Association got a license from the State Board of Public Welfare to conduct public solicitation. The group plans to purchase the famous home of Wolfe's mother here and turn it into a museum.

Ban on 'Slow Boat'
Lifted in England

LONDON, May 5—(UP)—A ban imposed by the British Broadcasting Company on the song "Slow Boat to China" after British warships were shelled by Chinese Communists on the Yangtze River was lifted tonight after an American musician called it "absurd."

Larry Adler, an American harmonica artist who has had big successes on British tours, said he could not understand the ban, and he insisted on playing it on a recorded radio show for release Saturday.

BBC officials reluctantly lifted the restriction after Adler's protest was supported by listeners and critics.

Entries Deadline
Extended By TMAStunt Night Set for May 16, 17; Groups
Have Until Monday to Submit Programs

The deadline on entries for the Town Men's Association stunt night has been extended to 6 p.m. Monday, May 9, Nelson Taylor, TMA president, said yesterday.

Taylor asks that new entries call 7821 or send a check for the $2.50 entrance fee to the Town Men's Association, in care of Graham Memorial.

The admission free stunt night will be staged Monday, May 16 in Memorial Hall. A second performance will be held, if necessary, Tuesday May 17. Special cups will be awarded to the winning stunts.

All sororities, fraternities, dormitories, and any non-theatrical campus organization are eligible to enter a stunt. All stunts must not be over 10 minutes long and may be musical, comedy, tragedy, or develop any theme. No organization may spend more than five dollars on its stunt.

The TMA proposes to make the stunt night an annual affair similar to the stunt nights given by campus organizations at other colleges.

Stryker to Lead
Rendezvous Play;
To Feature Trio

"Gene" Stryker, Bass man in the Town Talk Trio, will be the writer, announcer, and producer for tonight's Rendezvous radio show.

"Gene," a vet student, and an instructor in the Music Department, has had experience doing radio and floor shows.

Ruth Justice will sing and the Town Talk Trio will feature special numbers.

Tommy Thomas and Bailey Hobgood, students in the Radio Department, will entertain after the program goes off the air.

Other members of the Town Talk Trio are Jack Sturgill, pianist, and Ed Gaston, clarinetist.

Usual announcer Mark Barker, and director Lib Stoney will be away due to being involved in the Sound and Fury production.

The radio program will begin at 9:30.

Cigarette Award
Won by Williams

The winner of the Guess-the-Number - of - Chesterfields - in the Jar Contest at the University Restaurant is Thomas J. Williams, junior from Spencer. There were 217 Chesterfields in the jar in the University window.

The contest ran one week and Williams' 219 was the closest guess turned in. He may pick up his prize, two cartons of Chesterfields, by calling Alice Denham, campus Chesterfield representative, at 8066.

New S&F Show
To Play Again
In Memorial'Merrily We Love'
Continues Tonight

"Merrily We Love," the Sound and Fury musical production review opened last night to an appreciative audience in Memorial hall.

Forrest Covington, author of the all-student show has written "Merrily We Love" to form a framework for the 25 musical numbers written especially for the production by Composer-arranger Frank Matthews.

The two have combined their talents to give the audience a show with a light plot, just sufficient to give the story a sequence, and a variety of musical numbers ranging from comic numbers and specialty songs to serious romantic ballads. Matthews has taken one of Robert Burns' best liked poems, "John Anderson My Jo," and set it to music for the show.

A second performance is scheduled for tonight at 8:15.

The cast of the new show is composed of many of the most familiar faces in campus show business. Among these are Betty Lokey from Raleigh, cast as Nancy, the female lead; Mark Barker, from Durham, president of Sound and Fury and director of the show, cast as Quincy, the male lead; William Saunders from Roanoke Rapids, cast as the other male lead.

Miss Lokey has been seen in "Inherit the Wind" and "Egyptian" and has appeared in "Beggars Opera," "Egyptian," "Apple Tree Farm," and "Mardi Gras."

Others who have appeared in other campus productions are: Lee Noll, Berea, Ky., cast in "Beggars Opera," Forrest Covington, Washington, who appeared in "Sweep It Clean," and Estelle Ritchie, Boston, who played the comic lead in "Apple Tree Farm."

McAllister Picked
On State Board

RALEIGH, May 5—(UP)—Gov. Kerr Scott late yesterday commissioned Harmon Carlyle McAllister of Chapel Hill as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy for a term ending April 28, 1954. McAllister was reelected by the board to succeed himself.

Scott also commissioned Robert Neal Watson of Jonesboro, who was elected by the Board to fill the term of J. G. Ballew of Lenoir, who resigned. The term expires April 28, 1950.

ESTELLE RITCHIE LOOKS ON, above, as Bill Saunders pleads with Betty Lokey in "Merrily We Love." Sound and Fury show which opened in Memorial Hall last night. The show will play again tonight. Curtain time is 8:15.

Talk Cancelled

The lecture by Professor Linton in Alumni building last night was called off yesterday after the speaker suffered a heart attack. The Institute of Research in Social Science, which was to sponsor Linton, received word of his illness yesterday morning.

Professor Linton was to discuss "Recent Trends in the Study of Man." He is Professor of anthropology at Yale University, and is the leading anthropologist in the U.S.

Solons Squabble
On Appointment
Of Gran ChildressPresidential Appointment of Childress
To Head NSA Committee Is Postponed

A dull session of the Student Legislature woke up last night to find itself in the middle of a verbal brawl over President Bill Mackie's appointment of Gran Childress as chairman of the campus National Students Association Committee.

Eight Members
Picked by Di
WednesdayInitiation Slated
For Next Meeting

One coed and eight men were elected to membership in the Dialectic Senate during its executive session Wednesday night, Don Shropshire, Di president, announced yesterday.

The new members are Betty Pleasants, Bob Clamplitt, Archie Myatt, Edgar Williams, Joe Clark, Ed Hatch, Jack Roland, Bill Roth, and J. C. Rush.

The new members will be initiated in a public ceremony next Wednesday night. The Di voted down its regular discussion bill which would have put the Di on record as favoring a federal Fair Employment Practices Commission. There was considerable heated discussion with strong support for both sides, but the bill was defeated by a large majority.

Supporting the bill were John Sanders, Cliff Horton, Toby Selby, Bill Harding, and Murry Goldenthal. Opposing FEPC were Joe Clark, J. C. Rush, Artie Murphy, Tom Mayfield, Edgar Williams, Jim Southerland, Jim McLean, and Bill Roth.

A substitute bill introduced by Sam Manning was also defeated. The substitute favored a FEPC with powers to investigate but not regulate employment.

A resolution which favored the granting of United Nations membership and economic aid to the state of Israel was discussed briefly but heatedly. It was referred back to the Ways and Means Committee with the recommendation that it be made the topic for the next discussion meeting.

Morehead Ducats
Will Go on Sale

Advanced ticket sales for Morehead Planetarium shows will go on sale Monday, it was announced yesterday by Director Roy K. Marshall.

The heavy demand for tickets to the initial shows at the building is expected to make it difficult to obtain seats without buying tickets now. Admission charges are 38 cents for adults and 18 cents for children under 12.

Requests for tickets should be addressed to ticket sales at the planetarium and must be accompanied by remittance to cover cost of the tickets requested.

Pi Lambda Plans
Sunday Program

A special Mother's Day program will be featured at the Pi Lambda Phi house this Sunday. Mothers of all brothers and pledges have been invited to attend an open house. Many have indicated that they will attend. A tour of the campus is one of several activities planned.

Parents will be presented with flowers, and will be feted at a special dinner Sunday evening. Parents are expected from many sections of the State and several will arrive from more distant parts. The arrangements are under the direction of a committee headed by Alan Susman, and including Bill Kingoff, Lennis Guyes, Irv Fox, Stan Fox, Paul Roth and Barry Farber.

Childress, chairman of the Student Party, was called "a man who has taken charge of certain things only to kill them" by Jim Southerland, a former member of the Legislature (CP) who obtained the privileges of the floor to attack the Mackie appointee. The student solons finally voted to postpone consideration of the appointment until next week's session, after more than one-half hour of squabbling over several related motions.

Southerland took the floor to state that he had been working on the NSA purchase card system for some time, and he did not want to see it get into the hands of anyone who did not have its best interests at heart.

"I have seen Mr. Childress put personal gain over the good of the student body," Southerland concluded.

Speaker Ted Leonard, ruling last night's session with an iron hand, then recognized several legislators, including Bill Prince, Sol Kimerling, Graham Jones, all SP, and Marshall Roberts (UP), who spoke in defense of Childress and urged the immediate approval of the appointment.

Dave Sharpe (UP) moved to postpone consideration of the appointment until the next legislative session, the motion which was later passed to end the appointment fight.

Emily Sewell (SP) made an out-of-order motion for a closed session, which she repeated even after Sharpe's motion was passed. She charged that legislator Hal Darden (CP), an ardent protagonist of the move to postpone consideration, was receiving "cues" (See LEGISLATURE, page 4)

TMA Elects Hebb
To Presidency;
Others Elected

Ralph K. Hebb, junior from Aurburndale, Fla., yesterday was elected to the position of President of the Town Men's Association by acclamation, succeeding incumbent Nelson Taylor. Elections were held at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Association.

Ben James, of Jacksonville, Fla., won out in the vice presidential race over Tom Carter, and Skip Hoyle of Chapel Hill defeated Alex Sessions for the post of treasurer. Harry Pendergraft, also of Chapel Hill, was elected secretary. Pendergraft was opposed by incumbent Dan McLaughlin.

Nominations subject to review by the TMA Executive Committee at its next session on Tuesday are: Ben James, University Club representative; Dave Sharpe, Graham Memorial Board of Directors and Bob Padrick as TMA representative to the Dance Committee.

Members-at-large to the TMA Executive Committee, elected by acclamation: Alex Sessions, Bob Padrick and Nelson Taylor.

All newly elected officers will be inaugurated at the next regular meeting of the Association, Thursday, May 19.

Plans were completed at the meeting for the combined TMA-Town Girl's Association picnic to be held this afternoon. Both new and old members who desire transportation to Hogan's Lake should assemble outside Graham Memorial at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Rides will be available at that time, publicity director Don Maynard said yesterday.

There will be a softball game preceding the picnic.
