Fred Kovaleski Against Seixas In Singles Finals

By Larry Fox
As today's Southern Conference tennis finals go, so may go Monday's Carolina-William and Mary match for the number one singles players and doubles combinations of the two schools are slated to meet this afternoon for the loop titles starting at 2 o'clock on the varsity courts.

Vic Seixas and Fred Kovaleski both triumphed in their semifinal matches yesterday afternoon and will fight it out today in a rematch of last year's finals which saw Tar Heel Captain Seixas emerge with the singles crown.

The doubles encounter will see Seixas team up with Clark Taylor against Kovaleski and Howe Atwater. Kovaleski won the doubles crown last year with Bernie "Tut" Bartzan as his partner, defeating Seixas and Taylor in the finals, but this time the William and Mary duo is seeded in the number two slot.

Seidings Accurate
The seedings have held true thus far in the tournament with first-seeded Seixas dropping number four-man Atwater in the semifinals while Kovaleski, ranked second, downed Bo Roddey, third-seeded senior from Davidson College.

The Kovaleski-Roddey encounter was billed as the top match of the afternoon and for the first set it looked as if the lanky Indian netter was going to have his hands full. The two took turns winning their services and then Roddey went ahead by breaking Kovaleski's service in the sixth game. That made it 4-2 in the first set, but Kovaleski, who had been making a great number of errors, settled down and won seven games in succession before Roddey could get back with a win in the second canto that made the score 3-1.

It was all Kovaleski in the remaining games and he took the match, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1. Roddey almost pulled an upset with his steady back court game, but Kovaleski's service, he tallied approximately seven aces, and strong net game were the difference.

Seixas Scores
Seixas made his shots count against Atwater, taking a straight set 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 decision. The first and third matches were almost duplicates, reaching 2-2 and 3-3 deadlocks, respectively, before Seixas turned loose a string of wins to gain the set.

The number-one doubles match of the afternoon featured Seixas and Taylor against Davidson's Roddey and Ted Keesler. Both duos had turned in quarter-final easy wins just before meeting in the semis. The Carolina pair counted one of the quickest wins of the tournament, a 24-minute straight-set swamping of William and Mary's "C" boys, Huck Cole and Lyman Chennault by twin 6-1 scores.

The Davidson entry dropped Carolina's Charley Rice and Duke Wilder 6-3, 6-1 in their quarter-final match, which was decided on a two-out-of-three basis. The semis are three of five.

No Upset Here
Seixas and Taylor took the first four games in the opening canto to start things rolling and dispell any ideas which the Davidson crew's strong showing in the quarter-finals might have started concerning an upset.

The Wildcats broke through Seixas' service to take the fifth (See LOOP TENNIS, page 4)

Blue Devils Play Here Today In Big Four Fight With Locals

Carolina's hard-hitting baseballers will be out to maintain their perfect record over their arch-rivals, the Blue Devils of Duke University, when the two nines meet this afternoon in Emerson Stadium at 2:30 for their fourth contest of the season.

The Tar Heels have met and defeated the Durham diamonds three times previously this spring and a victory in today's encounter will give the Tar Heels a firm grip on second place in the Big Four standings and will put them within one game of a clean sweep of the series with Duke.

Coaches Bunn Hearn and Walter Rabb have reliable Ray Blair as the Tar Heel's starting moundsman. The big righthander has hurled all three of the Carolina victories over the Devils this season, and local fans are hoping for another winning performance today.

In earlier contests with the Blue Devils, the Tar Heels took a one-sided affair on Easter Monday, and edged the Durham nine, 3-1 and 4-3, in the next two tilts.

The Tar Heels will field a "murderer's row" of sluggers in today's tilt. Led by Stan Goodman, who currently is pacing the Big Four batters, and Sid Varney, who hit a homer in Carolina's 8-4 win over State Thursday, the local lineup presents an impressive array of heavy timbermen.

The Tar Heel diamonds have a .500 average in Big Four play, with their win-loss record tied at four-all. Three of the Carolina victories have been at the expense of Duke, while the other was over State in Thursday's game.

The home team has dropped two decisions each to Wake Forest's dream team and State's Wolfpack.

Today's starting Carolina lineup will probably see an infield composed of Blair on the mound, Varney behind the plate, Will Hobbs on the initial sack, Goodman at second, Joe Brookshire at third, and Rip Ryan at the shortstop position.

Roving the outer gardens for the Tar Heels will be Don Ward in left field, Jim Ballou in center, and Ed Lamb in right field. All three are dangerous hitters.

Chapel Hill High Tops Roxboro, 3-0

The Chapel Hill High Wildcats kept alive their winning winning streak here yesterday afternoon by downing Roxboro 3-0 in the first half of an afternoon-night doubleheader.

ROXBORO, May 13—Chapel Hill High School's power laden baseball team cinched the North Central Conference championship here tonight with a 9-1 win over the Roxboro High nine in the nightcap of an afternoon-night doubleheader.

The Wildcats scored their first two runs in the opening inning on a walk and three singles. They added another in the sixth on a bunt by Ivalet Hill. Tommy Gravitt did the chores on the mound allowing only three hits to take credit for the team's tenth win.

The score by innings:
Roxboro ..... 000 000 0-0 3 2
Chapel Hill ... 200 001 x-3 5 2
Barrett and Buchanan; Gravitt and Maultsby.

Frosh at Duke

Coach Henry House's Tar Baby nine will journey to Duke this afternoon for a tilt with the Blue Imps of that Durham institution.

The locals defeated the Duke baseballers, 14-6, in their first engagement and tied the Dooksters, 6-6, in their next meeting, a ten inning affair.

Thursday, in their last outing the Carolina squad was handed a one-sided, 11-3 pasting by the Wolfpack yearlings of State. The locals have an overall record of six wins, two losses, and one tie.

Ward Will Lead Golfers in Loop Tourney at W-S

By Billy Carmichael III
WINSTON-SALEM, May 13—A banner crop of collegiate golfers will tee off here tomorrow morning at the Old Town Country Club in the one-day 36-hole Southern Conference golf championships.

At least 13 of the 16 loop teams will send entries to the big affair which promises to be the closest tournament in the dozen-odd years that the event has been held. North Carolina, Duke, Wake Forest, and State rule as a quartet of top-up favorites with the Blue Devils attempting to regain the team laurels they won last year at Pinehurst.

Wake Forest placed second at that time with State third and the Tar Heels fourth, but this year the Demon Deacons seem to be the slight favorite if there is one. They have victories over Duke and State and tied Carolina over this same Old Town course two weeks ago.

Arnold Palmer of Wake Forest is the defending medalist, but he will receive stiff competition this year from Tar Heel Harvie Ward and Art Wall of Duke. Palmer has beaten Wall in dual meet play this season while having halved with Ward. Wall beat Ward early this week in Durham.

A dark horse possibility for the medal honors is Fred Smith of South Carolina. Smith went to the finals of the recent Southern Intercollegiate at Athens, Ga., and split his season's match with Ward.

The North Carolina entry will be composed of Ward, Bob Cox, Roy McKenzie, Jack Brantley, Stub Sapp, and Frank Brooks. Sapp and McKenzie are from Winston-Salem and are playing a relative home course.

Each team is allowed six entrants in the team competition with the best four scores making up the team total.

The Old Town course, which boasts one of the toughest back nines in golf is in top shape for the meet.

Other schools expected to be represented besides the forementioned include Washington and Lee, Davidson, VPI, VMI, Maryland, Clemson, and William and Mary.

Soccer Clinic

A practice Soccer match will top off the days activities in the soccer clinic for the coaches and officials of this area that is to be held today in Chapel Hill under the supervision of Carolina's soccer coach, Marvin Allen.

The clinic is sponsored by John Blye of Duke, Arthur Paschal of High Point College, Eric De Grote of N. C. State, Robert Reese of Richmond Professional Institute, E. D. Fox of Roanoke College, Larry Ludwig of the University of Virginia, and Norm Lord of Washington and Lee.

The program for the day will include discussions on the fundamentals of soccer and soccer officiating, a luncheon for the officials and coaches and the soccer match between State and Carolina with the officials working under the supervision of Mr. Walder.

Carolina Thinclads Stay Unbeaten With 88-38 Victory Over Virginia

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., May 13—The University of North Carolina's visiting track team lived up to expectations here today as they smashed to an 88-38 win over the University of Virginia thin-clads on a very slow track before a crowd of about 1,000.

For the Tar Heels it was dual meet victory number four in four attempts. The visitors were in complete control from the first start and increased their margin with each successive event.

Running without the services of several of their top weight men, the Carolinians turned in a very creditable showing and swept 12 first places and tied for another. Only in the discus, where their three top men were missing, did the Tar Heels fail to garner at least a tie for top honors.

Double Winners

Carolina had two double winners for the afternoon. Big Jack Moody resumed his winning ways by copping the high jump with a jump of 6 ft. 2 in. and a win in the broad jump with a leap of 22 ft. 1 1/3 in. Bill Crimmins, the sophomore, sprinter, won the 100 in 10.6 and the 220 in 23.2.

Virginia's lone winning effort was accomplished by Harry Mott in the discus with a toss of 132 ft. 10 1/4 in.

A big surprise in the Carolina camp came as a result of footballer George Verchick's win in the shot put. Verchick's toss was 44 ft. 8 3/4 in. on his first attempt at

Gobblers Next

BLACKSBURG, Va., May 13—The University of North Carolina track team arrived here today fresh from their 88-38 victory over the University of Virginia Cavaliers.

The Tar Heels take on the Virginia Tech Gobblers here tomorrow on the local track. They are expected to make a clean sweep on their Virginia trip and put down the Gobblers without too much trouble.

Carolina swept firsts in all three of the distance events. Frank Hooper copped the half, Sam Magill ran off with the mile and John Ross won the two-mile. In addition to the slow condition of the track, many of the Carolina runners were not accustomed to the five-lap-to-the-mile track. Both of these conditions were factors in the slow times of many of these events.

Laddie Terrell, Carolina quarter-miler, turned in one of the afternoon's better performances, running the lap and a quarter 4:40 in 50.5.

In the hurdles, Carolina's favored Dick Taylor won the highs in 14.9 and Bill Albans ran away with the lows in 24.6. Jack Moody took a second for the Tar Heels in the highs while Virginia's Don Mohler was second in the lows and third in the highs.

Carolina's top pole vaulter Bob House soared 12 ft. into the clouds to gain a first place tie in that event with Virginia's Roller. Rusty Russell of Carolina took the third. Bob Kirk, Carolina's Penn Relays champ, won the javelin throw with a toss of 132 ft. 9 in.

In the two dashes Carolina scored clean sweeps, taking all three places in each event.

Athletic director Bob Fetzer of Carolina and Tar Heel coach Dale Ransom both voiced complete satisfaction over the results of the meet.

100-yard dash—1. Crimmins (UNC), Time: 16.5.
2. Marshall (UNC), 3. Rouse (UNC).
220-yard dash—1. Crimmins (UNC), Time: 23.2.
2. Marshall (UNC), 3. White (UNC).

Javelin throw—1. Kirk (UNC), 2. Wright (VI), 3. Harris (UNC), Distance: 132 ft. 9 in.

Stickmen to Meet Generals Today On Navy Field

The Tar Heel lacrosse squad will have their own plan of attack when the Washington and Lee Generals invade Navy Field today at 2:30 to engage the Carolina team in the old Indian game. During the past week, Coach Bill Darden has worked out a new attack system which he hopes will net his team quite a few goals.

John Bolgiano and Sommers will probably be the scoring threats in this new plan of attack, while Jess "Choo-Choo" Greenbaum and Fred Poisson will also be scoring possibilities.

The scoring this year has been almost evenly divided between seven players. Greenbaum is high scorer with five, while Taylor is close behind with four. The remaining ten goals are distributed equally between Dietzel, Bolgiano, Manning, Poisson, and Murchison.

The Washington and Lee team will fashion an attack of their own with Tommy Tongue leading the offensive line. Tongue is a product of St. Paul's prep school in Baltimore, Maryland. Last year he was a member of the Southern All-Star team which defeated the North. Coach Baxter will bring a squad of twenty experienced players to Chapel Hill including such formidable stars as Guthrie, Jones, Ryer, Pacy, and Gathie.

The Carolina defensemen consisting of Lynch, Timberlake, Wilkus, Debnam, Nearman, and Winikerson will be faced with the problem of stopping the Generals
