Wolfe Collection In Library Display

Originals of All Wolfe's Published Works
Contained in 20th Anniversary Exhibit

By Leonard Dudley

"The Thomas Wolfe Collection," comprising at least one original copy of all the author's published works, is now on display in the east corridor of the library.

In the tall case beside the reserve reading room there is a recent edition to the collection, a leather-bound scrap book containing original letters from Wolfe to Professor Koch, given to the library by Mrs. Koch and her son, Robert Koch, of Princeton. The Koch scrap book contains, in addition to the letters, the original typescript to Wolfe's first play, "The Return of Buck Gavin," in a notebook, marked "English 31, Dramatic Composition"; Wolfe's signed contract for the publication of "Buck Gavin"; the Wolfe memorial issue of the Carolina Playbook (1943); the manuscript in long hand of Wolfe's article about Professor Koch, "The Man who lives with his Idea," with Koch's pencilled corrections; three articles about Wolfe clipped from the Saturday Review of Literature; and a so-called "Biographical Sketch" which Wolfe had apparently been asked to write for class, and in which he perversely gives not one scrap of biographical information, but discusses at some length his admiration for George Bernard Shaw.

Also in this same case there are three original wood engravings used to illustrate "Look Homeward Angel"; an essay entitled "The Crisis in Industry," the shortest thing Wolfe ever wrote and for which he received the Worth prize for philosophy. The three cases in the east corridor of the library are filled with original copies of all Wolfe's books, two editions in French, De la Mort au Matin (From Death to Life) and Le Dernier Jour d'un Condamné (The Last Day of a Condemned Man). ## Disk-Jockey Jimmy Capps Here Sunday

Popular MC Invited
For UC 'Stars' Show

"Music which is designed to be heard with the heart," will be heard on this campus next Sunday when popular disk-spinner Jimmy Capps of "Our Best to You" will twirl tunes for two hours from the porch of Graham Memorial.

From 9 until 11 o'clock Sunday night, Capps will air his sentimental melodies for University students' consumption only as a feature of the University Club's "Music Under the Stars" program.

While lad and lass lounge on the lawn before Graham Memorial, Capps will present his regular format—sweet, smooth strains—unless students request otherwise.

"I'm not against swing music," Capps told a Carolina delegation of four University Club representatives Thursday night, "but I am going to leave the selection of songs up to you folks." The four, Nemo Nearman, Harold Bursley, Daggy Ogg and Lynn Strokhorb, visited Capps in his WPTF studio to invite him to the campus for the "Stars" series.

Capps nodded and smiled. "Why I'd be tickled pink to come over," he said.

In order that the program be conducted as nearly like that of the NBC station feature as possible, request boxes will be placed in the YMCA and Graham Memorial Tuesday through Thursday for students' dedications. Placed on the requests should be the song title and the dedication, such as, "From Cuddles in Stacy to his little Gumdrop at St. Mary's."

The disc-jockey will come to the campus this Thursday to pick up the requests and complete arrangements for the program.

Tom Jordan Gets Fraternity Award

Tom Jordan, president of the campus chapter of Alpha Tau Omega, last night received one of the highest awards the national fraternity can offer to its members.

Jordan was named winner of the Thomas Arkle Clark award for this province of the fraternity, and was selected as one of three honorable mentions for the national award. The presentation was made by Dick Johnson of North Wilkesboro, University alumnus and chief of this ATO province.

Yackety-Yack Distribution Is Scheduled

Annuals Available
In GM Wednesday

Yackety-Yack distribution is scheduled to begin Wednesday afternoon in the Horace Williams Lounge of Graham Memorial, yearbook business manager Ted Fussell said yesterday.

Definite hours have not been assigned yet, said Fussell, but have tentatively been set for afternoons, Monday through Friday.

All students who have been in school consistently since fall quarter may collect their Yacks without additional cost, as matriculation fees automatically cover Yack payment. However, if a student has not been enrolled each quarter since the fall session, he should bring $1.50 for each quarter missed.

Advance copies have been received by the yearbook staff, and Fussell said this year's Yack is one of the best ever produced. The first shipment of 3,500 yearbooks is expected early this week, with the second due within the following week.

Satterfield Plays At GM Concert Tonight at 8:15

Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra will present their second annual concert tonight at 8:15 o'clock in Memorial Hall. The program is being sponsored by Graham Memorial.

The program will include the following compositions written by members of the band: "Prelude in Satin" by Carolyn Satterfield, "Night Song" by Thomas Allred, "First Suite for Wind Orchestra" by Samuel Andrews, "Catawba Rhapsody" by John Satterfield, "Dona Nobis Pacem," anonymous German Round Canon arranged by John Satterfield and "Second Suite for Wind Orchestra" by Frank Justice.

In addition to the original numbers the program will include popular selections by such American composers as Duke Ellington, George Gershwin and John Green.

Satterfield's orchestra, which has played for numerous dances on the campus, is composed of Charles Simpson, Roger McDuffie, Luther Minton, Fred Phipps, Carl Baxter, Norman DeLancy, James Oates, Frank Justice, James Crawford, Samuel Andrews, Perry Ritch, Thomas Allred, James Duke, Eugene Striker, Nelson Benton, George Creel, John Satterfield and vocalist Ruth Justice.

Newton to Speak To Pi Delt Frat

Pi Delta Alpha, pre-dental fraternity, will have an open discussion and talk by Dr. M. E. Newton, local dentist, at a meeting tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Horace Williams Lounge of Graham Memorial.

The discussion will provide pertinent information of interest to all students planning to enter dental school. Members are requested to attend and all visitors are invited.

AT THIS STAGE OF THEIR careers, the Collins quadruplets of the Bronx, New York, seem to be living from hand to mouth, as the above picture indicates. The foursome, born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins, give the appearance of a feed-bag assembly line as mealtime arrives at the Lebanon Hospital.

TMA 'Variety Night' Curtain Is Tomorrow

First Annual Presentation Features
Skits by Four Groups in Memorial Hall

Curtain time for the first annual Town Men's Association "Variety Night" will be 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall tomorrow night, Nelson Taylor, past president of the TMA, said yesterday.

The auditorium will roll to the best that four organizations have to offer, Taylor said, in this premier of what he hopes will become "an entertainment institution on campus."

The Carolina Tumblers will perform their acrobatic acts; Tri-Delt plans to present the "Sleeping Cutie" skit which took top honors at the Sigma Chi Derby a week ago; Lambda Chi has a mystery stunt on tap and the PI-KAs will present "The Night the Ghost Got In."

"Only one loving cup will be presented to the best entrant this year," Taylor said, "but next year, we promise that three awards will be made, one to the fraternity division, one to sororities and women's dorms and the third to men's dorms and non-theater groups."

Taylor, who will act as master of ceremonies, said there will be three judges on hand tomorrow night from Sound and Fury, the Playmakers and the Journalism department. Judging will be on entertainment value only.

"This year's participation is small," Taylor said, "but we expect interest to build up. Next year we hope that participation will be greater and that interest will increase through the years until this becomes an entertainment institution on campus."

CP Meeting Slated In GM Tomorrow

Campus Party members are urged to attend an important meeting scheduled for Monday afternoon at 5 in Roland Parker Lounge 2, Graham Memorial, Chairman Vestal Taylor said yesterday.

Rooms Available For Graduation Guests in Dorms

The University will have dormitory accommodations for parents, wives, and husbands of degree candidates as well as alumni returning for Commencement and the reunions, it was announced yesterday.

Hotels in the vicinity have been flooded with requests for accommodations. The dormitory rooms should be reserved by writing or seeing James E. Wadsworth, Housing Office, 22 New East Annex, Chapel Hill, giving the number of spaces needed, names of guests, and the nights of Commencement for which reservations are desired. A room assignment desk for reservations will be opened at the Alumni Office, Carolina Inn, on Saturday morning, June 4, at 9 o'clock. The desk will remain open on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, June 7. Room assignments and keys will be given upon arrival of guests.

The rooms will be supplied with bed linen, towels, etc. No charge is made by the University for such accommodations.

Choral Rehearsal Set for 3 Today

A special rehearsal of the Chapel Hill Choral Club has been called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The rehearsal will be held in Memorial Hall, instead of Hill Hall as previously announced.

Johnson Says Grant Screening Is 'Rotten'

Senate Kills Measure To Abolish Segregation

Student Solons From Throughout State
Disagree on Proposal; 143 Participate

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)

RALEIGH, May 14—The 13th annual session of the North Carolina Student Legislature adjourned here late this afternoon after killing a dynamite-laden bill to abolish segregation on all public carriers and in library reading rooms.

Six Professors Called Reds By Committee

U. of Chicago Prexy
Is Called by Illinois

CHICAGO, May 14.—(UP)—Six University of Chicago professors and the President of the school's Board of Trustees were called upon by a state legislative commission today to answer charges of Communist-front membership. Subpenas were issued for the six professors to appear before the Illinois Seditious Activities Commission next Thursday. Laird Bell, President of the Board of Trustees, was "invited" to appear with them.

The professors are Harold C. Urey, one of the nation's top atomic scientists; sociologist Ernest W. Burgess; Wayne McMillen, Professor of Social Service Administration; Rexford Guy Tugwell, political scientist; Malcolm Sharp, Professor of Law; and Robert J. Havighurst, Professor of Education.

At Springfield, Ill., State Sen. Paul W. Broyles, chairman of the investigation commission, acknowledged that the subpenas "probably weren't necessary." The men had expressed a desire to defend themselves before the commission.

They were accused by Howard Rushmore, writer for the New York Journal-American, of belonging to Communist front organizations. Rushmore testified before the commission at Springfield last month.

Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University disputed his testimony, and after the hearing the six accused professors filed affidavits denying Rushmore's charges.

The Commission decided last Monday to give the professors a hearing.

Tugwell, former Governor of Puerto Rico, said he has received his subpoena but knows "nothing" about the case. "I haven't been told anything about it yet," he said.

Seniors Must Sign For '49'er Picnic

Seniors who plan to attend the '49'er picnic at Hogan's Lake Thursday afternoon should sign up tomorrow and Tuesday in the YMCA lobby from 9 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, a Senior Class spokesman said yesterday.

Only those making reservations will be able to attend the picnic, the spokesman said.

The picnic will get under way at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and will feature swimming and games in addition to entertainment by the Bull City Night-hawks from 6:30 to 10:30.

Food will be provided by the Senior Class from the Senior Class fund, the spokesman said. In the event of rain, the picnic will be cancelled.

SEC Claims No Connection in Giving Grants

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(UP)—Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, (D-Col.), said today there apparently was "rotten and vicious screening" of applicants for atomic energy scholarships.

Johnson referred to charges that the government had granted fellowships to known Communists.

"I'm very much opposed to granting scholarships to Communists," he said. "I don't know why we should teach Communists the science of atomic energy."

Johnson said he did not propose any legislation to ban such practices, and added "it would seem that no one would need any legislative supervision" in such matters.

The fault, he said, lies with "rotten and vicious screening" by those in charge of the program.

The Atomic Energy Commission has pointed out that it has nothing to do with the award of fellowships to any students. It turns over its fellowship funds to the National Research Council which makes the actual awards.

"The commission does not influence the selection of the fellows, and does not require FBI investigation if the training program proposed by the applicant is non-secret work," the Commission said.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole, (R-N.Y.) has identified Han Freistadt, an Austrian-born physicist of the University of North Carolina, as a Communist. He recently was awarded a $1,600 commission fellowship for advanced scientific study. Freistadt admitted he is a Communist.

Cole said today he does not think it necessary to investigate the loyalty of every student who receives a scholarship or fellowship from the Commission.

"I think it is necessary only to investigate those whose studies might involve secret data," he said.

"However, where an individual has been brought to the attention of the Commission, then I think his loyalty should be investigated and his scholarship revoked if he turns out to be a subversive character."

Meanwhile, Chairman Brian McMahon, (D-Conn.) said his Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee will begin hearing May 23 on the Commission's practices in the matter of scholarships.

Dancers Present GM Show Today

Lib Stoney and the Carolina Modern Dance Group will be featured on the program at the regular meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club this afternoon.

After a program of folk dances by the group the club will see movies of the dances of Latin America.

Following the movies Foster Fitzsimmons, head of the Modern Dance Group, will lead a discussion of folk dancing. Demonstrations of native dances will be given by members of the club from Denmark, the Virgin Islands, the Philippine Islands and Latin America. Music for the dances will be furnished by records of native music.

At the conclusion of the meeting in the Roland Parker Lounge tea will be served to those present.

THE UNIVERSITY BAND PICTURED ABOVE, led by assistant director Hubert Henderson, will present a concert today at 5 o'clock near Davie Poplar. In case of rain the concert will be held in Hill Music Hall. The second in a series of lawn concerts, the program is to include classical and semi-classical compositions. Students and townspeople are invited.
