Spring Germans Open On Friday Night In Gym

Charlie Barnett Will Provide Music For Two Dances, Saturday Concert

With the exciting new band of Charlie Barnett slated to play for two dances and a concert, the German Club is presenting its annual Spring Germans on Friday and Saturday in what promises to be one of the year's best weekends.

Barnet will play from nine to one on Friday, eight to twelve on Saturday and will present his long awaited concert from three to five on Saturday afternoon.

This will be the third and last of the quarterly affairs sponsored by the German Club which this year has previously brought the bands of Elliot Lawrence and Tommy Dorsey to the campus.

Having recently played dates at Washington and Lee, North Carolina State and Cornell, the Barnett band has become one of the most popular college "prom bands" in the country. The likeable leader has built up a versatile organization which is capable of playing both sweet and swing.

Barnet in a statement to Metro-News Magazine recently declared his intention of not becoming a "typed" band. His library of arrangements includes both progressive jazz and the smooth dance music for which he became famous.

Probably the most outstanding musician in the new band is dynamic Eddie Safranski who has been selected top bassman in the country in the Metro-News and Downbeat Magazine All Star Polls.

Safranski's powerful bass figures have formerly been the driving force behind the bands of Hal McIntyre and Stan Kenton. His own arrangement of his famous recording "Safranski" will be a feature of the two hour concert. Drummer Cliff Leeman and Trumpeter Doc Sevrenson will also be spotlighted.

The Ellington-like style for which Charlie Barnett was renowned has been replaced to a large extent by his modern dance arrangements. Dave Matthews, Ralph Burns, and Jerry Gray have given new twists to Barnett perennials like "Cherokee," "Pompton Turnpike," "Redskin Rhumba" and "Night and Day." As a result the band is the most well-rounded of all of his bands and is setting records in attendance at theatres and hotels throughout the country.

Dean, Smythe Assume Stand On Fellowship

Promise to Keep Reds Off Grants

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Two members-designate of the Atomic Energy Commission promised Senate investigators today that they will try to prevent any more research fellowships going to Communists, Gordon Dean and Dr. Henry Dewolf Smythe, who have been nominated by President Truman to fill vacancies on the five-member commission, took that stand in testimony before Senate members of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

The full committee heard Hans Freistadt, Communist student who was awarded a commission fellowship for non-secret physics research at the University of North Carolina, testify that he would not fight "if we attack Russia." But he said he would defend this country if Russia does the attacking.

The views expressed by Dean and Smythe appeared to indicate Freistadt's $1,600 grant may be withdrawn. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) chairman of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee which votes Atomic Commission funds, already has served notice Freistadt or any other Communist.

Dean, former Justice Department attorney, told the Senators he believes the atomic program has been "set back" by the award of a fellowship to Freistadt, and "I see no reason why we should have a Freistadt case arise again."

Smythe, chairman of the Physics Department at Princeton University and author of the famed "Smyth Report" on the atomic bomb, put his feelings in these words:

"I feel that membership in the Communist Party indicates at best a fuzziness of mind, a lack of mental maturity, and at worst a loyalty to another government.

"I therefore feel that you are taking more than a little chance of educating a traitor if you undertake to educate a member of the Communist party."

He said he would not like to see the government embark on a program of loyalty investigations of all persons studying non-secret phases of science but that he would not object to requiring fellowship applicants to swear that they are not members of a subversive organization.

Early Rush Gets 1,500 Yearbooks

Over 1,500 Yackety Yacks passed over the counter yesterday as students flocked to the Horace Williams Lounge of Graham Memorial for their yearbooks.

Yack Editor Bill Duncan yesterday advised students to come early today if they wish to get their copies this week. There will be no more Yacks after this supply is exhausted until next week sometime when the remainder of the shipment will arrive in Chapel Hill, he said.

Yack representatives will be in the Horace Williams Lounge again today from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock, and every day except Saturday and Sunday until the present supply is distributed.

LATE NEWS BULLETIN

J. R. Cherry, Jr., veteran student and resident of Victory Village, admitted last night that he had caused the atomic scholarship storm in Washington by tipping off Sen. Clyde R. Hoey (D.-N.C.) that Hans Freistadt had been awarded a fellowship by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Hoey said he was told of Freistadt's award by a "fine, patriotic North Carolina GI student," but did not identify Cherry on the floor of Congress. In a letter to Cherry, Hoey complimented him for "rendering a fine service to the country by notifying me of the affair."

Cherry said he did not think of whether the publicity he would cause would hurt the University or not. "I placed the safety of the country before all else," he explained.

Students Are Sought For Orientation Job

An open meeting for applicants to fill the 75 positions as orientation counselors will be held in the student government offices on the second floor of Graham Memorial Thursday night from 7:30 until 10:30, and Sunday night from 8:30 until all interested students have been interviewed.

The announcement, made by Charleen Greer, Clerk of the Campus Orientation Committee, asked all students who will be in school next fall and who are willing to return to Chapel Hill one week early to apply for the responsible positions. Those with past experience are particularly encouraged to apply, but experience is not necessary. A large number of those who will fill the positions will probably be unfamiliar with the duties of a counselor, and a class will be held to familiarize them with the post.

The Orientation Committee, which will make the selections, has requested that as many of the applicants as possible be present at the Thursday night meeting so as to give the Committee more time to consider the applications.

North Carolina Symphony Will Give Concert Tonight

Dr. Benjamin Swalin, Director of the North Carolina Symphony, has chosen a different and refreshing program of music for the "pops" concert the Orchestra will play in Memorial Hall tonight.

Interdorm Council Re-elects Three

Sid Turner, Harry Aycock, and Al House were elected hold-over members of the Men's Interdormitory Council for the school year of 1949-50, at Monday night's meeting.

The three men are presidents of Manly, "C", and Alexander dormitories respectively. Their election followed the adoption of a constitutional amendment by the student body in the Spring elections.

Aycock and House have served on the Interdormitory council all year. Aycock recently succeeded Frank Kilpatrick as secretary of the Council, and House is a member of the committee which has attempted to secure greater interest in intramurals in cooperation with the Gym's intramural staff. Turner has served on the council since the beginning of this term and succeeded Bob Birer as president of Manly.

The Interdormitory council also passed an election bill which provides for the election of all dormitory officers on October 3.

PAUL YOUNG

Young Quits To Take Job At Illinois U.

Glee Clubs Head To Leave in June

Paul Young resigned yesterday as chairman of vocal instruction and director of the Combined University Glee Clubs to accept a position as professor of music and director of choral activities at the University of Illinois.

No successor has been considered and it may be several weeks before one is chosen it was learned. Young will assume his new duties in September, and will leave here in June.

The possibility of canceling a proposed Carnegie Hall concert during the Notre Dame weekend next November was discussed for one hour at a meeting of the Men's Glee Club in Hill Hall late yesterday afternoon.

A straw vote heavily favored dropping any plans for a New York concert, but a final vote will not be taken until Monday afternoon. The Women's Glee Club will vote on the matter this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Young said whether the trip is made or not rests entirely with the Combined Glee Clubs.

Young said, "Mrs. Young and I are reluctant to leave Chapel Hill since it has been such a pleasant and profitable period here. I appreciate the many expressions of loyalty, friendship and good will that has been expressed concerning our leaving."

Weaver to Speak At Coed Meeting

The final meeting in the coed student adviser training program will be held tonight in room 207 Phillips Hall, Chairman Charleen Greer announced yesterday.

Such topics as how the advisers are to be met, the scheduling of information booths at the bus station and the dormitories, and the program for Orientation week will be discussed. Next year's program for entering students, Miss Greer said, will be a coordinated effort between men's and women's groups.

Commie Says Will Defend United States

David E. Lilienthal Challenges Policy

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Hans Freistadt, Communist student who was awarded a government research fellowship, told Congressional investigators today he would not fight if "we attack Russia" but would defend this country if Russia does the attacking.

He testified before the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee which is investigating the $1,600 grant he received from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission to finance postgraduate studies in non-secret phases of nuclear physics at the University of North Carolina.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) announced meanwhile that he will try to see to it that no public money is spent to educate Freistadt or any other Communist. He heads a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee which will meet tomorrow to pass on the Atomic Commission's operating funds for the coming fiscal year. Commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal referred to the controversy indirectly tonight in a speech to the American Booksellers Association. He said scientific progress would be hamstrung in this country, as it has been in Russia, if Americans permit fear of Communism to stampede them into extending "political and bureaucratic domination" into non-secret fields of education.

Freistadt, a slightly-built, curly-haired youth of 23 who was born in Austria and came to this country in 1941, testified that he considers himself a loyal American. He said he "would not be a member" of the Communist Party if he believed it planned to overthrow the U. S. government by force.

He said he hopes to repay this country with "scientific contributions" for the benefits it has given him, but emphasized that he would not use his scientific training to work on "aggressive weapons."

Freistadt was invited to appear before the committee after members of Congress demanded to know why the government was financing a fellowship for a Communist.

Rep. Charles H. Elston (R-O.) asked Freistadt if he would be willing to work on weapons if this country "needed your aid in its defense."

"In defense of my country's security, I would do that," he replied.

"What position would you take in event this country went to war with Russia?" Elston continued. (See FREISTADT, page 4)

New Style 49-ers Rush on Hogan's

A unique Carolina version of the Gold Rush of '49 will begin today as 49-ers and their dates make their way to Hogan's Lake for the Senior class picnic.

Senior activities will continue tomorrow with the traditional Barefoot Day, when all 49-ers will attend classes sans shoes. Final social activity planned by the class committee is the dance June 4 in Woolen Gymnasium.

Trucks will leave the Y court at 4:30 and at 5 o'clock this afternoon for those desiring transportation to the Hogan picnic. Swimming and games will provide the afternoon entertainment, with the Bull City Night Hawks scheduled to play from 6:30 to 10:30 in the evening. Food and entertainment are provided by class funds.

In case of rain the picnic will be held in the Tin Can, beginning with supper at 6 o'clock, followed by dancing to the music of the Night Hawks.
