Carolina Stomps Wake Forest, 28-14

ALL-AMERICAN CHARLIE JUSTICE is shown in the photo on the left as he drove into the end zone for Carolina's third touchdown in the third stanza of yesterday's 28-14 win over the Demonless Deacons of Wake Forest. The Choo Choo put on his greatest show of the year, scoring three touchdowns and having a fourth called back. R. L. McDonald, Tar Heel guard is in the foreground while Deacon backarup Bob Jones (26) watches the Carolina Express roll. ON THE RIGHT the Choo Choo exercises his pitching prowess as he completes a ten-yarder to catcher Art Weiner. Other Tar Heel receivers downfield are (from top to bottom and left to right)

Billy Hayes (37), Dick Bunting (30) and Fred Sherman (24). Deacon center Dave Dawson (34) watches the flight of the ball as Dickie Davis (31) moves in to bring down the Weiner. Perry Gwynn (27) and Francis Scarton (11) are other Wake Forest men in the picture.

CAROLINA'S FIRST TOUCHDOWN is shown being scored by tailback Charlie Justice early in the second quarter. The Choo Choo is all alone near the middle of the picture calmly holding the ball while Tar Heels Billy Hayes (37), Joe Nei kirk (63), R. L. McDonald (with nose guard), Dickie Bunting (30) and Jim Hendrick (55) and Deacon Dickie Davis (31) stand around at the upper right discussing Charlie's five-yard sally. At the upper left two unindentified men, one Tar Heel and one Deacon, are practicing their tumbling lessons. Deacons coming up to congratulate Justice are Bradley (45), Listopad (52), Staton (58), Duncan (54), Karpus (17) and Jones (26).

Choo Choo Leads Tar Heels To Fourth Straight Victory With Three Touchdown Runs

A good football team was defeated by a better football team yesterday at Kenan Memorial Stadium before the usual sellout crowd of 44,000 fans. The better football team, in the form of the Tar Heels of North Carolina, were on the long end of the 28-14 score. Wake Forest and Peahead Walker were the losers for the fourth straight time.

The Tar Heels had an all star show on the field for three quarters, with Charlie (Who else?) Justice leading the parade with a total of three touchdowns marked up for his day's efforts. He scored a fourth touchdown, but officials said he had his quota for the day and called it back and assessed the Tar Heels fifteen yards to boot.

Dick Bunting, who proved to be as good on the flank as he is in the defensive backfield, scored the other Carolina six-pointer on a pass interception.

The Deacons were the first to score, and Peahead Walker early in the game had visions of a nice homecoming in Wake Forest. But Tar Heel men had different ideas, and after a sleepy first quarter somebody sounded the alarm and the Tar Heels were off to the Wake Forest's first score came as the first period was nearing history. After both teams tired of punting to each other, Wake came up with a speedy punt return to the Carolina 38. From that point Deacon Backs Bill Gregus, Bobby Stutts, and Carroll Blackerby moved the ball to the Carolina one. Then Blackerby sneaked the ball over to put the Deacons in front by six points. Bill George quickly made it seven.

The Tar Heels took the consolation kickoff and started a drive that wasn't halted until it had reached the Wake Forest five yard

Nine plays later the ball game was all tied up at seven-all. It was Justice up the middle, around the end, Sherman on the reverse two times, and Justice and Hayes running and passing and there they were on the Deacon five. Justice did the honors with a short jaunt up the left side. Egbert Williams added the point to tie the ball

At 6:50 the Tar Heels kicked off to the Baptists who returned the ball to protective Tar Heel hands after trying three times to move the thing. Then the Tar Heels turned right around and kicked back. Then Wake Forest started passing and Dick Bunting started intercepting.

Blackerby intended to pass to Nub Smith on the Wake 31, but instead he passed to Bunting, who obliged the partisan fans by going all the way to score. At 10:40 of the second period the Tar Heels were seven points to the god.

ANOTHER ALL-AMERICAN, End Art Weiner, stretches to snag one of the seven passes he caught in yesterday's conquest. The big New Jersey flanker is apparently being admired by Deacon halfback Bob Jones and linebacker Ed Karpus.

Irv Holdash, Carolina's great line backer who was the defensive star of the game again, was one of the first Tar Heels into the dressing room. When asked the credit. The offensive team's to make a comment on the game, blocking was very good. . . and big Irv said, "Wake Forest played a good game. They hit hard and we were lucky to stop Gregus (Wake's big ground-gaining halfback)."

Holdash, sporting a very bad lip gash, was bemoaning his bad luck in receiving the injury. "1 have my first date of the quarter tonight and I come up with this

All-American Art Weiner came in a short time later, after pausing to speak with Wake's star end Red O'Quinn and Gregus. Art said that Wake Forest . . ." has a good team. They're going to win a lot of games before the season

Another Hosea

Fullback Billy Hayes sat on a bench drinking a coke and didn't have much to say about the game. "Let Art say it," the slender Virginian said. Weiner looked up and commented, "Tell them Hayes is going to be another Hosea Rodgers."
