

Excavation For New 400-Bed Teaching Hospital Has Begun

Excavation for the new 400-bed teaching hospital, first step toward the University's four-year medical school, was begun this week by the J. A. Jones Construction Company of Charlotte, J. S. Bennett, Director of Operations, said yesterday. The hospital was approved by the 1947 General Assembly, and, according to State Budget Bureau Chief D. S. Coltrane, will cost a total of $3,947,150. The new building will be to the east of the present Medical Building and Infirmary, which will form part of the completed medical plant.

The architects' drawings call for extensive construction in addition to the hospital. Appropriations have already been made for construction of the staff doctors' home, nurses' home, and extensions to the front wings of the present Medical Building.

The hospital building should be completed in about a year, according to Frank B. Turner, engineer for the Budget Bureau. The class entering medical school in 1950 will be the first to enjoy the four-year program at the University.

Plans Are Outlined For New York Trip

A registration plan for all students who will be in New York over the Notre Dame football weekend was outlined and a warning that tomorrow is the last day for students to obtain hotel reservations through the University Club was issued at the Club's meeting Tuesday night.

Jack Holcombe, president of the Club, told the assembled members about the University registration book which will be located in New York's Statler Hotel so that students may find each other wherever they may be staying over the Nov. 12 weekend.

He asked that all students planning to make the trip stop by the UC booth, which will be set up in the YMCA beginning today, leave their New York address and how long they will be in the city. The registration book will be available at the Statler near a special telephone over which students may get information. The telephone number for this service will be announced soon, Holcombe said.

He added that students who have received confirmation of their reservations should forward a deposit to the hotel before Oct. 26. The usual deposit amounts to half the cost of the room, he said.

Parking arrangements for students driving to their train leaving from Durham for New York over the Nov. 12 weekend have almost been completed. If the Club can guarantee a minimum of 75 cars, a Durham parking lot will hold open 100 parking spaces for use of University students exclusively. A flat rate of $1 per automobile will be charged for the weekend.

This arrangement is necessary, Holcombe said, because the Durham police have stated that no one will be permitted to park their cars on the streets of Durham for the weekend.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

THE DAILY TAR HEEL STAFF will meet in the Tar Heel office at 4:30 this afternoon to have their Yack picture made. Members of the Tarnation staff will meet in the Tarnation office to have their picture taken at 3 o'clock this afternoon. All members of both staffs must wear coats and ties.

THE WESTERN CAROLINA CLUB will meet this evening at 7:30 in 108 Bingham to elect new officers and make plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

THE FRENCH CLUB will meet tonight at 7:30 in Caldwell Y for the purpose of electing the club's officers. Those interested may join the group for dinner at the Carolina Inn at 6:30 before the meeting.

THE RIDING CLUB will ride tomorrow at 2:15 and 4 o'clock. Members will meet at 2:15 at the side door of Alderman Dormitory.

FIRST TENORS are urgently needed by the Men's Glee Club. Those interested and qualified may sign up in the Glee Club Office in Hill Hall some time this week or next.

CORRECTION: The Children's Art Class conducted by Mrs. Joyce Kachergis will meet every Saturday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock, not every morning as stated in yesterday's Daily Tar Heel.

MERVE GRIFFIN will be the featured vocalist when Freddy Martin and his orchestra come here for a two-day stand Oct. 28-29. Griffin, who also plays piano for Martin, joined the band in June of last year and has since become one of the most popular of the Martinmen. Before signing with his present boss, Merve had a San Francisco radio show and later fronted his own band, all before turning 21.

Max Gardner Is Speaker At UP Meet

The University Party shattered a 17-year tradition by holding an open-to-students Committee meeting yesterday, and humor magazine Tarnation got in on the show.

Speeches by O. Max Gardner, president of the University chapter of the Young Democratic Club and member of the Board of Trustees, Student Body Secretary-Treasurer Nat Williams, Vice-President Ted Leonard, and former UP Chairman Miles Smith were other features of the program.

Tarnation entered the discussion when Williams, discussing finances, said that it would be setting a "bad precedent" to reduce the Student Government surplus by the $1000, the figure now in an appropriation bill slated to go before the Student Legislature tonight.

Gardner described politics as an "honorable profession" and called on the group, in cooperation with other campus political parties, to improve student government by "united political action in getting good and qualified candidates, making students aware of campus issues, and getting out the campus vote."

Letters To Keep Capps Disc Show

Whether disc-jockey Jimmy Capps of Raleigh's station WPTF remains on the air for 30 or 60 minutes each Monday night will depend on the number of letters received by WPTF praising Capps' "Our Best to You" between now and this Monday.

This week Capps has been calling for letters stating whether listeners would rather the NBC station join the network at 11:30 for the "live" Dave Garraway show or merely continue with the Capps 11 o'clock to midnight record broadcast.

Planetarium Breaks Mark In Attendance

New Feature Set For Next Week: 'Man, Universe'

All records for attendance for a single day and for a week were broken at the Morehead Planetarium in the week just ended.

The day record was set on Saturday when 1,435 paid visitors saw demonstrations; the week's total through Sunday, October 16, was 5,318.

During the week 1,569 school children came to Chapel Hill to see four special shows arranged for them exclusively, as a part of a weekly program which will continue through the school year.

The total paid attendance from the opening on May 10 was brought up to 74,321. Complimentary admissions have totalled 4,065, so the grand total has been 78,386.

The last showing of "Eclipses of the Sun and Moon" will be given at 8:30 next Monday, Tuesday, at 8:30 the new show, "Man and His Universe," will be given for the first time. The simulated eclipses of the sun and moon that are staged in the current presentation will give way to the story of the great systems of stars that lie out in space in all directions, to the greatest distances that can be fathomed by existing telescopes.

The structure and the behavior of the components of the universe will be described and illustrated, and the meaning of the term, "expanding universe," will be explained. The place of relativity, called "a new principle of nature" in the present picture of the universe will be made clear.

Coeds, Beer Are Involved In Rebellion

BOWLING GREEN, O., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A student rebellion against regulations at Bowling Green State University began fizzling late today and threats of a strike died down.

The students withdrew their demands for sale of 3.2 beer, more tolerance in the campus police and abolition of a rule which prohibits unmarried co-eds from rid-

Boycott to Halt

DURHAM, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Duke University students pushed their boycott of Duke Power Company buses through its third day today, but one student spokesman said the operation would be halted—at least temporarily—over the weekend.

Will Fick, Managing Editor of the Duke Chronicle, said the inauguration of Dr. Hollis Edens as President of the University and the annual homecoming ceremonies will force students to relax their boycott after classes end Friday.

Fick said he expected full-scale operations to be resumed Monday.

ing in automobiles or taxicabs. But they continued to insist upon "complete freedom of expression" for the student newspapers, the Bee Gee News, and a student government without faculty domination.

An estimated 200 of the University's 4600 students cut classes after an early morning mass meeting attended by approximately 500. But all except about 25 returned to their classrooms late today.

Dr. Frank J. Prout, the University President, discussed student complaints in a panel with 13 students this afternoon. Approximately 1,200 attended the meeting in the University auditorium.

Roommates Cleared In Honor Code Case

Two roommates who studied together and who apparently thought much the same way on quiz questions had that right of collective knowledge-gathering upheld in a Men's Honor Council case. The boys were exonerated by the Council, according to case reports released yesterday by Clerk Pete Gerns.

The boys' quiz papers were turned in after the professor noted a few similarities in them, but the Council decided in its verdict that "The similarities came by studying together." The accused students both denied receiving any aid on the quiz and answered the quiz questions similarly when informally tested by the Council.

Another student who admitted cheating on a quiz because of being "pressed for time" was indefinitely suspended but got a recommendation on his judgment that "leniency be shown on application for reinstatement due to his attitude and honesty before the Council." He had turned himself in to the professor four days after the quiz. His quiz neighbor, from whose paper he had copied, was exonerated by the Council.

In a single Campus Code violation case, a student who had been brought before Chapel Hill Records Court for drunken driving was reprimanded by the Council. In its judgment, the Council asserted that police action against drinking students constitutes a bad enough offense to be considered under the Campus Code.

In releasing the cases, the Council also issued a statement reminding students and especially freshmen that "the Honor Code has been the foundation of the UNC way of life since 1870," and urged strict adherence to it during the coming midterm examinations.

Tarnation Appropriation Bill, Election Law Changes Will Be Legislature Business Tonight

Girls May Still Sign

'Y' Box Auction Set In Tin Can Tonight

By Caroline Bruner

Girls who are going to be auctioned off at the box supper auction sale, which will be held today at 5 o'clock in the Tin Can, can sign up in the YWCA office anytime before the auction this afternoon, Gay Currie, executive secretary of the Y said yesterday.

The name of each girl, together with supper for two, will be enclosed in each of the 600 boxes, which will be auctioned off by Chancellor R. B. House, Head Cheerleader Norm Sper, and Director of Admissions Roy Armstrong.

The girls' names will be kept a secret during the auction sale, but a complete description of the girls and their hometowns will be given, Gay said.

Following the supper, there will be square dancing, entertainment by the Sigma Chi sextet, a dancing contest, and the crowning of a king and queen of the festivity. Two sets of numbers will be given out to the girls and boys, respectively, as they enter the Tin Can, and those holding the number drawn from the hat will be crowned king and queen.

All-American Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice will be on hand to add to the colorful and unique auction. Justice will take a moment off from his football chores to score another success in the lives of the coed-queen and her escort king.

A grand march, made up of boys and girls with corresponding numbers, will follow the coronation ceremonies and will be led by the newly crowned royalties. The box supper auction is being held to raise money for the YWCA fund and is being planned by the Membership Council of the YWCA.

Folk Dancers Meet Tonight

Ready to have a good flog? Well, come to the Woman's Gym on this evening and let "hieland laddie" Jim Wilson show you how it's done in Scotland and tell you why.

Jim, who became a devotee of folk dancing in the highland villages of Scotland during the war, and Miss Price of the Department of Physical Education, also a folk dance enthusiast, are starting a group for folk dancers which will meet for the first time tonight in the Dance Studio of the Women's Gymnasium at 5 o'clock.

DR. WILLIAM M. DEY

Dey Honored By France With Degree

Dr. William Morton Dey, who retired last summer as head of the Department of Romance Languages after 40 years in that capacity, has been highly honored by the French government.

He has just been informed by Ambassador Bonnet that the Republic of France has conferred upon him the Chevalier of the Legion of Honor for "services rendered in the interest of culture and the French language and your critical work and teaching during 40 years as head of the Romance Language Department of the University of North Carolina."

Ambassador Bonnet wrote Dr. Dey that the honor was conferred on a "degree of the Preside of the Republic through a motion of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. I am happy to congratulate you," he said, "on this highly deserved distinction that testifies to the gratitude of the French government for the exceptional services which you have rendered."

Rosenstengel Talks To Frat

Many of the progressive Northern states are now fighting the battle of the one-room school that North Carolina overcame 15 years ago, Dr. W. E. Rosenstengel, Education Department professor told the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity last night.

Speaking to the honorary education fraternity on two of his recent trips, one to Memphis, Tenn., and the other to Chicago, Ill., Dr. Rosenstengel said that Illinois had about 12,000 of the one-room schools two years ago, and still has about 7,000. While New York, Ohio, and many other states have similar problems, the Professor said that Missouri is working toward consolidation of districts.

Grail Will Fete Ducat Salescoeds

Ten Carolina coeds will be guests of honor Sunday night at a Grail dinner designed to entertain girls who helped with ticket sales. They are: Betty Smith, Gene Hines, Sally Osborne, Barbara Crawford, Charleen Greer, Mike Merker, Peggy Martin, Anne Royster, Gene Frances Caraher and Betsy Ross.

Appointees, One New Bill Also Slated

By Roy Parker, Jr.

Tarnation money and election law changes will be what the Student Legislature will chew over in tonight's meeting at 7:30 in Di Hall. That is, if the Legislature's committees which are mulling over three bills can get their report ready.

An appropriation bill seeking $1000 for the campus humor magazine, an election law changing providing for a "primary" election on Nov. 30, and another allowing freshmen to vote for their officers at regular polling places are set to be thrashed out in committee meetings this afternoon.

Other business before the solists will be consideration of six presidential appointments to fill University Party vacancies in the Legislature. Bill Warren, George Rodman, Howard Fogleman, Sonny Price, Stanley Linn and Emily Bostwick are the UP replacements.

So far, only one bill will definitely be introduced. It seeks scholastic requirements for all candidates for offices controlled by the Election Board, which includes most campus posts. It would not go into effect until next Fall.

The Elections Board is expected to announce its reappointment of legislative seats to the body. Jim Gwynn, chairman of the Board, will make the report.

Tonight's meeting will end the first legislative session of the Fall Term. The second session's first meeting will be on Nov. 10.

Greenwood Team Appears Tonight

A square dance exhibition by the Greenwood team will be an added attraction in the Rendezvous Room tonight at 8 o'clock.

The team, which is now preparing to enter the competition at the State Fair in Raleigh tomorrow night, won first place here in the Carolina Folk Festival in June.

Names Are News

(Ed. note — Charlie Joyner, Daily Tar Heel "Names" Editor, gives the new temporary Student Directory a going-over in the following lines. It'll take about three readings.)

Noe Eure Neighbours: Avery Boddie Anders Brothers Kahn Reid Deer Naimon Pepper Ader the Nooe Student Directory appear on Kampschmidt the List of Peebles.

The Bookes Haff Avery Boddie Ingram Fremd Sloop to Nutis, Looneys, Faireys, Elis, Angels, and Sapps, Brains, Smart Boyce and Duls, Rich and Poe, Young and Old, High and Lowe; Auld are Ennet, Kings and Princes, Black and White, Long and Short, Little Guys and Subermans, Love and Money, Chambers, and Potts, Dolls, Toys, Hamm, Bacon and Ogg, and Mauney Mount.

Sommer Stout, Sommer Swift, Sommer Weary; Wise Guys, Charriker, Snooks and Bjerks. From East to West, Dollars to Pence, Justice to Weiner; Roses and Thorns, Cutts and Bruce's, Rogers and Hammerstein, Park and Breedlove, Mason and Dixon, Stroupe and Strain; all in Dees Bock Eure Vaden Furr, Weill and Deal, Sugar and Coffey, Faucette and Sink, Hill and Dale, Hale and Hardy, and I Donahoe else, Nassif Dees aren't an Hough.

Goforth and Fine are Naimon this Storey that isn't in the Weiss files and I'll Donat a Nichol to Yowl Oakey?