

Pre-ND Parade Plans Set By UC Committee

Torch March, 'Top ND' Cards Are Features

Poster Deadline Will Be Nov. 5; Cup To Be Given

Only 13 more working days, including Saturdays and Sundays, remain before the pre-Notre Dame torchlight parade to be held Wednesday, Nov. 9. And that is all the time remaining for campus organizations to whip their "Beat Notre Dame" posters into shape. Jerry Sternberg, Chairman of the University Club Poster Committee, said yesterday.

The posters are for use in the torchlight parade here Wednesday night and again in New York on Saturday, Nov. 12 for the parade that will be held there.

Sternberg said the posters will be judged on originality and the skill with which they are displayed. He suggested that organizations entering base their posters either on football or on something pertaining to Notre Dame and the game.

Each organization planning to enter is advised to mail a penny postcard to Sternberg at the ZBT house stating their intentions. Deadline for entries in the contest has been set at Nov. 5.

A cup will be awarded by the University Club for the outstanding poster, Sternberg said, after the display in New York. The cup is on display at present at the University Club booth in the Y.

Entries may be given to any of the members of the poster committee, Sternberg, Jane Pruitt, Cokey Brissel, Sid Turner, or they may be mailed to UC President Jack Holcombe at the Phi Gam house.

Rules for the contest:

1. Number of persons entering in contest from one organization is limited to 12. No limit to number of signs carried by an organization.
2. Participants may be costumed.
3. The displays must be portable.
4. Displays and contestants must carry identification of the organization they are representing.
5. There is no limit to the size of the posters.
6. Deadline for entries is Nov. 5, 1949.

Chapter of YDC Slated for Town

A new chapter of the Young Democrats Club will be planned tonight for residents of Chapel Hill — and organization completely separate from the campus chapter.

Graham to Talk

Democratic Senator Frank P. Graham will deliver the second of the YMCA-sponsored monthly series of addresses for the fall quarter, a spokesman said today.

Appearing in Memorial Hall on Nov. 14, Senator Graham will speak on "World Community."

The Senator is touring the Eastern Seaboard at the present time making public appearances. He is scheduled to address the Raleigh Kiwanis Club Friday night.

Graham served as president of the Greater University for 19 years before his appointment to the Senate.

AVC Resolution Asks Admission Of Negroes

A resolution urging that "equal opportunity" be given Negro students seeking admission into University graduate schools has been passed by the University chapter of the American Veterans Committee chapter spokesmen said yesterday.

The resolution, referring to the recent suit by two Negroes to gain admission to the University Law School, asked that the opportunity be "quietly recognized and applied in this state, as it has been in other Southern states, without the bitterness and expense attendant upon lengthy litigation in the federal courts."

Citing recent examples of schools in several states which have admitted qualified Negroes to their graduate schools, the resolution put the AVC on record as commending to the University administration and Board of Trustees that such opportunity be granted.

The resolution also urged that copies be forwarded to Governor Kerr Scott and Acting President of the University W. D. Carmichael with the request that it be presented to the Board of Trustees.

Show Script Asked By Fox

Twentieth Century-Fox Films has expressed an interest in "The Spirit of Cedarhurst," current Playmaker experimental show, and has asked that a copy of the script be sent to their New York Story Department, according to information received late yesterday.

"The Spirit of Cedarhurst," written by Mildred E. Danforth, opened before a capacity house at the Playmaker theater last night, and is being repeated tonight at 7:30. There is no admission charge.

Audience To Perform In Rendezvous Show

The audience will take to the air tonight at 9:30 when the Rendezvous Room presents its weekly broadcast over radio station WDUK. Led by Mark Barker, the 15-minute broadcast will be in the form of a musical quiz with prizes donated by local merchants.

Lanier Davis will lead the entire Rendezvous Room audience in singing the Carolina Fight Song at the end of the second round. After the third round the contestants will be given their final questions, which will be not on music but on the University.

Banning Of Textbook In Houston Is 'Unique Experience' For Author

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 27—(AP)—Author Frank Magruder said today the Houston School Board's action banning his "American Government" civics textbook is an "unfortunate and unique experience to me."

The School Board banned the book from further use in Houston's six senior high schools after finding an objectionable paragraph in the 1947 revised edition. The paragraph on capitalism described public free education as an example of Communism.

In a telephone interview with the Houston Chronicle from his Corvallis, Ore. home today, Magruder said the paragraph was "intended merely as a philosophic definition of Communism and Socialism."

"I am not interested in Communism, know no Communism and have never voted for Socialism or Communism," he said. "All of my books are opposed to revolution. I even think our own

Cabinet Asks New Standard For Officers

Recommended Bill Ready for Solons At Next Meeting

Student Body President Bill Mackie's Executive Cabinet yesterday recommended that a bill be introduced in the Student Legislature setting up academic requirements for holding campus offices.

The bill, which applies the requirements to all officials whose election is under the control of the Elections Board, will be presented at the Legislature's meeting next Thursday night.

The bill would require students who have completed more than three quarters of work to have passed at least 35 hours in the preceding three quarters, 20 of them with C grade or better, those who have completed three quarters would have the same requirement, those who have been here two quarters would have to have passed 25 hours, 15 with C or better, one quarter would require 15 hours, with 10 of context.

Whether additional changes in the high command are in the offing remains to be seen. The President told a news conference he did not know what the procedure would be from now on.

The President began by announcing he had agreed to Denfeld's transfer on recommendation of Secretary of the Navy Matthews and that their exchange of letters, dated today, would be available after the conference.

Matthews recommended Denfeld's transfer "for the good of the country." He said he held Denfeld in high esteem, but as early as Oct. 4, even before Denfeld spoke out bluntly before a House committee against what he called the "improper operation" of the unification program, he told the admiral he feared his usefulness as Chief of Naval Operations "had terminated."

The President said he didn't know whether 6th Task Fleet boss Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman would succeed Denfeld.

Truman Fires Naval Chief, Cites Letters

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—(AP)—President Truman stepped into the armed services row today and ousted Admiral Louis E. Denfeld as Chief of Naval Operations.

Denfeld, outspoken critic of the way the military unification law is administered in the Pentagon, will be transferred to another post yet to be selected. His successor has not yet been picked.

Whether additional changes in the high command are in the offing remains to be seen. The President told a news conference he did not know what the procedure would be from now on.

Play Tryouts Set Tuesday

Open tryouts for "Rain," second major production on the Carolina Playmakers' season schedule, will be held next Tuesday in the Playmaker Theater at 4 o'clock and 7:30.

The play, based on the Somerset Maugham story of the same name, will be directed by John W. Parker. Copies of the script have been placed in the reserve room of the library, and will be available Friday for those who want to study the play before tryouts.

"The Playmakers is not a closed organization," said Parker, "and all students and townspeople are cordially invited to try out for roles. Newcomers are certainly welcome at tryouts."

"Rain" will be presented here for a six night run, Nov. 29 and 30; December 1, 2, 3, and 4.

'Beat Vols' Rally Scheduled For Memorial Howl Tonight

Big Weekend Will Feature Martin Band

Concert To Open Festivities Today; Two Dances Set

The kickoff event for the first big dance weekend of the fall quarter comes this afternoon at 4 o'clock when the Order of the Grail presents Freddy Martin in a concert in Memorial Hall.

Following the concert will be the pep rally which precedes home games, and at 9 o'clock comes the first dance of the week end.

With these events scheduled

The Dean of Women and the Women's Interdorm Council yesterday granted 2 o'clock permission for all women students who sign out for the Grail dance tonight.

The dance ends at 1 o'clock, and girls have permission to stay out until 2 o'clock. Saturday night permission remains the same; girls must be in at 1 o'clock.

For only Friday night the entire weekend promises to be a bustle of activity, with never a dull moment.

Dave Sharp, spokesman for the Grail, yesterday said that tickets to all Grail events will be on sale at the door. Tickets to the concert will naturally be somewhat limited, he said, because many have already been sold and only a total of 1,800 are available. Concert tickets cost $1 per person, while dance tickets cost $1.50 per couple. The concert begins at 4 o'clock and ends at 6 o'clock.

Highlighting the weekend will be the gridiron battle between Tennessee and Carolina at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

Fredy Martin's last appearance will be the Saturday night dance in the gym, starting at 9 o'clock and lasting until midnight.

Both dances will be semi-formal, men in suits and ties, and women in long dresses.

FREDDY, Martin that is. He finally got here after everybody was ready, and will make music at a concert this afternoon, a dance tonight, and another tomorrow night. He also brought along his orchestra to help him in the Grail-sponsored events.

Frosh Hear Dr. Johnson At Assembly

"We're here to help correct your academic failings before it's too late," Dr. Cecil Johnson, Associate Dean of the General College, told members of the freshman class at an assembly yesterday in Memorial Hall.

The speaker compared the school quarter with a football game, and said "that the game can be won or lost in the last half."

Dr. Johnson explained the academic set-up and the requirements necessary for readmission each quarter. He was introduced by Orientation Chairman Al Lowenstein.

Lowenstein's announcement that an effort was being made to cancel next week's freshman assemblies was greeted by cheers and clapping.

The freshman assemblies are part of the orientation program, which includes a "briefing" for first-year students before the regular year begins.

Rush Chairman Asks Observance Of Hours

Emphasizing four important rules, Interfraternity Council rushing chairman Bill Benjamin gave out final instructions to rushees and fraternities yesterday. Formal rushing will get underway Sunday night.

Benjamin asked special attention be given to the IFC rules on rushing hours, the Sunday-Monday visit requirement, and the rules governing shakeup day and silence periods.

Rushing will begin Sunday night at 7 o'clock and end at 10. Monday through Thursday nights hours will be between 7:30 and 9:30. Pledge day will be Wednesday, Nov. 9, shakeup day will be Sunday, Nov. 6. A strict silence period will be in force from Thursday night until 7 o'clock on shakeup day, and from 9:30 that night until pledge day.

All rushees are required to visit every house from which they receive invitations on either Sunday or Monday night. Violation of this rule makes the rushee ineligible for pledging by any fraternity for 12 months.

No fraternity can express a desire to pledge any rushee before next Wednesday and no rushee may express his desire to join before Sunday, Nov. 6.

Bids will be given out after noon on Wednesday, Nov. 9. Invitations are now being issued in Gerrard Hall until noon today.

A total of 23 fraternities will rush. Theta Chi, newly-reactivated last week, get an extra week of formal rushing.

Reserved seat tickets for the Raleigh stop of the "Anna Lucasta" company are available at the Playmaker business office in Swain Hall. The play will be presented by the original company that acted it for three years in New York and are now on tour. The Raleigh production date is November 8, at the Memorial Auditorium.

UNC Leaders To Meet With Tennesseans

The second group of visiting campus leaders who seek to learn something of local student government will be here tomorrow, President Bill Mackie's office said yesterday.

The leaders will be from the University of Tennessee, headed by Tennessee YMCA head Dave Dodson, and they will discuss the UNC dance and theatre production setup.

Members of the University Dance Committee, Order of the Grail, German Club, Playmakers and Sound and Fury will be on hand to provide the information and answer questions. The meeting was requested by Dodson in a letter to Mackie.

The first meeting of visiting student leaders here was during the Georgia weekend when University of Georgia visitors discussed student government in general with UNC leaders, seeking a basis for forming an effective governing organization at Georgia.

Sinnott Ends McNair Talks Last Night

"If we had the answer to Tennessee's wonderings about the flowers in the crannied wall, we would have the answer to the mystery that has been pestering man throughout history," Dr. Edmund W. Sinnott said last night.

The noted biologist and director of the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University, gave his third and final lecture on the question of biological organism being the basis of the psychological life of men.

Dr. Sinnott said he meant if scientists and thinkers could ever solve the mystery of protoplasm, or what makes life, civilization would have finally solved the answer to the world and man's part in it.

His underlying theme throughout his three addresses here comprising this year's John Calvin McNair Lectures was that the physical and the mental life of man are one and the same, but he went further than the materialists by pointing out that science has not yet discovered all the biological facts and that "life is the business of the poet as well as of the physiologist."

Dr. Sinnott was introduced tonight by Dr. J. B. Rhine, well-known Duke University scientist and psychologist.

Di Senate Condemns Prep School's Policy

A resolution condemning the Jefferson Military Academy of Washington, Miss., for accepting 50 million dollars "on the condition that they teach white supremacy," was passed overwhelmingly Wednesday night by the Dialectic Senate.

Introduced from the floor by Senator Peter Cooper, the resolution stated that in accepting the gift of 47-pupil prep school had "violated the principles of academic freedom and the principles of broad and liberal education."

In the debate which preceded the 22 to 5 vote for the resolution, Charlie Long declared, "The Nazis and Fascists haven't taken over this country yet." Supporting Long, Banks Talley said, "Missis-

Football Team, Host Of 'Brass' To Be Present

Freddy Ready, Martin Concert This Afternoon

"Get ready for Freddy" fans who attend Martin's concert this afternoon will practically be able to remain seated while the scenery is changed and the football team takes its position for the "Beat Tennessee" pep rally in Memorial Hall at 7:15.

The two hour concert ends at 6 o'clock, giving students and their guests an hour and a quarter in which to eat dinner before the rally begins.

A program of volunteers has been obtained, Head Cheerleader Norm Sper said yesterday, to spark the rally and help show the team that the University is out to beat the Volunteers.

On hand will be the football team, including Charlie Justice, the cheerleaders; Martin, Acting President of the Greater University W. D. Carmichael, Jr., Acting Dean of Students Bill Friday; the Sigma Chi Sextet, back from their Greensboro television appearance, and 1949 All-Southern guard Ralph Strayhorn, former University footballer now at tending Law School here.

University Band Director Earl Slocum requested that all band members report to Memorial Hall no later than 7:15 with their instruments.

Sper promised that the rally would be over in time for those planning to attend the Grail dance in Woollen Gym tonight to ready themselves for Freddy.

A pre-Tennessee practice will be held in Kenan Stadium this afternoon, and Sper issued a call to all students to assemble at the Stadium at 4 o'clock to cheer the team in their last workout before the game tomorrow. "We need every ounce of spirit to push to victory," he said.

Durham Talks On Navy Row

Rep. Carl T. Durham, (D-NC) said last night that he thought President Truman's removal of Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, Chief of Naval Operation, was "in the best interest of the country."

Congressman Durham, member of the House Armed Services Committee and Vice Chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said he thought the move was best for every one concerned despite the fact Admiral Denfeld was the senior member of the Chiefs of Staff.

Rep. Durham declined to elaborate on the differences of opinion among top militarists over unification that preceded Denfeld's removal.

The unification row began several weeks ago when top Navy officials blasted what they termed Army-Air Force pressure in the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Denfeld, highest-ranking naval officer, watched on the sidelines during most of the committee hearing, but later actively presented the Navy's views before the group.

Bad Grades

Between 1,000 and 1,500 students of the General College have unsatisfactory grades or are failing in one or more subjects this fall, Dean C. P. Spruill's office announced yesterday.

Officials termed this number as "usual" and said that it is not alarming, considering that the 3,000 General College students take 9,000 subjects.
