Harriet Elliot Forum To Meet At WC Tonight

Professor Vance In Opening Talk At Aycock Hall

GREENSBORO, Nov. 9—(P)—Led by seven experts in the various fields of social science, the third Harriet Elliott Social Science Forum of Woman's College will open tomorrow night for a three day exposition of problem, "The Social Science: What We Know vs. What We Do."

Unusual in that the forum is bringing together foremost leaders in the fields of economics, psychology, sociology, social economy and history, international law, politics, and philosophy, the three day program is expected to produce a lively clash of minds with regards to the nature of society's ills and what can be done about them.

The first session, to be held in Aycock Auditorium, will sound the keynote for the entire forum in a discussion of "What We Know, What We Do." First participants will be Louis Hacker, professor of economics at University of Chicago; Caroline Ware, professor of social economy and history at American University; Otto Klineberg, professor of sociology at Columbia University; Quincy Wright, professor of international law at University of Chicago; and Rupert Vance, Kenan professor of sociology at University of North Carolina.

Two other well known experts, Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois and Glenn Negley, professor of philosophy at Duke University, will join the forum for discussions Friday and Saturday. Senator Douglas' address Saturday evening when the subject, "Next Steps for American Democracy," is introduced, will be a feature of the forum.

Seven sessions will be held during the three days, including two general sessions and a group of round tables scheduled for each day Friday and Saturday.

Film Club Needs New Subscribers

A series of films from the Museum of Modern Art's film library will be shown by the Film Classic Club every other Thursday night provided the Club secures enough membership subscriptions from interested persons to be able to order the films immediately.

The films are scheduled to be shown in the Roland Parker Lounges of Graham Memorial beginning Nov. 17 and continuing every other Thursday night through March 30.

The first program will include "Don Juan's Wedding," "Miser-Understood," "The Golem," and "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari."

Of the nine films the club will show all but two will be sound films. On the schedule are such films as a March of Time movie, "The Road to Life," a Movietone News, Walt Disney's "Steamboat Willie," "All Quiet on the Western Front," "Anna Christie," "What Price Glory" and two Marx Brothers films.

The club will also present a German psychological movie entitled "M" and starring Peter Lorre.

The $3.50 membership fee for the club will entitle a member to see all the programs. Subscriptions should be mailed immediately to Film Classic Club, Box 1062, Chapel Hill.

UDC Saves Salute

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9—(P)—The United Daughters of the Confederacy voted today to retain the present brief salute to the Confederate flag.

It reads: "I salute the Confederate flag with affection, reverence and undying remembrance."

Under a barrage of "nays" the 56th annual convention buried a move to consider the addition of "no nation lost so pure and white, nor fell so free from stain."

Coed Senate Votes Not To Call Meet For Orientation

The Coed Senate will not call a compulsory mass meeting of women students, despite an official Orientation Committee go-ahead on the matter, Speaker Pat Stanford said yesterday.

Pix Deadline For Yack Is Mon. Night

Yucky Yack Editor Bill Claybrook yesterday gave students an extension of time to choose their official pictures from proofs, but he warned that the deadline would be extended no further.

The time set is Monday night at 9 o'clock, after which all proofs will be sent back and selections of final pictures will be made by the photographers, Waller and Smith of Raleigh.

All proofs are available now in the main lounge of Graham Memorial, Claybrook said. Representatives of the photographic studio are on hand from 10 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock every evening to aid students.

The desk in the student union will close at 7 o'clock Friday night, however, and will not be open either Saturday or Sunday.

Claybrook said yesterday that over 4,200 individual student photographs were taken by the Raleigh photographers. He said this was 500 photographs short of the 4,700 pictures goal the Yack staff had set at the beginning of this school year.

On the subject of group pictures, the Yack editor urged all organizations which have signed pictures contracts and have not had their pictures made to make appointments at the yearbook office in Graham Memorial immediately.

Any students who have campus snapshots or any pictures of interests were asked to bring them to the Yack office for inclusion in the 1950 book.

Lines at this year's photo sittings moved faster than any lines on campus they had ever been in, said some students. The Waller-Smith photographers took an average of one sitting—four poses—every two minutes.

Queen Entries Deadline Set For Friday Parade

Entries for the queen of the "Beat Duke" float parade, scheduled to be held here next Friday, must be in by 6 o'clock tomorrow, Charlie Smith, chairman of the parade arrangements, said yesterday.

Any organization that enters a float in the annual parade is eligible to sponsor a coed in the queen contest, Smith said. No organization can enter a coed, however, unless it enters a float in the parade.

The parade is sponsored by the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and is an annual event at the Duke weekend. The series began 17 years ago as a poster parade, but two years ago was changed to a series of floats. Twenty-eight floats were entered in the contest last year by men and women's dormitories and fraternities and sororities.

This is the first year that a "queen contest" has been sponsored. The girls in the contest will be judged Tuesday night at the Pika House by a committee of five judges. The girl selected as queen will ride Friday on a special float, built by the Pika's. The float will carry a placard with her name and her sponsoring organization.

Also, for the first time this year, trophies won by the prize winning floats will be retained by the organizations permanently. The trophies awarded last year have been engraved with the winning group's name and will be returned to the organization. Aycock dorm, Smith dorm, Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and the Chi Omega sorority won the

The Senate voted unanimously at its Tuesday night session not to call such a meeting but decided to hold a non-compulsory pre-election coed rally instead. The meeting would have been restricted to a reading and explanation of election laws. The rally will include speeches by candidates for all coed posts under the jurisdiction of the Senate.

The Senate had received permission to call a meeting from the Orientation committee last week, but with the permission came a plea from Committee Chairman Al Lowenstein that it not hold such a meeting because it would be "discriminatory" to coeds.

He said that the Committee gave its permission only because it did not want to exercise an arbitrary authority over the Senate. Under a Student Council decision, it is up to the Orientation Committee to give permission to the Senate to call compulsory meetings for the purpose of orientation.

The non-compulsory will be held on Nov. 21. At its session, the Senate sent a request to the Women's Interdormitory Council for it to turn over one of the regular compulsory house meetings to members of the Senate so that they could explain election laws.

Doubt Japan Treaty Ready By December

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—(P)—Undersecretary of State Webb made clear today that all responsible departments of the government are hard at work on the problems involved in drafting a Japanese peace treaty.

But he said in response to questions that he personally doubted whether a treaty draft could be completed by Dec. 1.

He said consultations with other governments might be held here and the United States makes its final decisions.

Discussion of the Japanese treaty came up at a news conference.

Freikoerperkulturbewegung Split

The parade is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock Friday, Smith said, and will leave from Woolen Gymnasium on a march through Chapel Hill which will cover nine tenths of a mile. The University Marching Band will escort the floats.

Russian Zone Nudists Want To Talk Communism While Enjoying Nature; Others Just Play Bare

BERLIN, Nov. 9—(P)—Now the cold war has split German nudism in a political chink. Seventeen thousand Berliners agree on mixed recreation without even a fig leaf. But they squabble like the U.N. Assembly over East-West politics.

Ten-thousand nudists in the Allied sectors want to exclude all ideologies from their hobby. Seven-thousand in the Soviet sector want to aid Stalinism at the same time as their physiques.

So the 49-year-old Freikoerperkulturbewegung—Free body culture movement—looks like lumpy dumpty. Split into pieces, its unity is gone.

Carrying on in West Berlin is the Helios Club, with an all-year program of sports in a birthday suit.

Until October, German nudists of both sexes and all ages frolicked on a tree-ringed playground in the Gruenewald in the British sector.

C Of P Fans Want Le Baron For Big Team

Caravan Chants At Newspaper On West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9—(P)—Four-hundred yelling, chanting College of the Pacific students came 80 miles by auto caravan today to boom their quarterback, Eddie Le Baron, for All-America.

They went further: They suggested undefeated Pacific ought to go to the Rose Bowl—a prize which automatically goes to the Pacific Coast conference champion.

The caravan of 96 horn-tooting, banner-bedecked cars jammed traffic in front of the Chronicle building. Students shouted: "We want Le Baron!"

Chronicle Sports Editor Bill Leiser was hanged in effigy on the Pacific campus last week because he favors California's Bob Celeri over Le Baron for All America.

The students demanded of Leiser: "What do you think of Le Baron?"

"You can find out any morning for 7 cents," (price of his paper) Leiser called down from a third-floor window.

Asked to compare Celeri and Le Baron, Leiser called back: "Eddie'd have a better chance if he were at California" (because it's a big time university).

"Politics, politics, politics," the students chanted.

Students asked why Leiser didn't get C. O. P. a game with a school such as California or Santa Clara. Leiser replied he had tried and would keep trying.

Koral Heads Wood Shop

Dick Koral, University graduate who is studying to take his bar exams, has been appointed manager of the newly-opened carpentry shop in the basement of Graham Memorial. Director Jim Rathburn said yesterday.

The shop, which is open to all students, faculty members and administration, will be open daily from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 11 o'clock at night.

A charge of 25 cents an hour will be made to help defray costs. No one, however, will be charged more than $10 a quarter.

The shop is equipped with power and hand tools such as an electric jigsaw, a bench saw, a power drill and a flexible shaft with attachments.

"The shop may be used for making anything from tables and bookcases to rat traps," Rathburn said.

Wood will be available for sale in the shop, or patrons of the shop may furnish their own.

The shop is located in the north end of the basement of Graham Memorial.

During the fall and winter they meet twice a week for swim-fests and gymnastics at a western indoor sports center, from which non-nudists temporarily are barred.

Allied officers and civilians who have membership papers in nudist clubs in their home countries are welcomed by the Helios. At least a dozen have attended nudist events here in the last year.

Old rules of the Freikoerperkulturbewegung, when it was founded in Germany in 1900, are strictly enforced by Helios. No age limit is set, but older nudists must promise to engage actively in sports.

Polgar Wows Big Audience; Show Tonight

By Chuck Hauser
A gentleman by the name of Polgar, took the campus by storm, as usual, again last night.

Frank J., his initials are, and his mental telepathy and hypnotism show, which will be given in Memorial Hall again at 8 o'clock this evening, packed some 1,800 persons into the capacity-filled auditorium.

The Student Entertainment Committee was the sponsor, and SEC Chairman Charlie Gibson praised the audience for being "extremely cooperative" as they entered the hall, remembering the near stampede which occurred at the Burl Ives show last month.

Gibson said students who did not see the show last night may get into tonight's performance by showing their University ID cards and athletic passbooks at the door when they open at 7 o'clock. At 7:40 students who come back to see the show again will be admitted, along with paying townspeople, faculty members, and student wives. The price of admission for those "outsiders" is $1.

The show will go on during the day, too, it was revealed last night. Polgar used post-hypnotic suggestion on William Benbow of Winston-Salem, who will get into the act again today.

A word to the wise: Be around the back steps of South Building at 12 noon on the dot and join in the fun. Benbow is also scheduled for an interesting pingpong match with the amazing Dr. Polgar at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Woolen Gymnasium.

Another favorite of Polgar's last night was Lacy Bell of Currie. The arch hypnotist had him practically jumping through hoops before the show was over.

The highlight of the evening was Polgar's "x-ray glasses" stunt. That trick, which was well remembered from the hypnotist's last year's performance, consists of telling his subjects that the pair of glasses enables them to see through all types of cloth.

All the spellbound males on the stage were even more spellbound as they took long and close looks at the audience, especially the female contingents. Benbow took a lengthy glance at a young lady on the stage, then, looking at himself, decided to hide behind a chair while he took in the rest of the sights.

Headquarters for the DTH Bureau will be the Statler Hotel.

Students Can Not Use Durham Street Parking

Durham police yesterday repeated their warning of a few weeks ago that no parking will be permitted in the streets of Durham by students who intend to drive to Durham prior to catching their train to New York for the football weekend.

Cars will be ticketed and moved, if they are found parked for the weekend, the police department said.

In view of this warning and the resulting inconvenience to students, the University Club has reserved space at the Downtown Service Center in Durham in which automobiles may be parked.

There will be a flat rate of $1 charged for the entire weekend, a University Club spokesman said yesterday.

Chungking Position Threatened By Reds

CHUNGKING, Nov. 9—(P)—Chinese Nationalist troops today recoiled from Red attacks about 150 miles east of Chungking and many were saying this gloomy city's days as a Nationalist capital are short.

Furthermore, Chungking's position was being undermined by a rapid Communist drive into Kweichow province to the south.

Track and field meets are a regular summer feature. But girl contestants do not engage in races longer than 100 meters.

Winter swimming is highly regarded by nudists. They pay 50 pfennigs each (12 cents) for communal use of a pool. Club dues are only 1.50 west marks (36 cents) a month.

A membership committee solemnly watches over group conduct. Men having "too high blood pressure" are made to leave.

Nudists from business and professional classes usually are shy about their identities being made public, so club rolls are kept secret. Helios officers, however, claim that even a clergyman is a member in good standing. They add:

Pep Rally Set Tonight In Warmup For ND

Airmail DTH Set For ND Weekend; Staff Announced

Final plans for the Daily Tar Heel airmail editions for the Notre Dame game were announced yesterday by DTH Managing Editor Chuck Hauser.

A total of 4,000 papers will be delivered to New York by Eastern Air Line planes on Saturday and Sunday mornings, and distributed to hotels where the estimated more than 2,200 UNC students will be staying.

The papers will arrive at LaGuardia Field at 7:55 each morning and be in the lobbies of the hotels, and at the Times Square newsstand by 9:30. Papers will also be available at Yankee Stadium Saturday and Penn Station Sunday.

The DTH airmail editions will be the only airborne newspapers ever delivered from south of the Mason-Dixon line.

Also announced with the mailing plans was the setup of the New York Bureau of the UNC paper. Sports Editor Bill Carmichael will be in overall charge. Roy Parker, Jr. will head news department and handle circulation.

Members of sports and news staffs who will byline press stories from the city include Buddy Vaden, Frank Allston, Lew Chapman, Don Maynard, Zane Robbins, Joe Cherry, Andy Taylor, Wuff Newell, Bill Johnson, Jo Taylor, Ronald Tilley, Larry Fox, and Glenn Harder.

Headquarters for the DTH Bureau will be the Statler Hotel.

Students Can Not Use Durham Street Parking

Durham police yesterday repeated their warning of a few weeks ago that no parking will be permitted in the streets of Durham by students who intend to drive to Durham prior to catching their train to New York for the football weekend.

Cars will be ticketed and moved, if they are found parked for the weekend, the police department said.

In view of this warning and the resulting inconvenience to students, the University Club has reserved space at the Downtown Service Center in Durham in which automobiles may be parked.

There will be a flat rate of $1 charged for the entire weekend, a University Club spokesman said yesterday.

ND Poster Parade To Begin at Noon

Parade Chairman Jerry Sternberg yesterday said the 21 organizations entered in the New York poster parade and contest will form in line at noon at 164th and River Street according to their numbers which he assigned.

Each poster should be plainly marked with the name and number of the sponsoring organization, Sternberg said, so that parade judge Kay Kyser may identify the winner.

The entering organization and their numerical position in the parade are: (1) Mangum Dorm, (2) Chi O, (3) Beta, (4) Phi Delta Chi, (5) Kappa Sig, (6) Phi Kappa Sig, (7) Phi Gam, (8) ATO, (9) TMA, (10) Chi Phi, (11) DKE, (12) Tri-Delt, (13) Lambda Chi, (14) Pi Kappa Phi, (15) Chi Psi, (16) Manley Dorm, (17) Sigma Chi, (18) AD-Pi, (19) ZBT, (20) Theta Chi, and (21) Alpha Gam.

Pledge Bids May Be Picked Up Today

Pledging bids for campus social fraternities may be picked up from today on at the Dean of Students office, second floor of South Building, for those men who failed to pick their bids up in Gerrard Hall yesterday.

"We wish to destroy the illusion that sports in the nude are for dangerous political radicals. We are respectable people."

Torch Parade, Team Sendoff Also Scheduled

Students to Follow Team to Durham For Farewell Rally

A pep rally, torchlight parade and a rousing team send-off are on today's agenda of activities drawn up by the University Club for the Carolina - Notre Dame football week.

Head Cheerleader Norm Sper and his crew kicked the lid off the pre-game activities yesterday afternoon on Navy Field with a warm-up pep rally to cheer the Tar Heels in practice.

Another rally is slated for tonight at 6:30 in front of the Monogram Club where the team will board the bus that will take them to Durham to entrain for New York.

After opening the night's spirit-raising activities, all students with cars will follow the team's bus to the Durham station. Here the torches will be handed out and an abbreviated parade centering around the station and immediate vicinity will begin.

More cheers will follow as the team boards its train at 7:30, and starts the long journey to Gotham. A huge banner has been prepared by the University Club and will be placed on the side of the Tar Heel sleeper.

On its arrival in New York, the team will go directly to the Concourse Plaza Hotel where the players will be quartered throughout their stay in the Big Town.

Another pep rally will be staged at Times Square at 8 o'clock Friday night to further kindle the Tar Heel fire. Following the rally the Carolinians will move to Greenwich Village for an informal party that has been planned at "Nick's."

Alumni Booth In NY Hotel

Alumni Secretary Maryon J. (Spike) Saunders yesterday revealed plans for a registration booth for University alumni in the Statler Hotel, New York.

Saunders issued his statement along with other information concerning the alumni plans in New York. He said that the booth will be on the mezzanine of the Statler, and added that no formal plans have been made and that no reservations are required for any phase of the activities set up by the Alumni Association.

The alumni secretary said that Acting President Carmichael, Chancellor House, Business Manager Teague, and other University officials will be on hand to greet the alumni in an informal get-together.

The University Club will probably set up a general information booth in the Statler in conjunction with the Alumni Association's booth, Saunders revealed.

Saunders also announced plans for a smoker meeting of the Washington, D. C. Alumni Association on Thursday night in Washington's Willard Hotel. Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray of Winston-Salem, is president of the Capitol City association and will be master of ceremonies.

Buses to N.Y.

Students riding on the University Club sponsored, non-stop bus to New York were requested to be at the Y court at 7:30 sharp tonight by UC President Jack Holcombe.

"Don't hesitate to come down to the Y," Holcombe said, "there's plenty of room for everyone."
