

IRISH SURGE LATE TO WIN, 42-6

HALFBACK DICK BUNTING, playing in place of the injured Charlie Justice, is shown plunging over the goal line minutes after yesterday's game in Yankee Stadium got under way. The score was 6-0, Carolina. Irish center Jerry Groom is hanging onto Bunting, and coming up too late to help as guard John Helwig (49) and halfback John Pettibon (23). The final score was 42-6 in favor of the Irish. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

IRISH GUARD JOHN HELWIG (49) knocks down a Tar Heel pass on the goal line to break up a strong Carolina scoring threat. The action came in the second quarter as the visitors from Chapel Hill desperately tried to steal a comfortable lead on the Irish before the ball game went too far. If you haven't noticed, that tall young man in back with the big nose and the very puzzled expression on his face is Art Weiner, the Tar Heels' All America end. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Students Back Team To Limit With Cheering

Band, Card Stunts Are Great Success As NYC Succumbs

By Roy Parker, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 12—It was great while it lasted and fine when all was lost. That about describes the spirit of the University student fans who backed their magnificent team from the student section in right field bleachers of Yankee Stadium today.

It was the cheeringest bunch of Carolina rooters ever to be assembled. A solid mass of blue hats, Confederate flags and screaming Tar Heel partisans gave their all from the great opening minutes of the game until the dreary end.

New Yorkers, who were still trying to get over the Times Square pep rally that made history, got so enthused over the antics of the Tar Heel fans, their band and their card stunts, that even a few of the hardened "Subway Alumni" cheered when finally overwhelmed by the UNC spirit.

Earl Slocum's boys matched halftime stunts with the Notre Dame band, and came out on top. Naturally during the band stunting there was also the Norm Sper special card stunts and they came off perfectly, despite the crowded condition of the student section.

Confederate flags were more in evidence at the game than at any time with practically every Tar Heel fan boasting one of the starred-and-barred banners. The flag has become so commonplace around this capital of Yankeeeland, that Brooklyn game token hawkers were doing a rush office business selling them, although one of them admitted he "Tho't it was de school flag or someting."

The cheering of the UNC section was more than a match for the rest of the 67,000 fans who witnessed the game. The Tar Heel team received screaming ovation practically every time it came out of the huddle and the whole atmosphere was charged with an anti-in-pants attitude with most of the students standing up during the entire game.

The traditional end-of-game singing of "Hark The Sound" came out with such gusto that several thousand of the rabid New York fans stopped dead in their hurried tracks for the gate to listen, despite the fact that the Notre Dame band was giving out with the Irish fight song.

Team Not Ashamed After Losing Game

By Larry Fox
NEW YORK, Nov. 12—The final score was a dismal 42-6, but the Tar Heel team seemed to feel no shame was necessary for their showing against Notre Dame here this afternoon as they gathered in their locker room after the game.

Fighting Irish All Smiles After Victory

By Frank Allston, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 12 — Notre Dame's dressing room, deep within Yankee Stadium was a scene of complete jubilation following the Irish victory over Carolina's proud sons of Dixie.

The green-shirted warriors were bruised and cut as they came into the room. Most of them managed a smile despite their fatigued condition.

Coach Frank Leahy, chewing a stick of gum viciously, was all smiles as he was surrounded by a swarm of Notre Dame alumni, well-wishers and newspaper men. The youthful appearing head mentor of the South Bend gridiron machine had his usual cheery greeting for anyone who entered the room.

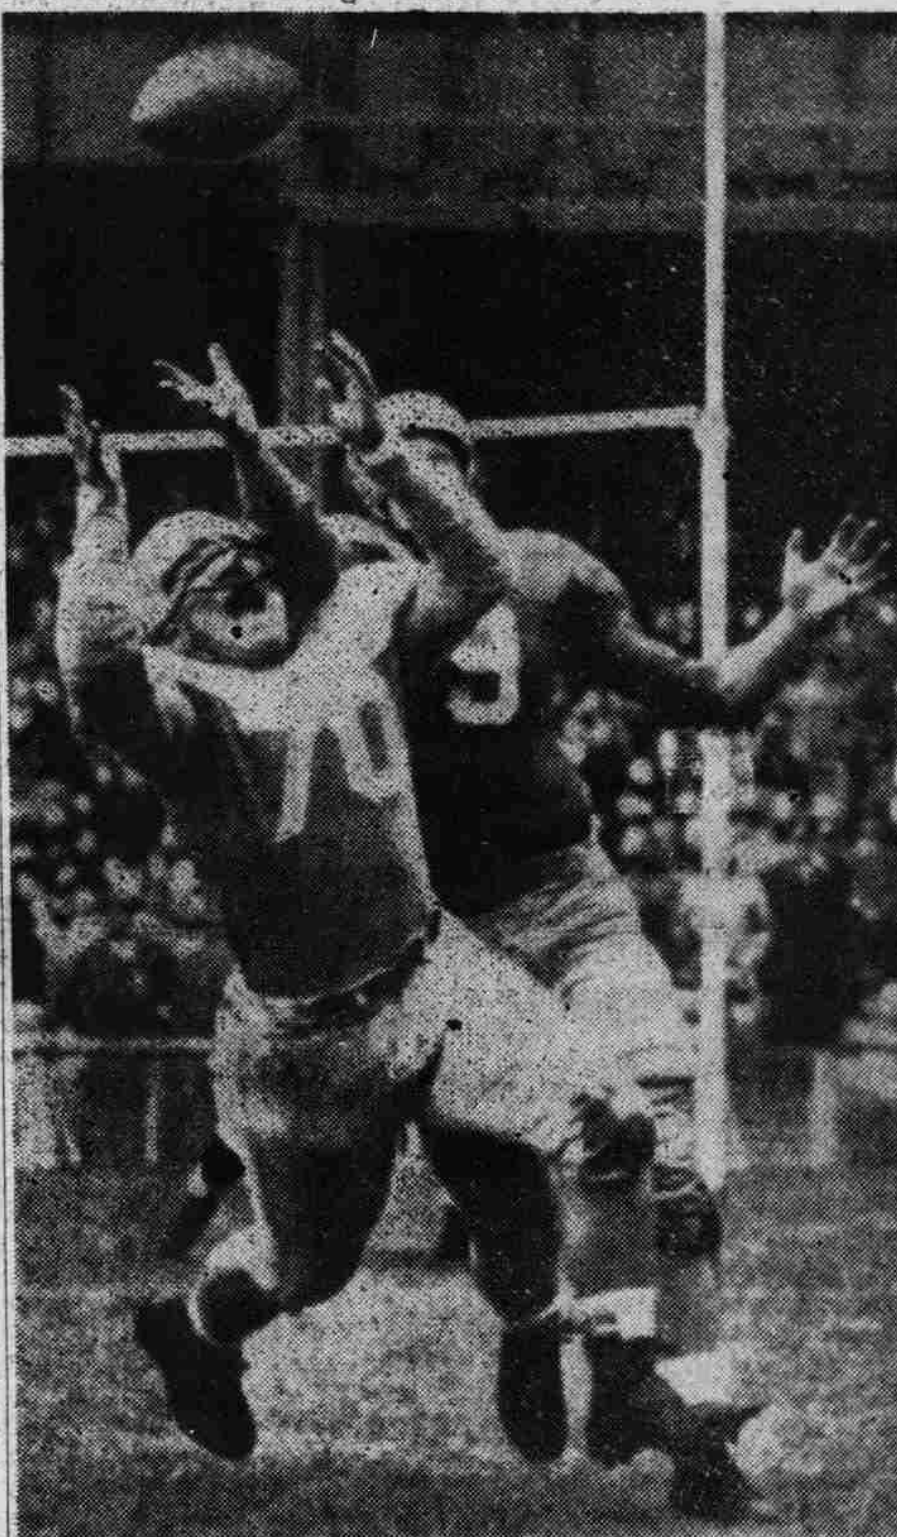

Leahy was the dominating figure in the dressing room as he reshaped today's big game. "Our lads did a fine job." (See IRISH, page 4)

Crowd Sees First Half End In 6-6 Deadlock

By Buddy Vaden

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Nov. 12— There was no justice here today for the band of 45 fun-loving country boys from Chapel Hill who had come to the Big City to show some 76,000 fans how football can be played in the land of sunshine.

For three fast-moving periods the Tar Heels were the talk of New York. They had successfully bottled up the fighting Irish of Notre Dame. But in the fourth quarter the Carolina contingent fell apart at the seams and allowed the power-laden Irish to score four touchdowns and go ahead to win, 42-6.

THIS ACTION LED TO North Carolina's only score against the Irish of Notre Dame in Yankee Stadium in New York yesterday afternoon. Tar Heel Joe Dudeck (70) recovered the ball which was in the air after Kenny Powell blocked a Notre Dame punt. Irish halfback Bob Williams is behind Dudeck, also straining for the elusive pigskin. The action came just two minutes after the game started. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Justice Sits It Out In Battle Of Year

By Billy Carmichael III

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Nov. 11 — The limp in Charlie Justice's leg left a lump in the throats of the majority of the 67,000 who witnessed the Tar Heel-Irish classic.

Justice, suffering from a severe ankle injury received against William and Mary last Saturday, dressed for the game that he might be with his team mates when they met the mighty Notre Dame.

Justice appeared during the pre-game warmup period with the rest of the Tar Heels, but simply went through the motions. He could hardly hobble.

And when it came time for the toss, the Choo Choo affixed his helmet and limped to the center of the field where he lost the flip to Irish co-captains, Jim Martin and Leon Hart. It just wasn't Charlie's day.

After Carolina's surprising quick touchdown at the start of the game, Justice entered the game to hold the ball for Abie Williams.

And in the second half, the Choo made his second and last appearance. He substituted into the game during a time out period.

to argue the Tar Heel case that resulted in a safety after Bill Hayes had dropped the ball attempting to pass and had it roll into his own end zone.

Both times on the field, Justice received wild applause. He was, if nothing else, a spiritual lift to his team and his followers. But he was a pathetic sight to behold. No one wanted to see Justice in the ball game as much as Charlie did himself.

Throughout the game the Choo limped up and down the sidelines, shouting words of encouragement and occasional instruction. But he couldn't play.

Coming Home

The tired Tar Heels who fought their hearts out to hold the powerful Irish of Notre Dame to a half-time 6-6 deadlock will be coming home this morning, well in advance of the thousands of students, faculty members and alumni who went to New York with them. The estimated time of arrival by train at Greensboro is 9:40, and the team's buses should roll up to Woollen Gymnasium some time before 11 o'clock.

The Tar Heels started the ball game in a manner that had Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy shaking in his boots and Gotham's press legions wondering why they had wished it was Army and not Carolina providing the opposition for the all-mighty Irish.

Carolina was the first to score and the 35,000 faithful fans and 2,300 cheering students had visions of an upset greater than the Truman victory of 1948. The Tar Heels were without the services of All-America Charlie Justice with the exception of three brief moments when old 22 came into the ball game, twice to explain the fundamentals of football to the officials and once to hold for Egbert Williams' extra point try.

Only two minutes and 35 seconds had passed before the Carolina boys were ahead by six points. Carolina had kicked off to the Irish and they were holed up deep in their own territory. Bob Williams kick from the 17 was blocked by tackle Dave Wiley and recovered by Carolina. From there it took only two plays for the inspired Carolinians to score.

Tailback Dick Bunting, who would have looked like Justice had he been wearing jersey number 22, sliced the right side for four to the five, then on the next play he cut through the right side again and into the middle to score, with green jerseys falling off behind Williams extra point try was wide.

For the next 17 minutes and five seconds Tar Heels ruled the roost, much to the bewilderment of the Notre Dame subway fans. But at 4:40 of the second period the Irish broke the ice and tied the ball game up at six-all. The Tar Heels had advanced to the Notre Dame one, but a penalty and two losses on running plays broke up the scoring threat.

The Irish, after staving off Carolina's scoring threat early in the second period, took over on their own nine-yard line and with the aid of a beautiful 78-yard run by Francis Spaniel, scored to tie up the game. Larry Coutre advanced the ball to the Irish 17, Emil Sitko carried to the 22, and Coutre ran one just for kicks. Then Spaniel took off with beautiful downfield blocking to go all the way.

Carolina guard Dick Bestwick blocked the extra point try by Steve Oracko. The score remained the same until the half ended. The Irish had control of the ball for the better part of the remaining time left, but the Tar Heels stubbornly refused to let anything even resembling a football (See GAME, page 3)

Football Scores

| | | | |
|-----------------|----|----------------|----|
| 22 Notre Dame | 6 | North Carolina | 6 |
| 21 NC State | 14 | Wake Forest | 14 |
| 35 Duke | 0 | Georgia Tech | 0 |
| 20 Auburn | 0 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 20 Alabama | 6 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 14 Army | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 30 Ohio State | 17 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 35 Wisconsin | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 34 SMU | 6 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 35 Tennessee | 7 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 27 Oklahoma | 7 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 24 Minnesota | 7 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 34 Navy | 0 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 13 Rice | 0 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 20 Michigan | 7 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 14 Maryland | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 16 Dartmouth | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 21 Princeton | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 28 Brown | 14 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 20 Boston Col. | 12 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 41 Tulane | 14 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 14 TCU | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 39 Northwestern | 20 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 25 Oregon St. | 20 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 41 California | 13 | Georgia Tech | 20 |
| 47 UCLA | 28 | Georgia Tech | 20 |

Grid Statistics Chart

| | Notre Dame | N.C. | Williams | 6 | 24 | 23 | 1 | 3.8 |
|-------------------------|------------|------|---------------------------------------|----|----|----|-----|-----|
| First downs | 19 | 9 | Hart | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0.0 |
| Rushing | 10 | 5 | Zaleski | 4 | 10 | 1 | 9 | 2.3 |
| Passing | 8 | 3 | Gay | 2 | 8 | 0 | 8 | 4.0 |
| Penalties | 1 | 1 | Begley | 1 | 2 | 0 | 2 | 2.0 |
| Net yards rushing | 285 | 45 | N.C. | | | | | |
| Yards lost | 25 | 37 | Bunting | 16 | 48 | 39 | 9 | 5.5 |
| Net yards passing | 238 | 52 | Hayes | 11 | 38 | 0 | 38 | 3.5 |
| Passes attempted | 26 | 17 | Verechick | 7 | 15 | 18 | -3 | -4 |
| Passes completed | 15 | 7 | Hesner | 1 | 4 | 9 | 4 | 4 |
| Behind the line | 0 | 0 | Gantt | 1 | 0 | 2 | -2 | -2 |
| Passes intercepted by | 1 | 3 | Carson | 1 | 0 | 5 | 5 | 5 |
| Yds. interceptions ret. | 84 | 49 | Weiner | 1 | 4 | 0 | 4 | 4 |
| Number of punts | 3 | 3 | | | | | | |
| Returned by | 4 | 1 | Passing Att. Compl. Int. Yd. Td. Pts. | | | | | |
| Blocked by | 6 | 35.4 | Williams | 23 | 14 | 3 | 215 | 3 |
| Number of kickoffs | 6 | 4 | Mazur | 3 | 1 | 0 | 19 | 1 |
| Returned by | 46.8 | 35.3 | North Carolina | | | | | |
| Yards lost on penalties | 58 | 108 | Hayes | 14 | 5 | 1 | 31 | 0 |
| Punts | 20 | 10 | Bunting | 3 | 2 | 0 | 21 | 0 |
| Field goals attempted | 38 | 1 | Pass Receiving | | | | | |
| Field goals | 1 | 0 | Notre Dame | | | | | |
| Ball lost | 1 | 4 | Wightkin | 2 | 19 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Number of penalties | 10 | 30 | Coutre | 2 | 33 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Yards lost on penalties | 80 | 30 | Hart | 4 | 61 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Final score | 42 | 6 | Spaniel | 2 | 4 | 32 | 0 | 0 |
| Touchdowns | 6 | 1 | Barrett | 2 | 81 | 3 | 0 | 0 |
| Conversions | 4 | 0 | Gay | 1 | 12 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Field goals | 0 | 0 | North Carolina | | | | | |
| Safeties | 1 | 0 | Weiner | 3 | 29 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| | | | Powell | 1 | 5 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| | | | Knox | 2 | 21 | 0 | 0 | 0 |

| | Notre Dame | N.C. | Punting | | No. | Av. |
|------------------------|------------|------|----------------|---|------|------|
| Individual Statistics | | | Notre Dame | | | |
| N.D. Carried Gain Lost | 135 | 8.4 | Williams | 3 | 29.3 | 21.5 |
| Spaniel | 16 | 126 | 1 | | | |
| Sitko | 14 | 61 | 1 | | | |
| Barrett | 8 | 45 | 0 | | | |
| Coutre | 7 | 25 | 0 | | | |
| | | | North Carolina | | | |
| | | | Bunting | 5 | 38.2 | 28.5 |
| | | | Clements | 2 | | |