

Parking Head Asks New Solution To Problem

Chancellor House Appoints Dr. Jones Welfare Counsellor

Dr. Clairborne S. Jones of the Zoology Department has been appointed Student Welfare Counsellor for the Dean of Students office by Chancellor R. B. House, Acting Dean of Student Bill Friday said yesterday.

Dr. Jones will deal mainly with fraternities, student government, and campus organizations, and will continue to meet his regular classes in zoology, Friday said. "We are particularly happy to have him with us," said the Acting Dean.

Friday's new man Friday is from Petersburg, Va., and took his A.B. at Hampden-Sydney College, summa cum laude, in 1935. He received his M.A. in 1940, and his Ph.D. in 1944, both from the University of Virginia, where he taught biology for two years.

He has been a professor of zoology here since 1944, and an associate professor since 1946. He is now doing teaching and research with the Department of Zoology; he is on the Administrative board of the School of Medicine, and the Administrative Board of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Jones is chairman of the Advisory Board of the YMCA, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Retirement Endowment Committee of the faculty.

He is also Zoology Department adviser to undergraduate majors in zoology and medical technology, and treasurer and executive committee member of the American Association of University Professors, Chapel Hill chapter.

Jones is a Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and a member of the American Society of Zoologists.

He married Annie Goodwyn Boisseau in 1940, and has two children.

Dr. Clairborne S. Jones, was appointed yesterday Student Welfare Counsellor for the Dean of Students Office by Chancellor House. It will be Dr. Jones' job to deal mainly with fraternities, student government and campus organizations. From Petersburg, Va., he has been a professor of Zoology here since 1940, and associate professor since 1946.

Rehearsals Doing Fine For Musicals

Rehearsals for "Oh, Bury Me Not," western musical comedy to be presented by Sound and Fury Nov. 21 and 22 in Memorial Hall, are coming along very satisfactorily, according to director Mike Casey. Special emphasis is being placed on the songs and dances and Choreographer Marty Jacobs has been putting out extra effort to perfect the routines used in the show.

Colorful western costumes, designed by Marty Jacobs, are now being prepared for rollicking, rip-roaring musical comedy. Bob Thomas, who has one of the leads in the show, had a featured role in "Mardi Gras" which was presented by Sound and Fury last Fall. Larry Pearce, who is also featured in the show, is well known on the campus for his ability to handle comedy roles.

Tickets for "Oh, Bury Me Not" are on sale in the "Y" lobby and in the dormitories. Students are urged to note that curtain time is 8 o'clock which is a half hour earlier than the usual curtain time.

'Rain' Playwrights Trail-Blazers Of Morality Through Psychology

By Mark Sumner

Though their drama is as true and moving as it was when first launched on a two-year run in New York and a four-year country-wide tour, John Colton and Clemence Randolph blazed a trail in stage writing that is being followed by most playwrights of today. They are the authors of "Rain," which will be presented for a six night run by the Carolina Playmakers on November 29.

What they did was to pioneer the type of playwrighting that discloses man's morality through modern psychology. Basing their play on W. Somerset Maugham's story called "Sadie Thompson," Colton and Miss Randolph led the way for a more mature and entertaining theater of greater realism. "Rain" is the realistic story of Rev. Davidson, a missionary married to an unloved and unloving wife, who carries his re-

Legislature Hears Dilemma Of Committee

Passes $250 Bill For Book Costs; OK's Appointments

By Roy Parker, Jr.

"We have reached the end of our rope," University Safety Committee head Joe Bach told the Student Legislature last night as he asked the group to submit suggestions to the Committee on how to do something about the campus parking problem.

Bach admitted that the only solution in all probability would be the removal of the right of certain students to keep cars on campus. He announced that a definite decision would be reached on Dec. 1 by the Safety Committee on what to recommend to the Chancellor for forwarding to the Board of Trustees. Until then, all campus organizations are urged to submit solutions and suggestions to the group through the dean of Students Office, he said.

A bill appropriating $250 to defray the costs of printing an extra 2,000 copies of "Student Control Since 1795," was one of the formal actions of the solons. The amount was cut by the Finance Committee from an original $446.37. The bill passed by a 29-5 roll call vote after two hours of discussion and debate.

In his report on the parking problem, Bach pointed out that the available parking space, now at about 800 spaces, would shrink appreciably when the Commerce School additions were erected in the present parking lot behind Memorial Hall and that there seemed, regrettably, no other course to take but restrictions on campus car ownership. He asserted that his main purpose was, however, to get all suggestions and ideas from as many groups as possible.

The passage of the $250 appropriation bill came after both Treasurer Nat Williams and Attorney-General John Sanders admitted that, although Student Government had made no formal agreement with the administration to help meet the cost of the pamphlet, it did have a strong moral obligation, since most of the booklets had been used for orientation purposes.

The Dean of Students Office had ordered an indefinite number of the pamphlets this summer, with an apparent understanding that student government would meet some of the costs. The Orientation Committee, apparently without the knowledge of the Dean's office, ordered 1700 extra pamphlets.

Williams and Sanders both asserted that the exact details of the incurring of the moral obligation will be discussed in a later issue. (See PARKING, Page 4)

Pep Rally, Bonfire Slated Tonight; 'Beat Dook' Float Parade Is Today

Sponsor PiKA Announces 27 Are Featured

Queen Unveiling Will Be Highlight Of Annual Affair

The annual "Beat Look" float parade, sponsored by the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, will begin this afternoon at 2 o'clock in front of Wollen Gymnasium.

Late yesterday afternoon, PiKA announced 27 organizations had entered floats in the parade. A winning float sponsored by a fraternity, sorority, men's dormitory trophy will be awarded to the and women's dormitory. The trophies will be awarded at the pep rally tomorrow night by Joyce Reynolds, Hollywood movie actress.

Organizations entered in the parade are: Phi Gam, Kappa Sigma, Beta, Pi Lam, ADPi, Pi Phi, Iri Delt, Chi Phi, Chi O, Sigma Greeks, Smith Dorm, Sigma Chi, Aycock, Alpha Gam, Kappa Epsilon, Phi Kappa Phi, "B" Dorm, TEP, Mangum, Lambda Chi, "A" Dorm, KA, ATO, DKE, SPE, Old West and Graham.

Charlie Smith, chairman of the parade, said he expected some 10 additional floats to be entered before the deadline last night.

The floats will be judged at the gym before they leave the parade. Jack Horner, sports editor of the Durham Herald, Bob Hazel, president of the Duke student body, William Meade Prince, noted artist, and Josephina Nigili, Chapel Hill novelist, will be judges.

A queen of the parade, selected Tuesday night, will ride on a special float in the parade. Her identity will not be disclosed until parade time.

SP To Finish Slate Sunday

The Student Party will plish off its December election slate at a meeting Sunday afternoon, party chairman Fred Thomson said yesterday.

Student Legislature candidates from men's dormitory districts 3 and 4, all men's town district will be chosen at the meeting.

The meet is scheduled for 3 o'clock. It'll be held in Pland Parker lounge 2 in Graham Memorial.

SERVING AS SPONSORS FOR members of the German Club at the annual fall dances to be held tonight and tomorrow night are the above beautiful young women. Formal dances are scheduled in Wollen Gymnasium from 9 until 1 o'clock Friday night and from 9 o'clock until midnight Saturday. Music is being furnished by the famous Gene Krupa band, which will also give a concert from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon in Memorial Hall. Top row: Sissy Rhodes, Charlotte, with Sam Craver, Pi Kappa Alpha; Betsy Ann Barbee, Chapel Hill, with Dick Gordon, Delta Psi; Neely Shannon, Waxhaw, with Fred Deans, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Jean Sloan, Clinton, with Steve Jones, Phi Gamma Delta. Middle row: Betty Cooper, Greensboro, with Wilson Trotter, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Edith Allison, Statesville, with Bill Shelton, Beta Theta Pi; Nancy Reid, Charlotte, with Bob Morrow, Zeta Psi, and Ruth Morrisett, Lynchburg, Va., with Ben Yelverton, Phi Gamma Delta. Bottom row: Elizabeth T. Myatt, Goldsboro, with Roy Holsten, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Sue Walton, Miami, Fla., with Jake Froelich, Beta Theta Pi; Ellyn Pell, Charlotte, with George Blackwelder, Jr., Phi Delta Theta; Dot Rink, Salisbury, with Sonny Herman Alpha Tau Omega; and Suzanne Dawson, Cramerton, with James Hardeon, Kappa Sigma.

Record Enrollment Made In Colleges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Despite another drop in veterans, the nation's colleges this fall enrolled more students than ever before.

Enrollment totaled 2,456,841, the Office of Education reported today. This is an increase of only 48,000 over a year ago. The agency interpreted this as an indication that the big post-war increase in higher education is tapering off.

The number of veterans studying under the G.I. Bill dropped to 856,000, 16 per cent below last year.

The October, 1948, enrollment of 1,022,000 veterans was 9 per cent below the record in the fall of 1947.

More than twice as many men as women—1,728,000 to 728,000—enrolled this fall.

The increase in number of men students over autumn 1948 was less than 1 per cent the number of women students increased almost 5 per cent.

The 10 largest schools and their enrollments: New York University 47,936, University of California 43,426, City College of New York 30,192, Columbia University 29,153, University of Minnesota 25,084, University of Illinois 25,062, Northwestern University 22,822, Ohio State University 22,416, Indiana University 21,826, and the University of Wisconsin 20,796.

Negro institutions enrolled 70,000, a decline of 1.3 per cent. Freshman enrollments declined 6.2 per cent to 372,000 in the universities, colleges and profes-

Hard Debate On Oath Cut At Di Meet

The Dialectic Senate squelched a heated debate on the controversial loyalty oaths question Wednesday night when a motion to lay the measure on the table carried by a roll call vote of 23 to 12. Di spokesmen said yesterday.

The debate was halted at 10:30, the time limit set by Di President Artie Murphey, in order to leave time for a special executive session of the Di before coed hours. Loud opposition to adjournment led to the motion for tabling the question. This was quickly followed by a motion to recess for 20 minutes before a vote could be taken on the motion to table. When the motion for a recess failed 20 to 10, Charlie Long demanded the roll call vote on the motion to table.

Philly Hotels Price Damage

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Virginia rosters caused an estimated $1,200 damage while celebrating the football victory over Pennsylvania Nov. 5, Philadelphia hotelmen said today.

A complete list of damage is being assembled to send to President Colgate Darden of the University of Virginia, Bannett Toussley, president of the Philadelphia Hotel Association, said.

Final Exam Schedule

- Monday, Dec. 12, at 8:30—All 11 o'clock classes
- Monday, Dec. 12, at 2 o'clock—All 1 o'clock classes and Commerce 72
- Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 8:30—All 12 o'clock classes (except Zoology 103)
- Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 2 o'clock—All 2 o'clock classes
- Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 8:30—All 8 o'clock classes
- Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 2 o'clock—All 3 o'clock classes and Commerce 71
- Thursday, Dec. 15, at 8:30—All 9 o'clock classes
- Thursday, Dec. 15, at 2 o'clock—Zoology 103, and all other classes not otherwise provided for in this schedule
- Friday, Dec. 16, at 8:30—Common Examinations (All French, German, and Spanish courses numbered 1,2,3, and 4.)
- Friday, Dec. 16, at 2 o'clock—All 10 o'clock classes

Torch Parade To Touch Off Beat Dooking

Committee Asks For Fire Wood From Students

The bells of South Building will ring out at 7 o'clock tonight calling Tar Heels to the Y Court and the 7:15 torch light parade which precedes the "Beat Dook" pep rally and bonfire.

Approximately 120 torches have been made, Jerry Sternberg, pep rally chairman, said yesterday, to light the way to the intramural field along side Wollen Gym, where a bonfire large enough to "make Duke's look like a campfire" will blaze forth.

Sternberg issued a call for help from willing students to prepare the fire for lighting.

"Students who want to help may come to the intramural field anytime between 1 and 5 o'clock to stack the wood and finish constructing torches," he said.

To those planning to attend the rally, Sternberg asked that they "try and bring boxes, barrels, textbooks, movable buildings or anything that will burn and add it to the fire. Let's make this pep rally-bonfire the biggest success ever!"

The parade will light up at 7:15, then proceed along Cameron Avenue to Raleigh Street, up Raleigh Street to Franklin Street. The band will lead the procession past the shops of Franklin Street to Columbia, where it will turn down and move past the woman's dorms to the intramural field.

At the field, the torches will be used to ignite the bonfire, the first since 1947. Coach Carl Snively will be on hand to speak on the game against the Blue Devils tomorrow in Durham, and the PiKA "Beat Dook" float parade prizes will be awarded.

Plans were underway to obtain crates and packing cases from jobbers and warehousemen in Durham, when a problem was met by the University Club and Norm Sper as they prepared to make the trip to Durham earlier this week.

Duke, also, has a bonfire planned and Sper expected to meet some opposition from the Blue Devils in their hometown. Latest word received was that the race was on for firewood in Durham.

Aquinas Club Plans Party

Following a short business meeting at 8:30 in Graham Memorial Monday night, the Aquinas Club will retire to the Seaford Grill on W. Franklin Street for the remainder of its program.

John Beshara, publicity director of the Club, said refreshments will be served and dancing permitted at the "soiree" in the Grill, located across the street from the bus station and next door to the Cafe Seville. Tom Marikakis, owner of the Grill, has donated use of the restaurant to the Club for the evening.

Late Permission

All coeds attending the Gene Krupa dance tonight may have late permission until 2 o'clock providing they sign out for it. Bobbie Lowe, president of Woman's Interdormitory Council said yesterday.

The permission has been granted by Dean of Women Katherine Carmichael and the Woman's Interdormitory Council.

Pre-Registration

Ed Lanier, director of registration yesterday said only 3,000 students have pre-registered for the winter quarter, 1950. A total of 3,000 more must be pre-registered before the registration office closes tomorrow at 11 o'clock, he said, or else wait until the winter quarter begins and register then.

There will be no pre-registration held during the Thanksgiving holidays, Lanier said.