Cover Girl Contest Ends Today At 5

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the University will have chosen the coed who will represent it in the Collier's Cover Girl contest, and either Carolyn Bishop, Ellyn Pell or Lillian Lawing will be headed for fame in the national contest.

Voting, which has been by ID card since the contest entered the run off stage Thursday, will end this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Alpha Phi Omega, sponsor of the contest on this campus, will announce the name of the University's entrant in the contest which is being entered by six universities.

"To vote a student must present his ID card," Bill Smithson, chairman of the contest, said. "When we have checked him in the Student Directory, we will stamp his card and he may cast his vote."

The three girls in the run off were the ones who collected the most votes during the contest. Carolyn is co-sponsored by Delta Delta Delta sorority and Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Ellyn is sponsored by Kappa Alpha Order, and Lillian is co-sponsored by Chi Omega sorority and Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Invitations

Senior class graduation invitations go on sale for the last time this week today from 9 to 1 o'clock in the Y lobby.

Sales will be made again next week, the Grail said yesterday. The organization is also handling sales of personal calling cards to go with the invitations.

Town Coal Reserve Critical As Cold Wave Shrinks Piles; University Will Keep Warm

By Don Maynard

Chapel Hill's coal situation became sharply critical yesterday afternoon as the mercury dropped to 25 and blustery March winds drove remaining heat from residents' homes.

According to reports from the two coal companies in the Chapel Hill area, supplies are down to 15 to 20 tons of egg-sized coal, hardly enough to last out the weekend, and not suitable for furnace consumption.

H. D. Bennett, of Bennett and Blockside Coal Co., yesterday said he had "about one ton of coal in the yards and we're trying to decide who needs that last one the most."

Bennett said he had hopes of receiving a shipment of coal from West Virginia mines Monday, and that the only hope was for a warmer break in the weather.

E. G. McIver, of the Colonial Ice Co. in Carrboro, yesterday said his company had only some 20 tons still on hand, not suitable for furnace use.

A survey of fraternity and sorority houses late yesterday afternoon showed their stockpiles almost depleted. One fraternity house manager said his house was "just about out of it now." He said the fraternity members were "huddled" about a wood fire in the living room fireplace.

The University, however, has approximately 500 tons in its Service Plant yards, and hopes to receive about four carloads or 240 tons weekly from non-union mines in West Virginia, J. S. Bennett, Director of Operations, said yesterday.

The University heating plant has cut down to a consumption of 40-45 tons, using 4,000 gallons of oil daily to supplement coal supplies. Bennett said the University was still short of coal, but that there was no immediate danger, and that the plant could shift over completely to available oil if coal reserves gave out.

Chapel Hillians awoke yesterday morning to a low 25 degree temperature and winds which sometimes reached velocities of

Hazel Scott To Appear Here For Two-Day Run

By Charlie Brewer

Hazel Scott, sensation of the Student Entertainment Committee series last year, is coming back, and the renowned Negro keyboard artist will appear not just one night, as originally scheduled but on both March 22 and 23 because of a new "reserved seat" system to be tested at this attraction.

Approximately 500 tickets for each evening's concert will be sold. The tickets available for students, student wives, faculty members and townspeople will go on sale at 9 o'clock tomorrow at Graham Memorial, and next week at Ledbetter-Pickard Stationery Store downtown.

These tickets will entitle the bearer to a reserved balcony seat in Memorial Hall on the evening of his choice.

Available in Graham Memorial only will also be 150 special "husband passes" for each night for married students who present their wives' athletic passbook, or other proof of their eligibility.

They may buy one ticket and get one free to sit with their wives in the reserved section. Once these 300 special tickets are gone, however, any other student husbands must buy two tickets if they and their wives are to hold balcony spaces for either Scott recital.

Hazel Scott, a native of Trinidad, came to this country and started her musical career with her mother's all-girl band. She became famous in the night club spotlight of New York, and has since starred in radio and movies.

Scott is the wife of Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. of New York. Her program will combine classical, semi-popular music and her individual styling of boogie-woogie.

"We are putting these tickets on sale now," SEC chairman Charlie Gibson explained, "because Miss Scott will appear the (See HAZEL, page 4)

Last Chance For Entrants To GM Salon

Today is the last day for photograpers to enter pictures in the Graham Memorial Camera Salon.

Pictures should be either 8 by 10 inches or 11 by 14 inches and mounted. All entries should be turned in to the main office in Graham Memorial.

A gift certificate for $10 at Foister's Camera Shop will be the first prize in the contest, director Jim Rathburn said yesterday.

A gift certificate for $5 will be the second prize, and the third prize will also be a $5 gift certificate.

Survey Shows Town Offers Little Recreation; Students Want Opportunity To Meet Each Other

By Wuff Newell

With the exception of the motion picture theaters, Chapel Hill offers very little in the way of positive recreation to the student, according to a survey made by the fall quarter recreation class of Dr. H. D. Meyer and released yesterday.

The survey, which covered 12 places of potential recreation, was made by members of the class. The 12 different individual surveys were then combined into one complete report on recreational facilities in Chapel Hill and on the campus.

Of 75 students questioned on Graham Memorial and the Y lobby, almost all wanted a "more normal opportunity" to meet members of the opposite sex. They felt that this could be accomplished by more informal dances in the Tin Can and in the Y court and by more complete advertising of the available facilities.

"Very few people make use of the recreational facilities offered by Graham Memorial," one answer stated.

Approximately 215 coeds belonging to four sororities were questioned by Ruth Baine, who reported that recreation should include such amusements as playing cards in the dorms, knitting,

UNC Cancer Laboratory Will Be Built

Granted $200,000; Will Be Erected With Med School

WASHINGTON, March 2—A cancer research laboratory will be constructed with the $200,000 grant made to the University by the National Cancer Institute yesterday.

National Institute of Health spokesmen said yesterday that they understood the laboratory would be part of the new four-year medical school at the University. It would be constructed during the building program.

No details on the type or size of the laboratory were available, because of the modifications in the size of the grant.

The University had applied for a much larger grant, informed sources said, and had submitted plans for the use of the money. They would have included an addition to one of the proposed medical buildings.

The $200,000 grant was recommended by the National Advisory Cancer Council, and approved by the U. S. Surgeon General.

At the University, Medical School Dean W. R. Berryhill said yesterday that the grant would be used for construction and equipment only, and that the grant must be cleared through the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

The program will be sent over a closed circuit to several receiving sets to be placed near the mobile unit, which will be parked in front of Swain Hall from noon until 2 o'clock.

Students and townspeople will have the chance to see themselves on television by stepping in front of one of the cameras and looking at their images on the television screens nearby.

In addition, the Harmoneers and Dr. Roy K. Marshall will be telecast. Dr. Marshall appears twice each week on national television networks, but the Harmoneers will make their video debut.

The entire student body and faculty staff are invited to join the Young Democrats in their quarterly square dance at the Tin Can tonight.

The dance, which will begin at 8 o'clock and last until midnight, will be free. Acting President Graham Jones said. Barbecue and drinks will be served at a nominal price during intermission.

Jones said the fiddling will be handled by Cary Lloyd's hillbilly orchestra "from the backwoods of Orange County."

Beside the dancing and the eating, the YDC will observe the "prerogatives" of campus office seekers, and all candidates who attend will be introduced to the crowd for 15-second orations.

Jones said that the YDC executive committee, which includes members of both the UP and the SP, has voted to take as one of its major projects a large turnout in the spring elections.

Jones urged all new YDC members to attend the dance. And he added that even Republicans are welcome.
