

Training Program Set For Tomorrow

First In Series Of Three Talks

Students advisers for fall quarters will begin a training course tomorrow night at 7:30 in 209 Phillips.

A series of three lectures will be held. The first will be given by Jess Dedmond, former student body president, and Dean of Students Bill Friday.

Harry Sherrill, chairman of the Orientation Committee, said the training program will be concerned with the problems of orientation, counseling. Tomorrow night's discussion will be about morale.

"All men who are interested in being orientation counselors should attend the lectures," Sherrill said. "Attendance does not assure a student of a job as counselor, but it will most assuredly be a consideration when the Orientation Committee makes its selections."

Around 150 counselors are expected to be chosen to "teach the ropes" to next fall's incoming students.

The committee which worked out the plans for the training program was appointed by president Bill Mackie, John Sanders, Don VanNoppen and Toby Selby.

Stray Greeks Honor Kids At Egg Hunt

The Stray Greeks claimed "more fun than ever" entertaining 24 Negro children at an Easter egg hunt at the Carolina Community Center yesterday afternoon.

Children, from the ages of 2 to 5 years, searched for hidden candy and genuine eggs on the lawn of the Community Center from 3 until 5 o'clock and were then entertained with games led by members of the Stray Greek organization.

A prize was awarded to the person finding an undyed egg. The Stray Greeks gave the party under the direction of their new officers elected at a recent meeting of the organization.

New Officers of the group are: Jimmy Miller, president; Billie Moore, vice-president; Nancy McVain, secretary; and Edna Matzies, treasurer.

"a nice, plain country boy, just tops. I never heard an unkind thing said about him."

Funeral services for Bennett will be held today at 4 o'clock in Ansonville. Interment will be in Eastview Cemetery in Wadesboro. Funeral arrangements were not complete last night for Smithy.

The mother of the ex-graduate student, Mrs. Naomi Smithy of Arlington, Va., said yesterday, "I was afraid this would happen."

She described her son as "a war casualty" and said he had shown signs of "mental abnormalities" after returning from six years Air Force service in the Pacific. He entered a mental institution at her request several months ago, she said, but left without undergoing treatment.

Life Saving Instruction To Be Given

Beginning Tuesday, a senior life saving course and a water safety course for instructors will be offered in Bowman Gray Pool to all students, Dick Jamerson, head swimming coach, announced last week.

For those interested in taking senior life saving, a meeting will be held in room 304 Woollen Gym at 4:15 Tuesday. This is the only time this quarter that the course will be offered, Jamerson said, and it is essential that all interested persons be on hand for the meeting.

Another meeting will take place in the same room at 5 o'clock for those wishing to take the water safety course. Both of the meetings will concern setting times for classes.

In order to enter the water safety course, one must be 19 years old or over and must have completed the senior life saving course. No exceptions will be made. There is a 30 hour requirement for students who have never qualified for the instructor's course. Those wishing to renew their rating must repeat the last 15 hours.

Students already holding instructors rating desiring to teach the life saving course are requested to be present at the meeting or to contact coach Jamerson. For teaching they will receive credit toward the renewal of the instructors rating.

No makeup classes will be held and no students will be allowed to attend the meeting.

The courses are sponsored in collaboration with the American National Red Cross.

"without any reason." He had been very cordial before then, she said.

Mrs. Pulen was frightened at his actions, she said, and asked if he couldn't find a room somewhere else. That was in September, 1948. The following June, he moved to the Hill residence on Henderson Street, scene of the Bennett killing.

Not much information on his activities is available, because as Mrs. Pullen's daughter, Mrs. Wiley W. Johnston, said, "He was the type you didn't question. If he wanted to talk, he'd talk."

At the Hill home he began to grow increasingly moody, until only a few days ago he was heard accusing Bennett of stealing his rifle. The killing for which Smithey was charged in a warrant sworn out by Chapel Hill police occurred Friday afternoon. Smithey was found a suicide victim yesterday morning at the Forest Outdoor Theater.

He was an excellent student, gaining mostly all A's while in high school, working all the time at odd jobs in town, and marking up for himself a record of high grades as a University student.

mon and they attracted much interest. These two groups produced an amazing number of college presidents, governors, judges lawyers, and professionals in many fields.

In 1923 The Debate Council was set up so that the University could send more teams to other colleges, since inter-collegiate debating was then on the upswing. The Di and Phi continued their intra-collegiate debates as they do now, and the Debate Council each year is chosen in cooperation with the Di and Phi. Debating today in the University is strictly a student function, which is quite different from most colleges where it is often directed by The Department of Speech.

EASTER

Easter 1950

The Church, the dove, the Easter lilies—all symbols of Eternal Peace—are ours this Easter 1950 as long as we desire freedom and equality among the nationalities of the world. Our hopes and prayers for an Eternal Peace will and must be ours this Easter and every following Easter. In our belief and desire for a world in which we can have freedom of religion, thought, and action, we become humble before our Lord and worship Him by our devotion and reverence this anniversary of Christ's resurrection into Heaven.

May we join in extending to you the hope and revelation of a peaceful world and may the joys and happiness of the Easter season be with you as you join men the world over in solemn worship of the glorious resurrection of our Lord, Jesus Christ. May his blessing and guidance be bestowed upon you this Easter, 1950.
