

Tar Heel Nine Meets Wake Forest Here This Afternoon

Cassell Scheduled To Pitch In 3 O'Clock Big Four Tilt

By Larry Fox

Hoping to gain a revenge win over Wake Forest in their home park, the Tar Heel baseballers will send their ace, Dean Cassell, against the Deacs here this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Demon Deacons, defending Southern Conference champions, handed the Tar Heels a 12-6 pasting Wednesday afternoon over in Baptist Hollow. Carolina helped out with eight obnoxious errors, but was able to knock Harry Nicholas out of the box in the sixth inning. Nicholas, veteran Wake Forest righthander, had kept the Tar Heels buffaloed until the sixth when the visitors broke loose for five runs.

Lefty Moe Bauer, another old-timer for the Deacs, will probably do the pitching this afternoon. Possessing a sharp curve ball, Bauer is one of the top-three hurlers for Wake Forest, which has lost only one game this season.

With a left-hander on the mound, Coach Bunn Hearn will probably return Skeet Hesmter to second base. Hesmter was benched in favor of left-handed Dan Whitehead against Nicholas on Wednesday.

Otherwise the Tar Heel lineup will remain the same with either Joe Proctor or Joe Eldridge in left field. Billy Reeves, a sophomore, played some against the Deacs Wednesday and may get a chance to see more action as the season progresses.

Cassell, who has a record of 3-2 for the season, is about the only Tar Heel pitcher who didn't get into the game Wednesday. Ed Gaston started for Carolina and was followed, in order, by Bill McGinn, Hoover Surles, and George Whitted. Whitted was the most effective of the quartet.

Even though Cassell is expected to be able to go the distance against the hard-hitting Deacons, lefthander Henry Schacht will probably be on tap in the bullpen. If Schacht goes, it's anybody's guess who'll follow.

Cassell already has one Big Four victory to his credit. He went nine innings against Duke on Easter Monday and got the 3-2 triumph. The Tar Heels now have a 1-1 record for the local league.

The Deacons, however, have yet to be defeated in Conference competition and their only loss of the season was a 12-0 decision to Elon, which was later avenged. They also hold a victory over the Greensboro Patriots of the Carolina League.

Carolina's record stands at 8-6 with a 2-2 mark in the Conference. The locals split two games with Davidson in their other two loop contests.

The probable lineups:
Wake Forest: Proctor or Eldridge, cf; Ballou, lf; Gurganus, p; Lamb, rf; Hobbs, 1b; Senter, 3b; Whiteheart or Hesmter, 2b; Brookshire, ss; Cassell, p.
Carolina: Proctor or Eldridge, cf; Ballou, lf; Gurganus, p; Lamb, rf; Hobbs, 1b; Senter, 3b; Whiteheart or Hesmter, 2b; Brookshire, ss; Cassell, p.

Yanks Sell Shea To Kansas City

NEW YORK, April 14—(AP)—Frank Shea, rookie pitching sensation of the New York Yankees in 1947, has been sold outright to the Kansas City Blues of the American Association, a Yankee farm property, it was announced today by general manager George Weiss.

Also going to the Kansas City club are first baseman Fenton Mole and pitcher Wally Hood, both sent to the Blues on option, and bonus pitcher Paul Hinrichs, who has been sold outright.

Shea, pestered by arm and weight trouble, the past two years has failed to live up to the promise shown in 1947, when he won 14 games while losing five. He spent part of the 1949 season with Newark in the International League.

Frosh Notch 80-51 Win Over State

The undefeated Carolina freshman track team turned in its first outdoor meet win against college competition in blasting the State frosh, 80-51, in a Big Four meet on Fetzer Field yesterday afternoon.

Coach Dick Maxwell's Tar Babies won eight first places on the 15-event program. Bobby Bell who won the high and low hurdles and the broad-jump for Carolina, was the individual star of the meet. Tar Baby Mack Ray, who won his first race in taking first in the 440-yard dash, was the surprise of the meet.

Duke's frosh will visit Fetzer Field for another dual meet with the Tar Babies at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Netmen Meet Kalamazoo Here Today

By Harvey Ritch

The undefeated Tar Heel tennis team will be at top strength this afternoon when it meets its first real test of the season against Kalamazoo College on the local courts at 2 o'clock.

The touring netmen from Michigan have won nine out of eleven matches, so far, including a 5-4 loss to a strong Davidson squad.

Heath Alexander, regular Carolina number three man, will make his first appearance in the Tar Heel lineup since his injury during the Harvard matches.

In going after win number 17 the locals will face the first of stronger opponents yet to come. The Tar Heels have zipped through eleven teams to date with a minimum of effort but beginning today the "practice sessions" are over.

Next Saturday Coach Kenfield's netters will head toward Charlotte to face the thrice-beaten Davidsons and the outcome of that match can be pretty well determined by today's showing. Meanwhile the locals will face Cincinnati here Monday and Virginia Thursday.

The probable starting singles lineup this afternoon will have Captain Clark Taylor on the number one court followed by Charlie Rice playing number two. Heath Alexander, Don Skakle, and Jim Winstead round out the top five. At present the number six slot is being hotly contested by several lower-ranking players and Coach Kenfield will most likely hold that position open until game time.

Sara Wakefield Captures National AAU Diving Title

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 14—(AP)—Sara Wakefield, University of North Carolina diving star from Palm Beach, captured the women's one-meter AAU National Diving Championship here today, scoring 133.90 points.

Miss Wakefield, a senior at UNC, edged out Jane Stover of Glendale, Calif., former Olympic star who had placed second in the one-meter diving competition five times previously. Miss Stover scored 133.06 points in taking the runner-up position.

Zoe Ann Olsen, last year's winner, did not defend her title. Mary Frances Cunningham, Lafayette, Ind., was third, with 124.41 points. Don Draper, varsity diving coach at North Carolina who has tutored the new champion for two years, was present when she won the title today.

Frosh To Engage Deaclets Today

With a record of two wins and two losses, the freshmen baseball team travels to Wake Forest this afternoon, seeking their first victory in big four competition in a game with the Wake Forest Deaclets at 3 o'clock.

After grabbing two smashing victories this season against Boyden and Greensboro High Schools the Tar Babies have dropped their last two straight games at the hands of the Duke and Wake Forest freshmen. However, the games have been close with Duke winning, 7-3, and the Deaclets squeaking by in 10 innings, 7-6.

Old lady luck should change for the Carolina freshmen one of these afternoons for breaks have led to their two defeats. A series of errors led to the Duke loss while Right Fielder Wayne White caught a deep lined foul ball with a man on third base in the game Wednesday with the Wake Forest freshmen. The Baby Deacs' runner tagged up and easily scored the winning run.

Ronald Sullivan will be on hand to defend his "Mr. Carolinas" title. He has won that honor for the past two years. Charlie Hartley, who was runner-up to Sullivan last year, will also compete for the title.

Coach Henry House plans on starting Al Wood on the mound and as usual "Red" Cannada will receive him. Wood started the first game of the season and, although he was relieved in the fifth due to wildness, was credited with the victory.

Weightlifters Meeting Here In AAU Event

Carolina will play host this afternoon and tonight to some 60 athletes from North and South Carolina who will compete in the Carolinas A A U weightlifting championships and the "Mr. Carolinas" contest.

Noice lifting is scheduled to get underway on the main floor of Woolen Gym at 2:30. Competition in the open division will begin at 7:30 tonight.

Top notch lifters from the two states will be on hand. They include such nationally known figures as Al Abernethy of Hickory and Jos Masten of Winston-Salem.

At the conclusion of the lifting competition the "Mr. Carolinas" contest will be held. With a close race on tap, the winner will be picked on the basis of "muscular definition, symmetry, proportion and posing ability."

Ronald Sullivan will be on hand to defend his "Mr. Carolinas" title. He has won that honor for the past two years. Charlie Hartley, who was runner-up to Sullivan last year, will also compete for the title.

Tar Heel Lacrosse Men Will Meet Strong Keydet Squad Here Today

By Walt M. Dear II

With four games already under their belts and plenty of seasoning, North Carolina's defiant stickmen will encounter a strong VMI team today at one o'clock on Navy field.

Coach Bill Darden stated that his boys stand a good chance of winning today's contest. The Tar Heels led at half-time 3-2 in last year's game and were finally overcome by the Cadet's superior stamina which was evident in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter.

The Cadets, from Lexington, Virginia, have experience-plus on their team. Everyone on the first team has played high school lacrosse which could be the deciding factor in this afternoon's game. So far this season, experience of the opponents has defeated the Carolina warriors.

VMI has posted a 1-1 record with their only win over William and Mary 8-2 while losing to a strong Delaware team 11-3. Carolina lost to Delaware 14-6. Last year, the same squad came close to defeating a high-ranking Virginia team as they were on the short end of an 11-10 score.

The visitors will present a fast-moving attack centered around captain Frank Boehm and Homer Ambrose, attackmen, who were high scorers last season with 29 tallies between them.

The Tar Heels will also form a strong front line headed by three midfielders, Kirk Manning, Jess Greenbaum, and Johnny Murchison who have tallied five of Carolina's eleven goals. Aiding these players will be George Levine and Art Greenbaum at close attack while Bill Gilmore will operate on the crease.

Nick "Specs" Sowell will be back in the goal with some assistance by Buck Vest.

THE DU PONT DIGEST

With the development of Neoprene Type W Science Again Outpoints Nature

NEOPRENE—the chloroprene rubber produced by Du Pont research—has long outpointed natural rubber on many counts. Because of its greater resistance to chemicals, flame, heat, sunlight, weathering, oxidation, oils, grease and abrasion, it is widely used in such products as industrial hose, conveyor and transmission belts, insulated wire and cable, hospital sheeting, gloves and automotive parts.

Until recently, however, certain natural rubber compositions couldn't be beaten when it came to "permanent set" characteristics. Released from the pressure of prolonged deformation, they returned more nearly to their original shape.

This recovery factor is important to some manufacturers, particularly the people who make gaskets, seals, diaphragms, sheet packing, soft rolls and vibration-dampening devices.

NEOPRENE TYPE W INTRODUCED Chemically, the new neoprene is quite similar to previous types. But its molecular structure has been changed so that the mechanical properties of its compositions are more nearly like those of rubber. With Neoprene Type W, it is possible to produce vibration-dampening devices that are not only highly resistant to oils, heat, grease and sunlight, but recover better than rubber from prolonged pressure.

Neoprene Type W also provides the basis for compositions that have a low modulus of elasticity—are easy to stretch. More attractive colors are possible. Soon it may appear in such articles as swim caps, where bright colors and head comfort are important. The brighter-colored compositions should also appeal to makers of appliance cords, coasters, sink mats, stove mats and toys.

In developing the uses of Neoprene Type W, Du Pont is working with hundreds of manufacturers and distributors. Once again a "partnership" of big and small businesses will cooperate to give Americans the benefits of an advance in science.

SEND FOR "The Story of Coal, Air and Water," a 28-page illustrated booklet describing the chemical ingenuity behind the development of neoprene, nylon, and other products. For your free copy, write to the Du Pont Company, 2503 Nemours Bldg., Wilmington, Delaware.
