

Old Grads Stop Varsity, 14-13, In Blue-White

THE LEADING ROLES in "Spring For Sure" the Koch Memorial Fund show which opened Thursday night, are being handled by Doris Fowler, as Cindy, and Lanier Davis, as Jeremiah. The production, scheduled to end after tonight's presentation, has been held over for a performance tomorrow night. Tickets are available at Ledbetter-Pickards and Swain Hall. Show starts at 8:30 in the Forest Theater. Proceeds from the productions go to the Koch Memorial Fund.

May Queen To Be Announced In Forest Theater Ceremonies

The identity of Carolina's May Day Queen, a senior coed, will be revealed at 4 o'clock this afternoon in ceremonies in the Forest Theater when she is crowned by Dean of Students Bill Friday and her court is honored.

Two other girls will be selected from the 10 seniors of her court to be maids of honor.

Following the crowning of the queen, one of the traditional entertainments of the annual affair will be the presentation of an original farce, "Cupid's Courtship," written by members of Chi Delta Phi literary society, which will have a cast including Virginia Young, Frank Groselove, William Collins, Bailey Hobgood, and Lee Noell.

Jockey Capps Will MC For 'Music Under Stars'

Rain or shine, Jimmy Capps, WPTF's gift to North Carolina high school and college lovers, will present the second annual edition of his "Music Under the Stars" tonight at 8:15.

If the weather is good, the show will be held in front of Graham Memorial, and listeners will sit on blankets on the lawn.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6—(AP)—This week we told in lines of rhyme Of a kangaroo snatching and how, at the time, It was a question to the head of the zoo: With a baby in pouch, is there room for two? So today 'tis sadness we rhyme to say The baby kangaroo that was stolen away Died in the pouch with its foster brother. Both victims of greed of one kangaroo mother.

If it should rain, the show will be moved inside to the Rendezvous Room. At any rate, his time there will be no postponement.

Jimmy will bring records of the same type as he plays on his week-nightly "Our Best to You," and tonight's program will be complete with dedications made especially for members of the audience.

Last week Jimmy indicated that he would probably also bring along some records which he doesn't play on the air. Last year "Nothin Like a Dame" was one of the most successful numbers on the show. Because it is too loud for the type of program the "Our Best to You" is, Jimmy had never played it on the air.

Several weeks ago University Club president Jerry Sternberg, who is in charge of the program, invited students to write out requests for numbers on the show. These were given to Jimmy, and he will try to use as many of them as he has time for tonight.

New Cheerers Do All Right In First Try

High Schoolers Take Over Work Of Student Body

By Wuff Newell

For over two and one-half hours yesterday afternoon shirtless men and bare-shouldered women broiled in the hot sun at Kenan Stadium and watched two University teams battle it out in the annual Monogram Club's Blue-White football game.

But if the fans were hot, the cheerleaders—led by Joe Chambliss, head cheerleader, and Harry Aycock—were even hotter. Dressed in their regular football season wool uniforms the 18 cheerleaders kept the crowd of University and high school students and alumni in what Chambliss termed excellent spirit throughout the afternoon.

Although the much discussed card stunts were not up to par, Chambliss said that no one was to blame for it.

"The high school students who were to perform the stunts were just timid," he said. "And most of them were scared to sit in the card section and flip the cards."

All but one of the stunts was reasonably accurate, but the one that was off was by far the most outstanding. When the stunts attempted to spell out the word "Hello," the "o" was conspicuously missing.

Members of the cheering squad are Dodie Boyer, Susie Upchurch, Carrie Chamberlain, Jackie Merritt, Anne Birmingham, Arden Boisseau, Peggy Snipes, Jean Ford, Janet Ellington, Allman Beaman, Bill Hogshead, Charlie Harrell, Cecil Pless, Cyril Minnett, Gene Whaley and Tom Coghill.

Carson, Annillo Star In First Half With Choo

By Zane Robbins

Experience turned the tables on youth yesterday afternoon in Kenan Stadium as a scrappy gang of Old Timers marked up two fast first-half scores, and then held the hustling Tar Heel varsity at bay throughout the last 30 minutes of play to win the fifth annual Blue White football game, 14-13.

A crowd of some 19,000 shirt-sleeved grid fans sat through the sweltering May afternoon to watch the ex-Carolina greats pull a first-rate upset on their Tar Heel successors.

Scott, Hilton Win Best Coach Award

TOM SCOTT

By Ken Barton

At a ceremony between halves of the "Blue and White" football game yesterday afternoon at Kenan Stadium Basketball Coach Tom Scott received the annual coach of the year award presented by the Monogram Club, and Joe Hilton was honored as assistant coach of the year.

Scott was commended for taking a team which showed little experience and weaving it into a team which was a winning combination and one which placed itself in the Southern Conference Tournament in March.

Hilton was honored as the assistant coach of the year for his work on the undefeated track team. Dick Taylor, former member of the team, received the award in the absence of Hilton who was with the team in Atlanta and expressed Hilton's appreciation for the honor.

Hilton was an ace hurdler and javelin thrower. He has been an assistant for three years in field events.

Scott expressed his appreciation of the work the team did and of the honor that he received. Winner last year was Ralph Casey, and the assistant award went to Irv Zirpel, assistant wrestling coach. Casey was mentor of the swimming team.

Scott came to Carolina from Missouri State Teachers after four years in the Navy as a lieutenant, in 1945. His first Carolina team won 19 of 27 games. In his second year, 1947, Carolina had a 20-7 season and went to the finals of the Southern Conference, losing to N. C. State by a 50-48 score. The following two years the same strong State team defeated the Tar Heels in the semi-finals. Last year the record was 19-6.

The recital is sponsored by the Department of Music and is open to the public without charge.

Hooperating Hits Jackpot

By Bill Farrior

The census takers making the rounds these days aren't the only collectors of humorous replies to some rather personal questions.

A radio "Hooperating" held recently by the Radio Department, the first such survey ever conducted by a Southern university, resulted in some retorts which will rival any the census takers have to offer.

The survey, in which 42 students took part under the supervision of Arthur Briskin of the Radio Department, was conducted between 7:30 and 8:30 at night. The poll was similar to such polls taken in large Metropolitan areas.

Each person called was asked, if he were listening to a radio and if so to which station and program. Some of the replies were of a more than routine nature.

One telephone dialer reports that when she asked for the desired information, an excited voice replied, "Law honey child, I read 'bout that thing in the paper today and said to myself, 'Fearl you just must remember to turn on that radio tonight.' But you know mam, I've just done plum forgot all about it."

A man, after experiencing difficulty in understanding what the pollster was asking, left the phone for a few seconds then returned and said, "Now what were you saying? I had to go turn off that infernal radio."

A male enumerator, after unknowingly dialing a women's boarding house, was told by the landlady that she had eight girls upstairs and she then asked which one he wanted.

'A' Formation Passes Test Against 'Foe'

Justice Thinks Team May Equal Last Year's Club

By Bill Peacock

The Tar Heels, tired after playing against each other for two and a half hours, were arm-in-arm in the dressing room after the game, congratulating each other for the jobs well done on a hot afternoon.

They seemed well satisfied with the new "A" formation and looked forward to a good year, when they wouldn't face competition of the calibre of the "Grads," some of whom had eight years of college-class ball experience.

Charlie Justice, who was in high spirits, thought that, "They ought to have as good a year as we did last year." Art Weiner elaborated to the extent that he felt the "A" formation "will give them added strength in passing and running down the middle."

Coach Russ Murphy, who tutored the Varsity thought that his boys made a very satisfactory showing. "The big men in the Grad line-up such as (Bill) Smith and (Ted) Hazelwood were to hard for our boys to move. The difference in the score lay in the difference between the lines," he said.

Captain Irv Holdash, who played his usual stand-out game, expressed a liking for the "A" and its added deception. Holdash, who was used almost exclusively on defence last year, enjoyed playing on offence also, but said that "... It slows down my work on defence."

"They ought to be a bigger threat with four running backs," said end Mike Rubish, who played in 1948 for Carolina and last year with the professional Richmond Rebels. "George Verchick ran very well from the deep position, while Ernie Liberati (up from last year's freshman squad) looks like he'll be a fine passing back."

Max Spellman kicked off to Jule Rousseau who took the ball on his own six and returned it to the 24-yard line to ignite the first Blue scoring drive. Ernie Liberati passed to John Orsino on first down with the play covering 22 yards and accounting for a first down.

Three plays later, Billy Hayes passed to Bill O'Brien on the Old Timer 45, the latter moving to the 41 before being stopped. Hayes then flipped another aerial to O'Brien on the 10 with the fleet end hustling across the last marker for the first Blue tally. Abie Williams came in to kick the extra point and made good.

Flurry Of Crazy Comments, Answers Brings Loud Laughs From Pollsters

Another woman, when asked if she had the radio switched on replied in the negative. But then a male voice, presumably that of her husband, yelled, "Yes it is, it's just down so low you can't hear it."

Most of the people called were exceedingly cooperative in answering the few direct questions. Some went into a detailed discussion of their radio likes and dislikes while others were not nearly so talkative.

Briskin, whose radio programming class conducted the survey, says the tabulated results of the poll show that Chapel Hill had a 18.8 rating for the 7:30 to 8:30 time period. And this means that out of every 100 people answering the calls, 18.8 were listening to a radio.

Concert Set In Afternoon

The University Concert Band will combine with the Varsity Band to initiate the annual series of outdoor concerts under the Davie Poplar this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Professor Slocum has arranged an interesting program which will feature numbers conducted by nine seniors who are bowing out of the Carolina musical scene this spring and entering teaching and professional fields.

The group includes Glenn Hubbard, Clifford Doll, Charles Ballance, Mary Smithwick, Clarence Hayes, James Moore, Walter Merritt, William Adcox, and Harold Andrews.

The concert will be held in Hill Hall at the scheduled time in case of inclement weather, and the public is cordially invited.

Preregistration

General college students tomorrow begin having preregistration conferences for the fall quarter with their deans.

Those who have not yet made appointments should sign the appropriate book in the lobby of South Building. The books will be out until Wednesday, May 17.

Students wishing to register for summer school should see Mrs. Mark Barker in Room 308 South Building.
