

Spahn Turns In 21st Win With 5-0 Victory Over Cardinals

Tiger Win Knots Race In American

BOSTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—Lefty Warren Spahn became the National League's first 21-game winner today by pitching the Boston Braves to a two-hit 5-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The triumph, which gave the Braves an 11-11 season's split with the Cardinals, enabled them to continue in their second-place deadlock with the Brooklyn Dodgers, seven games back of the idle Philadelphia Phillies.

Only two rivals reached base as Spahn turned in his first white-washing job in his 25 completed games.

Rookie Ed Mickelson, filling in at first base for gripe-stricken Stan Musial singled and advanced on Marty Marion's sacrifice in the second inning. Eddie Kazak got the other St. Louis single with two out in the fifth.

A's Bow, 8-2

Detroit, Sept. 21—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers grabbed a commanding position in the American League race today as they brushed past the hapless Philadelphia Athletics, 8-2, to climb into a first-place tie with the New York Yankees.

The victory gave the Detroiters a sweep of the three-game series with the A's and left them in a good position to grab sole ownership of the No. 1 spot when they meet Cleveland tomorrow. The Yankees will be idle again tomorrow.

Bums Win, 10-8

Brooklyn, Sept. 21—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers spotted the Pittsburgh Pirates three runs in the first inning today, but got four of their own in the fourth and five more in the fifth to record a 10-8 triumph.

Other than the two big innings, the Brooks were not able to do much with the offerings of three Pirate pitchers. They managed to get one across in the second, but otherwise were handcuffed.

The Dodgers used four flingers. They led off with Rookie Jim Romano, but he was shelled in the first and Dan Bankhead came in. The latter lasted until Ralph Branca took over in the fifth. Erv Palica went to the mound in the sixth, held the Buccaneers the rest of the day and got credit for the triumph.

Reds Beat Maglie, 8-5

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—(AP)—Sal Maglie, who had run up a winning skein of 11 games, came up against the pesky Cincinnati Reds today and was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning. Luke Sewell's crew, having taken care of their main problem, then went on to paste an 8-5 defeat on the New York Giants.

The loss was the fourth of the campaign for Maglie, and three of them have come at the hands of the Reds. Howie Fox started for the Reds and held the New Yorkers in check until the eighth inning when they scored four runs. He had to be rescued by Frank Smith who held the lead.

Pre-Season Poop On Blue Devils

DURHAM, Sept. 21—Exactly 42 of the 67 football players who greeted Coach Wallace Wade of Duke University when football drills got underway on Sept. 1, are not of voting age. The team will be one of the youngest grid aggregations Duke has ever had.

Nineteen lettermen from last year's Duke University football team are back to help Coach Wallace Wade in the experience end of the game. Four ends and four guards, as well as four wingbacks, are back.

AP Writer Picks Tar Heels To Win; Wake Forest, Duke Are Also Favored

By Will Grimsley
NEW YORK, Sept. 21—(AP)—Boasting a perfect, untarnished slate, we attack the first week of football crystal-gazing without trepidation. There's only one direction to go—down.

We warmed up for the assignment with two excellent selections last weekend. We took George Washington Bridge over the Hudson and chose eggs over light.

Man the battlements, men, here we go:

California over Santa Clara: Coach Pappy Lynn Waldorf will miss Halfback Bob Celeri, who has graduated, but not as much as Santa Clara will miss those 19 lettermen. The Golden Bears.

Louisiana State over Kentucky: Everybody likes the Wildcats so we'll string along with the boys from Bayou, who finished with a rush last year and haven't quit bouncing. LSU in an upset.

Wake Forest over Boston College. Another pick against the grain but we figure Peahead Walker has been pointing for this one since last year's defeat. The Deacons live right.

Southern Methodist over Georgia Tech: Kyle Rote will be the difference but the Engineers will give the Texans a great show of ball-tossing. SMU. Because Tech is too young.

Maryland over Georgia: The Gator Bowl champs are still big and tough but count on a stronger Georgia to make it one of the best games of the day.

Michigan State over Oregon State: It looks like a long ride home from East Lansing for the Pacific Coast boys. Biggie Munn's Spartans are growing up.

Tar Heel Victory?
North Carolina over North Carolina State: Little Dick Bunting, who gave Notre Dame such an uncomfortable afternoon last year, will continue as a nuisance in Charlie Justice's shoes. UNC by two TDs.

Yale over Connecticut: No Blues for the Blue in this one. A nod to Herman Hickman's gang.

And don't forget the others:
East: Fordham over Lafayette, Rutgers over Syracuse, Bates over Rhode Island, Delaware over Lehigh, West Virginia over Western Reserve.

South Tennessee over Mississippi Southern, Alabama over Chattanooga, Duke over South Carolina, William & Mary over VMI, Mississippi State over Arkansas State, Vanderbilt over Middle Tennessee State, Clemson over Presbyterian, Washington & Lee over Furman, Florida over The Citadel, Richmond over Randolph Macon, Virginia over George Washington.

Midwest: Texas Christian over Kansas, Marquette over North Dakota State, Bradley over Ripon, Drake over Emporia Teachers, Hardin-Simmons over Cincinnati.

Southwest: Arkansas over Oklahoma A & M, Texas over Texas Tech, New Mexico over Arizona State, Arizona over West Texas State, Texas Western over New Mexico A and M, St. Bonaventure over Houston.

Far West: UCLA over Oregon, Arizona State (Temple) over Brigham Young, Wash. State over Utah State, San Francisco over Tulsa, Washington over Kansas State, Utah over Idaho, Stanford over San Jose State, Baylor over Wyoming, Colorado A & M over Denver, Washington State over Utah State, College of Pacific over St. Mary's (Calif).

Southern Winners

State Game Near Sellout For 2nd Year

On the eve of the traditional State-Carolina clash some 10,000 tickets are still available at the ticket office in Woolen gym for the corner sections and the West end zones at Kenan stadium.

Section D in the West end zone has been reserved for the girls who will make the trip from Women's College as part of the Greater University Day festivities.

Gates for all ticket holders as well as booths for late buyers will open at 12:30 Saturday. Until that time tickets are available in Woolen Gym.

Vernon Crook, athletic ticket manager, yesterday made two requests of all students:

- All students should bring some sort of identification that shows they are registered for this quarter as the ID cards are not yet distributed.
- All students and townfolk are requested to leave cars at home to make room for the out of town cars that will be in Chapel Hill.

The ticket office is anticipating a near sellout for this annual contest which was completely sold out last year.

Spiders Ready For R-M

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 21—(AP)—The University of Richmond Spiders placed the emphasis on punt formations and kickoff returns today as they closed out heavy work for Saturday night's game with Randolph-Macon.

Injured Backs To Play

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Sept. 21—(AP)—Coach Rube McCrary of William and Mary said today two injured backs—Ed Magdziak and Larry Pones—may be used sparingly Saturday night in the Tribe's opener with Virginia Military Institute at Roanoke, Va.

Bulldogs Under Arcs

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—The Citadel Bulldogs practiced under the lights tonight to keep their eyes accustomed to night play for their tussle Saturday night against Florida at Gainesville.

Tonight's drill saw the enthusiastic Bulldogs run through passing, punting, play timing, dummy scrimmage, kickoffs and conditioning work.

Virginia Has Spirit

Sept. 21—(AP)—Coach Art Guepe noted a rising spirit on the University of Virginia football squad today as he anointed more game polishing for Saturday's contest here with George Washington.

The Cavaliers neared top strength again as Joe Palumbo and Owen Meadows, ailing defensive stars, appeared to be approaching a full state of recovery.

Tatum, Butts Predict Win For Tomorrow

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 21—(AP)—Without hedging or bluffing Jim Tatum and Wally Butts shoved out the big chips Saturday and hollered to the football world, "I bet a million."

The loser, Tatum's Maryland Terrapins or Butts' Georgia Bulldogs, will feel the effect of the season football opener both physically and financially throughout the season.

The winner can't miss climbing high in national rankings and in later games picking up heavy ticket revenue because of the big opening game victory.

Maryland is the pick to win even in the hometown of the Bulldogs where the game will be played probably before 35,000 - 40,000 fans. Odds favor Maryland by six to 13 points.

Even with Wingate, Krouse,

Coaches Pessimistic On Eve Of Deacon-Eagle Contest

BOSTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—Boston College launches New England's major intercollegiate football season against Wake Forest tomorrow night and the usually over-pessimistic Denny Meyers is fearful about the outcome.

Myers predicts that his Eagles, due to inexperience and lack of depth will lose the intersectional contest by "at least three touchdowns."

And Coach Peahead Walker fears that same dire result for his Deacons for the same reasons.

Boston College, lacking an outstanding passer, will stress its running attack this year and Myers has two outstanding ball-carriers in fullback Ed Petela and John McCauley, a hulking sophomore star.

The Wake Forest attack has been built around Bill Miller, its 200-pound fullback, who will be spelled by such speedy halfbacks as Frank Scarton and Nub Smith.

Wakefield Looks To Future Meets

Defending Champion Sara Wakefield, pert Tar Heel diver, was upset and forced to settle for runner-up honors in the one-meter diving championships at the Senior Women's AAU National Swimming Championships held at High Point in August.

Sara, who had won the title at Palm Beach, Fla., last spring, was edged into second place by Pat McCormick of California. Miss McCormick scored 144.89 points for a very narrow margin over the Carolina miss.

Even though she has planned no competition in the near future, Sara is already eyeing next spring's national championship meets as a means of getting back in the winners' circle.

Series TV Talk Slated

CINCINNATI, Sept. 21—(AP)—Players who get into the 1950 World Series may get a share of the $800,000 to be paid for televising the games.

This was indicated today when Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, issued the following statement:

"The Commissioner (A. B. Chandler) probably will call a meeting at World Series time to discuss the manner in which the $800,000 received from the sale of World Series television rights will be handled.

"First consideration must be given to guarantee the financial security of the players' pension plan, inaugurated in 1947 and guaranteed by club owners for a five year period."

Best Outlook For Soccer Since 1946

With Eddie Foy and Captain Buck Blankenship leading the local booters, the Tar Heel soccer team appear to be headed for their best season since the inauguration of the sport here in 1946.

Although several of last year's mainstays were lost by graduation, Coach Marvin Allen's team will wage wars against two of the top teams in the country, Penn State, national champions, and Maryland University.

Both squads defeated the Tar Heels last season by one tally. The Penn Staters edged the locals on a snow-bound field, 3-2, while the Terrapins squeezed through on a late penalty kick, 1-0.

Coach Allen will continue to stress the attack in the next few weeks in order to ready his team for the Nittany Lions who will come to Chapel Hill early in the season for a game.

At the fullback slot, Bob Kirby is expected to team with Bill Rhodes to aid the defensive lineup. Art Winsor and Red Montgomery along with a host of others will be trying for the center forward position which has been a thorn in the Tar Heel attack during the past seasons.

Coach Allen has scheduled several scrimmages for the coming week and should be able to determine where his team's strength lies in the near future.

Stengel Calls Off-Day Drill As Tune-Up For Red Sox Tilt

By Jack Hand
NEW YORK, Sept. 21—(AP)—Casey Stengel has called an off-day workout for his besieged New York Yankees tomorrow as a tune-up for the weekend series with the Boston Red Sox.

Only four men — Yogi Berra, Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Jerry Coleman — were excused from the drill. They'll probably show up anyhow.

Vic Raschi wants to give his right arm a trail run after his recent trouble. Vic is eager to take his scheduled turn against the Red Sox Saturday or Sunday. There will be single games each day.

After Stengel watches Raschi warm up at the stadium tomorrow, he'll know for sure how much he can expect from his 20-game winning ace.

Gaynor Okays Hurler
Dr. Sidney Gaynor, Club Physician, examined Raschi on his return home and said the right-hander was suffering from a slight inflammation of muscle behind the shoulder.

In Gaynor's opinion this was caused by overwork, but he expressed the opinion Raschi would be ready to hurl Sunday if Stengel gives the word.

Otherwise Raschi will be ready for one of the four games against Washington here in double-headers both Monday and Tuesday.

Stengel is undecided between Lefty Ed Lopat (17-8) and Allie Reynolds (14-12) for the opener with the Sox Saturday. Both worked Sunday at St. Louis and are thoroughly rested.

Lopat May Go
If Lopat shows no traces of recent arm trouble when he loosens up tomorrow he may get the call. The chunky soft-baller is 4-2 against the Sox this season. He is particularly effective against them at the stadium where he usually keeps Ted Williams under control.

Reynolds, rested since he beat the Browns with a two-hit effort last Sunday, is 2-0 against Boston although the Sox chased him in a game charged to Joe Page Sept. 7.

Sloppy relief work by Page and Tom Ferrick is causing Stengel much concern. Ferrick, most dependable in July and August has flopped in his last four outings.

Jack Burke Cards 66 In Tourney

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21—(AP)—Jack Burke, Jr., of White Springs, N. Y., often a fly in the ointment for the Hot Shots, threw a six-under-par 66 at the favorites to lead the play in the first round of the Kansas City Open Golf Tournament today.

Burke, who has three PGA open titles to his credit this year, was two strokes better than Jim Ferrer of San Francisco, Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mid-Pines, N. C., Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Leonard Dowson of Kansas City, each with 68.

The 6,250-yard, par 72 Milburn Country Club course proved a comparatively easy test for the starting field of 160. Eighteen players came in with 71 or better. Thirteen equalled par.

Burke's brilliant irons and steadiness on the greens were mainly responsible for his good play. His prize shots were a 61-foot wedge for an eagle three on the 490-yard seventeenth, and a 40-foot putt for a birdie four on the seventh.

The little New Yorker was out in 34, two under regulation, and got home in four-under 32.
