

That Hussy Look Of Yesterday Gleams On Parade Of Fall Styles

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—(AP)—The shadow of war has brought back hussy fashions. New York custom designer showings of the last few weeks have stressed heavily the theme of feminine allure, with maximum exposure and kleig light glitter.

Lilly Dache, exponent of glamour with a capital G, announces the inspiration of her collection as the age of chivalry, when strong men went marching off to war, subsisting on memories of the languishing women they left behind—women attired, mind you, not in tailored suits and sensible shoes, but in filmy floating draperies revealing more than they concealed.

Such is the theme of the upper-crust designers, and such, consequently, will be the theme of mass-production boys and girls as soon as copies can get into the works.

Mme. Dache, who now does head-to-toe costumes, in addition to hats, shows cocktail and evening outfits loaded with glitter, up to and including sequin-embroidered stockings.

Her most dramatic hat is a strictly vampirish model with a "Portcullis" veil, designed to shadow the eyes in wicked mystery.

Esther Dorothy, designer of exotic furs, tops the season with a fur evening gown. This is a strapless affair made of sleek black broadtail with a ruffle of black lace edging the low décolletage. It is worn with a thick rope of white ermine, which the model wears slung about her shoulders, hips or waist as the fancy strikes her.

Miss Dorothy also likes one-sleeved stoles of such luxury furs as mink or ermine, worn over one shoulder, exposing the other, which preferably is bare. The designer advises women to wear their furs "any way except the way they are made." Jackets, she says, should be worn with only one sleeve on, the other draped casually off the shoulder. Stoles should never be worn merely around the neck, but should be draped, wrapped or even dragged.

A sensation of her showing is a bright red overcoat of clipped fox, worn by a model with green hair. That's right, green hair. Miss Dorothy thinks hair should be dyed to match or contrast with the costume. She wears her own in a deep navy blue tone.

For evening wear, designers are advocating very little above the cloth and crinoline below. Some of the skirts shown on evening gowns would have difficulty getting through an average doorway, and employ hoops, stiffening and padding to achieve the desired girth.

Hattie Carnegie, Sophie and Dior are among the designers favoring these civil war skirts after dark.

Even shoes follow the trend. Shoes for afternoon and evening wear this winter will have jeweled heels, braid embroidery and every kind of frippery in the book, to make women's feet look fragile and expensive.

The jeweled stocking are in line with the rest of the parade. They are shown with sequin clocks or embroidered all over in spangles of various hues, polka-dot fashion.

It looks like a glitter season.

LONG HAIRDO—This hairdo, designed by stylist Guil-laume, was launched by Paris couturier Christian Dior as part of the French attempt to bring back long hair fashion.

Season Starts At Dance Club; Lehman's Teach

On this big Carolina campus it's hard to meet all the folks you'd like to, but there's no fun like that of trying. One way is through the Dance Club where you can meet dozens of people and dance to your heart's content. (Here's a chance to meet that tall, dark and handsome, gals.)

Every Monday night at 7 o'clock, John and Charlotte Lehman throw open the doors of Woolen Gym and students flock in to extend the week-end just one night more. As a result of its popularity last year an even fuller program of dances has been planned with everything from foxtrot to Latin American and shag.

If you want to learn any of these steps, Charlotte and John are on hand to help you. As an exhibition team last year they toured North Carolina and then returned to dance in the Playmaker's "Spring For Sure."

Tar Heel Pinups

Girls in the news have that extra something and that extra something happens to be a fraternity pin.

Adding their names to the list are Bunny Davis, Phi Delt of Miami, Fla. who is pinned to Jean Frances Caraher, of Clearwater, Fla. Chi Omega and who is a June graduate of the University.

Pi Kappa Phi Jack Prince of King's Mountain recently turned over his pin to Pat Jewell, Tri-Delt of Gainesville, Ga. Among the Zetes who lost a pin was Copie Hill of Kinston to Susie Upchurch of Danville, Va.

In the tribe of Tau Epsilon Phi, Irwin Sawitz recently pinned Jo Ann Weiss of Miami Beach, Fla. Barry Frie and Sonia Levine of Portsmouth, Va., are also among the pinned couples. John Alexander, Phi Delt of Durham, has pinned Jo Wagner of Rollins College at Winter Park, Fla.

PIKA Bill McKinney of Roanoke, Va. has given his badge to Joan Snell of Roanoke, a student at Randolph-Macon College. Joe Gray of Wilmington, a PIKA has pinned Pack Hackney of High Point and Woody Williams, another of the brothers, has pinned Ingrid Winler of Ontario, Canada.

Bob Debardeleben, Phi Delt, of Greensboro is planning a December wedding to Jean Tucker of Richmond Polytechnic Institute and Greensboro.

Married are PIKA Howard Quinn, of Jacksonville, president of the fraternity last year, to Helen Humphries, of Jacksonville. Charley Adams PIKA if Raleigh has Patsy McNutt of Greensboro as his bride. Harry Mauney, PIKA, of Murphey was recently married to Betty Puckett of Washington, D. C.

Don Maynard, Theta Chi, has they would be unable to hold the town against United Nations forces driving from the north-east and South Korean Marines approaching from Namhae Island five miles east of Yosu.

The 400 persons found dead in ditches in a beanfield near Taejon prison evidently had been shot one by one with their hands tied behind them.

Some had been shot through the head. Others had been shot in the back, near the kidneys, and die da lingering, agonizing death.

There were old men in the group. One very aged woman was found.

Destroyer Hits Mine

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—The Navy reported today the U. S. Destroyer Brush hit a floating mine in the Sea of Japan Wednesday. Nine men were killed and 10 injured by the explosion. Five others are missing.

A large under water hole was torn in the left side of the 2,200-ton destroyer but the ship made the port of Sasobo, Japan, under her own power after emergency repairs at the scene.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 1...THE PUFFIN BIRD

"What's all the huffin' and puffin' about?
I've been a Puffin all my life!"

You may think this "bird" is funny — but he's no odder than many of the cigarette tests you're asked to make these days.

One puff of this brand — one sniff of that. A quick inhale — a fast exhale — and you're supposed to know what cigarette to smoke from then on. The sensible test doesn't have to rely on tricks and short cuts. It's a day-after-day, pack-after-pack tryout — for 30 days. That's the test Camel asks you to make! Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) is the best possible proving ground for any cigarette. After you've made the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test, we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

UNC Coed Plays Cigarette Girl; Converts Smokers On Campus

If suddenly you are assailed by a coed with a smile and an ulterior motive, prepare yourself. She will thrust into your hand a package of Chesterfields, instruct you to tear them open, and to breathe deeply.

Then she will ask you if ever, in all your life, out of all the cigarettes you have smoked, you've smelled anything so mild.

Martha Byrd, (Byrdie) from Morganton, is the new Chesterfield representative at Carolina and is already gathering new Chesterfield fans behind her smoke ring.

Incidentally, every gallant guinea pig receives (with the smile) a free package of the "mild scented" cigarettes.

Items of interest, including current newspapers, will be buried for 100 years in a stainless-steel cylinder at Alexandria, Va.

Scientists are making synthetic minerals at high pressure in stainless steel "bombs."

PIKA Officers Named; Vets Get Orchestra

Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha held its first meeting of the year Monday night when a slate of officers was picked by members.

Chosen were President Woody Williams of Columbia, S. C.; Vice president Bernard Winfield of Chocowinity; Treasurer Louis Godwin of Oteen; Secretary Howard Broughton of Herford; House lotte; and Dining Room Manger Manager Nick Miller of Char-Fred Whisenhunt of Florence, S. C.

On Saturday night, the Veterans Club, located in back of Lenoir Hall, will have as featured entertainment an orchestra for dancing. As an added attraction, a door prize will be given.

Maurice Bowden, manager, has announced that the club is open not only to veterans but also to members of the ROTC groups. The club is open each night, except Wednesdays, from 8 o'clock until coed dorm closing hours.
