Yankees Nip Phils, 1-0, In First Series Opener

Brown's 2-Bagger
In Fourth Inning
Is Margin Of Win

By Carl Lundquist
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4—(UP)—Dr. Bobby Brown of the New York Yankees, the only practicing physician in baseball, was strictly "bad medicine" to the Philadelphia Phillies today as he delivered a dump double down the left field line that produced a 1 to 0 victory in the opening game of the World Series at Shibe Park.

Brown went on to score the only run that pitcher Vic Raschi needed to win the third straight 1 to 0 World Series opening game in as many years before a smaller than expected throng of 30,746 fans.

Raschi hurled a marvelous two-hitter for the prize World Series pitching performance of his career. He blocked off the Phillies without a safe blow until Willie Jones singled in the fifth, and then he got his difficulties over in a hurry by yielding the second blow in the same frame.

Before and after that, the big pork-chops pitcher of the Yankee staff, who is at his peak when there is a large sack of groceries to take home, was absolutely untouchable.

Only three Philly players managed to get on base, Eddie Waitkus, the first baseman, walked in the sixth and when he grounded out on a three-and-two pitch in the ninth, it was the only other time all day that Raschi had yielded more than two balls to a batter.

For the Phillies, it was a double gamble that became disastrous because Manager Eddie Sawyer not only used up Jim Konstanty as a starting pitcher, but he also rendered him ineffective for the next day or so in his premier role as a reliever.

Konstanty could have won with just a flurry of hitting support. He had only one bad inning—the fourth—when Brown, the newly-established medico from Tulane (See SERIES, page 4)

Up 160,000 For Marines Says Vinson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(UP)—Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee, served notice today he will fight to have Congress step up the Marine Corps to more than 326,000 men—almost three times its present strength.

This force of four full divisions and 24 air squadrons would mean finding 160,000 more men than the 166,155 called for by next June 30 under present plans.

Maj. Gen. Merwin H. Silverthorn, assistant Corps commandant, told the Georgia Democrat such a super-sized force is needed to cope with another outbreak of Communist aggression such as in Korea. He testified in the final phase of the committee's investigation into methods of getting more men into uniform.

The general also revealed that 13 reserve air squadrons will be recalled to active duty by Jan. 1. The Corps already has exhausted its organized reserve of more than 30,000 men, and 123,600 men now are wearing the black Marine emblem.

Some 11,300 inactive reservists also have received orders to date, Silverthorn said, and by next June 30 there will be 38,000 inactives back in service.

Lit Up

The campus was all lit up last night, lit up after a two-night blackout caused by installation of new cables to replace the 20-year-old ones in the UNC street lamps.

J. S. Bennett, Director of Operations, said the cables had rusted and become frayed. He described the work as routine.

The installation work was performed by members of the University electrical department.

Rushes To Pick Up Bids Today, Activities Will Begin On Sunday

By Don Maynard

The first murmurs of a hectic week ahead for both non-fraternity and fraternity men will be heard today as between 1,000 to 1,200 rushes report to Gerrard Hall to pick up invitations to visit the University's 27 fraternities.

Gerrard will be open from 9 o'clock this morning until 5, and from 9 o'clock until 1 tomorrow to enable rushes to pick up their invitations. Ray Jeffries, Assistant to the Dean of Students, said yesterday.

He warned that eligible men must fulfill their obligations and check by the Hall for their invitations if they wish to be rushed

French Open Border Gap In Indochina

Forces Abandon
Post Of Coabang
To Chinese Reds

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 4—(AP)—The French opened a 200-mile wide gap in Indochina's northern border defenses by announcing today that they were abandoning the major post of Coabang to Communist-led guerrillas.

Coabang, 130 miles northwest of Moncahy on the coast of the Gulf of Tonkin, is the third frontier outpost facing Red China to be surrendered to Moscow-backed Ho Chi Minh's rebels in a little over two weeks.

A French military spokesman said a planned evacuation of Coabang was being carried out without fighting as part of a strategic regrouping of French forces.

Dongkhe, a minor outpost about 30 miles to the east, was captured by Ho's forces on Sept. 18, when a garrison of 200 Foreign Legionnaires was wiped out. The French announced they would not try to regain it.

On Sept. 26 the French command said it was also giving up Pakha, another small patrol post controlling the gateway to the Red River Valley from the west. Pakha is 130 miles southeast of Coabang.

Balancing these withdrawals, the French scored their biggest victory of the year by their surprise offensive from Hanoi which resulted last Sunday in the capture of Thanhuy, principal political and military center of Ho's Vietnam Movement in Northern Indochina.

The daring expedition, driving 36 miles into the Vietnam heartland with the aid of parachute troops, denied the most important rice growing region remaining to the blockaded guerrillas. Thanhuy, nearly 50 miles northwest of Hanoi, controlled the upper Red River Delta and an important trade route.

Administration Undecided On Date Of Thanksgiving

The University's Schedule Committee is in a strut. When is Thanksgiving?

And holiday-hungry students are going to be in a dilemma too, that is until President Truman officially declares when Turkey Day is to be.

It all came about this way: The Carolina 1950-51 catalog lists Thanksgiving holidays from Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 1 p.m. until Monday, Dec. 4, at 8 a.m. But all the country's calendars have a big red 23 for Thanksgiving.

So Dean William Wells, chairman of the Schedule Committee,

Southern Forces Advance 60 Miles As UN Army Awaits Order To Cross

TOKYO, Thursday, Oct. 5—(AP)—Footsore South Korean forces strode virtually unopposed 60 miles deep into Communist Korea Wednesday toward a possible showdown battle with the enemy. A powerful United Nations army of more than 100,000 awaited orders to cross the 38th Parallel behind the 20,000 or so South Koreans already across.

There was no immediate indication when General MacArthur would be ready to carry out his threat Sunday of total destruction of the enemy army if the Red Korean regime failed to heed his demand for surrender "within a reasonable time."

But as the hours and days ticked off without response from the Communist forces of Red Premier Kim Il Sung, MacArthur's headquarters saw fit to announce the arrival of the U. S. Third Division in the Far East Command. Besides these fresh troops MacArthur already had in the field six American divisions (90,000 men if at full strength) and a regimental combat team, plus around 10,000 British, Australian and Filipino troops and three South Korean divisions of approximately 30,000 men still south of the arbitrary boundary.

Five thousand Siamese troops and a battalion of French soldiers were available in Southeast Asia for air-lift or sea-borne transportation to Korea.

'Madwoman' Is Selected For 1st Playmaker Show

"The Madwoman of Chailot" by the French playwright, Jean Giraudoux, will be the first offering of The Carolina Playmakers for the 1950-1951 season.

It is slated for six evening performances at 8:30 P.M. in The Playmakers Theater, October 17th-22nd. Season tickets may be purchased now at the Playmakers offices in Swain Hall, or at Ledbetter-Pickard's on Franklin St.

The play, presented in two acts, was awarded the Drama Critics Circle prize as the best foreign play of the 1948-1949 season in New York. The production in Chapel Hill will mark the southern premiere.

Lynn Gault, the director, has described the play as a fantastic comedy in the Lewis Carroll vein of humor. Many of the characters could well have existed in the pages of Alice in Wonderland. Although there has been lively disagreement as to the exact moral of the play, Giraudoux seems to suggest that it is the big business men, prospectors, stock holders, and publicity agents who belong in the world's asylums, rather than those we are accustomed to think of as demented.

Ward Morehouse, in The Sun, called the play a "gusty philosophical comedy." He enjoyed the play thoroughly as a witty, satiric masterpiece.

Brooks Atkinson, in the New York Times, also had high words of praise for this "wise satire lovingly executed."

Individual reserved seats will go on sale at Swain Hall and Ledbetter-Pickard's on October 7th.

This was to continue for the years of 1940 and 1941 also, but people around the country pro-

58th Anniversary Celebrated At WC

GREENSBORO, Oct. 4—(AP)—Observing the fifty-eighth anniversary of the founding of Woman's College, simultaneous founders day meetings on the campus and in more than 50 communities will be held tomorrow night.

Chancellor Edward Kidder Graham will make the principal address at the evening program in Aycock Auditorium and alumnae groups will hold meetings in this and a number of other states to hear the exercises broadcast from 8 to 8:30 p.m.

It was on October 5, 1892, that the college opened its doors to 176 students with Dr. Charles Duncan McIver as president.

Sunday, Oct. 15—Shakeup day. From 9:30 Sunday night until 12 noon Wednesday, Oct. 18, there will be a strict silence period.

Wednesday, Oct. 18 after 12 noon—pledge day.

Hearing

Special to The Daily Tar Heel
DURHAM, Oct. 4—The decision by a Federal judge to decide whether Negroes will enter Carolina's graduate schools was postponed again yesterday.

Middle District Court Judge Johnson J. Hayes announced through his office in North Wilkesboro that he will not make a report until sometime next week.

The case is one in which three Negro students claim that Law School facilities at the Negro North Carolina College here are inferior to those at UNC. Also, the trio seeks to break down racial barriers to their entry into the UNC school.

The case was argued before Judge Hayes in Durham during a three-day hearing which ended Aug. 30.

Students Invited To Scott Barbecue

Speaking on behalf of the Governor and Mrs. Kerr Scott and the Young Democrats' Club of Alamance County, local YDC Chairman Hugh Wells yesterday issued an invitation to all Carolina students to attend a barbecue tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 at the Scotts' home on the Haw River.

Council Releases Vandalism Ruling

Student Tribunal Outlines Stand
On Recent Paint-Smearing Actions

By Buddy Vaden

In an effort to prevent any further cases of vandalism involving Carolina students, the Men's Honor Council met Tuesday night and adopted a resolution outlining the Council's stand on the matter.

Council Chairman Horace Stacey called a special meeting of the group as a result of the paint-smearing tactics here and on the State College Campus in Raleigh.

Although no Carolina students have been charged with committing the acts of vandalism which caused hundreds of dollars worth of damage to the Bell Tower and Coliseum at State, the Men's Council reminded the students that such acts would result in serious punishment.

Stacey said yesterday that the Men's Council feels that such acts of vandalism by Carolina students are a serious violation of the Campus Code and will not be tolerated. In view of this the Council passed the following resolution:

"Any act of vandalism, particularly that which results in damage of property, public or private, shall be deemed a serious offense and a violation of the Campus Code. All persons involved in such action shall be subject to suspension from the University."

The Men's Council took similar action a few years ago when a handful of Carolina students allegedly went over to the Duke University campus and plastered buildings with paint.

The Men's Council action came after similar warnings by Student Body President John Sanders and officials of the Greater University Student Council.

In addition to the resolution regarding acts of vandalism, the Men's Council acted to remind University students that participation in athletic parlays or pools is a campus code violation and (See COUNCIL, page 4)

UWF Elects New Officers Here Tonight

An election of new officers for the Fall quarter will be the main order of business when the student chapter of United World Federalists meets tonight at 7:30 in Roland Parker lounge No. 1.

In addition, the group will discuss plans for sending a delegate to the national convention of United World Federalists to be held in Washington October 13-14, according to Acting-President John Lineweaver.

Two members of the local club were elected to the North Carolina executive council of U.W.F. by the state convention held recently in Raleigh. The new council members are: Oscar Merritt, Jr., sophomore from Mt. Airy, and Russell G. Baldwin, a special student in journalism from Leland.

A report on the state convention will be given by Lineweaver. Ralph Fleming of Duke, former national chairman of the student division of United World Federalists, is expected to be present for a brief talk on organizational problems and chapter activities.

Last Day Soon

Today and tomorrow are the last days for sophomores to have their Yackety Yack pictures taken.

Editor Jim Mills yesterday asked for those who have not yet done so to please come by the yearbook offices on the second floor of Graham Memorial for the five-minute shutter job.

The pictures are taken free of charge. Men should wear dark coats and ties, and girls should wear white blouses.
