

PRINCIPAL

Everyone is in regard to the appeal filed by 4 Negroes seeking admission here. It's the lead on the editorial page.

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER

Cloudy and cooler with showers, followed by clearing and turning colder tonight.

VOLUME LIX

Associated Press

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1950

United Press

NUMBER 38

Vols Six Point Favorite Over Carolina Today

Judicial Study Group Weighs Selection Board

New Procedure Would Include Women's Council

Meeting for the second time since its establishment last month by President John Sanders, the Judicial Study Committee this week discussed a method by which candidates for both the Men's and Women's Honor Councils would be selected by a non-partisan group.

Under temporary chairman Horace Stacy, Chairman of the Men's Council, the group discussed harmonizing the work of the two councils as well as the Student Council. It was brought out that a great deal of repetition is necessary under existing rules when a case is appealed.

The group, pointed out however, that the recent acquisition of a tape recorder will eliminate much of the repetition.

The chairmanship, which is a revolving one, will go to Bob Payne for next week's meeting. Payne is ex-Chairman of the Men's Council.

Included in the group's discussion this week about a new non-partisan board, was a proposal to have two members at large from the student body.

As it now stands, the board has four representatives each from the Student and University Parties, a member of the Men's Council and the Chairman of the Men's Council.

The proposal would take one member each from the UP and SP to provide for the two new members at large. Also, the Women's Council would be given equal representation with the Men's Council.

Air Forces Team Here Next Week

Students interested in obtaining information about the Army Air Forces Aviation Cadet Training program and the Officers Training School will have the opportunity Monday through next Thursday.

Two Air Force officers, Capt. E. R. Goldsberry, jet pilot, and Lt. C. H. McCullen, and a staff of examiners will be in the YM-CA library from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., or later by appointment.

A recent change in the program enables the appointee to return to civilian life if "washed out" of training, or if he finds himself unable to continue.

Applicants for the program must have two years of college and must be between the ages of 19 1-2 and 26 1-2 years. Good visual and auditory abilities are stressed.

Students may select the class that they would like to enroll in after graduation. After completion of training cadets are commissioned second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve.

Art Exhibit

The art works of Charles Chapin will be exhibited in the Horace Williams-Thomas Wolfe lounge of Graham Memorial tomorrow afternoon.

Chapin received his degree from UNC last June. His major interest lies in the field of fine arts.

A reception to honor the artist will be held at 4 p.m. in the Main Lounge of Graham Memorial.

REV. LESLIE R. SMITH, pastor of Central Christian Church, Lexington, Ken., will be one of the featured speakers during Religious Emphasis Week to be held here Nov. 12-16.

Party Honors 80-Year-Old J. Morehead

A birthday party in honor of John Motley Morehead of New York, one of the University's most distinguished alumni, was held last night in the Planetarium—the building his contributions helped to erect.

Meanwhile, the 80-year-old philanthropist had a quiet celebration at his home in New York.

Immediately following the Planetarium's nightly show, a large cake, with candles was brought out. The audience participated in its cutting.

It was announced at the party that the attendance at the shows had passed the 222,000 mark. The first performance was given May 10, 1949.

Gordon Gray, President of the Consolidated University, Chancellor Robert B. House, vice president of the Consolidated University and Spike Saunders, Alumni Secretary, were among University officials sending Morehead messages of happy returns.

Allies Strengthen Lines; Reds May Strike Again

TOKYO, Saturday, Nov. 4—(UP)—Both sides poured reinforcements into Korea's "Battle of the Bulge" only 20 miles from Sinanju today, and Red probing attacks indicated the enemy was coiling for another offensive.

American troops, after bitter three days, were slogging through cold and driving rain into their new positions. They had abandoned all hope of "Tokyo by Thanksgiving."

Against them were 40,000 and possibly twice that many Reds, with more pouring down from the border with Manchuria.

The new United Nations defense line had stabilized in a great three-quarter circle, 20 miles from the Allied supply base of Sinanju centering on Ipok directly below Unsan.

The Reds struck savagely at the South Korean 1st Division below Unsan Thursday night and Friday and at the ROK 8th Division at Won-Ni on the Chongchon River. The Reds took Won-ni and pushed to within about 17 and a half miles of Sinanju, but lost it again when the South Koreans counterattacked.

The Reds also were attacking the U.S. Marine 7th Regiment just south of Sudong, a village 20 miles north of the United Nations east coast base of Hamhung, on the main road to Chosin Reservoir. A flank attack threw a roadblock behind the Marines, and they stopped their advance to secure the flank and eliminate the

(See KOREA, page 4)

Tar Heel Boosters Invade Tennessee

By Edd Davis

It's going to be a lonely weekend for a few students here, but not so lonely for some 1,500 students and friends who have left on a great weekend jaunt to Tennessee. For that group it's set to be a rip-roaring, hilarious, fun-filled, exciting time.

The Tar Heels are invading Knoxville for the big football game between Carolina and the Volunteers. And if pre-weekend signs are any indication of what is to happen, Knoxvilleites are in for a thunderous period of excitement and surprises by which they will long remember Tar Heel followers.

With the multitude of Carolina rooters that are set to seize the fair city anything can happen. Tar Heel fans are determined and justly certain that the one big thing that will happen is the defeat of the favored Tennessee football team by their erstwhile opponents.

Some 150 made the trip by train, and an even greater number of students took advantage of private cars to travel the mountainous terrain to the big city. The University band accompanied the train riders.

The fans themselves will have plenty of backing in the form of flags and noisemakers. As the parade of cars left Chapel Hill Confederate flags were very much in evidence. Cars were decorated with various slogans and sayings such as "Beat the Vols" and "All the way Goo Goo."

Along came a couple of supplementary photos. One was a soulful close-up of "Darlene" with a lace mantilla over the hair, but the other was a shocker among the piles of puichritudinous pinups stacked up in the magazine's offices.

The last photo was no cheese-cake—rather, it was a "biceps" pose showing "Darlene" with the same strapless gown but with arms flexed to show a wrestler's muscles.

"Darlene," the student newspaper explained, is really Dar-ryl S. Jerlow, 21-year-old business administration student of Visalia, Calif. And, the paper hinted, Esquire should have known Claremont is a men's school.

Boy Or Girl? Esquire Mag Can't Tell

CHICAGO, Nov. 3—(AP)—In a search for a 1951 "calendar girl," a magazine sent entry blanks to some 1,000 colleges throughout the country.

Among the entries was a winsome blonde, "Darlene" S. Jerlow, the students' choice at Claremont College, Claremont, Calif. A picture of "Darlene," in a black strapless tulle gown and silver fox cape, was duly entered in the contest.

A couple of days later, Claremont College student newspaper decided to make it clear to Esquire Magazine that it had been spoofing.

Along came a couple of supplementary photos. One was a soulful close-up of "Darlene" with a lace mantilla over the hair, but the other was a shocker among the piles of puichritudinous pinups stacked up in the magazine's offices.

The last photo was no cheese-cake—rather, it was a "biceps" pose showing "Darlene" with the same strapless gown but with arms flexed to show a wrestler's muscles.

"Darlene," the student newspaper explained, is really Dar-ryl S. Jerlow, 21-year-old business administration student of Visalia, Calif. And, the paper hinted, Esquire should have known Claremont is a men's school.

(See GAUSE, page 4)

Truman Visits Two Policemen Hurt In Fight

President Walks From Blair House With Heavy Guard

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—(AP)—Under heavy guard, President Truman today walked from the White House to Emergency Hospital to visit the two policemen wounded in Wednesday's furious gun battle in defending him from assassination.

Five Secret Service Men closely flanked the President as he made the two-block trip to and from the hospital. Other Secret Service Agents rode slowly along in an escort car.

Mr. Truman chatted for about five minutes with the two wounded men—Pvt. Joseph A. Downs and Donald T. Birdzell—and later he told newsmen:

"They are getting along fine." Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman expressed "his deep gratitude" to the men. Hospital physicians described the condition of both guards as "very satisfactory."

Ross also announced that the President and Mrs. Truman will attend funeral services at 11 a.m., E.S.T., tomorrow for police Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, 40, who was fatally wounded in the wild shooting fray outside Blair House, the temporary Presidential residence.

Services for Coffelt, an Army veteran of World War II, will be held in the Chapel at Arlington National Cemetery, across the Potomac River from Washington, where many of the nation's heroes are buried. Interment will be in Arlington.

Meanwhile, the body of Griselio Torresola, one of the two Puerto Rican gunmen involved in the assassination attempt, lay unclaimed in the city morgue.

250,000 Sign North Carolina Freedom Scroll

Signatures of nearly 250,000 North Carolina residents have been obtained for the Freedom Scroll, according to an announcement by Louis M. Connor, Jr., executive director of the state signature drive.

Connor said yesterday that with only 37 of the 100 counties reporting, 156,085 Carolinians have already signed the scrolls.

"We will hit the 250,000 mark by the end of the week," Connor said.

The Freedom Scrolls will be sent to Berlin to be enshrined beneath the Freedom Bell which was dedicated there on United Nations Day, Oct. 24.

'Something Black And Lacy, Please'

Men's Minds Roam To Lingerie; Wife Has A Wonderful Chance

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(AP)—Turn a husband loose at a lingerie counter, and nine chances out of ten he'll buy the little woman something black and lacy, according to lingerie designers.

And the season for black is approaching, since pre-Christmas days find more men blushing heading for lingerie departments.

"It is the only season when lingerie ever seems to be on the male shopping list," says Mrs. Ruth Flaum, a designer who specializes in glamorous slips and nightgowns.

"Women have been very negli-

French Units Withdrawing In Indochina

SAIGON, VIETNAM, Indochina, Nov. 3—(AP)—A French column of 1,200 troops retreated westward from abandoned Laokay under enemy harassment today through misty, jungle-tangled ravines of the Tonkin Mountains. They hoped for a haven by the weekend with friendly Thai tribesmen.

The withdrawal left the Communist-led Vietminh in full control of Laokay, the last French fortress on Indochina's northwest frontier, and a 300-mile-wide zone of communication with Communist China.

Speculation developed here last week over the question of whether the garrison—including Senegals—would be evacuated.

(See INDOCHINA, page 4)

Game Is Twentieth Renewal Of Series

By Frank Allston, Jr.

KNOXVILLE, Nov. 3—One of Dixie's most bitter gridiron rivalries will be revived for the twentieth time here tomorrow afternoon when Carolina's Tar Heels invade Shields-Watkins Field to do battle with the mighty Tennessee Volunteers. A capacity Homecoming crowd of approximately 55,000 is expected to witness this inter-sectional battle which starts at 2 o'clock.

The Carolina-Vol clash always produces one of the South's best football contests and this year is no exception. The Tar Heels will carry a record of two wins, two losses and a tie into today's encounter while the host team has won six of seven battles to date.

Carolina has been spotted six points by those ever-present odds-makers who figure the spirit of this annual clash is enough to offset Tennessee's much more impressive record.

Tar Heel Coach Carl Snavely has been pointing for this big game ever since the Volunteers handed the Blue and White a humiliating 35-6 thrashing in Kenan Stadium last October. Reports say that the Tar Heel team is in high spirits and is convinced of victory tomorrow afternoon.

The squad arrived here this afternoon after a plane ride over the mountains and was immediately whisked away to its hotel. The travelling squad consisted of 41 players.

Ace Carolina Fullback Billy Hayes will not be able to play and his loss may put a severe crimp in Snavely's offensive plans. Hayes has been the workhorse of the Carolina team this season, carrying the brunt of both the passing and running. Doctors say his fractured cheekbone has not sufficiently healed to allow him to play.

His place in the offensive lineup will be taken by hard-driving Dick Weiss while Skeet Hesser will be held in reserve. Both backs stood out last week as the Tar Heels slapped down William and Mary, 40-7.

Tennessee last week had to fight off a last-minute desperation rally and hold on for dear life to squeak by a "weak" Washington & Lee eleven, 27-20, in a game played here.

In the 19 games played to date (See TENNESSEE, page 4)

State Police Will Check Harvard Case

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 3—(UP)—A state police lieutenant was assigned today to investigate and question all persons connected with the publication of a "filthy, obscene and licentious" issue by the Harvard humor magazine, "The Lampoon."

Lt. Sylvester Meade was appointed to the job by Dist. Atty. George E. Thompson who said he would decide whether to present the case to the Middlesex County grand jury when he receives the officer's report.

The special issue of the magazine, called the "Pontoon," was confiscated by Cambridge police when it appeared at the Harvard-Dartmouth football game Saturday. District Judge Arthur P. Stone turned the matter over to the district attorney when he was asked to issue complaints.

He described the magazine as "filthy, obscene and licentious" and "not fit" to be taken into homes where there were mothers, fathers or sisters.

(See LINGERIE, page 4)

Red Air Power Conservatively Set At 14,000

Does Not Include Naval Aviation, Training Planes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—(AP)—The Navy said today that the authorized operating strength of Russia's air force is estimated conservatively at 14,000 combat planes.

It added that this estimate does not include Russian Naval aviation, transport planes or trainers. A Navy spokesman gave that explanation of a statement appearing in "Naval Aviation News," magazine of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics. Exactly how much of such "authorized" strength has been achieved, the Navy official did not attempt to say.

The magazine, which is an official publication, put the Russian picture this way:

"The Soviet Union today is said to have an air force of upwards of 14,000 operational aircraft, including some jet fighters and TU-4 (B-29 type) medium bombers.

"Its strategic (long-range) bombing force is relatively small, although this arm appears to have been stressed in the Soviet post-war program.

"Naval aviation is land-based, having no aircraft carriers from which to operate."

"Naval Aviation News" said the Soviet concept of air power is clouded by censorship, propaganda, and frequent reorganization. But because Russia is a land of power, the magazine expressed belief that the primary purpose of Russian air power will probably be to back up the Russian Army by tactical operations, which usually are of short or medium range.

(See TENNESSEE, page 4)

Red Invaders Inch Toward Tibet Capital

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 3—(AP)—Chinese Communists invading Tibet were reported today by the Kalimpong correspondent of the Calcutta newspaper Statesman to be only 150 miles from Lhasa, capital of the priest-ruled country.

The Red invaders have reached Naachuka, on the road from Jyekundo in the Chinese province of Chinghai, the dispatch said. Naachuka lies on the easiest route westward to Lhasa.

Tibetans in Kalimpong were reported to have regarded the recent fall of Chamdo, a main caravan center 370 miles east of Lhasa, as a disaster. Lhasa had posted some of the best Tibetan troops at Chamdo reports said.

Word reaching Kalimpong said the Chamdo battle ended only when the Tibetans could fight no longer. Of the entire force only one officer surrendered, it was said.

(See TENNESSEE, page 4)

Delegates

All candidates for the State Student Legislature who have not been interviewed should meet in the Student Government office, Graham Memorial, at 2:30 p.m. Monday to be eligible. President Dick Murphy said yesterday.

The Legislature, which is composed of delegations from every college and junior college in the state, will be held from Nov. 30 to Dec. 3. Carolina will send 15 delegates, Murphy stated.