Too Much Too Often

SHIELDS-WATKINS FIELD, KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4—A hard charging Tennessee forward wall and a fleet of speedy backs proved too much for a stout but outplayed Carolina eleven here this afternoon as the Tar Heels went down to defeat at the hands of the Vols for the second straight year, 16-0. It was a clear cut case of too much too often.

The blue and white gridders could never get started. An early attack of the jitters upset Carolina and gave the Knoxville lads the jump they needed to power their way to another win. The Tar Heels offensive machine was as cold as the 40-degree temperature that enveloped the playing field. The Carolina attack sputtered, coughed, and at times looked like it might pick up steam, but alert Volunteer linemen or costly Tar Heel errors invariably clogged the gas line.

The Vols threatened to break loose at any minute during the early stages of the first period, but it wasn't until 13 minutes and 45 seconds had elapsed that Hal Payne bulled his way into touch-downland from the one and one-half yard line. Pat Shires made good on his extra point try and that was all the Tennessees needed to win. Most of the 38,000 shivering fans that packed Shields-Watkins Field warmed a bit after that, but the Tar Heel rooters needed anti-freeze to do the trick.

Too Many Tar Heels

IT WAS AN IRONIC CASE of too many Tar Heels that helped douse the Carolina hopes. Giant Tackle Pug Fearman of Charlotte accounted for two of the Volunteer points when he picked off Dick Wiess in the end zone before the Philadelphia fullback could get the ball away. End Johnny Grubbe of Mounty Airy pulled in the only two passes completed by Tennessee and marked up a first down in one of the Vol teepee drives. Wingback Eddie Morgan of Henderson was used sparingly by General Bob Neyland but managed to pick up 11 yards in three carries to further damage the Carolina cause.

Add to these Guard Ted Daffer, Center Bill Jasper, and Backs Andy Kozar, Hank Lauricella, and Hal Payne and you have the nucleus of the Tennessee wrecking crew. None of the boys, incidentally, are from the great state of 10-I-C.

Kozar was the Volunteer workhorse for the afternoon, carrying the ball 16 times from scrimmage for a net gain of 138 yards. Three of the Tennessee backs, by the way, picked up more yardage from scrimmage than did the entire Carolina backfield. Kozar's 138 paced the field, but Lauricella added 34 yards to the Tennessee total, and Dick Ernsberger picked up 24.

Carolina's net gain from scrimmage was 20 yards. Dick Bunting netted 20 yards, Bud Wallace picked up 12, and Bob (Goo Goo) Gantt ran for eight. Net losses of two yards by Skeet Hester, six by Dick Wiess, and 12 by Liberati cut deeply into the overall mark, however. Most of the losses came when passing attempts backfired. The big orange and white forward wall consistently smashed through the Tar Heel defense to throw the passer or knock down aerial attempts.

A Little Bit of Everything

A LITTLE BIT OF EVERYTHING happened to the luckless, punchless Carolinians this afternoon. The first half is a good instance. In the initial two periods Carolina fumbled three times and alert Volunteer linemen pounced on all three. Three times during the first half Tar Heel passing attempts were broken up by hard-charging Vol linemen, and at least two first downs were missed by one foot or less. We were frequently caught with our passes down.

One of the bright spots of the afternoon was the last-quarter kicking of Ernie Liberati. Bunting made some neat runs during the afternoon—the nicest coming in the third quarter when he caught an Andy Kozar fumble in mid-air on his own 18 and dashed down the sideline to the Tennessee 30 before Hank Lauricella hauled him down. Bud Wallace also looked good at times in the overland department.

After the game Coach Carl Snively praised the play of the Volunteers. "We were simply outplayed by a very fine football team," Snively commented. "They ran over and around us. A Tennessee team like the one on the field today will go a long way before being beaten."

Coach Bob Neyland of Tennessee also had praise for his team. "I was very proud of my boys," the General smiled. "I think we played our best game of the season." After pausing a minute Neyland turned his thoughts to Carolina. "North Carolina played a good hard game. They were very much in the game all the way. The outstanding play of the game was Bunting's return of Kozar's fumble."

Washington & Lee Beats VPI; Needs One Win For SC Crown

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 4—(AP) Tech's only six-pointer.

Washington and Lee's Generals ran and passed in the rain and mud here today to conquer Virginia Tech's Gobblers, 25-7, and move to within a single victory of their first Southern Conference football championship since 1934.

Seven thousand spectators braved the driving rain and watched the Gobblers, who haven't won a game all season, spurt to a 7-6 lead as time ran out in the first period. After Sterling Wingo splashed 64 yards to the one-yard line, Quarterback Bruce Fisher sneaked over for

But Tech didn't hold the only lead it has held in a football game this season for very long. Before, the half ended, the Generals slogged 33 yards with Halfback Jim Stark slamming off left tackle for the touchdown.

The Generals got their final touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter. With the Gobblers in possession of the ball on their eight-yard ribbon, Gilley fumbled the snap from center. The pigskin skidded through the mud into the end zone, and Tedge sprawled on it for Washington and Lee.

Foy, Sawyer Spark Attack For Losers

By Ken Barton

Playing under overcasts skies that cleared after a slight drizzle in the second half, the Carolina soccer team gave Penn State one of its toughest battles of the season before subduing to the national champions of the collegiate soccer world, 3-0, yesterday morning on Fetzer Field.

Clarence Buss scored twice in the fourth period to break the back of a fighting Tar Heel team that had played the Nittany Lions even since Ed Smith, center forward, scored in the early minutes of the first period to extend the Penn State streak to 26 games without a loss.

Smith put Penn State ahead after only 10 minutes had passed when he took a pass from all-america Inside Left Ron Coleman who had drawn goalie Buck Blankenship out from the goal.

Carolina then proceeded to play its hearts out and at times even outplay the classy Penn Staters who seem headed for another national championship.

Carolina seemed to be unable to click at the goal line when opportunities to score were presented them. Up Field Half Backs George Stephens, Red Montgomery, and Joe Dorsett along with Fullbacks Bill Phoades, and Barry Kalb played a marvelous aggressive game—bottling up the Penn State offensive and giving the Carolina offensive added aid.

With seven minutes by in the final period Buss knocked a ball past Blankenship from close up so that the Carolina goalie who played a bang up defensive game was unable to stop it.

Buss teamed with Right Wing Gus Bigott-taking a pass from him as the two charged the goal at once—and had no trouble in putting the ball in for the third goal.

Despite the fact that the insiders for the Nittany Lions, Harry Little and Ron Coleman, were all-america from last year, the two outstanding men on the field for all around play and aggressiveness were Bud Sawyer, Tar Heel inside left and Eddie Foy who played both center half and center forward for the losers.

The next game for the Tar Heel Booters will be Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 on Fetzer Field when they will try and avenge their defeat of last week as they meet the Duke Blue Devils.

Substitutions: Penn State—Charlton, Nugen, and Kurtz; Carolina—Lurie, Gaultin, Fazzan, Mac Calman, Beatty, and Brannon.

Illinois Tops Michigan In Big Ten Race, 7-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4—

(P)—A six-yard pass from Fred Major to Tony Klimek gave Illinois a 7-0 big ten win over Michigan today in a swirling snowstorm before 90,000 chilled spectators.

The weather completely frustrated Michigan's great Chuck Ortmann. In the numbing cold and driving snow he failed, for the first time in his collegiate career, to complete a pass. No Michigan passes, in fact, were completed the whole afternoon.

The crowd saw Illinois, No. 10 in the Associated Press poll of sports writers, brand itself the hottest Rose Bowl prospect in the Western Conference.

The win gave Illinois a record of two Conference victories against a lone defeat by Wisconsin. The Illini have Iowa, ineligible Ohio State and Northwestern still to play. The defeat gave Michigan a record of a win, a loss and a tie and virtually eliminated the Wolverines from Rose Bowl consideration.

With the gridiron converted into a skating rink by the steady snow and below freezing temperature, Illinois worked smoothly for its touchdown, rolling 30 yards in 12 plays, all on the ground, except the touchdown pass by Major.

first down during the first half, but Tennessee showed plenty of power.

The Tar Heels gave the ball to the Vols again midway in the third quarter when Hester fumbled the ball at the Tar Heel seven-yard stripe. Three plays thereafter, Payne came in for a ploughing drive over left tackle. Again Shires kicked the extra point. That was all of the scoring for the first half.

Bunting made a beautiful interception of a Hank Lauricella pass at midfield near the end of the period. Wiess, however, fumbled on first down and the Vols could only run one play before the clock clicked off the last few seconds.

Carolina received the second half kickoff and could do nothing. The Tar Heels punted and Tennessee picked up a first down before Lauricella punted out on the Tar Heel 16.

Again the Tar Heels could do nothing and punted. The Vols drove down to the Carolina 26 before Bunting snatched Kozar's fumble out of the air and dashed down the sidelines. Lauricella Illinois had all the superiority in the vital first half. Fullback Dick Raklovits and halfback Ron Stevens made up for the absence of Johnny Karras, the Illinois running star who did not play because of injuries.

Raklovits raced 31 yards to the Michigan 49 to start the drive. After alternating for short gains, he and Stevens moved Illinois down to the 28. Here Stevens cut outside his own left end and was spilled six yards from the goal by Michigan's linebacking sophomore, Roger Zatkoff. Two plays later Major straightened up behind the tough Illinois line and calmly flipped a high toss to Klimek, Sam Rebecca converted.

Michigan's best effort with the bad weather shacking Chuck Ortmann's passing efforts carried to the Illinois 36-yard line.

After the touchdown, Illinois was content to let Michigan do what it could on the snow-caked field. Michigan twice fooled Illinois with Ortmann quick kicks but Don Laz, often punting on first down to protect the Illinois lead, kept the Michigan team from scoring. He was given much help by the alert Illinois line.

Much of the victory credit went to the Illinois defensive unit anchored by Herb Neathery, defensive halfback and tackles Bill Tate and Chuck Ulrich.

finally pulled him down on the Tennessee 31.

Four plays found the Tar Heels back on the Volunteers 43 and Bunting punted out. Neither team could move the ball effectively during the remainder of the quarter.

In the fourth period, Carolina took over on the Tar Heel 16 and in two plays Tennessee had a safety as Wiess couldn't find a man clear downfield.

Shortly afterwards Carolina got its longest sustained drive going as the Tar Heels went from their own 19 to the 44, making two first downs on the way. The drive petered out and Ernie Liberati was sent in to punt.

The punting of Liberati was the only bright spot of the day. The sophomore tailback got off two of the afternoon's best both in the final period.

Vols Finish First, Second; Win, 20-37

Special to The Daily Tar Heel

KNOXVILLE, Nov. 4—Paced by the sterling one-two performances of Alf Holmberg and John Trent, the University of Tennessee cross country team downed the Carolina harriers, 20-37, here this morning.

Holmberg, ace Swedish distance runner, ran the four mile course in 21:18, just 47 seconds off the course record set last year by Tom Scott, a former Tennessee star. Scott made the trip today as an assistant Carolina coach.

Gordon Hamrick, Tar Heel ace, finished third, about 35 yards behind Trent. Holmberg and Trent started fast and held onto their leads. Hamrick's time was 21:55.

Rain which was forecast for this morning failed to come during the meet, but appeared just after the finish. A bitter cold breeze blew across the course which ran parallel to the Tennessee River.

Frank Albertson and John Devault came across the line in a close finish for fourth as Albertson clipped his Vol teammate by a couple of seconds.

Tar Heel co-captains Frank Hooper and Otis Honeycutt finished in a tie for sixth, giving Carolina three men ahead of Tennessee's number five man, Al Kuykendall, who finished eighth.

The Tennessee win gained revenge for the loss which the Carolina hill and dalers hung on the Vols in Chapel Hill last year.

The next meet for Carolina will be Monday afternoon when the local harriers journey to Raleigh for the big five meet with Duke, State, Wake Forest and Davidson. Both varsity and freshman teams will compete in the meet which starts at 3:30.—Frank Allston

The Summaries:

- 1. Holmberg (UT), 21:18; 2. Trent (UT), 3. Hamrick (UNC), 4. Albertson (UT), 5. Devault (UT), 6. Tie between Hooper (UNC) and Honeycutt (UNC), 8. Kuykendall (UT), 9. Webb (UNC), 10. Blane (UT), 11. Thompson (UT), 12. Bennett (UNC), 13. Burgess (UNC), 14. Ross (UNC).

Clemson Wins, 53-20

CLEMSON, S. C., Nov. 4—(UP)—Tailback Billy Hair led Clemson's rollicking Tigers to a 53-20 rout of the bewitched and befuddled Duquesne Dukes today before a freezing homecoming crowd of more than 17,000.

The 170-pound aerial artist passed twice to touchdowns and ran 65 yards to a third one when he couldn't find a receiver. He gained 104 yards on the ground, and completed six of his pitches for 185 yards.

Kentucky Wildcats Win Against Florida, 40-6

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 4—(UP)—Babe Parilli, ignoring a fine numbing rain that was half snow, passed and piloted unbent Kentucky to a 40 to 6 victory over Florida here today before 33,000 shivering homecoming fans.

From the time Parilli passed to Wilbur Jamerson for a touchdown on the fifth play of the game, Kentucky was the obvious master of a Florida team that apparently did not come equipped with anti-freeze.

A 20-yard looper from Parilli to Dom Fucci gave Kentucky a first down on Florida's eight yard line a few minutes later, and on the next play Jamerson high-stepped his way through tackle for the second touchdown, giving Kentucky a 12-0 lead. The 'Gators lashed their way back into the ball game when Haywood Sullivan's jump pass found the arms of Jim Freni and the big end outraced Kentucky's secondary to go 45 yards for a touchdown.

The Kentuckians wrapped up their eighth consecutive victory—and all-time high for a Kentucky team—in the second period when Emery Clark rocketed nine yards through tackle for one touchdown and Ben Zaranka made a divine end zone catch of Parilli's 17 yard pass for another.

Kentucky's final touchdown came with second stringers operating. Fullback Cliff Lawson tied one in the third period on 34-yard bolt through the line the way to its fifth victory in seven games with a 36 yard scoring pass play to end Stan Karnash midway in the first quarter.

He put them ahead again, 14-7, in the third quarter after Andy Davis' passing earned George Washington a 7-7 standoff at half time.

Davis, who made a valiant effort to carry the load for the Colonials by completing 10 of 22 passes for 130 yards, shot two passes good for 51 yards in the second quarter. He threw another intended for Charles Jones and the officials ruled Maryland Halfback Bob Shemonski interfered on the 12. Fred Samuelson went over three plays later.

Sprigs of holly were exchanged as good wish tokens at the Roman festival of Saturnalia.
