N.C. Symphony Annual Drive Gets Under Way

New Memberships Priced At $1.20 For UNC Students

The annual drive for memberships in the North Carolina Symphony Society got underway yesterday on campus and in the town. The drive will continue through Nov. 18.

At a meeting of the Inter-dormitory Council in Gerrard Hall last night, plans were made to canvass all of the dormitories. Henry Bowers, representative of the Interfraternity Council, has already pledged the support of the University's fraternities in the membership campaign.

Student memberships priced at $1.20 are now on sale at special booths in the Y Court and in the lobby of the Bank of Chapel Hill. These memberships entitle the holder to attend all society-sponsored concerts through the state, beginning in January.

The full Symphony will play its annual concert in Memorial Hall in April, and programs which students may attend on their membership cards are scheduled for Durham, Greensboro, Raleigh, Burlington, and High Point.

Miss Katherine Carmichael, Dean of Women, is in charge of the membership campaign in the women's dorms and sororities; Harold Weaver and Norman Cordan are organizing solicitations in the men's dorms and fraternities; Miss Gay Currie has charge of the booth in the Y, and Mrs. A. C. Burnham is in charge of the booth in the Bank of Chapel Hill.

Chinese Reds Entering War, Says M'Arthur

HONG KONG, Nov. 6—(UP)—The Chinese Communists began putting the entire country on a war basis today and there were indications that new mobilization decrees would be announced tomorrow.

All Communist dispatches reaching here and all broadcasts by the Peiping Radio hammered out the same recurrent theme:

1. The Chinese Communists will oppose "American Imperialist aggressors" with concrete action, and

2. American use of Atomic Bombs will mean retaliation in kind.

There were reports of great troop movements northward. Chinese Nationalists said 400,000 Chinese Reds already had invaded North Korea and that the same number of reserves was massed on the border.

Chinese Communist vituperation against the United States was expected to reach a crescendo Tuesday—the 33rd anniversary of the Soviet revolution.

Communist propaganda chief Lu Ting-Yi in a special message commemorating the anniversary said "American intervention in Korea signals an intention to" (See CHINESE, page 4)

Gray Named

Special to The Daily Tar Heel
RALEIGH, Nov. 6—Gordon Gray, President of the Consolidated University, has been appointed State chairman for the 1950 Christmas Seal campaign. Dr. Herman F. Eason, president of the State Tuberculosis Association, said yesterday.

Gray said plans for the campaign are now underway and announcements of local chairmen will soon be made.

The total amount contributed in North Carolina in 1949 was $386,865.98.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK BEGINS HERE Sunday to continue through the following Thursday. Among the topflight, nationally known speakers scheduled to appear are Arthur L. Kinsolving (left), Rector of St. James Church in New York City, who will speak on psychology, philosophy, and international relations; Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas (center), qualified to speak on agriculture, economics, and sociology, and Edward H. Johnson (right) an authority on Far Eastern affairs, history, and literature.

Manchurian Based Jet Attacks Troops

American Forces Solidify Lines Across Northern Waist Of Korea

TOKYO, Tuesday, Nov. 7—(UP)—An enemy jet fighter made the first officially reported attack on U. S. forces from a Manchurian base Monday. But a welcome lull in ground fighting gave the Americans time to begin building a solid line across Korea's narrow, northern waist.

The American 24th Division retook up to 1,200 yards of ground lost north of the Chongchon River two days ago, without encountering any "live" Communist troops. They found "hundreds" of Communist dead, apparently slain in the Allies' blistering two-day air attack.

Hipps Makes Shadow Fade From Scene

DECATUR, Tenn., Nov. 6—(UP)—An election eve crisis seethed tonight about the brunette head of a high school football team whose selection set off bitter charges among her Republican and Democrat elders.

Meigs County Schools were closed during the uproar over 16-year-old Annette Hipps' right to reign. She became more of an election issue than the records of the two candidates for the Legislature—Rep. Mary Shadow, Democrat and a bit of a queen herself, and Walter White, Republican.

The redhot Legislature race reached into the classrooms when Prof. D. P. Powell, of Meigs County High hurled a charge of "fix" at Principal A. B. Culvahouse in connection with Miss Hipps' election.

Powell, it turned out, had a favorite of his own for the queen title, 14-year-old Jacqueline Grubb. Powell is a Democrat allied with the (See MISS HIPPS, page 4)

Puerto Rican Asks Counsel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(UP)—Puerto Rican Nationalist Oscar Collazo, penniless and apparently deserted by his friends, asked a Federal court today to appoint a lawyer to defend him against murder charges resulting from his attempt to assassinate President Truman.

His plea was relayed to Federal Judge Edward A. Tamm by Washington Attorney William E. Leahy, who was appointed last week as an "Officer of the Court" to inform Collazo of his rights and find out whether he was in a position to hire his own legal counsel.

Tamm promised he would name an attorney to represent Collazo without charge.

Leahy said he interviewed Collazo Saturday in the heavily-guarded prisoner ward of Gallinger Hospital, where the 37-year-old Puerto Rican is recovering from a bullet wound suffered during the wild gun battle in the doorstep of the President's Blair House residence last Wednesday.

REW Unit Will Visit Students

A committee representing all organized student church groups will visit dorms, and fraternity and sorority houses this week to invite students to the evening meetings to be held as part of Religious Emphasis Week which starts here Sunday.

The nightly church meetings themselves will begin next Monday. There will be a permanent speaker at each of the churches to talk about various religious aspects of church life and the part it plays in the world today, an official pointed out yesterday.

The five speakers who will talk include: Dr. Maurice Trimmer, at the Baptist Church; Rev. David Burgess, Presbyterian Church; Rev. Arthur L. Kinsolving, Episcopal Church; Rev. J. Lem Stokes, II, Methodist Church, and Father Gregory Eichenlaub, Gerrard Hall.

The student church groups and the YWCA and the YMCA are sponsoring the evening gatherings. The Y office announced yesterday that no collections will be taken at the evening services.

Full U. S. Defeat, Warns Russian

LONDON, Nov. 6—(UP)—A top-ranking Russian leader warned the United States by implication tonight that its forces in Korea might be "defeated totally and driven out."

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, a Vice Premier and a member of the ruling Communist Politburo, gave the warning in the principal speech at the traditional Bolshoi Theatre meeting in Moscow on the eve of the 33rd anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution. Moscow Radio broadcast the proceedings.

Bulganin also aligned Russia even more closely with the Chi- (See TOTAL, page 4)

'Big In Two Places'

The Solution To The Biggest Holdup In London Is A 'Bust'

LONDON, Nov. 6—(UP)—A twenty-four-year-old beauty queen, who grew bigger than Jane Russell in a couple of places, appealed to the manufacturers of America today to build her a bathing suit that fits.

"Or," brunette Irene Whitworth said, "maybe one of those nice Congressmen running for election will help me."

Irene's bust is registered officially here at an ample 38½ inches. Jane Russell's is registered at 38 inches, "flat."

Irene said her professional future looked bleak unless someone where she finds a suit that fits. "After all," she said in an interview, "I win beauty contests for a living."

Gordon Gray Will Address Frosh Today

First Formal Talk By New President Since Inauguration

Gordon Gray, President of the Consolidated University, will make his first formal address to the student body here this morning at the 10 o'clock freshman assembly in Memorial Hall.

His talk had originally been intended for the freshmen only. However, general interest in his talk has caused the Dean of Students to issue an invitation to all students and interested persons.

His topic had not been announced late yesterday afternoon. It is expected, however, that he will discuss more fully the student affairs he touched upon briefly in his inauguration speech given in Raleigh last month.

It will be Gray's first appearance before students here since he gave his support to the Tar Heel football team at the "Beat Wake Forest" pep rally held here several weeks ago.

Chancellor of the University at Chapel Hill Robert B. House will introduce Gray to the assembly.

Phi Assembly Will Debate Two New Bills

The Phi Assembly will discuss "a resolution to defer college students from the draft" at its meeting tonight at 8:30 in Phi Hall.

In addition, the Assembly will debate two other bills. New members will be inducted at an executive session following the meeting.

The second bill, introduced by Robert Pace, will debate the "advisability of Governor Scott's offer of state support for municipal roads."

"A resolution relating to the advisability of attacking and declaring a preventive war against the USSR," introduced by Ham Horton, will be the third subject discussed.

Five new members were inducted into the Assembly at its last meeting. They are Charles Rodenbough, Robert West, Donald Ayers, Thomas Brame and Edward Rodman.

George Rodman, Speaker of the Assembly, pointed out that all sessions are open to visitors. They also may obtain the floor if they wish to enter the debate, Rodman said.

Dr. Lewis To Give M'Nair Talk Tonight

Noted Psychiatric Worker From New York Will Deliver Three Lectures In Hill Hall

Dr. Nolan D. C. Lewis, Director of the New York State Psychiatric Institute and Hospital, will speak on "Psychiatry and Religion" tonight at 8:30 in Hill Hall in the first of the annual series of three McNair Lectures.

Under his general topic, Dr. Lewis will lecture tonight on the specific subject of "Contacts Between Psychiatry and Religion in the Past."

His lecture for tomorrow night at the same hour will deal with "The Cooperative Effort of Psychiatry and Religion in Modern Problems." On Thursday night at 8:30, he will discuss "Possibilities for Future Integration of Psychiatry and Religion."

The purpose of the McNair Lectures is to "show the mutual bearing of science and theology upon each other and to prove the existence and attributes, as far as may be, of God from nature." This annual series was founded in 1908 through a bequest by the Rev. John Calvin McNair, who graduated from the University in 1849.

Dr. Lewis received his MD from the University of Maryland in 1914 and was a Fellow in Psychology at Johns Hopkins from 1914 to 1917. He studied at the University of Vienna in 1927-28 and has been director of the New York State Psychiatric Institute and Hospital since 1936.

In addition, he has been consultant in neuropsychiatry to the Secretary of War and to the U. S. Public Health Service.

He is the author of "Constitutional Factors in Dementia Praecox," "Research in Dementia Praecox," and "History of Psychiatric Achievement."

He has been Editor of the "Yearbook in Psychiatry" and Managing Editor of the "Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease" and "Psychoanalytic Review."

Science Students Must Be 'Spared'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—The National Society of Professional Engineers proposed today that enough engineering and science students be spared from the draft to safeguard against future manpower shortages in those fields.

Similar pleas have been made recently in behalf of doctors, so-called "superior" students and other groups.

The NSPE said the nation's future defense needs could ill afford a shortage of upcoming engineers and scientists. And it declared:

"A future shortage in the Humanities and Liberal Arts courses would be much less serious."

DR. NOLAN D. C. LEWIS, Director of the New York State Psychiatric Institute, will deliver the annual series of three John Calvin McNair lectures. The first is tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music Hall.

Shaw's Body Is Cremated In Last Rites

LONDON, Nov. 6—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw's body was cremated today without a preacher or a prayer.

The great playwright, believed by most of the world to be an atheist but said by some to have believed in a God, had the kind of funeral he wanted—almost. The service was in the Golden Green Crematorium in a residential section of London.

Shaw had wanted no tears. But Virginia-born Lady Astor, his close friend, left the service weeping.

He had wanted no flowers. But admirers from all over the world sent wreaths. One came from the British Communist party. Shaw had called himself a Communist. Late in his life he came to ridicule Karl Marx, but he said he admired Stalin. The flowers were placed in a room adjoining that where the service was held.

The old Irishman had hoped for a private funeral. Only 36 persons, friends and servants, were admitted. But crowds thronged outside.

The best known playwright of modern times—and one of the sharpest critics of those times—died at the age of 94 last Thursday morning in his cottage at Ayot St. Lawrence. Kidney complications after he had broken his thigh in a fall in his flower garden caused his death.

He had said he wanted his ashes mixed with those of his wife, Charlotte, who died in 1943. Mrs. Shaw's ashes were in an urn on top of Shaw's casket during his funeral.

Those in charge did not say what was to be done with the ashes of the playwright or his wife. But there has been speculation that Shaw's remains will be buried in Poel's Corner at Westminster Abbey, last resting place of Britain's great.

Auditions Are Slated For Sound And Fury

Sound and Fury will hold auditions Thursday in Memorial Hall from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Students preferring to use their own music and scripts are asked to bring them.

Students interested in joining the group also are invited to attend.

GOP Leaders Slam Truman's Foreign Policy

Parties Making Final Accusations Before Elections

By The Associated Press
Republicans hammered hard at the grave turn of events in Korea on the eve of today's elections, slamming back at President Truman's campaign attack on "isolationist" critics.

For the third straight day, a topflight GOP leader tried to put the blame for the Chinese Communist intervention on the Democrats' political doorstep as a failure of Truman's Far East policy.

The Republican drum fire on this theme opened up with the first replies to President Truman's political speech in St. Louis Saturday night. There Mr. Truman sought to pin the label of isolationists on some Republicans who have differed with his foreign affair's handling, declaring:

"A vote for isolationism in this election would be a vote for national suicide."

Yesterday Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, campaigning for a third term as Governor of New York, had a dawn-to-midnight television show.

He plunged right into the Chinese invasion of Korea. "This very great tragedy," Dewey said, could have been averted "if we had supported Chiang Kai-Shek and had not let his government fall, or if we had not cleared out of Korea."

Previously Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania and picked as the Republican's No. 1 spokesman, and chairman Guy George Gabrielson of the GOP National Committee had pounded at the same idea on successive days.

No one knows what effect, if any, this appeal will have on the 42,000,000 voters—a record for a year in which no President is elected—who are expected to go to the polls.

Both sides have said a large number of voters were waiting until the last moment to make up their minds.

Not every vote for a Democrat is by any means an endorsement of Mr. Truman's foreign policy or of the administration's "Fair Deal" program. Nor is every Republican vote necessarily a repudiation of Mr. Truman.

Red Chinese Begin Total Mobilization

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 6—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur notified the United Nations today that Chinese Communist troops are fighting U. N. forces in Korea. The United States promptly called for a special security council meeting Wednesday morning to consider this turn of events.

The charge of Red Chinese intervention presented the United Nations with the gravest crisis in its five-year history. American Delegate Ernest A. Gross told a news conference: "The situation obviously is serious and will require consultations with other members."

Senior Rings

Orders for senior rings will be accepted tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the Grail Desk in the Y.

A representative of the Bal-four Company, makers of the official University ring, will be on hand at that time.

Tomorrow is the only day that a representative of the company will be here, according to Bob Hutchinson, ring chairman. The Grail is the only campus representative, Hutchinson said.
