Old Times In Charlottesville

SCOTT STADIUM, CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Dec. 2—It looked like old times here this afternoon as a wildly-cheering band of Virginians, some 30,000 strong, watched their favorite sons romp to a 44-13 victory over Carolina's hapless Tar Heels. Today's power show by the Cavaliers was reminiscent of the early days of this 53-year-old rivalry when the Virginia outfit almost invariably came out on top in one of the South's most colorful rivalries.

It was power, power, power that snowed under the Carolinians. That together with ragged, uninspired play by the Tar Heels sent the Virginia score soaring to its highest point since 1912 when the boys from the Old Dominion rolled up a 66-0 score against Carolina.

Jarrin' Johnny Papat, the Virginia ground-gaining ace, started things off with a resounding bang when he ran the first play from scrimmage for 63 yards and a touchdown. Papat swept wide around his own right end, cut to the sidelines and hot-footed it all the way to the goal line.

Stop That Fiasco

THE FIASCO COULD JUST as well have been stopped at that point because Carolina was never in the game. Four minutes later, Cavalier lightning struck again as Bobby Pate dived through left guard from the one-yard-line to score.

That was only the beginning. At the end of the first quarter, Virginia was way out front, 18-0. It seems impossible, but things got worse instead of better. In the second period, Virginia tallied two more six-pointers and added an extra point to run the score to 31-0 at intermission. The halftime rest, by the way, was Carolina's only effective weapon against the swift-scoring Cavaliers.

The cycle finally reached its low, however, and Carolina managed to play their hustling rivals to a standstill in the final 30 minutes, both teams scoring 13 points. Coach Carl Snaveley and Virginia Mentor Art Guepe substituted freely in the last half, and the game was far more interesting than when the first-liners were on the field.

Poorest Play All Year

IT WAS A REAL rock 'em, sock 'em battle from start to finish, but the Tar Heels just couldn't find themselves. The Carolina play was, by far, the poorest turned in all year. You would never have recognized the Tar Heels today had it not been for the familiar blue and white uniforms.

The day was black in all respects for the folks from the Old North State. It marked the end of Carolina's most disastrous football year since the return of Carl Snaveley. It provided a poor finish for any season, and it gave Carolina a flat .000 record against its two oldest rivals—Virginia and Duke.

The statistics told the sad story. Virginia outdid the Tar Heels in every department. The Cavaliers picked up 21 first downs to Carolina's seven, completed 12 of 20 forward passes while Carolina completed 10 of 18, gained 217 yards passing to 93 for Carolina, and kicked for an average of 40.8 yards to Carolina's 39.9 yards.

Cavalier Rushing Hurt Most

VIRGINIA RECOVERED FIVE TAR HEEL fumbles while Carolina came up with one Cavalier bobble. The real damage was done in the rushing department. Virginia netted 195 yards from scrimmage via the overland route, and the Tar Heels were held to a very poor minus 20 net.

There were a few—very few—bright spots in the afternoon for the Carolina fans that made the trip. Fullback Jule Rousseau, a sophomore, looked very good in backing up the line during the last half, and Ernie Liberati, another soph, turned in a creditable offensive performance, running, kicking, passing, and calling signals. Soph Wingback Jackie Cooke showed well and Bill Hayes' passing was good. Big Huck Holdash, slowed considerably by a knee injury, played well on defense as did Tackle Bill Kuhn and Guard Joe Dudeck.

Papat As Good As Wadiak

PAPIT, THE VIRGINIANS' BACKFIELD ACE, proved to be one of the toughest runners that the Tar Heels have come up against all year. South Carolina's Steve Wadiak was great, but Papat seemed just as good—if not better. The Philadelphia flash, by the way, added 141 yards to his rushing yardage to bring his three-year mark to 3,237 yards.

As a whole, however, the team was without doubt at a new low. The offensive unit could never get started, and the defense was more ragged than any that has worn the Blue and White in recent years. The failure of the defensive team was a real blow after the bang-up games it had turned in in the nine previous contests.

All in all, the game was reminiscent of Casey's third strike. But it's an even bet that Mudville was a madhouse compared to what Chapel Hill will be like tonight.

Deasy Leads With 18; Wallace Next With 14

ELON COLLEGE, Dec. 2—(UP)—Carolina's Tar Heels broke what had been a close contest wide open in the final 10 minutes of play to defeat Elon's Christians 57-48 in a basketball game here tonight which marked the dedication of Elon's new 4,600-seat Alumni Gymnasium.

Hugo Kappler and Foward Deasy pulled the Tar Heels out of a 39-39 tie at the three-quarter mark and on to the win before a crowd of approximately 2,500, which watched impressive half-time ceremonies in connection with the dedication.

Deasy, high scorer of the night with 18 points, and Kappler, who got nine of his 10 points in the second half, turned back a Christian threat which hung on for a 25-24 halftime margin and then which had closed the gap.

Hank Hamrick and Don Haithcox led the Christian spurt after Larry Gaither had kept the Christians going in the first half. Haithcox ended the night with 16 points for Elon scoring honors.

The freshman team won their second game of the year in the preliminary, defeating the Elon frosh, 65-32.

Thomas Wins In NC State Invitational

Special to The Daily Tar Heel
 RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 2—Jimmy Thomas, All-American middle distance man from Carolina, and Donald Sonia, State freshman, were the only double winners here this afternoon in the First Annual Carolinas Invitational Swimming Meet held at State College.

Thomas, Tar Heel captain from Ballmore, won the 200-yard backstroke in 2:19.3 and 440-yard freestyle in 5:04.6. Sonia won the freshman 50-yard freestyle in 24.7 and 200-yard open breaststroke with 2:27. The old record was 2:28.2 set by Bill Kelly in 1948.

Buddy Baarke of Carolina took a second in the backstroke and a third in the 100-yard freestyle to land well up in the individual scoring. Other seconds taken by Carolina men were Cecil Milton in the 440, and Kent Williamson in the 100.

Other Tar Heel scoring was as follows: Ray Edmundson fourth in the 440, Barry Wall third in the breaststroke, Kirby Ambler fourth and Buddy Heins fifth in the 100, and Duke Widoff third and Ron Walker fifth in the high school 100.

Floyd Leads TCU Over SMU, 27-13

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 2—(UP)—Gilt-edged Gil Bartosh and Jumping Jack Floyd passed and ran Southern Methodist dizzy today as Texas Christian overcame a two-touchdown deficit to close out the Southwest Conference season with a 27 to 13 victory.

The two offensive flashes had to share headline honors for the day, however, with a pair of defensive terrors, Guard Herb Zimmerman and End Bill Moorman.

Moorman scored the tying touchdown as he scooped up a blocked punt and scampered 30 yards.

 25 and outran the secondary for the score.

Carolina was still unable to make any appreciable yardage. Virginia drove to the Carolina 13 midway in the second quarter, but again the Tar Heels held. The next time the Cavaliers got their hands on the ball, they drove to the Carolina 22 where Barkley hit Schroeder on the goal line for the touchdown. Harding's pass to Scott made it 25-0.

With three minutes left in the first half, the Virginians took over again when they recovered a Carolina fumble at the Carolina 36. Papat and Pate paced the drive to the goal and Papat hit over left guard for the score with a little over a minute left.

Carolina Wingback Bob (Goo Goo) Gantt returned the second half kickoff to the Carolina 16 where he fumbled and two plays and 35 seconds later the Cavaliers had their sixth touchdown. Pate flipped a 35-yard scoring pass to Bessell on the 10 and he carried over for the touchdown. Barker's kick made it 38-0.

There was no more scoring until late in the third period when Barkerley passed five yards to Pate in the end zone for the score after an unnecessary roughness penalty against Carolina had moved the ball to the five-yard line.

Then as the fourth quarter got under way, Carolina struck for its first touchdown. Virginia Fullback Harold Hoak fumbled at the Cavalier 32 trying to get off a punt and on the first play from scrimmage, Liberati threw a short pass to Walsler at the 25 and he dashed down the sidelines behind perfect blocking for the touchdown.

Carolina held the ball during most of the rest of the fourth period and scored after Tommy Stephens had intercepted a Barkley pass and carried it 33 yards to the Virginia seven. With two minutes left in the game, Bunting threw a first down pass to Walsler in the left flat at the goal line for the second Tar Heel touchdown. Fred Sherman's perfect conversion ended the scoring for the day.
