'Stairway To Stars' Theme Of Pi Beta Phi Pledge Dance

Pledges of Pi Beta Phi formed an arrow leading them to a 'Stairway To The Stars' at their annual pledge dance held from 9 until 12 last night at the Carolina Inn.

The figure comprised of pledges and their dates represented the arrow pin of the sorority. Pin points of light stood for the jewels in the pin.

As each girl entered through a giant silver star, she met her date and was presented with a wine carnation, the sorority flower, and a silver Pi Beta Phi bracelet.

Pledges and their dates were: President Barbara Wooten, Gastonia, with Ted Mercer, Wilson; Vice President Connie Tyson, Richmond, Va., with Duffield Smith, Dallas, Tex.; Secretary Helen Brundage, Tryon, with John McCrary, Lexington; Treasurer Sue Lindsay, Bluefield, W. Va., with Bryan Broadfoot, Black Mountain.

Allison, Sylva; Carolyn Butcher, Charlotte, with Bill Hill, Wilmington; Jean Caldwell, Wilmington, with Lawrence Cheek, Chapel Hill; Martha Caldwell, Chapel Hill, with Kenneth Washburn, Great Neck, Long Island, New York; Barbara Chantler, Wilmington, Del., with Gene Brigham, Miami, Fla.

For Better, For Worse?

By Tink Gobbel

Should the Duke game be mentioned here? Should the Duke game be mentioned, period?

What a weekend to remember. Every inmate on the hall of this dorm had a date. That was Duke weekend, 1950.

Shortly afterwards, still 1950, the "Greetings" from Washington began to roll in. Misery! Before Christmas holidays, The Daily Tar Heel reported the loss of approximately one hundred boys who were drafted into the armed services. Agony! Now they tell us that the total enrollment has dropped to 6,000. And it's only January. Nausea!

For the benefit and encouragement of the girls living in McIver, Alderman, Smith, Carr, and Kenan, the inhabitants that reside in this particular abode (Webster says an abode is a natural dwelling for plants or animals and, believe me, it's getting more natural every day) would like to pass on a few suggestions to prevent the aforesaid misery, agony, and nausea.

We've really combined all efforts. The established organizations (those with charters) include along with the pre-war Bridge Club, sewing circle, and Association for Guzzling Gangrels (initiation only upon the inclination of turning a pale shade of green), the remarkably effective Confederation of Card Cheats, the High-Phalootin' Pickle-tootin' Crapshootin' Cutties, and the Monopoly Mongers. For those who haven't as yet made the upper brackets, there is the consolation that anytime is teatime and they can forget it all.

These bevies were organized out of a dire necessity for the forgetting of such trifles as dates. (Here I again consulted Noah, who says a date is the fruit of a palm, constituting a staple food of Northern Africa and Western Asia and also imported—wait! Here it is—that statement affixed to a writing, coin, etc., which specifies the time, and often the place, of making. Also the time of lasting of anything; duration. And speaking of duration, we'll forget the whole business until then.) And speaking of Noah again, if you don't believe me, look it up!

As I was saying before, I caught my opponent rolling with loaded dice, men are NOT here to stay, regardless of statements made by authorities.

Can you picture a female holding the office of president of the student body, or captain of the football team, or wrestling champ of the University of North Carolina?

Strictly off the record, I've always had the secret desire to be president of a fraternity and from where I sit, chances are looking up. Joy! And at last girls are going to have the opportunity not only to go into men's dorm but to live in them, legally! Bliss!

Yes, everyday boys are leaving the campus of Carolina to head for the Navy and San Diego, with all its crime and vice; for the shores of Key West with all its Florida sunshine, and for Fort Bragg, with all its Men. That's capital M, capital E, captain N, MEN!

Wonder what chances are on a commission in the WACS? Ecstasy!

New manager of the club, John Allen Cates, is working on plans for expanded social activity for the club this year. The club opened last week with a party for members and guests.
