Discrimination Ruled Against Durham Schools

Johnson J. Hayes Brands Facilities Inferior For Negro

Special to The Daily Tar Heel
DURHAM, Jan. 26—Judge Johnson J. Hayes today ruled that Durham school officials have discriminated against Negro school children as alleged in a suit heard before him in Middle District Court.

Hayes ordered the Durham School Board to be restrained from further discriminating against Negro school children and entitled the plaintiffs to injunctive relief.

Hayes remarked in his ruling that the Durham officials have discriminated "by reason of race and color."

According to his report, he found that the facilities for Negro school children in Durham are inferior to those for white children.

This is the third in civil rights cases that have been presented to the Middle North Carolina District in recent months. Earlier Judge Hayes had ruled that the facilities at a Negro law school in Durham were equal "and in some cases better" than those at the University of North Carolina.

Students Aid In Red Cross Relief Plans

The local chapter of the Red Cross has initiated a program of collecting furniture for the relief of the numerous destitute families in the county whose homes have been burned during the past few months.

Students of the various church clubs have volunteered their services in the collecting of the furniture, according to Mrs. Mabel Brittain, secretary of the chapter.

Ronnie Woodruff, of the Canterbury Club, is chairman of the student group which is composed of about 20 members.

YW Program Set Monday

The first in a series of four training programs for the YWCA Junior Council will feature a talk by Mrs. R. H. Wettach on "History on the YWCA" Monday at 7 o'clock in the Monogram Club room.

The orientation is open to all junior girls who wish to work with the Y next year, and is planned to acquaint them further with the program and purposes of the YWCA.

Montreat Retreat

Registration beginning at 9 a.m. Tuesday will start the Montreat Conference rolling toward the important weekend for the YMCA and YWCA, the weekend of Feb. 16-18 when the conference will meet at Montreat.

Blanks for registration will be provided in the Y Building until the closing of registration on Wednesday, Feb. 14. Anyone unable to register between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. are asked to pick up registration forms in the YW office.

The theme of the Montreat Conference will be "The Christian Answer" and Dr. Bernard Anderson, staff member of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School of Rochester, N. Y., will be the principal speaker. His three lectures will spark five discussion groups.

Committee Ponders Drafting Veterans

Those With Stateside Or Brief Duty Should Not Be Exempt, Says Vinson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—The House Armed Services Committee today was reported considering opening the way to a draft of World War II veterans with brief service records and those who did not go overseas.

The law now automatically exempts all veterans.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) told a draft law hearing it is hard for him to understand why a youth who served only 90 days in World War II should be given automatic deferment while another who didn't serve must be required (when drafted) to stay in uniform 21 months.

The committee, confronted with a Defense Department proposal for drafting of 18-year-olds, was reported reluctant to dip into this age group immediately. Today it called on the department to bring in suggestions Monday on tightening the law to cut down deferments.

At one point, Vinson observed that it is hurting the nation's morale when only one out of 10 men of draft age is inducted. The nine-tenths include 4-F's, veterans and men with dependents.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, manpower expert and Assistant Secretary of Defense, told the committee that Selective Service estimates between 75,000 and 80,000 of the nation's 4-F's (men who have been rejected because of mental or physical reasons) can be put into full active service.

The witness said that Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Draft Director, figured this number could be obtained by "slightly lowering" mental standards and strictly enforcing physical standards.

WILLIAM EDGERTON

Edgerton Will Talk Sunday, Monday Night

William Edgerton, Professor of Russian Studies at Penn State College, will be the leader of the Camp New Hope conference starting at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and also will give an address in Hill Hall Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Besides leading in several discussions in the conference, Edgerton will talk about "Understanding Communism." A supper is planned for the meeting. All students are invited to attend.

Monday night Edgerton speaks on "The Crisis of Our Age." The address at Hill Hall is one of the Y's outstanding programs for education, Claude C. Shotts, Executive Secretary of the Y, said yesterday.

At the annual Y Southern Conference at Berea, Ky., last summer UNC delegates were greatly stimulated and inspired on hearing Edgerton and asked him to come to Chapel Hill. Edgerton's topic, "Christianity and Communism," was well received by delegates and provided them with some inside information about the current dilemma in the world.

Edgerton is the author of several articles and reviews. He translated "A Soviet History of Philosophy" and wrote several articles in The American Mercury.

Kidder To Deliver Third UNC Sermon

The third in a series of University Sermons will be delivered in Hill Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock by Maurice A. Kidder of the Department of Religion. His sermon is entitled, "The Next Voice You Hear."

Charles Crone, junior from Goldsboro, will preside at the service.

Mike McDaniel, chairman of a committee of interested students sponsoring the sermons, said yesterday that response to the previous services has been very good, and that speakers have been engaged for most of the remaining Sundays in the quarter. Outstanding ministers of all denominations will be brought to the campus, he added.

Kidder came to the Religion Department in the fall of 1949 from Ohio Wesleyan University, where he was for three years Director of Religious Activities and instructor in religion.

He graduated from the University of New Hampshire in 1935, and received his S.T.B. degree from the Boston University School of Theology in 1938.

Following several years in the ministry and four years of service in the Army as a chaplain with the 29th Infantry Division, Professor Kidder attended the Yale Divinity School in 1945, where he was awarded the advanced degree of Master of Sacred Theology.

Among the churches which he has served as minister have been the Cherry Valley, Mass., Methodist Church, the Kings River Parish of Hanford, Calif., and the Students and townspeople are invited. The offering will be used to pay expenses of future speakers and provide publicity for the sermons. McDaniel urged all students and faculty members to take advantage of this opportunity to hear the outstanding religious leaders on campus and in the state.

Student Went 14 Years For Engineer's Degree

CHICAGO, Jan. 26—(UP)—In the past 14 years there have been exactly 728 Saturday nights. But tomorrow night is a very special Saturday in the life of Robert W. Christiansen.

He will get a degree in mechanical engineering from the Illinois Institute of Technology after constant attendance at night classes for 28 semesters.

In the audience watching him get the coveted sheepskin will be his wife and three children. "I couldn't have done it without her," Christiansen said of his attractive wife.

"We're very proud of him," said Dr. Henry T. Heald, Illinois president. "He certainly shows what someone who really wants an education will do to get it."

Christiansen, 34-year-old plant works manager, doesn't think that he has done anything unusual at all. He said, "Some guys bowl, some drink, I just went to school."

In the course of acquiring his degree, Christiansen maintained a "B" average.

After 126 months of education Christiansen goes right back to class Feb. 12. But this time he's going to teach.

Outraged At The Very Thought Of It

Irate Ale Guzzlers Scoff At 'Suds' In Cups; 'I'd Sooner Not Drink' One Says—He Didn't

(A test the Hackensack, N. J., Health Department scheduled yesterday to determine whether beer tasted the same out of a paper cup as out of a glass has been cancelled. In the interest of health, sanitation and social tradition, a United Press reporter conducted his own test in Manhattan at McSorley's Old Ale House, established in 1854.—Ed.)

By Richard Amper
NEW YORK, Jan. 26—(UP)—Veteran ale drinkers, outraged at the very thought of it, sneered four to one today at "suds" in a paper cup. This is how it went: A 235-pound man in a plain lumberjack waddled to the venerable bar at McSorley's 97-year-old Ale House, nodded to bartender Willie Eulo to serve him and turned to talk to a friend.

'Of Thee I Sing' Premieres Tonight In Memorial Hall

Production To Be Held Two Nights

The Carolina Playmakers' production of Gershwin's "Of Thee I Sing" will open tonight at 8:30 in Memorial Hall before one of the largest audiences in Playmaker history. A second showing of the musical is scheduled for tomorrow night.

Headlining the cast as John P. Wintergreen, presidential nominee who runs on the platform "Put Love in the White House," is Lanier Davis of Chapel Hill, possessor of a romantic tenor voice often heard around the campus in choral groups.

Davis is a special student, studying music, and has given voice recitals throughout the state. His voice is remarkably suited to the Gershwin music and lyrics.

Singing opposite him, in the role of Mary Turner, is Anne Martin, well-known to theatergoers here for her acting ability. Miss Martin is also an accomplished singer, previously studying and teaching at Winthrop College. Many will recall her lyric soprano voice in last year's "Spring For Sure."

Phil Bernanke, making his debut, plays Alexander Throttlebottom, the new Vice President. A graduate student in dramatic art, Phil is a born comedian on and off the stage. His ability to originate eleven pieces of stage

AK Psi Visits GE Exhibit In Raleigh

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business administration fraternity, visited Raleigh to tour General Electric's apparatus exhibit train, "More Power to America Special," Wednesday.

The tour was one of the three industrial tours taken each year by the fraternity.

The Special, a traveling showcase of electrical apparatus, is on a national tour.

The fraternity was greeted at the locomotive, also part of the exhibit, by its host, an engineer clad in a maroon coat. At points throughout the 10-car train, other such guides were stationed to explain the working of the apparatus.

The train, the first of its kind on a nation-wide industrial tour, is visiting some 150 of the country's key industrial centers for inspection by invited representatives of electric utilities, the manufacturing and transportation industries, the armed services, the federal government, and municipalities.

Allies Near Seoul, Capture Key Bases

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 27—(UP)—American and Allied forces smashed northward up to 10 miles on a blazing 60-mile west Korean front in a limited offensive that captured strategic Suwon and reached within 15 miles of Seoul today.

Powerful forces of the U. S. 1st and 9th Corps carried the war back to the stalling Chinese. A two-day advance in the first major push by the Allies since November overran the broad no man's land behind which the enemy withdrew.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's 8th Army divisions swept across the main east-west highway below Seoul and seized the key bases of Suwon, its big air field, Kumyangjang, Ichon, Yoju and Hoengsong.

Lashing out under cover of a spectacular air, artillery and tank bombardment, the Yanks and their buddies crashed through the forward crust of Chinese resistance below business has kept the whole cast in high spirits.

Latest additions to the cast, made during the final week of rehearsal, include six members of the University band, Al Ludwick, Charles Armstrong, Franz Roberts, Phil Buchanan, Fred Rierson, and John Roberts. Also, two attractive majorettes, Jean Stanford and Iris Merritt.

The instrumental accompaniment is provided by Hank Beebe, pianist who has made the special choral and instrumental arrangements of the score, Frank Groseclose, pianist, and Bill Van Collins at the Hammond organ.

UNC Linemen Tackle Backs To Fight Polio

March Of Dimes Basketball Game Thursday In Gym

Linemen of Carolina's football team versus the backfield men will meet in Woolen gymnasium next Thursday night in a basketball game for the March of Dimes current campaign.

Last year the two teams clashed and raised $750 for the polio fund, Art Greenbaum, in charge of game arrangements, said yesterday. This year, he added, the Monogram members were striving for a $1,500 donation.

Admission to the game will cost 50 cents, he said. Tickets may be obtained in the YMCA, Lenoir Hall and the Carolina Theater. Tickets also may be purchased from Monogram Club members.

E. Carrington Smith, chairman of the March of Dimes drive for this area, Greenbaum said, has given his full support to the charity game.

Greenbaum promised halftime entertainment, and said that two officials from State College will be on hand to officiate at the game.

'Second Man' Cast, Staff Is Released

Wray Thompson, director of the comedy "Second Man," which will be presented in the main lounge of Graham Memorial next Thursday and Friday evenings, yesterday announced the entire cast and production staffs for the show.

Acting are Herman Coble, J. B. Cochran, Pat Morse, and Brooke Robinson.

Dave Stanley, who has had experience in scenery construction, lighting, and commercial radio engineering, will handle lighting design. Bea Kamenetzky is costume supervisor. Gowns and dresses are by Robbin's of Chapel Hill.

Thompson is experimenting with the round or arena type stage which allows an audience on four sides of the players. The initial performance in England at The Playhouse in 1928 was presented on an amphitheater stage with an audience on three sides of the players. This performance featured Noel Coward and Raymond Massey.

Open Meet Tuesday To Be Held By APO

The Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity will hold an open meeting Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the APO room of the Y Building for the purpose of meeting prospective members.

The requirements for membership are previous scouting training and a desire to render service to the campus. All interested persons are invited to attend.

FPG In Alaska

Special to The Daily Tar Heel
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 26—Dr. Frank P. Graham, former president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, arrived here this week to serve as moderator for a labor-management conference.

Graham, whose purpose is to assure uninterrupted work on vital defense projects, released a statement outlining the urgent need of cooperation between labor and management in view of the national crisis.

Graham was recently appointed by President Truman to serve in this capacity because of his extensive background in the field of employer-labor relations.

Y Will Hear 'Faith' Topic

"Faith, Our Centerboard" will be the topic of a talk by Mrs. E. S. Currie at a general association meeting of the YWCA Monday at 4 o'clock in Gerrard Hall.

All Y members and interested townspeople are invited to attend this monthly gathering of the whole organization.

Mrs. Currie will deal with the role of Christianity as a fortress in time of crisis. She formerly did missionary work with her husband, who is still in Communist China.

Lauritz Melchoir Here For Lunch

Chapel Hill had another famous visitor yesterday, this time in the world of music.

He was Lauritz Melchoir, world renowned opera star, who with his wife visited the Normon Cordons for lunch at their Cameron Avenue home.

Mr. Melchoir gave a concert at the Raleigh Auditorium last night. He and Normon Cordons worked together for some 10 years at the Metropolitan.
