RAY ANTHONY AND HIS ORCHESTRA will provide the music for tonight's German Club dance in Woollen Gymnasium, tomorrow's Memorial Hall concert, and another dance tomorrow night at the gym.

German Dance Set Starts This Evening

Two formal dances and a Saturday afternoon concert by Ray Anthony and his orchestra, plus a round of parties will highlight the traditional Mid-Winter German Club festivities here this weekend.

The Women's Interdormitory Council has granted 2 a. m. permission to coeds attending tonight's dance, scheduled from 9 until 1 o'clock in Woollen Gymnasium.

Only girls planning to attend the dance will be extended the late permission, however, and regulations require that they sign out and in on leaving and returning to their dormitories.

Dance Rules Emphasized For Students

Students planning to attend the various German Club functions this weekend were reminded yesterday that the rules and regulations of the University Dance Committee will be in effect for all of the activities.

The four rules especially emphasized by the Committee were: 1. No person is permitted to leave the dance hall during the evening with the intention of returning unless accompanied by a chaperone during his or her entire stay.

2. Anyone showing signs of drinking or other misconduct will be asked to leave the dance.

3. Anyone bringing intoxicating beverages on the dance floor is automatically suspended indefinitely.

4. No smoking and no refreshments will be allowed on the dance floor at Woollen Gymnasium.

The Committee also asked that students attending the concert comply with the no smoking rules in effect in Memorial Hall.

The group expressed its wish that interested students feel free to call on the Committee with suggestions that might help them and their dates better enjoy the weekend.

W. Remington Receives Fine, Imprisonment

Federal Judge Refuses Bail For Perjurer

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—(UP)—William W. Remington, former $10,000-a-year government economist, was sentenced the maximum today—five years in prison and a $2,000 fine—on conviction of lying under oath in denying he ever belonged to the Communist Party.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan imposed the sentence, declaring that Remington's conviction last night by a jury of seven women and five men involved not only perjury but loyalty to his country.

The judge refused to free Remington on bond "at this time" pending his appeal of the verdict.

Defense attorneys indicated they would take the case to the Court of Appeals and ask the higher court to grant bail.

U.S. Attorney Irving Saypol asked for the maximum penalty for perjury, saying:

"The crime was compounded by his (Remington's) further perjury in the course of this trial. Intertwined is the terrible hurt that he has done to our country in betraying his trust by participating in the delivery to a foreign agent of important secrets of our government."

The tall, handsome, sandy-haired former Commerce Department economist, impassive through the trial and even on hearing the verdict last night, appeared shaken at Saypol's demand.

Sign Up Now For Rooms

All dormitory residents wishing to keep their rooms for the spring quarter must sign the dorm advisor's list before Feb. 14, it was announced yesterday by Housing Director James Wadsworth.

The advisers in all of the men's dormitories will have a list prepared and it is the responsibility of residents to sign up before the deadline. Otherwise, they will lose their room assignments.

The group included seven men, all representatives of different types of school libraries in Japan, ranging from elementary schools through secondary schools and universities to those dealing with problems of adult education.

The Japanese visitors are visiting school libraries in Williamsburg, Norfolk, Richmond, Raleigh, Durham, Washington, Newark, New York City, Cleveland, Kalamazoo, Chicago, Urbana, and San Francisco under the sponsorship of the U.S. State Department and the U.S. Office of Education.

Their visit to this area was under the supervision of Miss Jane Wilson, Supervisor of Elementary School Libraries in the Durham city schools.

2,000 Pack Memorial To Hear Billy Graham

Evangelist Billy Graham may not have converted anybody last night, but he visibly impressed more than 2,000 persons who sardined into overflowing Memorial Hall to hear the 32-year-old preacher call for a rebirth of Christianity.

Students, faculty, townspeople and country people jammed the aisles and standing room of the auditorium in a crush reminiscent of the mob Burl Ives attracted on the Student Entertainment Committee series last year.

It was past 8:15 when the evangelist took the rostrum, but practically every seat in Memorial hall was filled by 7:30. At 8 o'clock chairs were brought up on the stage for the overflow audience.

G1's Tighten Noose On Trapped Enemy

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 9—(AP)—Enemy resistance on the road to Seoul crumbled Thursday as two veteran American divisions tightened the noose on Chinese Reds trapped south of the Han River in western Korea.

Tiger-faced tanks of the U. S. 25th Division raced within four miles of the city's western outskirts and lobbed shells into the fire-blackened carcass of the old capital.

Punching ahead steadily from the southwest, Puerto Rican infantrymen of the famed U. S. 3rd Division stormed a high hill four and one-half miles from Redhead Seoul. Third Division howitzers thumped Chinese positions north of the Han.

Chinese troops, caught between the death-dealing guns and bayonets of these two divisional columns, face almost certain destruction.

Enemy losses, mostly Chinese and mostly in the west, already have exceeded 57,000 by official estimate since the 8th Army began its limited offensive Jan. 25.

The U. S. 8th Army said in a terse announcement Thursday: "Destruction of Communist forces in the pocket south of the Han in the western sector, the objective of the current phase of the limited offensive, is proceeding and may sum up as a sizeable victory in terms of enemy losses."

"No further implications should be attached to the present situation."

Would Create Selection Unit For 3 Councils

Heavy Opposition Expected For Bill At Next Session

By Don Maynard

With an eye to ridding the student judiciary arm of political influence, Student Party Floorleader Bill Prince last night introduced a bill in the Student Legislature creating a non-partisan board to name candidates for election to the Student Council and the Honor Councils.

Introduced as one of three bills by Prince, also the SP chairman, the bill was referred to committee and will come up at the next Thursday night session. It would do away with party nominations without the sanction of the selection board.

It calls for a "judiciary selection board" similar in purpose to the Bipartisan Selection Board now picking Men's Honor Council candidates.

The present Bipartisan body is made up of representatives from both parties who select from applicants the candidates for vacant Men's Honor Council seats.

However, the new board would be comprised of the chairmen of the Men's, Women's and Student Councils, two additional members from each council and three at-large members to be appointed by the student body president.

The new body would consider applications for open seats on any of the councils, either rejecting or approving the application. Approved candidates would be qualified to run on either of the party tickets.

Disapproved applicants would be eligible to run for the seats independently, but could not be nominated by either of the parties.

Stipulating that of the 12-member board, seven would be required to compose a quorum, the bill also states that a dissenting vote of two of the members would be sufficient to disqualify a candidate.

Observers predicted last night that the bill would find heavy opposition at the next session of the Legislature, when the bill comes out of committee for consideration.

Introduced by Julian Mason was a group of amendments changing the wording of the Elections Law and providing for a change in the present election districting.

Medics Aid In Fight On Tuition Increase

Sudden Surge Of Interest Is Noted By All Medical Affairs Divisions Here

By Edd Davis

A sudden arm of enthusiasm has gripped students in the Medical Affairs division in the current campaign against increases in tuition, John Sanders, president of the student body, said yesterday.

The campaign, designed to prevent the proposed increases suggested by the Advisory Budget Commission, is being backed by student government.

"Many students have assured me of their full cooperation since the recent appearance of an article in The Daily Tar Heel noting the lack of interest in the campaign," he said.

"The campaign is well underway, gaining progress rapidly and in a well organized manner," Sanders explained.

Sanders pointed out that mimeographed material will be distributed to each school in the division stating the facts involving each school.

Included in the material to be presented are the tuition rates of the 1948-49 period, the 1950-51 period, and the new rates proposed by the Commission.

"It will be important for every student to carefully examine the printed matter," Sanders said. "Students of the Medical and Public Health schools will find that their tuition under the proposed rates would be almost double that of the present rates."

The present tuition rates in the School of Medicine are $300 for (See TUITION, page 4)

Robson Says England Urges Campus Politics

By Owen Easley

Britain encourages full student participation in a broad range of political activities on and off the British campus, Dr. William A. Robson informed a student and faculty group Wednesday night.

The visiting professor of political science from the London School of Economics and Political Science spoke informally on the political activities of British students at a meeting sponsored by the Carolina chapter of Students for Democratic Action.

"It is quite valuable that this atmosphere of free political inquiry and participation pervades the life of the British college and university student since," the speaker noted, "the university has proved the nursery from which public leaders are drawn."

Student Lifts 'Dogs,' Steak Inside Book

DENVER, Feb. 8—(UP)—A 26-year-old University of Colorado student was fined $10 in police court today for walking out of a Denver supermarket with a package of weiners and a pound of steak between the pages of a hollowed-out text book.

Milton A. Hersliater was charged with carrying away the meat between the pages of "The Illustrious Life of William McKinley, Our Martyred President."

He was taken before Police Judge Omar Garwood. Hersliater told the judge that he purchased the book some time ago and hollowed out the pages as a hiding place for valuables while attending the Boulder, Colo., school.

He said he was on a shopping tour for his girl friend when he saw the meat and realized he had the book with him.

Garwood fined him $10 and gave him a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Conant Says Draft All 18-Year-Olds

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 8—(UP)—The president of Harvard University last night urged Congress to draft all able-bodied males 18 years old into military service as the best way to prevent a third World War.

"We have no time to lose," Dr. James B. Conant warned. He said the free nations of the world must build up their armies quickly, to maintain the margin of military superiority they lost when Soviet Russia discovered the secret of the atomic bomb.

Better than producing campaign-wise national leaders, the active give and take of political debate, Dr. Robson declared, has developed an ability to make independent judgment on issues. Political consciousness bred into the student during his formative years also enables him to evaluate propaganda appeals and understand the real meaning of campaign promises.

On one of several occasions when the visiting government and political expert drew an appreciative chuckle from his audience, Dr. Robson explained that some few students take the search for a political philosophy seriously enough to join both the Labor and Conservative campus clubs. Large numbers of students join one or more campus affiliates of the national parties.

Green

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 8—(UP)—Eighteen-year-old Nancy Heider, Michigan State College Freshman, said today she was getting a little tired of people questioning her about her green hair.

"It's just like anyone else's hair," she said, "except that it's green."

Nancy, who lives in Milwaukee, Wis., said she wanted to shock everyone at a party, so she dyed her hair with green vegetable dye.

"And now it won't wash out, she said, staring helplessly at a mirror.
