

Anniversary Planned Here By Phi Gams

By Weddell Harris

There will be due cause for celebration in Chapel Hill this weekend when Epsilon chapter of Phi Gamma Delta formally observes its 100th anniversary on the campus.

The festivities get underway tomorrow and continue through Saturday.

With a history reaching back to the winter of 1851, Phi Gamma Delta is among the first, if not the first, of its brotherhood in the state of North Carolina to complete a century of existence.

Phi Gams, as they have come to be known, have had a long and turbulent career in Chapel Hill. They have twice become dormant, but their charter has never been revoked or surrendered. It died out first in 1861 when most of the undergraduates and alumni joined the CSA in the War Between the States. This was the case with all of the Carolina fraternities at that time.

Re-established in 1887, the chapter had a prosperous existence until anti-fraternity legislation, coupled with the graduation or withdrawal of most of the active members, caused its disbanding at the turn of the century.

In 1926 the Phi Gams returned to the scene in Chapel Hill and have since firmly entrenched themselves among the foremost of the University's social groups.

A number of distinguished alumni of the University may be found on the chapter's membership list. Foremost of these is Zebulon Baird Vance (1830-1894), 1852, who led his regiment until recalled to North Carolina to head the state as governor.

DR. ELIZABETH KEMBLE, Dean of the School of Nursing, has been elected president of the Southern Division of the American Nurses Association at a recent meeting of the organization in Biloxi, Miss.

Dental Profs Return Here From Indiana

Dean John C. Brauer, Dr. Claude Baker and Dr. Roger Sturdevant of the Dental School have returned from French Lick, Ind., where they attended meetings of the International Association of Dental Research and the American Association of Dental Schools.

Dean Brauer presented a paper before a general session on "A Pattern of Instruction of Dentistry for Children." Dr. Baker was re-elected chairman of a section of "Fixed Partial Dentures" and Dr. Sturdevant was chairman of a section on clinical administration.

Dean Brauer also attended the Thomas P. Hinman Mid-Winter Clinic in Atlanta, Ga., where he spoke Tuesday afternoon on "Dental Education in North Carolina." The clinic was sponsored by the Fifth District of the American Dental Society.

Any Left After Taxes?

Di Senate Begins Money Campaign For Renovation Of Present Quarters

Alumni, is there any money left after taxes? That's the big question put by Talbot Shelby of Wayne county, retiring president, and other members of the Dialectic Senate.

The Di, oldest literary society in the South, is putting on a fund campaign for restoration and renovation of its quarters, located in New West. The Di hall is in need of 50 new individual desks and chairs, and a carpet for the age-worn floor. The estimated cost will be $5,000. The student members have pledged themselves to raise $1,000.

"Each of the desks, to be patterned after those in the State Senate chamber in Raleigh, will bear the name of some alumnus whose service to the University and to his time is well known," Selby said.

"With the generous interest and assistance of the University, the Society's hall was recently painted for the first time in 23 years, the rostrum furniture was refinished, dark blue draperies were hung, the portrait collection was extended and rearranged, a conference room was established, and the entire interior arrangements of the Hall were improved," he explained.

"After such notable progress," he said, "it seems a shame that unsightly furnishings should mar the beauty of the chambers."

The Society, now celebrating its 156th year, forms a bright chapter in University history. From its ranks have come one President of the United States, James K. Polk, numerous Senators, Congressmen, Governors, judges, ministers, teachers, and leaders in business and industry. It stands as a monument to the wealth of service provided by the University.

Promotions Are Given To 19 AROTC Cadets

The promotion of five cadet officers and 14 cadet non-commissioned officers in the Air Force ROTC has just been announced by Lt. Col. Jesse J. Moorhead, Professor of air science and tactics.

These promotions, which were for merit, were made possible by the increase in size of the AROTC in keeping with the national preparedness program.

The following cadets were promoted to the new ranks and positions indicated: Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Ralph S. Pittman, St. Pauls, who was placed in command of Squadron "E" of the First AF ROTC Group.

Cadet Captains Harry E. Buchanan, Hendersonville; Michael

L. Kiser, Spencer, and Robert O. Brannon, Waynesville, who were appointed Flight Commanders in Squadron "E".

Cadet First Lieutenant Benjamin T. Smith, Wilson, who was appointed Squadron Adjutant.

Squadron First Sergeants James R. Strickland, Wilson, and Robert N. Creed, Fayetteville.

Flight Sergeants T. K. Gregory, Halifax, and Collier Cobb III, Chapel Hill; National Standard Color Sergeant R. M. Mayes, Hillsboro.

Cadet Corporals Egbert P. Williams, Stedman; Henry T. Sisk, Chapel Hill; Alfred C. Brinson, Avapahoe, and Robert S. Green, Lewisville, who were appointed to be squad leaders.

Acting Flight Sergeant Wilford Calkins, Lookout Mountain, Tenn. Acting Sergeants John A. Fountain, and Harry Pawlik, Albemarle, who were appointed to flight guides.

Acting Corporals Francis B. Frederic, Council; Ormond D. Dunphy, merchantsville, N. J., and Frank A. Daniels, Jr., Raleigh were appointed squad leaders.

Colleges To Have Big Autumn Roster

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—Colleges, under plans being shaped in Washington, will have big autumn enrollments. That is the word received by University of North Dakota administrators as they shape plans for the 1951-52 school year which begins next September 17.

Success Story

Local Youth Will Appear At Carnegie

By Walt Dear

A long uphill struggle for success will be highlighted tonight as a young Chapel Hillian appears at Carnegie Hall, New York, in a piano recital.

Calvin Lampley, son of William Lampley, Negro tailor, at Jack Lipman's, will present compositions of Brahms, Mozart, Schumann, and Debussy to his audience and will also play "Auld-bades," a piece by Richard Franko Goldman, noted band leader, it is his first New York performance.

The young pianist is now on his way to a promising career in music thanks to his talents at the keyboard and the support of University officials and friends.

His first encounter with a piano came while attending grammar school in Dunn. His teacher immediately recognized his abilities and suggested to Mr. Lampley to obtain a piano and have young Lampley start practice.

At first Mr. Lampley urged his son to take up another vocation, thinking that he would not make the grade as a pianist.

After studying at A&T College Lampley enlisted in the Army and played with his divisional orchestra. As soon as he received his discharge, he came home and announced to his father that his desire for piano work had become even more accentuated than before.

With the encouragement and help of University officials, members of the Music Department, and Chapel Hill friends, Cal prepared himself for the Julliard School of Music where he received a scholarship and recently graduated with honors.

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LE BLANC The Best Friend You Ever Had

Senator LeBlanc has been in public life since he was quite a young man and has always advocated the cause of the oppressed and downtrodden. It was he who introduced the law in Louisiana that gives every deserving man and woman in Louisiana a pension of $50.00. It was he who introduced the law creating the office of Service Commissioner, the duties of which office is to see that every deserving ex-soldier and veteran receives his just reward from the Federal and State Government. It was he who has consistently fought the battle of the school teachers in the halls of the legislature. He worked untiringly for the farmers and the laboring man. You can place your confidence in a man who has by his past activities demonstrated to you that he is your friend. If you are suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, don't hesitate, don't delay, buy HADACOL today.
