Faculty, Grads Attending Meet

Members of the faculty and graduate students of the University's Department of City and Regional Planning are attending the National Planning Conference in Pittsburgh this week. This Conference is sponsored annually by the American Society of Planning Officials.

Professor John A. Parker, Chairman of the Department, will participate in a panel discussion on "Aids to Local Planning". His subject will be "The Role of The University As An Aid To Local Planning."

Several former Carolina athletes are now stationed at Fort Jackson, S.C. Bill Slate (football), Dick Patterson (basketball), Turk Ogden (track) and Jim Gwynn (soccer) have been inducted into the Army. Two of their student newspaper sports writing friends, Joe Cherry and Chuck Hauser, formerly with the Daily Tar Heel, are also serving there.

Al Mebane
Wins Prize
In Contest

Afred Mebane, 414 C Dorm, was the winner in the Graham Memorial football contest last Saturday.

The set of pipes are waiting to be picked up by Mebane if he comes by the office in Graham Memorial.

He picked 16 games correct out of the 20 and predicted the score of the North Carolina—South Carolina game as 20—7. His prediction was the closest one among the ones who picked the same number of winners as he did.
