

Blue Devil Surge Beats UNC, 77-59

Duke's Groat, Janicki Get 16 Points

By Bill Peacock

DURHAM, Dec. 6—The Carolina basketball team held Dick Groat scoreless for the first 13:20 minutes here tonight, but his field goal at that point woke the Blue Devils and they began a surge which defeated the Tar Heels, 77-59, in the Gerry Gerard Memorial game.

The Tar Heels, with Jack Wallace red hot and scoring 12 points, led the Blue Devils, 17-16, at the end of the first quarter, but after Groat's score early in the second quarter Duke made 14 points to the Carolina's five and took a nine point lead which never grew smaller in the later stages of the game.

Vince Grimaldi scored some sort of a personal victory, holding Dick Groat to nine points while he was guarding the Duke ace and getting nine points himself. Groat scored 16 points after the Philadelphia flash had left the game, giving him 16 points and a tie for game high scorer with teammate forward Bernie Janicki. This was Groat's lowest point total since Cassius held him to 11 last year.

Jack Wallace, who was scoreless for 26 minutes after his first quarter spree, was the high man for Carolina with 14 points. Duke guard Bernie D'Emilio got 12 as did guard Howard Deasy.

Carolina scored right after the tip-off with Wallace driving in for a layup. They held the lead until a tip-in by Galsow put Duke ahead, 8-6. Carolina trailed for the remainder of the quarter until a foul shot by Al Lifson and two driving lay-ups by Wallace put Carolina ahead, 17-16 at the quarter.

But then came Groat's goal and the Duke surge which won the game. Duke held a 34 - 25 lead at the halftime.

Duke got hotter as the second half opened and Groat threw in three quick foul shots. Duke Coach Harold Bradley sent in Dick Crowder at forward in order to combat the Tar Heels' height advantage and it helped the Blue Devils on the backboards. Duke led, 54-41, at the end of the third period.

The game got sloppy in the fourth quarter and the Blue Devils put it away with ease. When Grimaldi left the game with 6:30 left to play and guard Bob Phillips was assigned Groat the Duke team scored better than ever.

Center Howard Deasy played a fine game for Carolina, doing most of the rebounding and getting 12 points. Reserve guard Al Lifson played a good floor game and contributed 5 points.

Grimaldi kept a very close check on Groat and several times the Duke students thought they detected fouls committed by him. Midway in the third period Grimaldi raised his hand as the guilty part after the official indicated a foul on the play, but the foul was called against Groat.

Lacrosse Forum To Be Held In Palm Beach

Plans are being made by the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association to conduct a lacrosse forum at Palm Beach, Fla., from Dec. 21 to Dec. 30. The forum is expected to attract coaches and players from all over the country.

The purpose of this clinic is to increase interest in lacrosse throughout the South, and also to provide off-season practice and coaching for those attending. At present Virginia, Washington and Lee, North Carolina, Duke, VPI, and William and Mary are the only schools which participate in lacrosse south of Maryland. It is hoped that the 10-day forum will promote interest in the sport in such colleges as Florida, Miami, Georgia, and Georgia Tech.

This clinic, first to be held in this section of the country, will consist of practice sessions and lectures to benefit coaches and players alike. The forum will be climaxed with an All-Star game on December 31, which should further give the Southland an idea of how the old Indian game should be played.

Lacrosse, a spring sport, is an important sport in the eastern and New England states. At schools such as Johns Hopkins, Maryland, Navy, Princeton, Army, and Dartmouth, a lacrosse game will always create more interest than a baseball game or track meet. It isn't uncommon for a home game played by the Johns Hopkins lacrosse team of Baltimore to attract as many as 10,000 spectators.

Carolina has fielded a lacrosse team for the past three years and is a member of the Southern Lacrosse Association of the I.L.A. Several players on the team are planning to attend the forum in Florida during the Christmas holidays.
