Winter Quarter Enrollment Down To 5,379, But 394 Decrease Is Called Less Than Usual

Enrollment for the winter quarter is 5,379, a drop of 394 from last quarter, Chancellor Robert B. House announced yesterday.

Accounting for 150 graduates and 111 students who left school during the fall, the percentage drop for this quarter is less than usual, figures based on a report from Central Records office show. Fall enrollment was 5,773 making the drop 133 if graduates and students leaving are counted.

The report includes all schools. There are 4186 students from North Carolina and 1131 from other states. Sixty-two foreign countries and U. S. possessions are represented in the new enrollment while veterans number 1,336 including men and coeds here under the G.I. Bill and those not using the bill. Those using the bill number 915; those not using it under 451.

A check into past enrollment figures shows that there were 6,072 here at the beginning of the winter quarter last year, or a drop of 693.

Women students number 859, a decrease of 65 while men students number 4,520, a decrease of 329 from last quarter (including graduates and students who left).

Enrollment of schools follows:
General College ..... 1,778
Arts and Sciences ..... 974
Business Administration ..... 567
Graduate School ..... 817
Education ..... 295
Law ..... 216
Pharmacy ..... 208
Public Health ..... 119
Journalism ..... 100
Dentistry ..... 75
Social Work ..... 58
Library Science ..... 30
Nursing ..... 26

If graduates in public health, social work and library science are counted, the graduate school figure is 975. The only school to increase its enrollment was journalism which had a gain of 2.

In addition to the net total of 5379 there are 53 students in Saturday morning special education classes.

A comparison of fall quarter and winter quarter civilian student enrollment over the last 16 years follow (Winter quarter enrollment decreases more than spring, records indicate):

Roy Holsten, '50 Grad Named Assistant Dean

Roy W. Holsten, 1950 UNC graduate and former president of Delta Kappa Epsilon social fraternity, has been appointed Assistant Dean of Students effective February 1, Dean Fred Weaver announced yesterday. He replaces William C. Friday who resigned the post to become assistant to President Gray last April.

Holsten's primary job will be to work with students in student government and other activities. As a former leader in fraternities his knowledge in this field is expected to be helpful in discussing fraternity problems.

Termed an "outstanding" leader in student affairs here, Holsten served as chairman of the Men's Council, and was a member of

A picture and story of two UNC students, now assistant deans of students, appeared on the editorial page of the January 14, 1950 issue of The Daily Tar Heel.

In its "Campus Personalities" column by Jack Brown, the newspaper pictured the two students standing in front of the Edward Kidder Graham plaque on the main floor of Graham Memorial. The men, Roy Holsten, and Banks Talley are now serving the Consolidated University. Talley is Assistant Dean of Students at State College, while Holsten is Assistant Dean of Students here.

The latter is a former member of The Daily Tar Heel staff. The Order of Gimghoul and Golden Fleece.

At the commencement he received the John J. Parker, Jr. Medal for leadership in student government.

A native of Glen Rock, N. J., Holsten graduated from Ridge-wood high school and then attended the Lawrenceville school (N. J.) for a year of post graduate work. After receiving his B.A. in English here, he was employed in the personnel department of the Vick Chemical Company, industrial division, Greensboro. He is married to the former Elizabeth Myatt, Goldsboro, UNC '49 graduate and Pi Beta Phi.

The dean of students office now has three men who have served in student judiciary capacities — Dean Weaver, who was Student Council vice-chairman in 1937, Holsten and Ray Jefferies, assistant to Weaver, who served as chairman of the Men's Council.

Art History Europe Tour Announced

A study tour of Europe for students of art history will be conducted next summer by Dr. Clemens Sommer of the art department with the cooperation of the department and the Extension Division.

Dr. Sommer will serve as tour leader and instructor during the six-week trip to art centers of Europe. Those making the study tour will receive six quarter hours of undergraduate credit for courses taken on the trip.

According to Dr. Sommer, members of the tour "will be introduced to a better understanding of western art by direct experience." He said the tour will start in Paris and will include stops in Strasbourg, Heidelberg, Bamberg, Regensburg, Augsburg, Munich, Verona, Florence, Orvieto, Rome and Naples.

Arrangements are being made by the Brownell travel bureau of Birmingham, Ala., and details may be obtained from R. M. Grumman of the Extension division here.

Bierck Honored

Dr. Harold A. Bierck, Jr., of the history department, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Conference on Latin American Historical association.

Dr. Bierck returned to the University campus last September after having spent the last academic year in South America on a Rockefeller fellowship. He was engaged in research in the economic history of several countries, including Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru.

Coed Junior Delegates To Be Elected

Coeds will elect their Junior representatives to Women's Residence Council in the women's dormitories on Monday.

The new council, which was established by constitutional amendment in the fall elections, replaces the Coed Senate and Interdormitory Council. It will be composed of the dormitory presidents, sorority house managers, six junior representatives and a chairman to be elected in the spring. Joanne Page, former Speaker of Coed Senate, will serve as chairman of the council until then.

Representatives elected Monday will serve until fall elections. Each dormitory will send one junior representative.

The duties of the council are primarily passing laws and rules affecting women students and handling all dormitory and sorority house problems.

Power Plant, Health House To Get Beauty Treatment

Two campus locations designated as "ragged spots," by a faculty committee on buildings and grounds have been slated for improvement. There are plans for beautifying the parking area and removal of the old power plant and adjacent buildings behind Phillips hall and a dressing up of the former DKE house which now houses the health department behind Hill hall.

Drawn by Arthry C. Nash, consulting architect for the University, a plan is now in the hands of the committee. Nash plans to connect the plaza now occupied by parking space with the second floor of Venable hall. This project holds priority over the improvement of the Hill hall area because of new construction of commerce and chemistry buildings.

The plan for the parking area behind Phillips also provides for underground placement of steam and hot water distribution systems which stem from the power plant on West Cameron Avenue.

Winter Wonderland Depicts Tri-Delt Pledge Dance Scene

When Delta Delta Delta sorority held its annual pledge dance Friday night at the Carolina Inn, members and dates waltzed in a "Winter Wonderland."

Snowmen and silver pine trees sparkled under blue spotlights, transforming the ballroom into an out-of-doors snow scene. Caricatures of the pledges were displayed on snowball-shaped silhouettes against a shining background.

Playing for the dance were Bill Byers and the Cavaliers of Duke and Carolina, who wore blue Santa Claus hats.

Led by pledge president Sue Burress, the pledges were presented during intermission by announcer Ty Boyd, Phi Delt of Greensboro. They carried old fashioned nosegays of pink and blue flowers while the orchestra played the winter wonderland theme as the traditional figure was formed. Preceding the figure each pledge was presented a silver bracelet, bearing the sorority's Greek letters, by her "big sister" in the sorority. Pat George, Tri Delt president, then presented the awards to outstanding pledges. Jane Ann Sneed of Ft. Pierce, Fla., received the scholarship cup and Ross Young of Greenwood, S. C., the best pledge award.

Mrs. Carl Carter, Tri-Delt housemother from Southport, was presented an orchid. Special guests for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Richardson, Mrs. R. H. Wetach, and campus housemothers. Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Wetach received miniature nosegays. Pledges and their dates were

'Stairway To The Stars' Theme Of Pi Beta Phi Pledge Dance

Pledges of Pi Beta Phi descended a silver stairway and formed an arrow pointing to a "Stairway To The Stars," when they were presented at the sorority's annual pledge dance held last evening at the Carolina Inn.

In carrying out the traditional theme, the ballroom was illuminated with soft blue lights, and small silver stars, bearing the names of the pledges, decorated the south wall. A sky-blue backdrop complete with a silver stairway and stars was used on the bandstand. Bannisters at the entry of the ballroom were interwoven with light blue streamers and angel hair, forming the background for a miniature Milky Way.

Pledges were introduced by Charlie Crone and presented silver Pi Beta Phi bracelets and wine carnations by President Helen Brundage of Tryon. The pledges were met by their escorts, following the presentation, and formed the traditional arrow figure, representative of the Pi Phi pin.

Leading the figure were Pledge Class President Bish Fox, Vice-President Diane Breslow, Secretary Mac Hayward, Scholarship Chairman Betty Rose and Historian Dee Kline.

Invited Guests for the evening included the sorority's patronesses and alumnae, and all campus housemothers.

Music for the dance, which was held from 9 until 12 o'clock, was President Sue Burress, Salem, Va., with Fred McWhinney, Bradenton,
